SECRETARY WEEKS' CONDITION IS NOT SO SATISFACTORY

BOSTON, June 1.—Secretary of War John W. Weeks, who was operated upon for gall stones at the Massachusetts General Hospital last week, passed a restless night, his physicians announced today, and his general condition was described as "not so good."

From the time of the operation Thursday, Secretary Weeks had been convalescing favorably until yesterday when the physician admitted that his condition was not entirely satisfactory, although it was said there was nothing alarming in his symptoms.

DUNIVAN-BLAKELY WEDDING YESTERDAY

A quiet wedding occurred Sunday, May 31, at the home of Rev. J. B. Needham, 714 South Pine street, when Mr. Floyd H. Dunivan and Miss Esther J. Blakely, were united in marriage. The ceremony was witnessed by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Blakely, of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Dunivan left at once for Portland, where they will spend a short time on their wedding trip.

Mr. Dunivan is well known in this city, having been employed as an electrician at the Hudson Electric store for several years. His wife is one of the city's most charming young ladies, and recently has been employed at the Abrahams store.

Upon their return they will make their home at 323 Chadwick street.

OREGON LAWYERS CHARGE BIG FEES; TOLD TO EXPLAIN

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., June 1.—Attorneys and chairmen of the wheat loan committee of Gilliam, Sherman and Morrow counties have been summoned by the state board of control to meet in Salem next Thursday for a conference relative to charges made by the attorneys for their work in those counties. They are claiming fees from $500 to $1,000 which some members of the board, especially state Treasurer Kay, think are exorbitant. Mr. Kay says he wants full information before the claims are approved.

Of the $1,200,000 made available by the state legislature to loan farmers for purposes of reseedling their land in frozen-out areas, less than half that amount has been borrowed.

DISABLED VETERANS TO PAY TRIBUTE TO SOLDIER DEAD

OMAHA, Neb., June 1.—America's disabled veterans will lead the allied capitals of London, Paris, Rome, Brussels and Washington in a silent tribute to their departed comrades, as typified in the Unknown Soldier at Arlington cemetery, June 22.

Meeting in Omaha for their national convention, the Disabled Veterans of the World War have announced completion of arrangements for a minute of silence in reverent respect to the memory of their buddies, followed by the singing of "Taps" by Madame Schumann-Heink, famous American singer.

Arrangements also have been completed by the national officers at Washington for a repetition of the annual custom of placing memorial wreaths on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in five centers of allied peoples, during the minute of reverent silence at the initial session.

FACTORY GIRL ONE OF THE 98

Will Answer Letters from Women asking about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lititz, Pa. — "I was very nervous and suffered for a long time with pains in my back and side. I was employed in a factory and for about three months I did no work at all. There were two women who told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I didn't believe what they told me at first, but at last I tried it. It has taken my pains away and my nervousness. I am glad to say that I am one of the 98 out of 100 that it has helped. I recommend it when I can, as I know it is good for women's troubles. I will answer any letter that any woman writes to me. I know the Vegetable Compound has helped me and hope it will help others." — Mrs. CHARLES R. STUTZ, R. F. D. 2, Lititz, Pa.

PRISONER'S DEATH RESULTS IN PROBE

SEATTLE, Wash., June 1.—Walter Olsen, 33 years old, a court stenographer, died here Saturday in the King County Jail, and started the second coroner's investigation in a month for such institutions in Seattle.

May 12, a coroner's jury recommended that the manslaughter charge against Stangel Hilgert, a Tacoma auto salesman, died while drunk in the city jail, but the policemen were acquitted briefly.

Olsen came to Seattle from Price, Utah, where he left a widow. He, like Hilgert, was arrested for driving an auto while intoxicated. He was taken into custody Sunday and died under $200 bail and surrendered Friday by his bondsmen. Saturday he complained of being dizzy. A physician was called, and found the prisoner dead.

STECHER DEFEATS ZBYSKO; LEWIS IS MUNN'S MASTER

FLYING SQUADRON COMING TO ROSEBURG FRIDAY, JUNE 12

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1.—The technical charge of "assault with intent to kill" upon which Joe Stecher, Nebraska heavyweight wrestler, was arrested after his match with Stanislaus Zbysko here Saturday, will probably be dismissed when the hearing is held June 10. Zbysko last night reported that except for a slight stiffness, he was in excellent health.

Stecher was arrested and released on bond as a precautionary measure, the police explained, because it was reported after the bout that Zbysko's ribs were broken by Stecher's scissor's hold.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1.—Stanislaus Zbysko, veteran Pole, who was taken to a hospital here yesterday after his championship match with Joe Stecher of Nebraska, was found to be suffering from internal injuries, several broken ribs and injuries to his back, it was learned.

