BUSY SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL HELD

The city council met last night in its regular session and took up a number of routine matters.

Mayor Houck was authorized to investigate a motor driven street flusher which has been offered the city at a low price by a Portland concern. The mayor expects to be in Portland the latter part of the week, and will investigate the condition of the piece of machinery and also the cost of purchasing a portable street paving outfit, to use in making street repairs. It was shown that the present cost of patching the street amounts to about $7 per yard, and that the principal cost is due to the fact that the apparatus now in use is not suited to the work, and too much time is required to dry out gravel, necessitating a great outlay for labor. It is proposed to purchase a plant which will handle small jobs at a faster rate cutting down the labor costs.

The street committee reported that the sidewalks on Roberts st. should be placed out against the curb line, as there is considerable excavation to be done otherwise.

The committee also reported favorably on the proposition of vacating Spring street to the Coen Lumber company which owns the land on each side of the street.

The committee on health and police reported that a drain should be ordered built in a fountain in Laurelwood. The fountain has no drain other than an overflow pipe, and when not in use stagnant water forms a breeding place for mosquitoes.

Plans and specifications together with the estimate of the city engineer on the paving of several city streets were read and adopted. The paving estimates were as follows: E. 6th Street, $78,724; A. Avenue, $5,133.11; E. 4th St., $2,877; E. 2nd St., $5,389.78; and Roberts St., $7,541.51. The residents of Roberts St. also petitioned for sidewalks to be built at the same time as the pavement, and the estimated cost of such additional improvement was $1,960.32.

VETERAN CHARGES U. S. AGENT WITH MAKING THREATS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 19.—Arthur Lopez-Frazier, testifying in his identification trial in federal court here today, repudiated the confession government representatives said he made last February that he is not Arthur Frazier, world war veteran.

Lopez-Frazier, who is seeking to establish identity as Arthur Frazier, declared dead by the government, collapsed again today while on the witness stand but after a half hour's rest returned.

"You think you're a wise guy, don't you?" he muttered to Major Leland Wind, one of the government attorneys, as the latter asked him a question. Then he was asked about his alleged confession, made in the office of Michael Johanness, department of justice agent.

Lopez-Frazier declared Johanness had said to him "If you don't do what we want you to do—I want you to understand I'm a deputy sheriff—we'll send you to jail tomorrow morning."

COMPANY TAKES LEGAL FIGHT OFF OF STATE'S HANDS

SALEM, Ore., May 19.—After 62 years of alleged violation of its agreement with the State of Oregon, the United States government will at last lose control of and profits from Sand Island in the mouth of the Columbia river, if plans of the state land board are carried to success. In 1864 Sand Island was ceded to the government by the state to be used for military purposes and this was a condition of the transfer of the island to the government. But the government never has used the island for military purposes, but instead has leased it as a fishing ground for which it is very valuable.

Now the state land board has a plan for recovering possession of the island. At a meeting a week from tomorrow the board will ask that the state own the island and will lease it to some corporation for fishing purposes. If the government contests the state's right the corporation to which it is leased, according to an offer and agreement now made, will defend the state's position in court.

Revenues from the island from fishing leases should run about $20,000 for the remainder of this year. It is said, and ordinarily will run as high as $40,000. There is a possibility that the state may endeavor to collect for the whole 62 years, which, if successful, would bring a very large sum into the state's coffers.

PREFERS SUICIDE TO POOR FARM OF DOUGLAS COUNTY

BEND, May 19.—Declaring that he would rather die than go to the poor farm near Roseburg, Jerry Haley, 73, pioneer of Bend, cut his throat yesterday while at a hospital conducted here by Mrs. Marion M. Lesh. He severed the windpipe with a razor, but did not reach the jugular vein. Little hope is held for his recovery.

Until last fall Haley was working on the Eugene-Klamath Falls cut-off at one of the camps near Odell Lake, but was taken ill and brought to Bend, later becoming a county charge. As he has a small farm near Roseburg, it was decided that Douglas county should care for him. Haley has a daughter, believed to be in New York and a son, who enlisted in the army during the World War and from whom he has not heard since. Haley and his wife separated 30 years ago.

VALUE OF TELEPHONE SERVICE ON THE FARM

Very recently the question came up relative to the value of the telephone to the farmer.

A study based on what was saved in time and traveling expenses to the farmer on business calls, was made among three representative farmers.

To one farmer it was revealed that telephone service was worth $7.75 a month, to a second $10.80, and to the third, $22.20. Farmer No. 1 made 29 business and 22 social calls; farmer number 2, 70 business and 22 social calls; farmer number 3, 9 business and 6 social calls. No attempt was made to measure the value of social calls.

