CAMP MEETING OF ADVENTISTS OPENS TODAY

Seventh Day Adventists Gathering for Ten Days Meeting.

SCHOOL QUESTION UP

Matter of Locating Home for Southern Oregon Academy is an Important Issue.

Tonight at 7:45 the first devotional meeting of the annual camp-meeting and conference of the Southern Oregon Conference of Seventh Day Adventists will convene at Sutherlin for a ten days session. While the tents of the delegates and visitors to the meetings will be grouped in an orderly, systematic arrangement on the grounds surrounding the Community hall of that place, the services and sessions of the conference will be held in the hall. It is expected that several hundred worshippers from Klamath, Jackson, Josephine, Curry, Coos, Douglas and Lane counties, comprising the Southern Oregon conference, will be present during the entire period of the meetings. A great many of these people will come prepared to care for themselves in camp, bringing with them equipment for the purpose. A cafeteria will also be maintained on the grounds for the convenience of those who desire meals.

During the forepart of this week a force of men has been busy erecting the living tents, and also the book tent, and children's tent, the latter being used for meetings with the little folks, as these sessions often lap over into sessions of the conference or the devotional meetings for the older folks. Special instructors and leaders for the young people are always in attendance at these annual camp-meetings, as the interests of the children are considered of paramount importance.

Leaders in denominational work from Washington, D. C., California and Washington state are expected to be in attendance. Also all the pastors of the seven counties of the southern part of the state comprising the conference will attend. Among the men of nation-wide acquaintance who are scheduled to be at the Sutherlin meetings are C. A. Russell, E. K. Meyers, associate secretary of the general conference, of Washington, D. C.; Alonso T. Baker, associate editor of the Signs of the Times of Mountain View, California; W. E. Howell, educational secretary of the general conference, of Washington, D. C.; H. W. Wells, Morris Lakens, president of the North Pacific Union Conference, of Walla Walla, who visited Roseburg during the camp-meeting last year, will be at this meeting. W. L. Smith, president of Walla Walla college, will visit Sutherlin during the camp-meeting in the interest of the educational work of the Union Conference. J. E. Weaver, who for two or three years was principal of Sutherlin Academy, but now a member of the faculty of Walla Walla college, will also be present.

The first session of the conference will convene at 10:45 Friday morning. This session will probably be given over to organization, appointment of committees and preliminary work. Other sessions will convene Sunday and during the week following.

Among matters of importance to come before the conference this year is the relocating of the academy for southern Oregon and also the conference office headquarters. This work becomes necessary owing to the recent sale of the academy building in Sutherlin. Some months ago the two-story brick building on the main street of Sutherlin that has been used for academy purposes was sold, and the property turned over to the new owners about the middle of this month. The 100 acres of the old Frank Walte place that was owned by the academy, and where it was expected to establish the academy for the present, at least, has also been sold to California people, who have taken over the whole tract of more than 1000 acres belonging to the Walte estate. These sales leave the academy homeless, but the expediency of the Southern Oregon Conference, it is said, are firm for continuance of the school and therefore new quarters for the institution will be arranged for it in all likelihood during the sessions of the conference convening next week. It is understood that a farm suitable for carrying on industrial work is desired for the academy home.

The conference office headquarters, which until the academy was opened at Sutherlin several years ago, was located on Oak street in this city, will also be a matter that will demand attention. Just where these institutions will go, no one can tell. It is understood that Eugene and Medford are out after the prizes. Roseburg has also been mentioned as headquarters, so the problem of locating these institutions appears to be of unusual interest.

Daily program of the meetings for the camp-meeting calls for a 6 o'clock devotional service each morning and each day will be filled with business sessions, devotional meetings and praise services, the last one for each day being a sermon in the evening.

SEC'Y JARDINE ADVOCATES USE MOTOR TRUCKS

"Regarding motor trucks destroying the roads, Mr. Jardine said:—
"There are now as many motor trucks using the roads as there were of all kinds of motor vehicles 10 years ago, but the cost of the roads per ton mile of traffic, is far less now than it was then.
"The idea that trucks destroy roads is a hangover from the war period when they were actually destroyed, because the heavier motor trucks were suddenly released on roads which had not been built to accommodate them. The roads we are building now are built to accommodate the traffic they will be called upon to carry.
"In the field of passenger transportation there is no arguing the meaning of the 5,000,000 automobiles now operating on the fast improving roads.
"In the main, I think it must be conceded that the automobile is functioning in a transportation field of its own and is gratifying wants which could not have been met by the railroads."
Grain Gamblers Warned
Secretary Jardine declared the board of trade of Chicago must put its house in order and expressed interest in efforts to reorganize the "Grain Marketing Company."

"I am naturally interested as secretary of agriculture," he said, "in any effort to reorganize the Grain Marketing company and to regain for it the confidence of the farmers. Without the confidence of the farmers, no marketing company can accomplish anything."
He said the board of trade, where earlier in the season wide fluctuations had caused him to order an investigation, must "put its house in order," although he intimated he was not to be understood as opposing the board as an institution.
"We are not opposed to the legislative functions of the board of trade," he said, "but we do oppose grain trading. People are beginning to think it is a nuisance, because it has been running wild."
The board, he added, must cease to destroy confidence in it if it is to survive.

NEUNER PREPARES FOR CONTEST OVER DISPUTED ISLAND

SALEM, Ore., May 28.—The Sand Island controversy is again before the state land board today, the issue now being whether the board shall give United States Attorney Neuner until June 15 to secure further data relative to the controversy over title between the state and the government, or whether the board shall grant the Columbia River Fishery Association, represented by W. L. Thompson, a lease to the fishing rights on the island and thereby thrust the controversy immediately into court. The board, especially Governor Pierce and Mr. Thompson, represented by Attorneys Oswald West and John K. Kollock, is inclined to favor the latter course, one contention being that by June 15 the fishing will all be done. The controversy is whether title to the island should not divert to the state. In 1864 the state ceded it to the government on condition that it be used for military purposes, but it never has been used for that purpose, but has been leased by the government instead for fishing purposes and the lease is now held by the Larabee Packing Company. The board will continue its hearing this afternoon.
