

SOCIETY

By BEULAH JEWETT

All contributions to this page, society, women's clubs, and personals, should be telephoned to the society editor by Friday of each week. Telephone No. 135.

Club Women Gather Here for Institute

Over seventy-five club women from Medford, Grants Pass, Ashland, and all parts of Douglas county gathered in Roseburg today for the first club institute ever held in Southern Oregon. As a club institute is something of an innovation in woman's club work a great deal of interest was manifested by the representatives of the Southern Oregon clubs in attendance, and teaching as the institute did, on all phases of club work, filled a need that has been felt, especially among the newer organizations, and those less experienced in the various phases of the management of a woman's club.

Mrs. Foster Butler president of the Roseburg Woman's club welcomed the visiting delegates to whom the Roseburg club president, and introduced Mrs. Fred Strang, who led in a short community sing. Mrs. Helen Smick spoke briefly, taking as her topic "Office as a Duty, Rather than an Honor," and appealed to all to be steadfast in their duty, and not critical of the work of others. Mrs. Mary Burt of Yoncalla had for her topic "What Constitutes a Good President and Duties of Same?" Mrs. D. H. Morgan, "What Constitutes a Good Secretary, Model Records and Minutes?" Mrs. T. E. Singleton, "What Constitutes a Good Chairman of committees, Responsibilities, Sharing Work, Selection of Chairmen?" Mrs. A. C. Marsters, "How Many Vice-Presidents Serve? What Should be the Duties of Directors?" Under the topic "Club Relationships," Mrs. Milton Church discussed, "Survey of Community Needs," Miss Rosa B. Parrott, "Club Relations to the Community," Mrs. Fred Parrott of Garden Valley, "Training Club Members in Public Spirit, Outside Interests that Try to Dominate."

Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, of Portland, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, closed the morning session with a general talk covering all the topics touched on in the morning session, bringing up many things that were of interest to the club leaders in the smaller communities. Mrs. Dunbar encouraged discussion, and endeavored to make the institute one of value to everyone by presenting their individual problems before the institute. She also told of the state and national federation, explaining many of the actions of the state body to the club members of the smaller communities.

Luncheon was served in noon in the basement of the church at tables with favors Cecil Brunner roses for each guest, and clusters of yellow and white flowers adding to make them attractive. Mrs. A. J. Young's orchestra played during the lunch hour.

A full afternoon of talks on interesting subjects was planned, preceded by a vocal solo by Mrs. C. A. Brand. Talks were made on club topics by Mrs. Foster Butler, Mrs. F. W. Jost, Mrs. Minnie, Mrs. R. R. Compton, Mrs. J. V. Short, Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. J. C. Ponder, Mrs. Barnes, Grants Pass, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. J. C. Ponder, Mrs. Barnes of Grants Pass, Mrs. Carl B. Neal, Mrs. F. A. Beams, Mrs. W. R. Brown, Mrs. P. T. Bubar, Mrs. C. S. Heinline, Mrs. Dunbar and Mrs. Robbins. A vocal duet by Mrs. Fred Strang, and Charles McElhinny preceded Mrs. Dunbar's closing talk.

Mrs. Dunbar was accompanied to Roseburg by her husband, her son and daughter, her sister and her sister's two children, and the party will be the guests of friends here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Skinner and Lyman Skinner were hosts to a number of friends at dinner both Saturday and Sunday.

Civics Will Be Topic of Woman's Club

The program topic for the meeting of the Roseburg Woman's Club on April 20th at the Presbyterian church is "Civics," and each member will be required to answer roll call with a current event. A musical program will also vary the afternoon. The program committee consists of Mrs. D. E. Carr, Mrs. C. H. Bailey, Mrs. F. A. Beams, Mrs. L. P. Rosenzweig, and the permanent committee, Mrs. M. G. Ollivant, Mrs. M. E. Rice, Mrs. Foster Butler, and Mrs. A. H. Small.

