Rebekah Convention Very Successful

Representatives of all Rebekah lodges in the eleventh district met in Roseburg yesterday for the eighteenth annual convention of the order, one of the most successful and interesting of conventions held for a number of years. The guests of honor at the convention were Mrs. Mary D. Moss of Lakeview, president of the Rebekah Assembly and Mrs. Edythe Kelley of Kelley's Corner, past president of the Assembly.

The convention convened at ten thirty with Mrs. Tillie I. Johnson presiding, the officers of the Roseburg lodge surrendering their chairs after the opening ceremonies to the officers of the convention. Mrs. Mary Moss, Mrs. Edythe Kelley, Mrs. Leona Slack, district deputy president of Sutherlin Rebekah lodge, No. 218 were then introduced, welcomed and given the honors of the Rebekah degree.

The address of welcome by Mrs. Edythe Kelley was responded to by Mrs. June Shamp of Sutherlin, followed by the roll call of convention officers and past chairmen. Mrs. Kathryn Findley of Elkton then presented Mrs. Mary D. Moss, and Mrs. Tillie I. Johnson with beautiful bouquets in behalf of the convention. After the reading of the minutes, there was a reading by Mrs. Bert Russell of Myrtle Creek, and the roll call of lodges.

A number of committees were appointed including press, Mrs. Ailene G. Hoffman, Mrs. Olivia Johnson and Mrs. Grace Burroughs; thanks, Mrs. Ida Thomas of Elkton, Mrs. Leona Slack of Sutherlin, and Mrs. Pearl Hand of Oakland; memorial, Mrs. Rosina Patrick, Mrs. June Shamp, Sutherlin, Mrs. Mary Stelzer, Myrtle Creek.

After a vocal solo by Mrs. Minnie Clark of Roseburg the convention adjourned for a basket lunch in the banquet hall.

The afternoon session opened with impressive memorial exercises in honor of deceased members, by Mrs. Edythe Kelley, Mrs. Roxelle Thayer, Mrs. Jennie Wade, Mrs. Bertha Taylor, and Mrs. Christina Miesell. Sutherlin lodge then exemplified the examination of a visitor from another jurisdiction, and the president explained the ballot and the reconsideration of an unfavorable ballot.

Proceeding an address on "Principles of Rebekah and Odd Fellowship" by H. A. Canaday of Roseburg, Miss Evelyn Noland gave two readings. The secret work was given perfectly by Mrs. Maude H. Pickens, Mrs. Gertrude Hatfield and Mrs. Amy Carman, and certificates of perfection were presented them by the president.

The Oakland Rebekah lodge extended an invitation for the convention to meet at Oakland in 1926 which was accepted, and officers were then elected for the ensuing year as follows: Chairman, Mrs. Belle Walker; vice chairman, Mrs. Ida Thomas; secretary, Mrs.

Tillie I. Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Sarah Shiria; appointed officers, chaplain, Mrs. Mary Stelzer; warden, Mrs. Josephine Stark; conductor, Mrs. Harry Lowman; inside guardian, Ida Hutchinson; outside guardian, Mrs. Ed. Strickland; R. S. V. C. Lena Bossen; L. S. V. C. Mrs. Ailene Hoffman.

A delicious dinner was served at six o'clock by the Roseburg lodge, and after the dinner hour the group was augmented by many who were unable to attend during the day. The evening ceremonies opened with the draping of the lodge charter in honor of a deceased member by the Roseburg lodge. A gift of Easter lilies was then made by Mrs. Shamp to Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Johnson for their work in making the convention one of the most successful ever held in this district.

The degree work by the members of the Roseburg Past Noble Grand lodge was the outstanding event of the evening. Pink and green robes were worn by the staff, with wreaths of silver leaves in their hair, and the difficult work was ably done under the leadership of Captain Maude H. Pickens.

The number present from each lodge in the district was: Elkton 18, Drain none, Sutherlin 12, Yoncalla 2, Oakland 11, Myrtle Creek 27, Riddle 8, Canyonville 4, and Roseburg 85.

The Frock That Is Worn Beneath the Coat Assumes an Important Role.

With the ensemble costume or suit leading the field in popularity, it is important that the frock which is worn beneath the coat be as chic as Paris designers can make it. For, once the smart coat is removed, the dress assumes a place of first importance.

The odd little frock which one must have for certain occasions is very smart this spring. There is the frock which is simple in line, with long sleeves and short skirt, with a rippling effect at the bottom, and ornamented with colorful embroidery and stitching, which is suitable for almost any occasion, because of its distinctive embroidery and smart lines. Or there is that very new and chic jumper frock which is so suitable for the debutante, with its girlish silhouette, and which is so well adapted to the popular Kasha cloth in navy blue, or beige.

The frock which is gracefully draped, or hung in straight line from the shoulder, is another favorite with spring designers, and one which is perfectly suited to the slenderness of Constance Talmadge, who is seen wearing a decidedly smart example of this type of frock in First National's "Learning to Love." Miss Talmadge's frock is of dark material, exquisitely embroidered in gold tinsel in picturesque floral design. A most unusual effect is gained by the sleeves—one of which is short, and the other long, and snugly fitting. This feature of the frock is apt to cause a good deal of comment.

Theatres

Liberty Theatre

For his newest Preferred Picture, B. P. Schulberg is offering "The Triflers," which is based on an original story by Frederick Grim Burdett and directed by Gassner, with a cast of well-known players, including Mae Busch, Elliott Dexter, Frank Mayo, Walter Hiers, Eva Novak and Lloyd Whitlock.

