HEAVY TOURIST TRAVEL FORESEEN

Oregon and Washington are assured of a remarkable increase in tourist traffic this season as thousands of Californians are now making plans to spend their vacation periods by motoring into the Pacific Northwest, over the Pacific Highway, according to information given out last week by executives of the General Petroleum Corporation. These officials, whose headquarters are in Los Angeles, were inspecting the work accomplished in the distribution of General gasoline in the Northwest territory during the past six months, and were very well pleased with the showing made. According to C. D. Fies they estimated the tourist traffic would be at least 40 per cent greater than that of last year.

Mr. Fies states that "not only will there be a large influx of tourists from the Southland, but also from the Middle West. The Pacific Northwest advertising campaigns carried on by the railroads and commercial organizations have created a great desire among middle westerners to visit the much-heralded Pacific Coast. As the majority of these tourists will make the loop, taking in both Washington and California, they will be sure to pass through this territory."

Plans are already being made by the General Petroleum Corporation to meet the demands of their increased trade. It is thought there will be a very noticeable demand for General gasoline, as the General Petroleum Corporation entered the San Francisco Bay territory several months ago, and have already established a heavy demand among the Californians. They will be pleased, indeed, to find the familiar green-and-white signs of the General in the North.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

First Presbyterian Church.—W. S. McCullagh, Pastor. The Sunday School is very often the first step in a child's spiritual vision. The influences of the Sunday School are far-reaching and important. The child through the Sunday School learns the truth in a way that could not be brought to him through the home life. Judge Jacob Kandler of the Court of Domestic Relations frequently sentences boys to attend Sunday School instead of sending them to the Reform School. Support the Sunday School by your attendance and have your children there also. Church worship at 11:00 a. m. Theme for the morning: "Burdens, Bearing and Sharing Them." In the evening the churches give up their individual services and join in a union meeting in the High School auditorium for the Baccalaureate Sermon to the graduating class of the Roseburg High School.

Salvation Army.—Capt. O. P. Strickland, Campaign Secretary for the Oregon Division of the Salvation Army will be in town with two workers Tuesday, June 2nd, to arrange for the campaign of the local corps.

Christian Church.—Folks, let's make the last Sunday in May noteworthy with a fine large attendance. We are anxious to make good average for the quarter, and we must get busy next Sunday. Sunday morning the subject of the sermon is "The Place of Miracles in the Church." Come with us and let us examine the scriptures carefully. We will be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects.

He may work for pay, but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

Druggist: "The tasteless kind, I presume."

Jack: "No, sirree, its for dad."

Harold Thomas: "I have a cold or something in my head."

Teacher: "Undoubtedly a cold."

Camp Committee Meets

The camp committee of Roseburg met Wednesday evening to discuss camp business. They decided to begin camp about the 21st of July and that the services of Mr. Stowell as cook should be secured this year if possible.

Before definite plans are made the scouts will have a chance to say what they want and when they want it. A questionnaire is being made up and will be given to each scout at meeting. You are requested to fill it out.

Lutheran Services.—Services next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. "The Solemn Inauguration of the Christian Church," is the theme of the Pentecost sermon based on Acts 2, 1-13. It marks the founding of the New Testament Church. Let us all come to church Sunday and see how timely the inauguration of the church was, how wonderfully it was ushered in, and the wonderful effect and harvest this church had. We extend to one and all a hearty invitation to attend these services.

DOUGLAS COUNTY BOY SCOUT NEWS

New Merit Badge Subjects—Boy Scouts are to have opportunity to earn merit badges for public speaking and herpetology, according to the decision of the National Scout office. The subjects have been approved, and referred to authorities in the respective branches for further consideration.

These two subjects, it is expected, in the near future will form part of the Scouting curriculum, now consisting of 72 vocational branches. These range from architecture to zoology.

Other new additions have been insect life, textiles and foundry practice.

The number of merit badges earned by scouts is regarded as an important gauge of progress of the organization. A recent report states that in 1924, a total of 149,784 badges were earned. The great majority of the badges awarded were for outdoor activities such as pioneering, pathfinding, staking and camping.

Service is emphasized next in the awards won for first aid, lifesaving, and other activities benefiting the community.

The Ninth Scout Law—A Scout is thrifty—He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best use of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects.

He may work for pay, but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

ed to take the questionnaire home and go over the questions with your parents and state your answers. These are then to be returned to the executive's office in the armory as soon as possible. When they are all received the camp committee can go over them and determine what to do so as to satisfy the greatest number of scouts. It may be that it will be necessary to hold two camps of two weeks each in order to accommodate all who want to go.

Troop One News—Troop one met at the North Methodist church last Monday night. As there was no important business to be taken care of, we hiked up past the reservoir east of town and played some scout games. We had a fairly good attendance. Last Friday, Queen Thelma and her attendants visited our model camp and looked over the displays. The Oregonian Review man took moving pictures during the Queen's visit.

The Boy Scouts surely enjoyed the carnival. Taking tickets was not very hard work and there was lots of fun in store for us afterwards. We hope the carnival committee will remember us again next year.

Troop Two News—The meeting last Monday evening was held at the Baptist church but will be held at the camp ground next Monday night. The executive visited us again and talked to us for a while. He praised the troop for the fine work done during the carnival and for the progress made in scouting. He also apologized to us for his part in trying to discourage us from entering a float in the parade last Thursday. He had called on us for rapid progress in scouting. Let's show some real interest.

During the meeting we initiated Ray Harrison, Frank Schroeder and Conn Peterson. We were initiated, Carl Stephens but it came time to close before we got to it.

Our house is divided against itself in that every boy wants to buy something different with the fifty dollars than the other fellow does. We will have to get together on that and that is what we are real friends in Sourdough Jim who so kindly donated the use of his truck for our float. It is our duty to help him now whenever we can.

The Hochradl building with the Wilson Tire Shop, has been moved to the building vacated by the Catching Motor company. This building fronts on Main and Oak streets, the office being located on Main street, while the garage and storage space opens off Oak street.

The new location affords much more room for the storage of cars for exchange and gives a very suitable place for conducting the business. Mr. Mathews has already moved to his new location and is making his headquarters in the Main street office.

Melrose Troop News—The newly organized troop of Melrose met Friday evening, May 22nd with only one member absent. The troop was divided into two patrols and one boy was given his tenderfoot test. We now have fifteen tenderfeet in the troop.

As soon as the regular business was taken care of we went to work on signalling and then played a few games. We hope to have all members present this Friday.

Yoncalla Troop News—Two meetings a week for us. Well that isn't for ever but we are doing it now. More than that some of the bunch are showing up at the scoutmaster's house every night. We have erected some swings and bars there and have lots of fun on them.

Three of our number have passed the tenderfoot test and the rest of us expect to pass it this week. We did not quite realize just how much we could get out of scouting when we first went in to it but after just these few weeks we can see where we are going to get a whole lot out of it. Our scoutmaster says he is being well repaid for the time he puts in on it and judging from the high spirits he keeps up we guess he is right. Any way he likes boys and that suits us.