Business Women Enjoy Interesting Program

An interesting program entertained the members of the Roseburg Business and Professional Woman's club on Friday evening at the Helpline Conservatory. Mrs. Charles Rusch having arranged the numbers. Mrs. Berney West and Mrs. Willis Meyers sang a pleasing duet and there were vocal solos by Mrs. Meyers, Mrs. Edna Haseltine, Miss Lois Cobb gave a reading, Miss Virginia Yount a dance, and Mrs. E. T. Melvin an instrumental solo. A skit from "Daley" the senior class play was given by a number of the cast, and was especially well done. The women gathered about card tables later in the evening, or chatted until the time for departure.

Engagement of Elsie Bloomstrom Told at Party

The engagement of Miss Elsie Bloomstrom, a popular teacher at the Benson school to Mr. Clarence Coffel, of Roseburg, was told at a charming party on Saturday evening for which Mrs. Charles Hamilton was hostess, the guests being Miss Bloomstrom's fellow teachers from the Benson school. The date of the wedding has not been set, although it will occur some time during the late summer.

Games suggestive of an announcement party entertained the guests in the early part of the evening, and later they were invited to the dining room and seated at a table beautifully arranged in dainty summer shades of pink, yellow, blue and lavender, streamers fluttered from a large cluster of lilacs in the center of the table, and at one end two elaborate bride's cakes were banked with pale blue hydrangeas and Japanese quince, from which ribbon streamers extended to each plate, ending in small cards telling of the betrothal. Covers were placed for Miss Bloomstrom, Miss Lydia Christensen, Miss Elsie Hudson, Miss Hazel Payne, Miss Katherine O'Connell, Miss Mabel Colvin, Miss Edna Hasseltine, Miss Inez Frazer, Miss Elinor Sheek, Miss Marjorie Shaw, Miss Katherine Peterson, Miss Verlie Tracey, Mrs. McCallister and Mrs. Hamilton.

Former Roseburg Girl Presented in Recital

Many here who remember Miss Naomi Phelps, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Guy Fitch Phelps, will hear with interest of a concert in Salem held recently at which Miss Phelps, who is a soprano soloist of unusual excellence, was presented. Miss Phelps was accompanied by Mrs. Phelps, and assisted by a reader, and in addition to her beautiful solo work, was the author of one number, both the words and air being her own, as well as one of the readings presented.

In speaking of Miss Phelps, Audred Hanch in the Salem Statesman says: "Miss Phelps, whose lovely, lyric soprano voice is like that of a bird, opened the program with her latest number—two operatic arias in Italian, and a Haydn composition in English. The soprano was well equal to her task, and all numbers were sung with a sustained depth."

Miss Phelps is immensely fortunate in her accompanist, Mrs. Guy Fitch Phelps, whose direct understanding is at once evident in the unity she makes of direct between the human voice and its instrumental support. While the audience was not favored with any solo numbers by Mrs. Phelps, her attainments were well observed.

Mrs. Hidinger Hostess to O. F. F. Club

The O. F. F. club met recently for play with Mrs. H. H. Hidinger, Mrs. Henry Worthington holding high score at five hundred. At play were Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. George Cluck, Mrs. Ferrier, Mrs. Frances Freeman, Mrs. C. E. Hansen, Mrs. Hattie Harris, Mrs. Ed. Patterson, Mrs. Ben Johnson, Mrs. Joseph Stankley, Mrs. J. G. Stephenson, Mrs. Henry Worthington, guests, Mrs. Harpster, Mrs. Ora Welker, Mrs. Fred Phelps, Mrs. J. C. Sager. The next hostess will be Mrs. Frank Monroe on April 22.

