A BRIDE'S DIARY
A Love Story of Today
By Idah McGlone Gibson

Cleo Madison, entertaining a few friends, decides to read her grandmother's diary. Grandmother's diary is so quaint, so modest, that these modern-day girls are thunderstruck. When the girls go, Cleo thinks of her elopement with Paul Winthrop planned for the immediate future. Her conscience is pricked by a passage of the modest, old-fashioned diary. For, though engaged to Paul she, only the night before enjoyed the kisses of Chick Adams. Both sets of parents opposed the match because at one time the families had been rich, but now were social climbers and the parents wanted each to marry money. Connie Terhune, wealthy, wanted to marry Paul. At a party Chick Adams draws Cleo aside protesting that she should have come with him. Cleo doubts her love for Paul. Her grandmother's diary tells his love for the girl. They are wed. Cleo's mother becomes jealous. Connie shows again her jealousy. The fathers of the new-lyweds rejoice. The honeymoon begins. The fierce flame of her love almost whelms Cleo. The honeymoon grows more effulgent. The reception for the newly-wed shows Connie in her true light. Cleo becomes jealous, and Chick Adams enters a plot. The young wife tells her "friend."

DOWNWARD TREND IN WOOL IS OVER
(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
BOSTON, May 8.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:
"The downward trend in wool values appears to have been stopped, temporarily at least, and with the London auctions being curtailed and a suspension of sales in Australia until July, it will be found that now a stable basis may be found on which to do business."
Prices have only changed here slightly in the last few weeks, and it is evident that the decline of 10 to 15 percent on Merinos and 20 to 30 percent on crossbreds was fully discounted.
"In the west, little has been done in the way of new clip operations. For best bright fleeces 25 cents is being offered with little bought, while in the territory sections hardly anything has been done, except for a few consignments being made."
"The mill situation appears to be without material change."
"Mohair is slow but probably 2,500,000 pounds have been cleared in Texas at 63¢55c for grown hair and 67¢70c for kid."
The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:
Scoured basis:
Oregon eastern No. 1 staple $1.20@1.22; fine and f. m. combing $1.51@1.52; eastern clothing $1.05-1.05; valley No. 1 $1.06@1.10.
Mahair: Best combing 80¢. 85¢; best carding 70¢75c.
Studebaker costs less per pound than butter.
LOOKING GLASS NEWS ITEMS.
You will be sorry if you neglect to come to the Grange Hall next Tuesday evening, May 12th, to enjoy the big 3 act comedy-drama "Kindling the Hearth Fire" presented by the pupils of the Looking Glass High School. Do you like to have your emotions aroused in love, humor, and pathos? Nothing like a play to remove from your mind for a time at least that stale, flat, and unprofitable feeling that comes from a long-continued routine of life (readmill of duty). Don't forget you will be entertained by such specialties, as instrumental music and a chorus of twenty-one fresh voices in that grand song "The Soldiers Chorus" from the Opera Faust. Come and have your children entertained in the delightful way.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morgan returned Monday night from Portland. Mrs. Beyer, Mrs. Morgan's mother, is now visiting at their home.
A very pretty home wedding occurred in Riddle on Sunday afternoon, May 2nd, when Miss Bernice Jackson became the bride of Mr. Henry Jones. The wedding took place at Mrs. Austin Wilson's home, the sister of the bride. Only relatives and intimate friends were present.
Mrs. John Hood and son, from Albany have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hutchins. The visitors are relatives of Mrs. Hutchins.
Mrs. Wm. Jackson returned from Riddle after a few months visit there.
The valuable dog belonging to Jeff Williams, which had been missing for some months, was found near Marshfield recently, and returned to Looking Glass to the delight of its owner.
Members of the Methodist Church here wish to announce that on May 25th, they will clean up the cemetery in preparation for Decoration Day. They desire a big crowd on hand to help them out.
Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hodges left for Marshfield last week. Miss Hannah Bjerke left last Wednesday for Portland, Oregon. She has been visiting at the home of Mrs. T. Rodley.
Mrs. T. F. Heard has been visiting her son, Noel Heard, in Ashland.

GOVERNOR MEETS FORMER TEACHER
(Associated Press Leased Wire)
SALEM, Ore., May 8.—Governor Pierce will today have lunch in Portland with J. H. Wigmore, dean of law at the University of Chicago, under whom the Oregon governor took a law course in Chicago many years ago. Dean Wigmore is author of a noted book on evidence and is an authority on that subject.

