Receives Eye Injury—

Watson, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Talbot, of Melrose, received a very painful and serious injury last evening while at play near home. While playing with other boys, one older child threw a rock, hitting Watson, and caused quite a painful injury. He was brought to this city to the office of Dr. Wade, who called in Dr. A. C. Seely in consultation. It was found that the eye was entirely closed over with blood, and the doctors were unable to define how far the injury penetrated the eye. Treatment is being given, and there is danger of the small boy losing his eyesight, but nothing positive can be told until the clot has been absorbed and the eye is clear.

Injured While Building—

Peter Heller, who with a number of other workmen, has been employed by A. Creason in tearing down the structure in North Roseburg belonging to Mr. Creason, which caught fire and burned a few weeks ago, had the misfortune to receive two broken ribs this morning while at work. Mr. Heller was on a scaffold, and was tearing down the burned boards of the building, when his foot slipped and he fell ten feet to a burned rafter, which gave way letting him to the ground, where he fell on his right side. He was taken to the office of Dr. George E. Houck, where the injury was given attention, and was taken home. The nature of the injury will necessarily prohibit him from continuing his work for a time.

RAW PRODUCTS COMMITTEE FILES RECOMMENDATIONS

Interested should begin plans for planting average this fall. There should be no less than five hundred acres pledged to make carload shipments.

The barrelling market will take care of a large percent of the crop. This method of handling strawberries has brought the growers in many sections along North West good returns the past few years.

Livestock— There is not much promise for any considerable increase in the livestock industry in the county.

Hogs— Hog production might be increased by many ranchmen keeping a brood sow raising a litter of pigs each year. This can be made a source of profit on many ranches where hogs are not kept at present.

Dairying— The dairy business does not promise much profit for the near future.

Beef— Beef production cannot be increased much for lack of range. There is room for big improvement in the breeding of livestock by introduction of better sire.

Sheep— There is room for some small flocks of sheep. We believe the sheepmen would profit by confining themselves to the breeding of two or three of the fine wool breeds and eliminate all others.

Poultry— The poultry committee report that Douglas County has everything in its favor for poultry production equal to the Potlatch district in California. We have a better climate, green feed can be grown on the ranch.

Mineral— We have received favorable reports on some of the mineral findings in the county, but have nothing definite to offer at present.

Timber— Commercial timber resources of Douglas County are enormous, aggregating approximately sixty billion feet. Capital is needed to manufacture these virgin forests into lumber to meet the ever growing demand for the western forest products.

We would like to impress upon those who are operating fresh fruit stands on the highways the necessity of selling only first class fruit and vegetables to tourists.

In cooperation with the County Agent we are asking for a soil survey of the county. We are also arranging for an agricultural survey that will give us complete data on all exports and imports as well as crops grown in the County. This project will include an agricultural conference to be held next fall when the survey is completed.

PORTLAND PUGS JAILED AS BOOTLEG SUSPECTS

(Continued from page 1.) MEDFORD, Ore., May 14.— Sheriff Ralph Jennings today arrested "Nig Yeager," alias "the Duke of Alaina," Gus Sorenson and Jimmy Martin, all said to be pugilists and breeders of Portland, and are holding the men suspects in connection with a forty-gallon still and two barrels of mash found near the tent in which they were sleeping on the banks of the Applegate river, 16 miles southwest of this city. The men all denied having any knowledge of the still or where it came from.

IOWA STARTS WAR ON BOOTLEGGING GAS TO EVADE TAX

(Associated Press Local Wire.)

ROCK ISLAND, Ills., May 15.— What threatens to become an interstate gas war was started here today when four men, wearing stars as "marshals" and purporting to represent Iowa's newly created "gasoline tax department," invaded Rock Island. The men stationed themselves at the oil stations on the Illinois side of the government bridge across the Mississippi and undertook to prevent Iowa motorists from buying gasoline for their cars to evade payment of the Iowa tax.

When the men stationed themselves at the pumps of the Illinois Company located near the end of the bridge, Frank P. Welch, president investigated and called the sheriff and had them removed from his property. Similar actions was taken by the managers of the Stanard Oil and Sinclair stations, located nearby. All these stations are within a block of the end of the government bridge and have been doing a heavy business with Iowa motorists since the gas tax went into effect April 15.

