Weak, Blue, Discouraged—Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I was nervous and could not sleep, had crying spells and the blues, and didn't care if I lived or died. My right side was very bad and I had backache. ROSEBURG ROD AND GUN CLUB SALMON BAKE TOMORROW

The salmon bake which is sponsored each year by the Roseburg Rod and Gun Club will be held tomorrow. The fishermen have already placed a quantity of fine salmon on ice which will be baked Sunday morning. Coffee, cake, sandwiches, salad and pickles are to be served with the salmon absolutely free to all by the Club.

This precedent was started by the Sportsman's Club during one of the Strawberry Carnivals and was declared such a success that it is being looked forward to as an annual event.

The outside clubs and sportsmen have been invited and the events have been so arranged that all may have an opportunity to win some of the money which is being offered as prizes. Shooting will be started early in the morning and will continue all day.

There will be four 25-bird events during the day and $10, has been added to the prize. A 50-bird event with $7 added will be the main event of the day. The prize money will be split, two ways 40-40, in five events; fifteen events with entry money split four ways, 40, 30, 20 and 10; ten events with three money prizes, 50-30, and 20 per cent. Handicaps will enable all shooters to participate on an equal basis so they will win some of the prize money.

The Club grounds are known to be beautiful and the facilities for shooting are among the best in the state. The committee has arranged the events so everyone will be entertained.

The wives of the local club members have charge of the luncheon. Those on the committee are, Mrs. W. O. Cordon, Mrs. E. C. Adams and Mrs. F. R. Dunlap.

GAMES SCHEDULED IN REORGANIZED TWILIGHT LEAGUE

At the meeting last night of those interested in a Twilight League, Mr. M. S. Hamm was elected president. The teams represented at the meeting were American Legion, Christian Church, Odd Fellows and a Baptist-DeMolay team.

The games are to be played in the new High School Athletic Field, which is to be put in playing condition the first of the week. The first games are to be played on Thursday and Friday, May 14-15. The Thursday game will be between the Legion and Baptist-DeMolay teams; the other will be between the Christian Church and Odd Fellows. Games are to start at 6:15 o'clock and will run for seven innings if the weather permits. Games will be played on every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; the season is to last approximately six weeks.

All the teams agreed last night that they would not play Sunday baseball within the city limits. Any player caught violating this agreement is to be suspended two weeks. It was also agreed that the games would be played by Spaulding Rules.

The merchants of Roseburg are going to be requested to close their stores for the opening game. Admission to these games will be fifteen cents. This small charge is only to help pay some of the expense.

A BRIDE'S DIARY

A Love Story of Today
By Idah McGlone Gibson

Cleo Madison, entertaining a few friends, decides to read her grandmother's diary. Grandmother's diary is so quaint, so modest, that these modern-day girls are thunderstruck. When the girls go, Cleo thinks of her elopement with Paul Winthrop planned for the immediate future. Her conscience is pricked by a passage of the modest, old-fashioned diary. For, though engaged to Paul she, only the night before enjoyed the kisses of Chick Adams. Both sets of parents opposed the match because at one time the families had been rich, but now were social climbers, and the parents wanted Cleo to marry money. Connie Terhune, wealthy, wanted to marry Paul. At a party Chick Adams draws Cleo aside protesting that she should have come with him. Cleo doubts her love for almost whomas Cleo. Paul pro for Paul. Her grandmother's diasties his love for the girl. They are wed. Cleo's mother becomes hysterical. Connie shows again her jealousy. The fathers of the newlyweds rejoice. The honeymoon begins. The fierce flame of her love almost whelms Cleo. The honeymoon grows more effulgent. The reception for the newlywed shows Connie in her true light. Cleo becomes jealous, and Chick Adams enters a plot. The young wife tells her "friend."

"The first tears of her married life come to Cleo.

A SLIP OF THE TONGUE

Sarah made her appearance at day door. "Your mother, Miss Cleo, has just phoned that she will not be home to dinner. She told me just to pick up something for Mr. Madison," she said.

"Did you tell her that Lieut. Armstrong and I would be here to dinner?"

"No, I didn't have time. She rang off the moment she mentioned Mr. Madison's dinner."