Senior Class Play Is Favorite Production

"Daley" the Senior class play of Roseburg High School, is presented at the Antlers Theatre, April 23, is a leading amateur production and has not only been given by many High Schools, but has also been screened. One of the late theatre magazines attests to its importance and gives the stage setting in detail. In addition, Miss Cohen, head of the English department in the second largest school in New York City has collected four plays which she considers especially suitable for high school study and production, among them being "Daley."

The leading roles, those of Daley and her husband Gordon Smith, are ably handled by Elva Westcott and Edith Vermillion who succeed in extracting the full amount of comedy from these difficult parts. The story is one with which many are familiar, the lesson which will meanfully give in order to help her husband in his business affairs. The play is a comedy success in every respect, and is being presented in a highly commendable manner. The heads have good support from the other members of the cast.

Miss Christman and Miss W. of the High School faculty are teaching, and the plans this year include a showing at the Myrtle Theatre, Myrtle Creek, on April 20, and a showing on April 24. An added attraction will be the first appearance of the "Senior Serenaders" as an orchestra made up of Senior musicians which will play before the curtain and at intermissions.

Annual Art Display Friday, April 24

The annual Art Display of the Art Department of the Helpline Conservatory, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Rusch will be an event of Friday, April twenty-four, and already art lovers are anticipating with interest this display of work done by that department during the year. One hundred paintings will be on display, and about fifty exhibits from the decorative art classes including many objects of handwork to beautify the home. The display will be in the main conservatory rooms and in the rooms occupied by the art department, and guests are invited to call at any time between the hours of 2 and 9 p. m. on Friday. A program will be interspersed through the afternoon.

A number of matrons will assist Mrs. Rusch in receiving and pouring tea. Mrs. W. L. Cobb and Mrs. Fred Heston, Mrs. Washington Hughes, Mrs. Paul Bubar, Mrs. James Clark and Mrs. Leona McDonald. The display will continue until nine o'clock Friday evening.

Miss Ethel Shrum and Miss Ione Reibel left this afternoon for Portland. Miss Shrum will be a week and guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Shrum and Miss Reibel will visit friends.

Lady Muscovites Entertain Odd Fellows Lodge

Following the regular business meeting of the Lady Muscovites on Friday evening, the ladies joined the Odd Fellows lodge in their room and gave an interesting program. Included in the program was a piano solo by Mrs. Edythe Kelley, a vocal solo by Miss Verita Kohlhaege accompanied by Mrs. Leo Rapp, and a pantomime play by a number of the Lady Muscovites. After the program the tables were the guests of the ladies at a banquet and were seated at tables adorned with lilacs and Easter favors.

Anthony Euwer to Give Program Here

Anthony Euwer, who will give a program under the auspices of the High School P. T. A. at the high school auditorium on Tuesday, April 21, is an artist in three lines. He paints beautifully, illustrating his own writings, he is poet of great merit, and is unexcelled as a reader. Mr. Euwer has written several volumes of poetry. His latest volume, "By Scarlet Torch and Blade," published by the Knickerbocker Press is but recently off the press, and he is a regular contributor to the Sunday magazine section of the Portland News. Mr. Euwer is rich in humor, pathos and philosophy and it is indeed a treat to hear Mr. Euwer interpret his own writings. He is in demand as an entertainer, having a wide following from Oregon to New York. He does his own stunts and puts it over in a way that is strictly his own. As he creates pictures when he paints in color, so too does he create them when he paints with the spoken word—one might even carry the simile still further and say that he is a master of the art of make-up—for he has made old faces look young and smiles glow where gloom had been, and perhaps where a smile had been. One of the best things about Mr. Euwer's poetry is that he writes about the folks we see around us every day and we recognize many of our acquaintances in the characters he portrays.

New Oregon Novel Covers Oregon of Today

Anne Shannon Monroe, a writer for Good Housekeeping, who is well known in Canada, and whose novel, "Behind the Range" was a story of an Oregon Cattle Ranch, will be a Doubleday Page and Co. publication for April. In receipt of a very interesting letter from the artist who made the jacket illustration, Remington Schuyler. Mr. Schuyler writes as follows: "I have recently had the pleasure of making the cover paper jacket illustration for your book, 'Behind the Range'."

