ROSEBURG, OREGON, TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1925.

WHY AMERICAN WORKERS ARE NOT RED.

The doctrines of red radicalism, or communism, have never found general favor among the workmen of America, says James J. Davis, of the department of labor, in an article contributed to the National Republic.

The American worker has always before him the opportunity to remove himself by his industry, ingenuity and thrift from the ranks of the workers, and to take a higher place in the economic life of the country.

The American worker is the best paid worker in the world. He enjoys the best working conditions and the highest standards of living of the workers of any nation.

The American worker has a vital, material stake, a tremendous financial interest in our industrial and commercial establishment. The tendency of the worker to put his savings into industry, providing capital through investments in industrial and commercial securities, is a constantly growing one.

FINE MAP OF OREGON ISSUED

Anglers, hunters and recreation seekers who sense the call of the north will find a veritable mine of condensed information in an outing map of the State of Oregon prepared by the outing and map service departments of the Automobile Club of Southern California for its members and visiting motorists.

The map is 24 by 36 inches, and in addition to the highways, rivers and lakes, it shows in red ink camp sites, where supplies are obtainable, where gasoline and oil can be had, post-offices, meals and lodgings, where guides, packers and animals are obtainable, where boats are for rent, ranches where butter and eggs, etc. may be purchased, points of interest, scenic areas, water falls, main trails and game refuges.

On the reverse side of the map is printed all sorts of detailed information including Roosevelt Highway, McKenzie River, Middle Fork of the Willamette country, Columbia River Highway, and Mt. Hood Loop, Pacific Highway, Klamath Lake, Crater Lake, Diamond Lake and Upper Rogue River, and a list of golf clubs in the state.

Amateur campers will find numerous hints that may help in making their outings comfortable and pleasureable and simple rules for sportsmen are given.

It is commonly said that modern industry has little use for old workers. Yet if you look through the factories of almost any city, you would usually find quite a number of men who have been working at their trade 40 to 55 years or more.

Eugene is all agog over the discovery of gas in alleged paying quantities from an oil well being drilled close to that city, and the prediction that oil will soon be found.

Just about time for April showers to end. The old month has brought forth plenty of moisture.

The predicted frost for this morning failed to materialize—for which we are very thankful.

PRUNE PICKIN'S

BY BERT G. BATES

GOOD EVENING FOLKS— The other day we read Where a Scotch golfer Knocked a ball Down a feller's throat An' Sandy called At the hospital Where the victim Was taken and The nurse said "Didja wanta know How the patient is?" And the Scotchman said: "No, I just wanted To git my ball back."

"Have you seen the play, 'Pompadour'?" "No. Who's in it?" "Lather Barnes has a part in it." "What does he play?" "The part of Dan." "Dan who?" "Dandruff."

A feller asked us over to his house to hear his radio the other eve and he picked up Chicago and we that it was the stockyards broadcastin' thru the ether, but later we found out his wife had forgot to empty the garbage can in the kitchen.

"SPITIFUL!" We saw a poor little kid goin' down the main stem yesterday bawlin' and he said he'd lost his mamma. We asked him why he didn't hang onto her skirts and the youngster said he couldn't reach 'em.

TUBERCULIN TEST. All owners of dairy cows in Roseburg and immediate territory will have an opportunity to have their animals tested for tuberculosis by Dr. E. R. Derrlinger from Oregon State Livestock Sanitary office on Wednesday, April 22nd.

Location No. 1.—Immediately east of Union Oil tanks. All cows in North and East Roseburg should be brought to this point between the hours of 8:30 and 9:30 a. m.

Location No. 2.—City limits south on Pacific Highway between the hours of 8:30 and 9:30 a. m. All cows in the central and southern part of the City to be taken to that point.

Location No. 3.—One block west of Corvay Avenue between the hours of 1:00 and 2:00 p. m. This location should apply for all cows in West Roseburg.

Location No. 4.—Near Edenhower School House between the hours of 2:30 and 3:30 p. m. This will accommodate all cow owners in the Riverside and the Edenhower communities.

After the test has been made, it will be necessary to bring the animals tested to the same place and during the same hours on Saturday, April 25th, for a reaction inspection.

Each cow should be in the hands of an attendant and every person having an animal in charge, will be expected to prevent its contact with any other animal present.

This work has been arranged by the County Agent's office and it is hoped that all those owning dairy stock will take advantage of the service.

SIDEWALKS NOT TO BE ORDERED IN LAURELWOOD

Some of the exclusive residential districts in larger cities, where sidewalks are not required, and that homes had been built with that idea in mind, and that the beauty of the section would be damaged by the construction of walks.

Mayor Houck responded to the delegation, stating that he believed that some misunderstanding had developed. He stated that the council had not at any time considered the sidewalk proposition in Laurelwood, and that there was no desire on the part of the council to force in sidewalks or to require them until such a time as the property owners desire them.

He went on to explain that in his opinion the residents of Laurelwood should keep in mind the fact that at some future date sidewalks may be required, and that permanent improvements should not be built up to the curb line as is being done.

It was explained that the city charter requires property owners to keep and maintain sidewalks in front of their property, and that the city ordinance specifies the kinds of walks and the manner in which they should be built.

The committee reported unfavorably on the suggestion that Bowen street be abandoned, stating that the street is needed to provide an entrance to warehouse property.