Joe Stecher, Nebraska scissor's marvel, who lost the heavyweight wrestling championship to Ed "Strangler" Lewis four years ago, again reached the pinnacle of the wrestling world by defeating Zbysko in straight falls here.

Stecher won both falls with his favorite hold, the first in one hour and 25 minutes, and the second in five minutes.

Zbysko, veteran of 30 years on the mat, fought gamely but after the first 15 minutes was largely on the defensive and finally was forced to give up to full body scissor's holds.

The purse was $50,000, of which $10,000 was posted by Joe Stecher and his brother and manager, Anton Stecher. Zbysko was to get the purse, win or lose.

OREGON IS HIGH IN EXPORT TRADE

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Finishing the year 1924 in seventeenth place among the different states of the union in the race for export markets, Oregon's merchandise shipments abroad totaled $79,592,929, according to statistics just released by the department of commerce. Just ahead of Oregon in the race was Maryland with a trade margin of less than $700,000, while North Carolina, whose total exports for the year were more than $8,000,000 less than those of Oregon. The total export trade of the United States for the year under review amounted to $4,498,151,926.

Wheat, grain, exports amounting to $25,568,151 led the list of foreign shipments from Oregon, and wheat flour was second with a valuation of $19,173,549, or 1,179,777; milk and cream $1,442,435; and barley with valuation of $480,828.

Exports amounting to more than $100,000,000 for the year were attained by eleven of the fifty-two states and regions included in the tabulation. They were Texas, with figures of $77,712,927; New York, $71,592,592; Kansas, $69,000,000; California, $29,153; Illinois, $25,311,270; California, $23,684,210; New Jersey, $22,921,264; Louisiana, $22,847,224; Michigan, $17,876,654; Virginia, $15,018,225; Ohio, $13,559,362; and Massachusetts, with merchandise valuations of $11,418,120.

Minnesota, with shipments valued at $97,449,245, was just outside the first eleven states, while Nevada, with exports amounting to but $23,413 brought up the rear of the entire list.

This is the first time in the history of government trade statistics, according to Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, under whose charge the figures were compiled, that an attempt has been made to show the relative yearly standing of the different states and regions of the union in the never-ending struggle for foreign trade.

Formerly official trade figures gave only the port from which shipments were cleared. Inland producers, desirous of finding out what agricultural and manufacturing goods came from their regions wanted the commerce department to adopt some other system. The outcome was the new compilation which is based on through-bills of lading, and therefore, in the case of some states, reflects but a part of their total foreign trade. For others includes goods produced elsewhere. The element of seasonal fluctuation, says Director Klein, should also be considered.

STECHER DEFEATS ZBYSKO; LEWIS IS MUNN'S MASTER

NEW YORK, June 1.—Paul Belinfante of Astoria, N. Y., became light heavyweight champion of the world here tonight by outpointing Mike McKike, who gained the title from Battling Siki in Dublin three years ago in a 15 round bout. It was a case of a slugging youth meeting a middle aged boxer with a great defense.

ABERDEEN, June 1.—News that Aberdeide Castle is to be "loaned" to Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles next autumn has created a favorable impression in Scotland, there being much disappointment last year because of the absence of the princess from the Deeside gatherings. Aberdeide, close to Balmoral, sits like a toy castle among the peaks and glens of the Dee country, and has numerous memories of the late King Edward who frequently stayed there when he was Prince of Wales. Aberdeide Castle, has been so linked with various members of the royal family who have spent much time there during the last 80 years or so that many persons regard it as being a royal residence, although, as a matter of fact, it is not.

THEATRES

LIBERTY THEATRE.
A young wife, pretty and frivolous, but nothing worse than thoughtless, becomes involved in a flirtation, to the natural resentment of her husband. Hence comes the moment when she realizes her foolishness and tries to put a stop to it. It is then she finds she has started something it takes someone bigger than she to settle; and before it is finally settled she has drawn many innocent persons into a maelstrom of which tragedy and unhappiness are the result.

Artistic production characterized "Forgive And Forget" at the Liberty tomorrow and Wednesday throughout. Beautiful sets, gorgeous costumes, fine production by Harry Cohn, excellent direction by Howard M. Mitchell and supreme acting by the distinguished cast.

ANTLER'S THEATRE.
Visitors to the Paramount Long Island studio, who like the hobnob with people with titles get the thrill of their lives recently while Allan Dwan was producing Gloria Swanson's latest production, "Her Love Story." He had a whole flock of men and women working for him in various scenes of the picture who lay claim to titles from Baronesses to officers in the Imperial Russian Army. They appear in support of the star and principal players, Jan Keith, George Fawcett, Eehin Gayer and Mario Marioni.

