Mrs. Audrey Savin

Portland, Ore.—"A few years ago I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs and in the bronchial tubes. I had a severe cough, and became so bad that for six weeks I could not lie down, would have to sit up in a Morris chair. I doctored but did not get any better. I was 'all in' physically, and began myself to think there was no help for me, when I was advised by one of my doctors to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine so completely relieved me of my trouble that I have never had any return of it. My lungs and bronchials are strong and never give me any trouble."—Mrs. Audrey Savin, 692 Tacoma Ave.

Obtain this "Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's in tablets or liquid at your nearest drug store and you'll quickly find that it builds you up, besides getting your distress.

Collegian's Faith in Card Proved Justified

Henry Alston was very careful and methodical in a circumstance that called forth much good-natured teasing from his college roommate, Tom Bowers.

"If the card with your name and address that I just saw you putting in your pocketbook ever does a particle of good, Hank," said Tom, "please let me know how, when and where. You lose the purse and see how quick you get it back!"

"Get you that card would help?" declared Henry.

"Get you it wouldn't!"

Some time later Henry's sailing canoe upset, and Henry was rescued after he had been in the water several hours. On removing his wet clothes he discovered that his pocketbook containing $25 was missing. He could ill afford to lose the sum.

"Never you mind, though," Tom comforted him, "some big kind fish is going to read that address card and come waddling up here with your money stuck right under his fin."

All that fall and winter a knock at their door usually elicited from Tom some such remark as, "Hurry up, Hank, hurry up! Here's that obnoxious old fish with your wallet!"

One warm day the following May Henry received a letter bearing the postmark of a nearby town. As he finished reading he uttered a joyful "ho!" and thrust it under the eyes of his roommate.

"Dear Mr. Alston," the letter ran, "yesterday my wife asked me to pound up some ice for ice cream, and while using the salt in vigorous style I came across something black and glistening—a leather wallet containing $25 in bills and a card bearing your name and address. The case is a little the worse for wear, but the money is O. K. A queer chance my finding the article, and I'd like to hear the history sometime. Am returning all to you intact by registered mail. Yours truly, L. M. Hawkins."—Youth's Companion.

Cliff's Fall Laid Bare Treasure Long Hidden

One of the most dramatic discoveries in the history of archeology occurred when a fall of the cliff near Lyblos, Syria, scopped a corner out of a rock-cut tomb over 4,000 years old, the existence of which had long been suspected but never proved.

The shrine revealed to a passer-by a huge sarcophagus with a unique lid, having large knob-shaped knobs by which, no doubt, it was originally handled. The rock hereabouts is very porous, and a layer of muddy soil, knee deep, which had filtered down through the ages, covered the floor.

In the gallery a further small tomb or coffin was found. The tomb was originally entered by three pits, which were afterward walled in below and filled in above. Among the objects found were amulets and bone fragments, a lamp of bronze or gold, silver vessels, a gold of obsidian and gold, two gold silver, an alabaster case, a bronze vase, and plaques of ivory or luster ware.

Earning Her Keep

A statistician of this to have discovered that a married woman, who does all the work of her own household, will in the course of 50 years married life, prepare nearly 200,000 meals. This is counting a meal as the amount of food required by one person.

During this period she will probably order for household consumption about 2,000 lbs. of jam, will boil 300,000 potatoes, and devote about 35,000 hours to sweeping, washing and scrubbing.

Valuing this work at the accepted price now paid for "professional" aid, the housewife who does her own housework probably earns fully as much as her husband. But that is not to say that she gets it—oh, dear, no!—London Answers.

All the Details

Young St had just returned from the city, and his fiancée was asking him about the experiences in particular how he enjoyed eating in an automaton restaurant.

"How do they work?" the friend asked.

"Well, you put your nickel in the watchman's slot and press the thingum-bob, and the dooinkus turns around and gives you your food," explained St.

"Isn't that marvelous?" echoed the fiancée. "I knew they were wonderful things, but I didn't hear the details before."

Only a Dream

Timmy listened intently. His wife and her mother were talking. The latter was saying: "You have indeed secured a splendid husband, and I think you ought to treat him with a little more tact and consideration. Don't always want to know where he is going, and if he comes home a little late, be agreeable and wait until he explains before you begin asking a lot of awkward questions. He's just the sort to appreciate any generosity on your part. Be kind to him."

Timmy stirred uneasily, trying to hear more, when—he awoke.

"Find" on the Farm

The city lad was rousing about in the country when he came upon a dozen or so sleepy, fat-tailed milk cows. He yelled to his companions:

"Hey, fellows, come here quick! I've found a cow's nest!"—Farm and Fireside.
