JUDGE STAPLETON DIES AT SEASIDE

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
PORTLAND, Ore., May 1.—Judge George W. Stapleton of the circuit court of Multnomah county, died suddenly today at his summer cottage at Seaside, following an attack of paralysis. He had gone down to the seashore about a week ago to rest. He had been forced to give up his work on the bench following an attack of paralysis which occurred a year ago in the midst of a trial. He was born in Iowa in 1868 and crossed the plains with his parents to Idaho in a covered wagon.

RECKLESS DRIVING CASE HEARD TODAY

The case of Richard Horn, of Medford, charged with reckless driving, was heard in the local justice court this afternoon. Horn's car, and a machine driven by Mr. Gilpin of Willbur, collided near Yoncalla last January. It was claimed by Mr. Gilpin, and the other state witnesses, that the car driven by Mr. Horn was traveling on the wrong side of the road at the time of the accident, witnesses stating that the tracks left on the pavement indicated that fact. Mr. Horn denied that he was on the wrong side, claiming that his car was on the extreme right, and the tracks mentioned were made after the accident occurred, and after the sudden application of the brakes had taken his machine out from under his control. He said that there were two windshield wipers working in his car, and none on the Ford, and that consequently he had a clear vision, while Mr. Gilpin did not. The Ford car was in the center of the highway at the time of the accident, Mr. Horn insisted. The trial has been postponed since January, as one of Mr. Horn's witnesses had to come from Chicago.

MARKETS

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
PORTLAND, Ore., May 1.—There is almost a runaway market prevailing in old onions and potatoes locally. Although new crop stocks are coming in liberally and prices are declining rapidly, holders of old stocks of potatoes and onions are asking prices almost unreasonable—and getting them. Very little of the old crop remains in this state and the few dribbles, here and there, are in strong hands. Restaurants, hotels and the grocers are still using old stocks and need it and naturally must pay the price. It is doubtful, however, if old potatoes and onion prices will go much higher. Today old potatoes U. S. No. 1 grade of Burbanks are selling wholesale at $2.75 with some fancy Deschutes ones bringing $3. Number 1 Yakima Gems are firm at $3 and probably will be held a quarter higher the first of the week. Buyers have to pay $2.25 to $2.35 in the country for old potatoes today and $5 a ton in Yakima. New crop potatoes are plentiful at 5 1/2 to 6 cents and getting cheaper with each new shipment. Extreme prices on old onions as high as $4 are heard along the street with bulk of sales around $3.75. Some varieties of Australian browns have been jobbed at $5.50. Some of the houses already out of old crop stock. Good Sherwood stock would probably cost around $5 to $5.25 in the country if available. New crop white wax onions are coming in now with the market down around 6 1/2 to 7 cents. New onions are getting cheaper as the supply increases and this will no doubt check the upward flight of old onions.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1.—Eggs steady, unchanged. Current receipts 28c; pullets 23 1/2 to 24c; firsts 25 to 26c; henlies 24 to 25c delivered Portland. Butter—Cube butter weak; plentiful. Prints unchanged. Extra cubes, city 40c; standards 39c; prime firsts 39 1/2; firsts 39c; undergrades nominal; prints 42c; cartons 42c. Butter fat steady. Best creaming cream 40c net shippers track in zone 1; 41 cents delivered Portland. Poultry quiet. Heavy hens 23 1/2 to 24c; broilers 38 to 40c. Onions firm, higher, $5 to $5.25. Potatoes firm, higher, $2.25 to $2.35. Nuts steady. Walnuts No. 1, 29 1/2 to 30c; filberts nominal; almonds 29 to 30c; Brazil nuts 12 to 14c; Italian chestnuts 21c. Hops unsettled. New clusters 15c; faggles 15 1/2 to 16c; old crop nominal. Casazra bark quiet. New pool 70 to 80c; Oregon grape root 4c.

BOSTON, May 1.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: The wool market has been depressed still further this week. The Australian selling policy, evidently has done more to destabilize the world markets than its sponsors dreamed possible. Certainly the effect in this market has been deleterious and Bradford Loomis' views are loud in their denunciation of the plan. The result probably will be a curtailment of the London colonial series commencing Tuesday and possibly a curtailment or restrictive selling policy again in Australia for they have not been able to sell more wool there at the lower prices than before. Also during the week, both here and abroad, have been brought about largely through necessity or expediency. Few prices have been made anywhere on the merits of the wool. Quotations are extremely difficult. Never more so, in fact, even in the dark days of 1920, but there are conservative observers in the trade who believe the decline is going too far.

Manufacturers offer little in the way of encouragement, although some reports are to the effect that there is a broader order of business both on woolsens and worsteds. Little, except consignments and old contract purchases are being moved in the west.

Growers inclined to resist current bids of dealers.

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

Oregon—Western No. 1 staple $1.20@1.22; fine and fine medium, combed $1.15@1.19; eastern clothing $1.05@1.07; valley No. 1 $1.05@1.10.