YOUNG STRIBLING IS A HEAVYWEIGHT
(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
BOSTON, May 8.—Young Stribling of Atlanta is not a recognized heavyweight. He made a triumphal entry into the class by scoring a technical knockout in the fourth round last night over Quintin Romero, heavyweight champion of Chile. The southerner now has won his way upward through every boxing grade from that of bantamweight.

LOVE AND TEARS.
"Cleo, had you made an engagement to go to the country club with Chick before I left?" asked her husband when we were out of earshot of everyone on our way to the dentist's.
"No, my dear, of course not. I always had an idea that during the honeymoon at least two people who are married should care enough for each other's society to be together all of the time."
"Besides that, I know by lunch on you would have tired of Connie and I knew also that everybody in our set would gossip if they saw you with her all the morning. As it was, it looked to the outside world as though the whole thing was a plan. I didn't care to go; you did. So you and Connie started ahead and I joined you at lunch. Conventional, all right, and Chick, bless his heart, clinched the matter by making Con go home with him. I think it was a very clever idea."
"Forgive me, dear. You know a man with a toothache is not accountable for his actions."
"Yes and I also know that Connie Terhune did not have the toothache and she was not only accountable but also cognizant of her actions."
"But I thought Connie was your best friend."
"She is. Just as Chick is yours. But you ought to know, Paul, that Chick wanted always to marry me and Connie feels that I have defrauded her of you, and that's that. Let's not talk about it any more."
"You are unhappy, aren't you Cleo?"
"I wish you didn't have the toothache. For, as you say, men are not accountable at that time."
"What do you say, dear, you drop me at the dentist's and I get this old tooth fixed up and tomorrow we will spend the entire day packing up and will leave for the post the day after."
"I love it."
"All right, that's a go. Do you either to attend the child welfare conference in New York, May 15 to 20, or to name a delegate from this state."

GOVERNOR MEETS FORMER TEACHER

OBSERVANCE OF MOTHERS' DAY OF ANCIENT ORIGIN
Sunday, May 10, is this year designated as Mother's Day. This will be the 12th year of official observance, the second Sunday in May having been set aside as Mother's Day by an act of Congress signed in 1914 by Woodrow Wilson. In its provision was made for display of flags on public buildings, as well as the expression of individual tribute to motherhood.
That the idea was a welcome one has been proved by the rapid growth of ceremonies in connection with the day. Church services on Mother's Day are now almost universally arranged with the day in mind, and other customs of the day are springing up. A white carnation is the accepted flower to be worn in memory of one's mother, and the sending to mothers of specially designed greeting cards noting the day is another simple method of expressing appreciation which has met with approval.
The actual origin of the movement which led to setting aside Mother's Day, is not generally known, hence seems worthy of attention in view of the increasing observance of it. Investigation shows that Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia in 1908 made the first step toward Mother's Day, when she asked that the church in the little Virginia town, where her mother had been a leading spirit, held a service in her memory. A little later the Philadelphia churches are found to have been generally observing one Sunday in May as Mother's Day, and the plan grew to culmination in National legislation.
Various English customs act as a precedent for the idea of Mother's Day. In the days when young men and girls were bound out as apprentices or maids, the fourth Sunday in Lent was set aside as a day when they might return to their parents. Still earlier, the idea is found in Rome, when on the same fourth Sunday, gifts were annually brought to the Mother Church. Even the pagans had their idealization of motherhood, expressed in the worship of a super-goddess known as Rhea, the great mother of the gods.

WEATHER IS BAD FOR POLAR TRIP
(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, May 8.—Unfavorable weather is believed to be holding the Amundsen polar serial expedition to its base at Kingsbay, Spitzbergen.
A brief message received by the meteorological observatory at Oslo, Norway, last night said the explorer and his party had postponed their start which had been planned for today.
Previous advices from the steamer Faru attached to the expedition, said the sky was overcast and snow falling.

COMMEND GOVERNOR FOR HIS OBJECTION
(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
OLYMPIA, Wash., May 7.—Letters approving Governor Roland H. Hartley's stand on child welfare activities as set forth in a recent telegram to Miss Sophie Irene Loeb of New York City, president of the Child Welfare Committee of America, were exhibited at the executive offices here this morning, the letters with one exception having been written by men.
No adverse comments have been received as yet it was said by Miss Amy Albright, assistant secretary to the governor who displayed the letters in his absence.
Appended to one of the letters, in which such movements were declared to be founded on "sinister Romeshelian." Another expressed approval of the "slipper way" of raising children, while still another writer declared that "supplif is being used by some as an excuse for running around while their own children are going to the devil."
The reply to Miss Loeb was a refusal to accept an invitation
