ROSEBURG, OREGON, SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1925.

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK

Beginning tomorrow, May 3, and continuing until Saturday, May 9, programs will be devoted throughout the nation to training the ear and mind to respond more readily to the charms of music.

Here in Roseburg an enlarged musical program has been planned for the entire week, every musical organization taking a leading part and a fitting observance and well-balanced program has been arranged for each day during the entire week.

To the professional and amateur musician of the community Music Week provides an opportunity to give of his ability for the education and enjoyment of his fellow citizens and the artistic advancement of his city.

But, music is not just something to be enjoyed during Music Week—very much to the contrary. It is an established asset of untold value to every home, to every community and the nation at large.

LOYALTY TO CALIFORNIA

Following is a copy of a letter written March 25, 1925, on the stationery of the Yreka Inn, Yreka, Cal., to the Knight Packing Company, by their representative, Mr. T. F. Mesch, and published in a recent issue of the Oregon Merchants' Magazine:

"Mc.: This is a new hotel and run by the Weaver boys, who also have the Umpqua hotel at Roseburg. On my last trip here (while the hotel was still under construction) I talked Knight's Rogue River Catsup to Mr. Weaver and he bought 5 cases through Mason, Ehrman Co. So tonight, after finishing my dinner, I introduced myself to the steward and told him I was much pleased to see Knight's Rogue River Catsup on the tables.

"Here's the joke—He said, 'I like it and think it's fine catsup but I had to get another brand, a California catsup for so many California people refuse to eat any other but California products.' He said they don't hesitate to tell you either. He said he started out by putting Rogue River Peas and Umpqua Valley Prunes on the menu and the California people raised such a huller that he had to quit it.

"He is from southern California but Mr. Weaver had bought these Oregon products and thought it only fitting to put them on the menu the same as he does in Roseburg. I was talking to Mr. Weaver about it and he tells me that they brought a bunch of soap down here from their Roseburg hotel (made-in-Oregon soap) and said you would be surprised how many people here called him on it, saying 'Why do we have to use Oregon soap in California?' And one man even went so far as to say he would never stay there again until Mr. Weaver showed him a copy of an order where he had ordered soap from some California house. And the only reason they had the Oregon soap was because they overlooked ordering until too late to get it in time for the opening of the hotel and rushed some up from their Roseburg hotel.

"I told this steward, 'Why you can find California catsup in many Oregon restaurants and hotels,' and he acted rather surprised. He said 'Why, that's funny. Why don't they use Oregon catsup?' He said he had never been in Oregon but he said, 'you can't do that in California. California people won't stand for it.'"

Can you beat it? We in Oregon can preach it, but in California they live it. If only the Oregon merchants and Oregon people took that stand we sure would have some catsup business.

The foregoing is the California spirit. And this state of mind has had much to do with the tremendous success attained by the Golden State. Plugging, first, last and all the time for California by Californians has so permeated the atmosphere that it is almost considered a crime to use or purchase anything that comes from any other state in the union. And, right here is where it should be stated that this sort of selfishness "brings home the bacon." It is the proper spirit to develop and a lot of it could be developed in Oregon—right in Douglas county—adding to the material wealth of the state, the county and cities. California has the right sort of boosting spirit. In fact, has been on the job for a long time and is getting results.

PRUNE PICKIN'S

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—When you feel yourself A-sleepin' And there's loss Of appetite; It's that fishin' Feelin' grippin' When the trout Begin to bite!

DUMPELL DORA THINKS A lady with a shady past is a cool proposition.

This is Bathing night, friends of the air, and it reminds us of the old Joemiller we heard in the days when "The Slow Train Thru Arkansas" was the best seller. Here's the way it goes: A sweet young damsel with fringes on her skirt that tickled her knees tripped up to the hotel desk where Scotty was presidin' and said: "Gimme a room." And Scotty, "I can give you a room for $3 per day and I can give you a bath for a dollar extra."

Next week is Music Week. This week was Fire Prevention Week. We're gittin' wearin' observin' weeks.

We hope none of the atley quartets will be included on next week's program as "Sweet Adeline" has never been the same sweet girl since Volstead invented water for drinkin' purposes.

The buzzin' of the house-fly Makes a feller talk obscene— But the language that we use is wuss While puttin' up a screen.

An ol' boy from the soldiers home dropped into our sanctum this a. m. and said he felt younger ever' dern day he lived and that he could play as good a game of broquet now as any of the young fry of the village, which prompts us to muse:

Consider the cheese When of age frets, The older it grows The snapper it gets.

Ever' time we pick up a paper we notice where another mutilated body has been found. What a nation of cut-ups we're gittin' to be.

Some dear ol' soul brought in a bokoy of poesies to our sanctum; this a. m. and now if some sweet-dispositioned individual will kindly lay a crate of strawberries on our desk we'll enjoy the week-end immensely.

The milestones pass Like a picket fence As a birthday rolls along— When we think of the things We'd planned to be— We feel like thirty cents.

Saw a dilapidated flivver pass through the village this p. m., and it was a perfect picture of the slogan of our ancestors: "United we stand, divided we fall."

Lotsa fellers will play gawf tomorrow and others will take their daily dozen at the business end of a lawn-mower.

DRAIN SCHOOL GIVEN PRIZE The Drain school was today awarded a beautiful framed picture by the local forest service office, as a reward for a set of forest week posters presented for use by that school. The posters were not entered in the contest, and consequently were not in competition for the main prize, but their merit moved the officers of the local office to reward the students by a gift of one of the beautiful pictures.

The Umpqua Post players challenged the winning team, and an interesting game is anticipated tomorrow.