Only outgoing calls were considered in this study. While incoming calls have a considerable value, it would be difficult to find a basis of measurement. Nor in such a study could the value of the telephone be measured in cases of emergency.

A BRIDE'S DIARY

A Love Story of Today
By Idah McGlone Gibson

Cleo Madison entertaining a few friends, decides to read her grandmother's diary. Grandmother's diary is so quaint, so modest, that these modern-day girls are thunderstruck. When the girls go, Cleo thanks of her elopement with Paul.

Paul Winthrop planned for the immediate future. Her conscience is pricked by a passage of the modest, old-fashioned diary. For the night before enjoyed the kisses of Chick Adams. Both sets of parents opposed the match because at one time the families had been rich but now were social climbers, and the parents wanted each to marry money. Connie Terhune, wealthy, wanted to marry Paul. At a party, Chick Adams draws Cleo aside protesting that she should have come with him. Cleo doubts her love for Paul. Her grandmother's diary makes Cleo wonder. Paul protests his love for the girl. They are wed.

Connie shows again her jealousy. The fathers of the newly-weds rejoice. The honeymoon begins. The fierce flame of her love almost overwhelms Cleo. The honeymoon grows more effulgent. The reception for the newly-weds shows Connie in her true light. Chick Adams becomes jealous. Chick Adams enters a plot. The young wife falls her "friend." The first tears of her married life come to Cleo. Paul and his wife decide to start out for themselves.

Cleo sees Paul and Connie in fervent embrace.

Almost crazed by liquor and jealousy Paul threatens Chick.

The young husband accuses his wife as to a past.

Contritely, Paul expresses his belief in Cleo.

The quarrel is settled.

THE LAST MINUTE RUSH

It didn't seem as though I had closed my eyes. I really thought that I was still thinking about my future when mother pounded on our door.

"If you want to make your train you must get up immediately."

"Is it late, mother? We'll be right up."

"Jumping Jehosophat, it is half past 8 and our train goes at 10." Paul said, looking at his watch.

"Well, the packing is all done and all I have to do is to dress and eat breakfast," I explained.

"Where are the tickets?"

Paul looked perfectly flustered.

"I forgot to get them."

"Scotland and the British Isles! You certainly need a guardian, Paul!" I started for the telephone.

"Here, here. I'll telephone for them. I'll be down in a minute."

"Yes, you will—like a streak of lightning. You haven't even got out of your pajamas yet." Without noticing him further I rushed downstairs. As I passed the dining room door, mother called.

"Hurry, Cleo, your breakfast is on the table."

"It will have to wait," I remarked as I rang up the ticket office at the Maryland. My heart sank to my pumps for at first they said they did not even have a lower berth, however there was a slight hesitancy as though someone else was speaking. "Do please find something. It is a case of life and death."

Tomorrow—Paul's Strategy.

COURTMARTIAL IS ORDERED FOR TRIO OF NAVY OFFICERS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—The officers of the submarine S-19, which went aground last January in Naval Beach, after today were ordered court-martialed by Secretary Wilbur.

The officers are Lieutenant Charles F. Martin, commanding the submarine, who will be charged with "through negligence suffering a vessel of the navy to be stranded"; Lieutenant Chester E. Lewis, the navigator, charged with "culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty, and Lieutenant (Junior grade) Alexander S. Edward, the officer of the deck, who will be brought to trial for "culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty." A court of inquiry recommended the court martial proceedings having held "that the entire administration of the ship from the time of leaving the Isle of Shoals buoy to the time of grounding, was loose, haphazard and perfunctory."

TRIO BREAKS JAIL AT BEND; ONE TAKEN FROM CAR BY RUSE

BEND, Ore., May 19.—Three men, including one held pending an insanity hearing, sawed out of the Deschutes county jail just before daylight this morning. The alleged insane man, Ray Davis, was retaken a few hours later in the railroad yards after he had mounted an engine on the track, opened the throttle and was all ready to go, when helpers hurriedly climbed up beside him and shut off the engine.

Davis, after being chased off the engine, took refuge in a boxcar. The police were called and he defied them with a knife. He was taken through a trick of one of the officers who approached him from the rear.

Other prisoners escaping this morning were Faddy Ryan, charged for the grand jury on charge of stealing a calf, and W. J. Nehring, serving out a four month's sentence on a bad check charge. This is Nehring's second escape while serving this sentence. The first time he came back to town when his brother was ill and the officers took him.

C. A. Arnsen, the only other prisoner in the jail last night, is thought to have been too large to
