THE AIMLESS ELEMENT

Most cities and towns have their element of aimless young men and boys, who cherish no active purpose in the world. They are commonly seen loafing around at favorite resorts and on the curbstones. They watch other people play games, and do not play much themselves for lack of money. They stand with open mouths watching the people go by, and are disappointed if there is not a fire or a drunken man or a fight or something else to create excitement.

Then there is the aimless girl element, who are seen on the streets much of the time, anxious for flirtations with the above described boys, who are always ready to "pick them up." They may pay their parents little or nothing for board and they are not apt to help much with the home work. But they manage to go to most of the shows, and are quick to accept automobile rides from strangers.

These young people had the opportunities for schooling that the other children get, but most of them never stood well in school. Other things seemed more interesting. Commonly they drop out early, feeling out of their element among those who are trying to do real work, perhaps induced by some job that offers them a little pocket money for their sporting desires. It is difficult to do much with them after they get started in these aimless paths. But if taken early, they can almost invariably be prevented from acquiring these wrong points of view.

What are they doing with their spare time. What are they doing after dark and in the back alleys, and hang-outs? Whose ideas are they following, their gang leaders and the smart guys, or those of their teachers and real friends?

Those who belong to societies where ideals of achievement are held up before them, like the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, do not usually get these aimless ways.

BABY HOME HEAD IS INDICTED BY JURY

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
NEW YORK, May 19.—While one grand jury was considering homicide evidence against her another grand jury today returned an indictment charging baby substitution against Mrs. Helen Auguste Geisen-Volk, former German red cross nurse, widow of a Prussian army officer, and proprietress of an East Eighty Sixth Street "baby farm."

PRaise SHOWERED ON NEW MANAGER ASSOCIATED PRESS

MILWAUKEE, May 19.—Dr. Paul B. Jenkins, in a sermon at Immanuel Presbyterian Church here declared, "It is said of Kent Cooper, the wonderful new head of The Associated Press, that his friends consider him the most inquisitive man in America."

"To him it is simply life itself 'to know' to find out things, about anything and everything and then literally to tell the world," he said. "And he is right about it, and that is exactly the kind of man the world needs and wants. For no man can tell how largely what little, gradual, year by year, intellectual advances America makes is due to the intention and attempt of that grand organization to have our newspapers give us accurate and exact information."

PAVING CONTRACT NOT VALID, RULING OF OREGON JUDGE

PORTLAND, Ore., May 19.—The temporary injunction obtained by Frederick M. De Neffe, local attorney, enjoining the state highway commission from entering into a contract with Simonson and Hefty to repave 8.9 miles of the lower Columbia River highway between Astoria and Swenson, was dissolved yesterday by presiding Circuit Judge Morrow.

Judge Morrow declared at the ### conclusion of arguments that in his opinion the highway commission's contract is not a proper one. He held, however, that De Neffe, as a taxpayer, is not qualified to attack the validity of the contract through the courts. At the request of Jay Mowbram, representing De Neffe, the judge agreed that upon the filing of a demurrer he would deny the right to amend, thus bringing about a final decree and preparing the way for appeal to the supreme court.

FORD TO GET CHANCE TO BUY 200 SCRAPPED SHIPS

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A program of selling 200 government vessels for scrapping has been tentatively agreed upon by the sub-committee on scrapping of the shipping board.

The committee is in agreement on a policy of scrapping 150 of the least desirable of the 500 idle tubers, and it intends to add to this number 50 vessels of another type. It has asked the fleet corporation for a recommendation covering this fifty, and pending receipt of this report will withhold its recommendation to the board.

On board approval of the plan bids would be invited for scrapping the vessels in which case Henry Ford would be expected to be one of those tendering offers.

TELEPHONE, ROAD WORK PROGRESSING ON LOWER UMPQUA

EUGENE, Ore., May 18.—A trail and telephone line from the Umpqua river to the Smith river in the Siuslaw national forest is now under construction, announces R. S. Shelly, supervisor. Mr. Shelly made the trip to the Umpqua river, passing through Scottsburg and Gardiner, yesterday, and he assisted in construction of the first mile of the new trail, which will be 15 miles in length.

Road work is progressing rapidly between Reedport and Scottsburg, he reports, and the gravel will soon be laid on this project. "Until the road gets its final surfacing it will not be smooth traveling," says Mr. Shelly, who reports difficulty in negotiating the stretch yesterday.

PUBLIC LAND LEFT IN OREGON ASKED FOR BY GOVERNOR

SALEM, Ore., May 19.—Governor Pierce, in reply to a letter from Governor W. P. Hunter of Arizona, joins the campaign for the purpose of having the United States turn over to the states all the remaining public lands within the boundaries of the states. Oregon has nearly 10,000,000 acres so listed and it is the desire of the government to have these kept on the tax rolls and revenue diverted to the school fund. Sixty one percent of the land in Arizona is tied up in some manner by the government, either as Indian reservations, national forests, national parks or withdrawals.

The substitute committee appointed by congress will visit the western states to investigate federal parks, forests and public lands reserved and unreserved early in June and will remain until late in August.

Next Monday is going to be a real patriotic day in Roseburg—one of those days that go down in history with a decided accomplishment. Do you know what is going to happen Monday? Well, if you don't, here it is: Every man, woman and child, will strain their pocket book to put over the American Legion drive for this county's part of the endowment fund to be established for the benefit of dependent and orphan children of all World War veterans. There could be no greater or more worthy cause deserving the fullest support of all our citizens. We have a solemn pledge to fulfill. Now is the time to go over the top for the boys that brought peace and happiness to millions of people. Be on the job Monday to support the drive to the limit—and then some.

This fellow Duncan who has been playing tag with the officers of this vicinity will get a shot of lead if he persists in pulling his spectacular stunts much longer. Taking chances with fellows of his calibre is dangerous business and the wise officer will keep his finger on the trigger henceforth.

The advertising faker goes merrily on and his patrons foot the bills—getting nothing of value in return. This is sure a funny world. Some people bite at any old thing, and the more ridiculous the better they like it.

Present indications precludes disagreeable weather during the strawberry carnival. The weather man is getting things shaped for three days of real summer atmosphere.

Come to Roseburg and get the carnival spirit for three days. It will do you and your family good.

Fatty Arbuckle's "good character" has been assailed. We thought it had been shot to pieces a long time ago.

There's going to be lots of fun in Roseburg Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The old town is taking on the carnival spirit.

THE VELVET HAMMER

A. C. MARSTERS

Some people think that money's what the banker mostly sees. They think he counts the feathers on the eagle's neck and knees, checks up the pilgrim father's hat and Indian's head of hair and other data such as that to prove the stuff is square, but were the only counterfeits the coin and paper kind, how light a load were then bestowed upon the banker's mind!

But Marsters knows the stuff that grows, that bawls and jumps the fence, and he inspects the intellects and character of gents. He knows the tricks of politics, has played a few in luck; although Republican, he is a democratic duck, for sometimes in the morning he forgets his job and rank, and substitutes for janitor by sweeping out the bank.

He heads the Roseburg National and keeps the works intact by studious avoidance of the light and foolish act. The title "Senator" remains and fits him well because he's served in Salem and still looks as though he molded laws. A member of the State Fair board, a city pioneer, cow man in Happy Valley but all banker when he's here.