The significance of the title lies in the fact that while her heroes characterize her admirers as triflers, she and the hero trifle with love even to the extent of a marriage in which it does not figure, and they learn the lesson of bitter experience before the happy ending.

At the Liberty Theatre tomorrow Monday and Tuesday.

BASEBALL SUNDAY

Baseball fans will see the first game of the season tomorrow when the teams representing the I. O. O. F. and Elks lodges meet at the West Roseburg field Sunday afternoon. The Legion post of the city has challenged the winner, and it is expected that other teams will be formed in order that a twilight league may be organized in the near future.

Women Give Up Before Little Things of Life?

Men snash and fall under big mis fortunes, loss of health or financial disaster. Most women who fall, fall just because the little things of life have defeated them.

Lady Diana Duff Cooper wrote an article on this subject. She called it "When Women Fall." In it she said: "When the woman who falls confesses that after years of half-hearted struggle she at last reached her opportunity but lacked the motive power to seize it, she spoke the bitter truth of many failures. . . . How many women fly off from study, concentration or rest just to run out to tea or a walk. . . . yet they expect that good-luck success to register a steady wind."

And there, all in a nutshell, you have it—the reason why women fall, observes the Philadelphia Record.

As far as "half-hearted struggles" go there is very little to be said. Competition is too keen, every path in life is crowded for half-hearted efforts to succeed. Whatever your life may be, your wish to succeed must be ardent. You must wish it with your soul, your heart, your mind. The lukewarm never succeeded and we even have biblical authority that rather than that it's best to be frankly cold.

So make up your mind to be an out-thing or the other—to be as keen as mustard or else to make no attempt.

But what about the women who are as keen as mustard and who yet fall through trifling petty distractions? Their only hope is to develop a will like iron and a heart of stone.

When Fuzzy Wuzzies "Crumpled Up Square"

It was at the battle of Tassal in the Sudan, on March 13, 1884, that the fuzzy wuzzies broke the British square. The tribesmen utterly reckless of death, charged an angle of the square in the face of what seemed an annihilating fire. They crept themselves on the bayonet, and used their spears in the most daring manner before the bayonets could be withdrawn. They came over the bodies of their own dead, and crawling on hands and knees, they aimed the point of the spear, and stabbed and slashed until one brigade gave way in confusion, and its guns were captured. The other brigades disintegrated, the guns were retaken, and the Fuzzies were chased far past the scene of this momentary triumph, but they had "crumpled up the square," and the exploit caught the British imagination and put Fuzzy Wuzzies into English literature.

The Fuzzies themselves are indigenous to the Habeshawia tribe and were commended by Osman Bey, although the latter generally kept himself in a place of safety during the fighting. The Fuzzies got their name owing to the peculiar manner in which they wore their hair. The Black Watch formed part of the "square" and fought with the utmost bravery during the whole of the campaign against the Mahdi.

Scientific Future Love

The matrimonial reports of our day are unlikable to put love on a sound scientific basis. Let us skip a few hundred years and behold the synthetic romance of a youth and a maid of some generations to come. The young man, armed with a stethoscope, a tape measure and the means of making a blood test, goes to call upon the lady whose chart has attracted him. He taps a vein, listens to the thump of her heart and to the wind whistling through her bronchial tubes and ends his labors with a careful examination of the sole of her feet. Satisfied with the showing, he makes a report for a kiss and obtains one, duly hedged through a strainer whisked from a vanity bag. That is, he does unless the young woman wallops him instead.—Toledo Blade.

The Unpardonable Sin

Theologians differ as to the exact nature of the unpardonable sin, which is the sin against the Holy Spirit. In Matthew 12:31, Jesus says: "Whoever says unto you, 'Thou art a blasphemer against the Holy Ghost,' shall not be forgiven unto men, neither in this world nor in the world to come." In 1 John 5:16 a "sin unto death" is referred to.—Pathfinder Magazine.

A BRIDE'S DIARY

A LOVE STORY OF TODAY, WRITTEN BY

IDA H McGLONE GIBSON

The author herself pronounces this new serial superior in plot and action to her famous "Confessions of a Wife" series which has stood as a record breaker thus far as a circulation getter and holder

Of A Bride's Diary Mrs. Gibson Herself Says:

"The characters in my new story are vivid, dashing personalities of TRUE-to-life-types of TODAY. The conversation between them is LITERAL stuff just as I have personally heard it in many so-called upper social circles. I go around a great deal. I have to in order to do my stuff and I observe conditions and customs of the time AS THEY ARE. For many of them I have profound disgust and contempt but as a writer I must take them as they ARE—not as I would like them. I am solidly opposed to the present day thought 'Express Yourself.' It is a demoralizing disintegrating mental state. I shall wallop that good in my new story.

"For 'A Bride's Diary' I have wonderful material. A corking plot—ACTION galore, CHARACTERS that sparkle and impress. This story is far better than my 'Confessions of a Wife.' For all this I take no credit. I just happened to find the material."

CHILD HAD NARROW ESCAPE

The two year old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper of Green Valley, was almost killed last Wednesday evening when her eight year old sister, Tella, accidentally cut her with a long butcher knife.

Tella was going to take her into the house and had the knife in her hand when she lifted the baby up. The baby protested and threw her head back on the point of the knife. The knife being so sharp pointed it cut her left ear open and cut into her neck back of the ear to the jugular vein exposing it but lacking 1-8 of an inch of cutting the vein. The Sparks boys rushed the baby and her mother to Oakland to Dr. Devore, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper.