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz Are Hosts for Guest

To give their friends an opportunity of meeting their house guest Mrs. Bertha Kaeppler of La Crosse, Wis., who is an aunt of Mr. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz invited a number of intimate friends to their home for bridge on Friday evening. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Peterson, M. and Mrs. Irvin Bruun, Mr. and Mrs. Clair K. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Church, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Love, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hochstetler, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lockwood, Mr. B. W. Bates, Mrs. Kaeppler and Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz.

Past Week Filled With Dances

The past week dances of all kinds have entertained society, starting with the annual Easter Ball on Tuesday evening which was a panorama of beauty and color. The program was beautifully decorated for this event by the Legion Auxiliary, the members of which were hostesses to the public. On Tuesday evening the Elks danced at the Elks hall and on Friday evening the Shrine Club and members of the DeMolay gathered at the K. P. hall for an evening of dancing and an informal good time.

Missionary Society Meets This Week

Among the club meetings of the week was that of the Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church at the home of Mrs. Baxstrom on South Stephens street. Mrs. A. C. Marsters presided, and a report was made of the last meeting and of the mission work being done in the various parts of the world. Mrs. Baxstrom has charge of the chapter of the study book, Mrs. Bailey will have charge of the lesson in May.

Mrs. McDaniels Hostess to Clubwomen

Mrs. G. McDaniels invited the members of matrons to her home on Wednesday to meet her mother, Mrs. Barbara McEae of Portland, and Mrs. Ed. Marsh, a recent bride, who is making her home in Roseburg. The ladies sewed and chatted through the afternoon in rooms charming with lilacs and other fragrant spring flowers. Luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon to Mrs. McEae, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Charles McElhinny, Mrs. Ned Dixon, Mrs. Charles Brand, Mrs. Fred Strang, Mrs. B. Hughes, Mrs. Arnold Hoffmeister.

Friends Surprise Miss Strader at New Home

To surprise Miss Elvan Strader a group of her close friends planned a housewarming on Monday evening at the home Miss Strader and her sisters recently purchased at 442 Ella street. Informal games and amusements entertained the group which was made up of Esther Miller, Esther Edmund, Faye Geddes, Ethel Lander, Helen Sweet, Vernon Orr, Ruth Edmund, Volney Crouch and Walter Anderson.

Dinner Surprises Mrs. George Leeper Friday

Completely surprising Mrs. George Leeper on her birthday anniversary, the members of the South Circle of the M. E. Ladies Aid Society, and their husbands gathered at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Canaday on Friday evening. The elaborate plans for the dinner had been kept secret, and Mr. and Mrs. Leeper were equally surprised when they arrived and were greeted by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz Healin Compliment Eugene Visitors Saturday

Complimenting Dr. and Mrs. F. Sether of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Healin were hosts at dinner Saturday evening at their home in Laurelhurst. The guests sat at a table laden with yellow juncos. Covers were placed for Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Sether and daughter, Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barber, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Heinline.

Ladies Aid Society Meets on Thursday

The members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a combined business and social meeting on Thursday afternoon. After the business meeting Mrs. Marion Nichols and Miss Luella Lenoax gave a vocal duet, Mrs. Mary Myers sang, accompanied by Mrs. Grant Osborn, and Mrs. H. C. Cayman gave a piano selection. The society will meet hereafter on the fourth Thursday of each month. The next meeting to be May 28.

Mrs. Parrott Hostess at Easter Dinner

Among the Easter dinner hostesses was Mrs. Bertha Parrott who served dinner at six to a small circle of friends. The guests were seated at a table centered with brightly colored tulips, and lilies chatted informally for several hours. Mrs. Parrott's guests were Mrs. Edith Schwartz, Miss Frances Howell, Miss May Fisher, and Mrs. Marion Shaw.