DECLAMATIONS TO BE GIVEN IN ANNUAL CONTEST TOMORROW

The annual county declamation contest is to be held in Roseburg tomorrow night, and it is expected that there will be large crowds at each of the three places where the contests will be held. Division one, consisting of the first four grades, will hold its contest at 12 M. at the Church South. Division two, made up of grades for the 4th to the 8th, will compete at the M. E. Church, and Division three, composed of the high school contestants will speak at the high school auditorium. Each of the three divisions will start their contests at 8 o'clock, the evening hour being chosen in order that more people may have an opportunity to be present. The declamation contests have been held yearly in connection with the annual field and track meet, but this year it was decided to separate the two and place the declamation contest a week earlier than the field meet, and to put it in the evening instead of the morning. A musical program will be given in connection with each of the three division contests. The contestants represent the schools from all over the county. Nine sections have been formed and in each of these one boy and one girl are selected for each of the three divisions, making six from each of the nine sections, and eight boys for each of the three divisions. These winners in the elimination matches in their respective sections, then combine in the final county elimination.

DEVICE AGAINST THUGS KILLS ITS INVENTOR

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., May 15.—Gratten Moreau, 62, inventor of scores of devices for as many different purposes, sacrificed his life to his inventive genius, the coroner's jury here declared today in passing on his death yesterday in his tent home in Burlingame. Moreau was killed by a device he had perfected to save hold-up victims.

The device consisted of a brass cylinder and a plunger, which fitted into the coat sleeve and which exploded when the arm was raised, sending a bullet into anyone who might be standing in front of the wearer. The jury decided that he had come to his death by accident while making a test of the contrivance.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AGENTS HOLD MEETING

A very interesting and well attended meeting was held by the Southern Pacific station agents of Douglas County at the city hall last night. J. A. Ormandy, general passenger agent, and C. H. Taylor, solicitation clerk from Portland, A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent, of Medford, and W. H. McLean, assistant superintendent of Roseburg, were in charge of the meeting, which was attended by about 25 of the agents from Drain to Riddle. Slides were shown of scenic attractions on the S. P. lines, acquainting the agents with what the company has to offer for travelers, and the new summer excursion rates were thoroughly discussed.

Influenza Ancient Enemy

Influenza has been known almost as long as man has been known. The word itself is derived from the ancient astrologers, who believed it to be caused by the "influence" of the stars. The disease has been unmistakably traced back to 1580. It was then prevalent in eastern Germany and was known, curiously enough, as sleeping sickness. It appeared again in the Eighteenth century, when epidemics of it were frequent and prolonged in most European countries. Among the famous people of long ago who suffered from it were Sir Isaac Newton, Goethe and Schiller. The great philosopher, Kant, was attacked by it, and he believed it was caused by noxious insects brought to western Europe as a result of trade with Russia.

Modern Heroine

Barbara was selfish, thirsty for pleasures of the most vulgar sort, amused herself by collecting adores and treating them badly, was stupid and a liar—in other words, was one of the normal types of healthy young womanhood. I should have been less disturbed by these discoveries if only her face had been different. But with that dazzling and mysteriously lovely face she was a perpetual source of surprise and pain. In Barbara's company I was learning that it is possible to be profoundly and slavishly in love with some one for whom one has no esteem, who one regards as a bad character, and who finally, not only makes one unhappy, but hores one.—From "Those Barren Leaves," by Aldous Huxley.

Made Famous Glorious

A world-famous battle was fought at Thermopylae in northern Greece on August 7, 8 and 9, 480 B. C., between three hundred Spartans and seven hundred Persians, commanded by Leonidas, and the entire Persian host. For four days Leonidas and his band held the pass of Thermopylae against the invaders, at the end of which time Ephialtes, a Traicidion, led the Persians over the mountains by a secret path to the rear of the Greeks, who were thus placed between two hostile armies and were finally cut to pieces. One Greek only escaped, and he is said to have been loaded with reproaches for having fled.—Kansas City Star.

Balance Your Diet

The balanced diet is the healthy one and contains all three of the important vitamins. The principal food value of bread and meat lies in their protein content but they are low in vitamins B and C, and if you would be sure of more balanced rations insuring plenty of each essential, use the citrus fruits often. The juice of the grapefruit has a high content of vitamins B and C that provide the proper amount of carbohydrates and salts. Grapefruit supplies the blood with an alkaline reserve which effectively combats acidosis.

She—Was it good?
He—I don't know. I didn't hear much of it. Maud was telling me how fond she is of music.