FIRE IN WALLA WALLA HOSPITAL. WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 2.—Fire at the Walla Walla hospital, a three story wooden structure, discovered about 12:30 o'clock this afternoon is threatening destruction of the entire building. Flames were bursting through the roof upon arrival of the fire department. It is not yet known whether all the patients have been removed. Within 20 minutes after the arrival of the department, Fire Chief Tom Casey announced that the nine patients in the hospital had been safely removed and the blaze was under control. One was a six day old baby. The blaze was confined to the attic and roof, covered by tar paper, causing immense flames and dense smoke, leading distant observers to believe the entire building was being destroyed. Considerable water damage was done, however, to the rooms below. Boy scouts from the Y. M. C. A. nearby were quickly organized into a rescue squad and assisted in removing the patients, their personal effects and the medical supplies and surgical equipment.

UNIQUE MOTHER'S DAY GIFTS OFFERED. During the coming week the Near East Relief organization is offering an attractive Mother's Day gift, which is not only a beautiful remembrance, but is an aid in the relief work being carried on. The gifts are hand made linen handkerchiefs, edged in delicate lace. The lace is made by the Armenian refugee mothers, and they will receive 50 cents out of each $1 charged for these handkerchiefs. The Near East organization furnished the linen and materials and the work was done by the mothers. The gifts are done up in a neat, sanitary package in a special Mother's Day folder. They will be displayed at all of the churches in the city on Sunday, and will be on sale all next week.

MULKEY IS URGED. SALEM, Ore., May 2.—A large number of telegrams were received at the office of Governor Pierce today urging him to appoint B. F. Mulkey, Portland attorney as a successor to the late Judge George W. Stapleton of the circuit court in Multnomah county. It is said that Mulkey has not sought the appointment but that his friends are urging the governor to appoint him and urging Mr. Mulkey to accept. The argument is made that he has wide experience as an attorney including experience as a district attorney while living in Jackson County. Newton McCoy, former public service commissioner; Ross Hurst, W. T. Slater and several others are being urged upon the governor. McCoy and Hurst are democrats, and Mulkey is a republican. In urging the appointment of Mulkey, his friends argue that the appointment should not be a partisan one.

TEN MILLION IS SUM TO BE GIVEN OREGON THIS YEAR. (Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., May 2.—United States Senator Robert N. Stanford, who arrived here today from Washington, said that Oregon will receive almost $10,000,000 for use in the present year as a result of appropriations made by congress at the last session. Among these he listed: Federal aid highways $2,359,336; Forest roads and trails $1,587,953; Reclamation $2,621,000; Rivers and harbors $1,490,000; Improvements at Crater Lake, $50,700; Roads at Crater Lake $183,000. "In addition," he said, "congress authorized the construction of reclamation projects in Oregon totalling $22,000,000 and also authorized the expenditure of $180,000 on Tillamook Bay, $74,000 for dredging the shoals in the Siuslaw river and an annual maintenance of $20,000 for this stream. "Congress also authorized the survey and a report on the following projects: Yaquina Bay and entrance; Port Orford Harbor, Skipanon channel, Coos Bay; Columbia River, above and below Kalama with view to providing ship channel to wharves at Kalama; Columbia river and lower Willamette rivers between Portland and the sea, with view to deepening and widening channel, and Columbia river from Tongue Point base at Astoria to mouth of the river, the cost of these surveys to be paid out of a general fund provided for such purposes. "Outstanding and shining above all other things accomplished is the new Veteran's Hospital to be constructed at Portland immediately at a cost of approximately $1,500,000. "These material results are due to the united efforts of the Oregon delegation in congress, coupled with the fact that delegation is in complete accord with the president and the administration.

AGED MAN HELD FOR KILLING 3. SEATTLE, Wash., May 2.—Eddie Mundorf, 29 years old, died today from the effects of a shooting affray in a hotel here last night, in which Nora Reynolds, 56, and Robert Fulton, 40, a card room employe also were killed. Lawrence Higdon, 64 year old blacksmith, is held by the police in connection with the deaths. Questioned by detectives, Higdon said several men broke in the door of his room and started to beat him and that he fired about ten shots. Jerry Howard, a roomer in the hotel was arrested when Higdon named him as one of the men who entered his room, but was later released. Police discredit a story by Higdon that he did not see the Reynolds woman in the room when he began shooting. Two sons in Tacoma, 16 and 17 years old, survive the Reynolds woman, police announced.

MANY TROUT EGGS TAKEN AT HATCHERY. T. H. Hill, superintendent of the Rock Creek trout hatchery was in Roseburg today. Mr. Hill said he visited the Marks place where a large number of fish were trapped during the high water in a swale, but finds that because of the brush and other debris blocking the outlet, that there is no way to get the fish out. Owing to the fact that the high water brought up more trout than had been anticipated, he succeeded in getting more trout eggs than he had expected to take this year. The spotted trout are through hatching and the rainbows and steelheads are beginning to hatch, Mr. Hill says. The road to Rock Creek he reports to be in fairly good condition.

JOHN COOLIDGE IS DOING HIS CHORES. (Associated Press Leased Wire.) PLYMOUTH, Vt., May 3.—Colonel John C. Coolidge, father of the president was back at his home in Plymouth today performing his usual chores after having undergone a heart examination at the Massachusetts general hospital in Boston yesterday. Colonel Coolidge had nothing to say concerning his trip to Boston, other than that he was feeling as usual. Specialists who examined him said he had heart block, a condition often occurring among persons of advanced age. There was a dance in the hall above the general store in Plymouth last night, but the president's father did not attend. Oftentimes he drops over to these affairs and watches the merry-makers, but it was said the journey from Boston which he made in a day coach in preference to waiting for a train with the Pullman accommodations, had made him tired and he had gone to bed early.