Mrs. Melvin Hostess at Thimble Party

Mrs. E. T. Melvin invited a small group of matrons to her home on Wednesday to meet her mother, Mrs. Barbara McEae of Portland, and Mrs. Ed. Marsh, a recent bride, who is making her home in Roseburg. The ladies sewed and chatted through the afternoon in rooms charming with lilacs and other fragrant spring flowers. Luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon to Mrs. McEae, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Charles McElhinny, Mrs. Ned Dixon, Mrs. Charles Brand, Mrs. Fred Strang, Mrs. B. Hughes, Mrs. Arnold Hoffmeister.

Dillard Ladies Aid Society Sponsors Entertainment

The Ladies Aid society of the Dillard M. E. church entertained their families and friends with a delicious supper on Friday evening, serving the supper in the parlor which has recently been built adjoining the church. Covers were placed for seventy-five.

Sunshine Club Will Have Window Sale

The members of the Northside Sunshine Club and a number of guests gathered this week at the home of Mrs. George Slaten. Plans were made during the afternoon for a window sale on April twenty-fifth.

Mrs. C. E. Marks Is Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. C. E. Marks of Edenhovser invited the ladies of the New Idea Club to her home on Wednesday for a one o'clock luncheon seating her guests at tables artistically decorated with white aquilegia. Covers were placed for Mrs. E. A. Clemens, Mrs. E. P. Ballou, Mrs. F. A. Stewart, Mrs. T. S. Sprague, Mrs. F. D. Owen, Mrs. H. A. Calkins, Mrs. L. H. Williams, Mrs. Curtis Calkins, Mrs. Clarence Simpson, Mrs. Paul Beaver, Mrs. Madeline Cooley, all club members, and guests, Mrs. J. Jones, Miss Pearl Jones, and Mrs. V. R. Buckingham.

The Newest Frock

Marjorie Daw Wears a Tunic Dress, the Favorite Model of Spring.

The tunic dress, which is complete in itself, or which may be correctly worn with a smart coat for early spring, is most charmingly worn by Marjorie Daw, who plays with a great deal of appeal the role of Elizabeth Stuart in the First National picture, "One Way Street."

Music Week Will Reach Everyone

Plans for the observance in Roseburg of Music Week, May 3 to 9, are progressing rapidly, and the week will be a memorable one for clubs, organizations, societies, and the general public, plans have been formulated to reach everyone in some way during that week with the message of music.

Healin Compliment Eugene Visitors Saturday

Complimenting Dr. and Mrs. F. Sether of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Healin were hosts at dinner Saturday evening at their home in Laurelhurst. The guests sat at a table laden with yellow juncos. Covers were placed for Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Sether and daughter, Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barber, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Heinline.

Ladies Aid Society Meets on Thursday

The members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a combined business and social meeting on Thursday afternoon. After the business meeting Mrs. Marion Nichols and Miss Luella Lenoax gave a vocal duet, Mrs. Mary Myers sang, accompanied by Mrs. Grant Osborn, and Mrs. H. C. Cayman gave a piano selection. The society will meet hereafter on the fourth Thursday of each month. The next meeting to be May 28.

Mrs. Parrott Hostess at Easter Dinner

Among the Easter dinner hostesses was Mrs. Bertha Parrott who served dinner at six to a small circle of friends. The guests were seated at a table centered with brightly colored tulips, and lilies chatted informally for several hours. Mrs. Parrott's guests were Mrs. Edith Schwartz, Miss Frances Howell, Miss May Fisher, and Mrs. Marion Shaw.

POETS' CORNER

Signed Contributions for This Department May Be Sent to the Society Editor of The News-Review, and Will Be Used as Space is Available.

