ROSEBURG, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, APRIL, 8, 1925.

THE BARE HEADED FAD

It is difficult for middle aged people to keep up with the swift pace of the younger generation, and sometimes equally difficult to understand their motives. One custom which the old timers look on as rather unaccountable, is that prevailing among the boys of many schools and colleges, of going bare headed all the time, even in cold climates with zero weather. Many of these youngsters take great pride in going without hats on frigid days when every one else is bundled up with heavy clothing. Possibly, in the exuberance of youth, they take pleasure in defying the laws of health followed by their timorous elders. Possibly they think that contact with the air is toughening and makes their hair grow, and helps them to look like football players. Still the experience of the human race has suggested that the custom of wearing hats to protect the head from cold in winter and heat in summer is a wholesome one. Eventually the youngsters may have to learn that experience is a good teacher.

The useful habit of budgeting one's income seems to be growing. But while our folks are carefully laying out their expenditure for the year for necessities and pleasures, they should not forget the calls of various philanthropic causes. If they have found the message and social contacts of the churches helpful, they should not forget to pay their share of these benefits. There are good philanthropic causes in Roseburg that need much more generous support. Plenty of individual cases of need are personally known to all of us. An income is not well spent that is devoted solely to one's own advancement and enjoyment.

—o—

Roseburg is to be congratulated upon having such a fine city council. That splendid bunch of men are imbued with the progressive spirit so necessary to the success of a city the size of Roseburg and the citizens should support them in their efforts to shove this garden spot of the world to the front.

—o—

The strawberry growers of the county announce prospects of a bumper crop this season. Douglas county strawberries are first in the market. It is perfectly right and proper that Roseburg should celebrate the event with a rousing Strawberry Festival.

—o—

The dollar donations to the W. C. T. U. Children's Farm Home went over the top here yesterday. It is proof enough that the people of the good city of Roseburg are always ready to respond to an appeal for a worthy cause.

EDUCATOR DECRIES CRITICISM HURLED AT MODERN YOUTH

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SPOKANE, Wash., April 8. — Present day youth found a defender here today in the person of William W. Keene, of Walla Walla, Wn., president of the Inland Empire Education Association, who delivered the opening address at the 27th annual convention of the association which began today.

"It may be assumed that the youth of the present generation has the virtues and the shortcomings of the preceding generation, but to conclude that the present generation, out of a clear sky has suddenly reverted to Paganism is to discredit the history of the past," Mr. Keene declared.

"The cry has gone out that the world is going to perdition. We are told that humanity is in revolt against the moral tenets of the social order, against constituted authority, and that we are engulfed by a crime wave which is steadily advancing. Especially disconcerting are the disparaging criticism of our young people coming from pulpit, press, school and colleges and especially from our elders."

ROLL TOPS

The women roll their own today, a habit which I find disturbs, for we must look the other way each time they step upon the curbs.

They claim that they are dressed all right, and see no cause why they should quit. But when one speaks of it, good night! they quickly fly into a fit.

They say, "I think you ought to be ashamed to mention that to us." But gracious-you and golly-me, they're dressed all right? Then why the fuss!

It isn't worse to speak, I hold, than to perform the actual deed. But still they think that we are bold and have more crust than what we need.

But if I showed my knees one speck the law would view it as a crime, and cops would pounce upon my neck, at least a dozen at a time.

I couldn't walk for half a block and show my knees at every step before they'd have me under lock and guards to see that I were kept.

But women do it and get by, and no one seems to care one blink. In fifteen years what will they try? In twenty years?—I'd hate to think!

✣ ✣ ✣

People livin' near the Eugene U. of O. tennis courts are makin' vigorous complaints regardin' the knee pants worn by the college fellers when playin' the game. The indecent exposure of their knee caps must be stopped they say but to date we've heard no complaints from the male sex of the community regardin' the knee dresses and rolled sox indulged in by the Shebas of the campus.