"Well, Sarah, we will see what we can get out of the ice box that will do for three hungry persons instead of one."

"There are some lamb chops and kidneys for tomorrow's luncheon, but I don't think she would like us to take those. She has invited friends in to meet you, Miss Cleo."

"I don't think I'll be here. I'm going to try to go away before luncheon. Consequently we'll have them tonight. Telephone for some lettuce and I'll make a salad and with some of your hot biscuits we will get along."

"As we are not going to have anything else, Sarah, cook all the chops and kidneys."

I remembered that mother always was stingy with her food. She said people were quite satisfied if things were served nicely.

"Don't you want some dessert, Miss Cleo?"

"I don't think so," I answered, remembering Paul's sore tooth.

I managed to get all my packing done before dad and Paul came in and we sat down to an hilarious dinner. Dad looked rather dissatisfied when Sarah told him that mother was out but I called to him gaily not to mind, that I had his favorite chops and kidneys, and that I would try to make up for mother's absence, especially as we were leaving for the post next morning.

"But, Cleo, we can't get ready," remonstrated Paul.

"Yes we can. I have almost everything packed and we can have a professional packer to fix up the

CHANGE MADE IN GLEN-DALE GROCERY FIRM.

A business deal of considerable importance was consummated in this city during the past week, when Mrs. E. J. Humphrey and L. L. Perdue purchased the White House Grocery from J. A. Dewey, says the Glendale News.

The new firm will be known as Perdue & Humphrey and took over the actual management of the store Monday morning. Mr. Dewey will remain with the firm for a couple of months to help them get broken in and established in the business.

Mrs. Humphrey managed the old E. J. Humphrey store after the death of her husband a little over a year ago, until she sold the stock several months ago, and has a good working knowledge of the business. Mr. Perdue was the owner and manager of the Smoke House for several years until about two months ago, when he sold out to D. W. Hanks & Son.

FIVE HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS TO LEAVE

in school, as well as otherwheres, there are those who come one year, and go the next. This year Roseburg High School will lose five fine instructors.

Miss Rosa B. Parrott, head of the English department, leaves after four years of successful work, but is undecided as to what her future activity will partake of. She has been a faithful worker in the high school, and many are sorry to have her go, especially students who have been under her instruction. Miss Parrott will sail for Europe the twenty-first of June to spend part of her vacation there.

Miss Bess Lewis, who has also been a hard and faithful worker in R. H. S. for four years, leaving, but is at present undecided as to where she will teach next year. She is also an instructor in the English department. She leaves many friends both in school and out.

Miss Haynes is another who leaves R. H. S., and incidentally teaching forever, for she is to be married in June. Miss Haynes has carried on a successful work, also, in her one year in the High School. Miss Haynes graduated from O. A. C. last year.

Miss Wilma Dobell, who also graduated from O. A. C. last year, leaves this spring to be married. Her year in the high school as instructor of Science has been successful, and she also leaves many friends.

Miss Janet Ward, instructor of Home Economics, departs also, but is at present undecided as to where she will teach next year. The same may be said of Miss Ward as of the others, she leaves many friends who are reluctant to see her go. Miss Ward graduated last year from an eastern college. Her year of teaching has been successful.

To replace those leaving, the Board of Directors have engaged five who will take up their duties next fall.

Miss Kathleen Blitney, who graduates this year from O. A. C., where she has taken a prominent part in Dramatics, comes next fall. She is also on the O. A. C. Barometer Staff. She will be an English instructor.

Miss Edna Sandblom, who will also teach English, graduates with this year's class from Linfield College. Miss Sandblom has musical talent and has acted as an instructor in the Academy department of Linfield for three years.

To teach History, Miss Emma Berg has been engaged. Miss Berg obtains her degree from O. A. C. this year. She will also act as the debate coach next year. Miss Berg has been a member of the Women's Varsity Team.

Miss Mary McCullough, who completes her degree at U. of O. this year. Miss McCullough is the daughter of Reverend W. S. McCullough, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church.

Miss Emma Ireland, who has taught in the high school in the past, returns from Juneau, Alaska, to her old position as the Home Economics instructor.

Needless to say, Roseburg will welcome the new teachers, although we would like to have those leaving remain.