AN OLD FASHIONED VIRTUE

Oh, leave your care and come with me
And rest 'neath the magnolia tree.
A world of bloom, Oh, what a spread
What canopy for tired head.
And as you rest beneath the tree
Behold the shy anemone
Behold the rosebuds in the bush
The lily's drooping head, but hush,
I hear a footstep drawing near,
Here comes our dear old pioneer.

Oh, leave your care and come with me

And rest 'neath the magnolia tree.
A world of bloom, Oh, what a spread
What canopy for tired head.
And as you rest beneath the tree
Behold the shy anemone
Behold the rosebuds in the bush
The lily's drooping head, but hush,
I hear a footstep drawing near,
Here comes our dear old pioneer.

Old fashioned you say? Yes, old fashioned as Honor and Justice and Truth.

Old fashioned as kindness and goodness, and the path that is measured by duty.
Old fashioned as any fine virtue that contributes to Character-Beauty.

The beauty God craves for His garden, I wonder if He ever yearns.

For more of that flower that flourished in Grandmother's plot, as he turns
Today in his garden and watches life's blossoms unfold?—
If he longs to remind his dear ones of old,
Submitted by Yolanda Vashaw, Looking Glass.

AN ODE TO MYRTLE CREEK

I scorn to boast, but I must say
That things are moving out our way.
The school is gliding on like wax
And every man has paid his tax.
The orchards now are all bloom
And fill the air with sweet perfume.
And I have seen no prettier sight
Than all the orchards robed in white.
And as I gaze out o'er this realm
Its beauties simply overwhelm.
And so I pray, Oh God, be good
To all this toiling brotherhood
Who forge with muscle, brain and pick
To till the soil of Myrtle Creek.

THE QUERULOUS MAN

I yearn for a home on a tilting rock
Praised on a boundless sea,
Whereto to drone the sluggish hours
In dolorous reverie.
Watching the rise of the morning light—
When it forks o'er the far away,
And emblazon's the star-lit gloom
Of night
With the sun-lit gloom of day.
I would drift down the stream of retrospice
That follows life's tortuous line
And linger awhile, when rounding the bend,
That mixed recollections entwine.
If lonely, I'd list to enrapturing lilt
Of ancelle songster in air
Who speed to unite in the calm "interspace"
With choristers resident there.
In that isolate home I would grow elate
And I have seen no prettier sight
Than all the orchards robed in white.
And as I gaze out o'er this realm
Its beauties simply overwhelm.
And so I pray, Oh God, be good
To all this toiling brotherhood
Who forge with muscle, brain and pick
To till the soil of Myrtle Creek.

Wharton's Have Dinner Easter Sunday

The members of the Wharton family gathered in Roseburg on Easter Sunday for dinner at the Joseph Wharton residence, several out of town members of the family spending the day here. Covers were placed about a table charming with Easter favors, and centered with fragrant lilacs. Seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wharton of Grants Pass, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wharton, Mrs. Lena Smith of Marshfield, Joseph Wharton, Misses Bess and Jane Wharton.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Wharton's Have Dinner Easter Sunday

The members of the Wharton family gathered in Roseburg on Easter Sunday for dinner at the Joseph Wharton residence, several out of town members of the family spending the day here. Covers were placed about a table charming with Easter favors, and centered with fragrant lilacs. Seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wharton of Grants Pass, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wharton, Mrs. Lena Smith of Marshfield, Joseph Wharton, Misses Bess and Jane Wharton.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a young girl of provocative mystery. Complications, jealousy and misunderstandings keep them apart while the Big Bertha shell Paris and the fever of war rages about them. It is Armistice night before peace is declared in their hearts. The picture is said to be somewhat similar to "Three Weeks" and "His Hour" in the beauty of sets and photography, and in the typical Elinor Glyn treatment of the divine passion.

Antlers Theatre next Sunday and Monday, tells the story of a young English nobleman, crippled in the war, who settles in a luxurious Paris apartment, where the visits of the gay women of Paris merely bore him. Then he meets a