SCHOOL BOARD TESTS HEATING DEVICES

The school board met in regular session last night, devoting practically the entire evening to a study of equipment for the proposed new high school building. The board has been making a thorough investigation of the heating devices, and last night experimented with new types of electric heaters, giving thermometer tests to ascertain the efficiency of the heaters, together with the cost of operation. One was a heating element attached to a water-filled radiator, and the other a type circulating air through the heating device. The cost of operation over a 2-hour period, was found to be about 11 cents. The average wood bill for one of the school heating plants, amounts to around $1,000 each year, not counting other incidental expenses.

Salesmen representing ventilating devices, locker equipment and other supplies, also appeared before the board in an effort to interest the directors in their line of goods.

The matter of employing new teachers to fill vacancies, was discussed, but no final action taken, although several instructors were recommended. There will be only a few vacancies to fill and the board is carefully examining the qualifications on all applicants.

DAILY BINGLES IN BIG LEAGUE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, April 8.—Baseball fans packed in the Asheville, N. C., ball park yesterday saw a tall, slim youngster of much less poundage than the Giant Babe Ruth they had come to see, drive two balls into the far spaces. Ruth scheduled hero of the drama, was wrestling about on a hotel bed with another attack of the "flu" which had knocked him for a "homer" a few hours previously. He fainted in the station and had been borne into the hotel in the brawny arms of his team mates, Joe Dugan and Steve O'Neil.

Just before the game a team mate stepped to the great one's bedside and delivered a promise: "I'll do your act today Babe. I'll hit one." The promise was kept in the second inning of a battle which saw the Yankee's conquer the Dodgers of Brooklyn, 16 to 8. It was a lift into the left field bleachers. Bob Meusel was the author of the hit as well as the promise made to Ruth.

In the seventh Meusel hit the pill over center field fence, a record wallop on this field.

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—The St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of a return to sunshine after a long period of rain and idleness, and won, 13 to 1, from a picked team at El Paso yesterday. The Browns faced two left handers at Memphis, Tenn., and were defeated 4 to 2, although two openings were presented toward a victory.

DETROIT, Mich., April 8.—The Detroit Tigers met Knoxville, Tenn., today following a game yesterday in which they experienced little difficulty in defeating Atlanta, 6 to 4 in the Georgia city.

CHICAGO, April 8.—The northward progress of the Chicago White Sox has been one victory after another, Nashville was the victim yesterday. The volunteers of the Southern league lost by a 12-6 score.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Enthused over their second straight victory over the Giants at Augusta yesterday 5 to 4, the Senators were slated for another game with their world series rivals there today before moving on to the national capitol tomorrow.

NEW YORK, April 8.—President Coolidge is described by President John Heydler, head of the National baseball league, as a "good fan" interested in baseball and able to talk about the game like a regular enthusiast.

"I found the president a good fan and enjoyed my talk with him very much," said Mr. Heydler. "He truly enjoys baseball and talks about it like a regular fan. He was thrilled by the world series last fall and plans to attend many games this season.

"At his request, we went over many matters pertaining to the game, from the executive as well as the playing side. We talked about sports in general and the president, I found, has a full appreciation of the general love of his countrymen for all kinds of sport, and baseball in particular."

NEW YORK, April 8.—Injury and ill health, which have left the ranges of national league teams, depleted, now have set upon those of the American.

The training season has exacted a heavy toll, and at least two great infield players, Walter "Rabbit" Maranville of the Chicago Cubs, and Joe Hauser of the Philadelphia Athletics, will be out of the game the greater part of the year.

Grigsby, regular outfielder of the Cubs, suffered a broken collar bone. Meanwhile illness, more serious than the previous attacks this spring, has put an end to Babe Ruth's appearance for the Yankees for the time being and he will be unable to start against Washington at the Yankee Stadium Tuesday.

BOSTON, April 8. — Ending their series of exhibition games with a bang., the Boston Red Sox defeated the Louisville team in the Kentucky city yesterday 10 to 3, making it three out of four victories over the Colonels.

