THE OBLIGATIONS OF WEALTH

A criticism of the way in which many wealthy people spend their money, was made by Dean W. R. Inge of England, a noted clergyman now in America, in his lectures at Yale Divinity school. He complained of the vulgar and unscrupulous way in which many of these people act.

LACK OF ADVERTISING KILLED THEIR TRADE

E. L. Murduck, proprietor of Murduck Bros., for 18 years a leading ladies' ready-to-wear store in Champaign, Ill., declares that the chief reason for the recent failure of his business was due to his giving up newspaper advertising.

Birds need to be protected from the predatory cat, according to the government biological survey. As we depend on birds to fight the pests that cause us a loss of $2,000,000,000 or thereabout each year, poor Pussy's offense is serious.

Fifty cases of delinquent children were recently analyzed in Omaha, Nebraska. It was found that 90 per cent of them came from parental neglect, irresponsibility, broken homes, and wrong home environment.

A meeting of city planners has just been held in New York city, and one of the speakers dwelt on the idea that the city of Boston, according to his estimate, needs to spend $50,000,000 to provide adequate thoroughfares through its congested district.

THE BEST What's the best thing in the world? Sweet-south wind, that means no rain.

Truth, not cruel to a friend; Pleasure, not in haste to end; Beauty, not self-deck'd and cur'd.

Till its pride is over-plain; Tight, that never makes you wink; Temory, that gives no pain; Love, when, so, you're loved again.

What's the best thing in the world? Something out of it, I think. —Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Gawf talk hain't bein' so superfluous since the defeated gawfers returned from Coos Bay.

There's one woman in town who knows human nature. She was riding on a car with a friend.

They were discussing their mutual acquaintances, and in such a tone of voice that the passengers on the car were beginning to feel that they, too, knew them.

Said the one with the red hat and the green coat: "I'd like to know 'bout Martha's 'sore' about."

"How 'd'you know she's 'sore'?" asked the one who wore the plaid stockings.

"Well, if she aint 'sore,' why'd she come over last night and bring back every last thing she'd borrowed in the last six months?"

The business and profess wimen will give a dance this eve at the armory and all the stenogs are requested to leave the Wrangles at home because ya aint allowed to dance that way no more.

MANAGER WESTERN DIVISION CHAMBER COMMERCE SPEAKS

Paul Clagstone, manager of the Western division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was a speaker today before an afternoon meeting of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce.

Clagstone stated, "includes eleven of the western states, Hawaii, the Philippines and Alaska. The national organization has divided into four districts, eastern, western, central and southern, this division being for the purpose of getting a closer insight into the problems of each of those localities."

"The Western Division," Mr. Clagstone stated, "includes eleven of the western states, Hawaii, the Philippines and Alaska. The national organization has divided into four districts, eastern, western, central and southern, this division being for the purpose of getting a closer insight into the problems of each of those localities."

"A strictly national organization cannot feel so deeply the importance of many of the questions which are vital to many sections. For instance the problem of reforestation is one in which the west is deeply interested, for upon its successful solution lies much of the potential wealth of those states. At the last western convention this problem, together with a general program on agriculture, shipping and kindred topics, were thoroughly investigated, and a plan outlined for action on the part of the national organization. Had these matters been dealt with strictly through the larger body, the benefit would not have been as great as otherwise will result."

Mr. Clagstone stated that he is endeavoring to arrange for an agricultural conference to be held in the western division at some future date, the meeting being similar to the one which occurred recently in Kansas City, where 9 states were represented and discussed initial problems relating to the agricultural industry in those three states.

Mr. Clagstone is visiting the local chambers on his way to Seattle, where he will complete arrangements for the convention, and will then go direct to Washington, D. C., to participate in the national meeting to be held on May 20 to 22.

CITY ASKED TO AID IN DECKING OAK ST. BRIDGE

County Judge Intimates Funds Will Be Held Up for Improvement.

LAW IS QUESTIONED

Attorney Believes Court Can Be Compelled to Give City Road Money.

The city council held a very busy session last night, a number of routine matters being brought up for discussion.

A. G. McMullin appeared before the council with a request for a division of the assessment on property recently acquired by him, and his petition was referred to the committee on Ways and Means.

The request of the Boy Scouts for the use of the council chambers for the meeting of the Court of Honor, was granted.

County Judge Quine appeared before the council with a request for the city's agreement to aid in re-decking the Oak Street Bridge.

The law provides that each municipality is a road district within itself, and it has always been required to turn over to the city its share of the road been held by the city that under the existing laws the county money raised within the district. The county court claims that it has the right to use the money on projects outside the city, without turning the funds over to the council.

The city claims that the county owns the bridge, and that the city has no interest in it whatsoever. The court, however, is trying to place the burden of upkeep upon the city.

The matter has been referred to City Attorney Wimberly, who expressed his opinion last night, that the county court can be compelled to turn over the road money and that the council may then participate or not in the improvement, using its own discretion. The city desires to use the money for the repair of broken pavements and returfing of the Deer Creek Bridge.

An offer of $25 for the old beer house on Parrott-street was accepted.

A communication offering the city a second hand street flusher, was read and placed on file.

County Physician W. C. Belt submitted a complaint regarding an open tank containing stagnant water in Laurelwood and the matter was referred to the committee on health and police.

The Southern Pacific company's acceptance of the franchise ordinance for the spur track crossing Douglas street, was read and filed.

The offer of R. L. Whipple to purchase property for the mount of the city's liens was accepted.

A petition was filed by the Coen Lumber company for the vacation of Spring street between the west line of Short street and the east line of the S. P. right of way. The street committee was ordered to investigate.

The Ways and Means committee reported that the county has no money to participate in the paving of second avenue south and the city will take no further action.

The street committee reported that it will be necessary to condemn a 5 foot strip of land bordering on Benson and McClellan streets, before the petitions for vacating those streets can be adopted. The condemnation proceedings will be instituted if residents agree to pay the costs and to pay the damages if any are allowed.

The petition for graveling Terrace Avenue and Second street, was denied, as it was held that the property was not worth the cost of the improvement.

Plans and specifications were ordered prepared for the paving of East 4th street, East Second street, East 6th street and A Avenue.

The health and police committee recommended the repair of a sewer on Fowler street.

The action of the light committee in placing a new light on the Oak street bridge was confirmed.

Plans and specifications for the improvements of the following streets together with the estimates, were read as follows: Roberts street, $7,541.51; 2nd Ave. north, $6,522.11; First Avenue north, $2,267.75; Short street, $2,698.97; Spring street, $2,577.69; Sykes street, $4,547.82.

An ordinance authorizing the issuance of city improvement bonds in the sum of $43,113.33, was passed.

MRS. HURLBURT DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Viola E. Hurlbut, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Shockley, here for the past five months, passed away last night suddenly. Mrs. Hurlbut had been in poor health for some time, and came here from Spokane in December to escape the cold weather and in hopes of benefiting her health. She had a weak heart and very high blood pressure, but had been seemingly feeling well upon retiring last night, however, death came while she was asleep. Mrs. Hurlbut, with her family, came to Spokane from Cedar Falls, Iowa, in 1901, and had since made her home at that place. Surviving are her husband, P. A. Hurlbut, and four daughters, Mrs. F. E. Murray, Mrs. Frank Savage and Mrs. D. H. McDonald, all of Spokane, and one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Shockley. The body will be shipped to Spokane today, for burial, and will be accompanied by Mrs. Shockley.