Theatres

Antlers Theatre

"Greed," Erich von Stroheim's film version of Frank Norris's celebrated novel "McTeague," is to be shown at the Antlers Theatre for 3 days beginning tonight. This unusual picture, the dynamic director's first production for Metro-Goldwyn, has been described as one of the highest achievements to reach the screen.

Von Stroheim's unconventional treatment of the theme, the disintegration of two human beings through their basic avarice and greed, has been done with the realism for which he is famous. The novel has been screened without a single important change.

For the first time in motion pictures a book has been filmed in its actual settings, including Death Valley, von Stroheim leading an expedition into the treacherous place to get the scenes.

Liberty Theatre

"Another Man's Wife," featuring James Kirkwood, Lila Lee, Wallace Beery and Chester Conklin, will be shown at the Liberty Theatre for the last time tonight.

It is the story of John and Helen, whose matrimonial venture is unsuccessful because of his neglect, but who are finally united after many adventures and strange pranks of fate. The story is laid in San Francisco, in Mexico and at sea.

Splendid players appear in support of the co-stars. Matt Moore and Wallace Beery have important parts. Others in the cast are: Kate Price, Donald MacDonald, Chester Conklin, Ralph Yearsley, Russell Powell, Fred Kohler and Zena Keefe. Bruce Mitchell directed.

Majestic Theatre

With half of the story laid in the American Bank of Yokohama at the time of the Japanese earthquake, Maurice Tourneur, the director, promises a genuine motion picture novelty in his picturization of "Torment," which comes to the Majestic Theatre on Thursday.

A sensational wrecking scene in which the characters become entombed in the lower regions of the bank provides one of the gripping situations in the play. The following sequence finds a band of international crooks, their victims and a fortune in jewelry removed from all communication with the outside world. The subsequent scenes are said to disclose one of the most unusual themes yet attempted for the screen. Interwoven in the highly tense story is a charming romance.

DEATH TAKES THE FORMER HEAD OF RUSSIAN CHURCH

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

MOSCOW, April 8.—Archbishop Tikhon, former patriarch of the Russian church, died here today at the age of 61.

Archbishop Tikhon, who as Archbishop of New York once was in effect the head of the Russian Church in America, where he spent nearly ten years, was chosen Metropolitan of Moscow, July, 1917, and became patriarch of all Russia and was formally enthroned in the Kremlin Cathedral in November of that year. He was considered a progressive in the Russian Church of that period, but shortly began a campaign of opposition to the Bolsheviki because of their attitude toward the church and had the "anathema", pronounced upon them in the Russian churches.

This course resulted in the announcement in May '22, of his abdication as patriarch. His arrest was reported shortly afterward and it was several times announced that he would be placed on trial for his opposition to the Soviet action in confiscating the church treasures and other measures against the former rights of the church. The successive postponements of the trial were followed by an announcement late in 1923, that the patriarch had been released from prison and proceedings against him abandoned on his giving out a letter expressing regret for past hostility to the Soviet government. Later he moved toward reconciliation of the faithful of the Orthodox church with the new "living church" organized by the reformists.

Meanwhile the patriarch had been unfrocked by an Orthodox church conclave, but declined to recognize the unfrocking, declaring the assemblage was an illegal one.

MARY F. RIDDLE VERY ILL

Mrs. Mary F. Riddle, mother of County Clerk I. B. Riddle, is quite ill at a Portland sanitarium, according to word received by Mr. Riddle this morning. She has been at Portland for several months receiving medical treatment, but her condition improved for a time so that it was possible for her to be moved from the hospital to her daughter's home. However, she has now become worse again so that her return to the hospital was made necessary. Her daughter Mrs. George Frater, and son Ed Riddle, of Riddle, are leaving for Portland in the morning, and I. B. Riddle expects to go the latter part of the week or the first of next, important county business detaining him until that time.