"Her Love Story," adapted by Frank Tuttle from Mrs. Johnston's novel, "Her Majesty, the Queen," now at the Antlers Theatre.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.
A countless and a French soldier are the chief figures in the plot of "Refuge," Katherine Macdonald's latest picture, which is now playing at the Majestic Theatre on this first National attraction was produced by B. P. Schuler. The star is cast as the Countess Nadia, while Hugh Thompson plays opposite her in the role of the Frenchman.

The story, which is from the pen of Lois Zoller, is most unusual one. The Countess and the soldier become married only a few hours after their first meeting, and then are compelled to play "being in love" under the scrutiny of hundreds of eyes in the castle of Moravia.

ALICE LONGWORTH TO POSE IN BEAUTY ADVERTISEMENT

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, wife of the speaker-designate of the house has been sitting for a portrait, it has been learned, to be used in the advertising of a well known beauty cream.

The $5,000 which Mrs. Longworth will receive under the contract for use of the portrait will accrue, it is understood, to the bank account of her daughter, Pauline, who came into the world some three months ago.

COOS ARCH HITS SNAG
MARSHFIELD, Or., May 31.—Coos county's hope of having an arch at the junction of the Pacific highway and the Douglas-Coos state highway near Dillard was blasted today by Judge Mast, who on returning from Portland announced that the county was unable to appropriate money for the purpose. The arch had been depended upon to call the attention of travelers to this section of the state. The county court had appropriated $2000 for the purpose, and the contract for erection was let last week to Sidney A. Phillips of this city. It is believed the obstacle to constructing the arch is some restriction that prevents money from being expended outside the county.

ROSEBURG PARTY AT CRATER LAKE

E. A. Britton, Douglas County Boy Scout executive, and a party of friends from Eugene, including Ray Simms, George Mason, Ray Schroeder, Frank Yoder and Edwin White, returned yesterday from Crater Lake, being the second party to reach the rim this year. A cameraman representing the Oregonian Screen Review was the first to reach the lake this year. Mr. Britton reports that the lake is a wonderful sight in winter, and well worth the effort necessary to reach the rim.

The party left here Friday, spending the night in Medford, then reaching the lake shortly after one-half miles from the lake early Saturday morning, and were stopped there by the snow. Mr. Britton struck across country, while the other members of the party followed the road, all of them reaching the lake shortly after 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They were very tired by the hard trip, and rested about four hours before starting out.

The snowed a number of fine views of the lake, matted in snow. The snow is off in a few spots where the sun strikes, Mr. Britton says, but on the north side of the lodge is drifted in almost up to the eaves. Five inches of snow fell at the lake on Saturday.

The members of the party skied out to Government camp a distance of 1 1/2 miles, and spent Saturday night there, coming out to Anna Springs on their skis. It will be possible to reach Anna Springs by automobile by next Sunday, Mr. Britton says.

ARREST UNDER NEW DRUNKEN DRIVER LAW IS FIRST HERE

James Barnes was arrested yesterday on a charge of driving while intoxicated, this being the first arrest in this county for violation of the new state law. Barnes was arraigned in the justice court this morning before Justice of the Peace George Jones, and entered a plea of guilty, and was fined $100 and given 60 days in jail. His driver's license was revoked for a period of one year.

WEATHER BUREAU WILL AGAIN ISSUE FOREST WARNINGS

A special fire weather warning service will be maintained during the forest fire season by the Weather Bureau in cooperation with the various forest protective agencies of the Northwest, according to an announcement just sent out by the United States Forest Service, Portland, Oregon. This service was started in 1924, and proved to be of practical value to the organizations most vitally interested in forest fire control and suppression.

According to forest fire experts the fire hazard varies greatly under differing atmospheric conditions. Roughly, there are three outstanding types of fire-weather: (a) hot, dry periods, with a low relative humidity, favorable for the starting and spread of all types of fires; (b) periods of high winds and gales, favorable for the rapid spread of existing fires; and (c) lightning storms, which themselves start fires. There also may be combinations of two or all of these conditions.

The Weather Bureau plans to give to the forest protective agencies advance information of impending changes in the weather which will affect the onset of fire hazard, usually covering a period of thirty-six hours. The warnings will be sent out by telephone and General forest fire weather information will also be broadcast by radio.

Weather Bureau officials point out that the fact that a period of danger is forecast cannot of itself prevent fires. But this information enables those agencies interested to operate and co-operate in such a manner that the danger may be minimized. They state that during these periods loggers should exercise greater caution, and even cease operations over the worst period; railroads rights-of-way should be intensively patrolled; fire wardens, guided in the distribution of their forces and equipment; restrictions on campers and tourists in danger zones should be enforced; and the general public warned, through press and radio, of the fact that extraordinary precautions to prevent fires are mandatory. The farmer may profitably utilize the forecasts in planning his work, a period of high or acute fire hazards, with its low humidity, being ideal haying weather.

The Weather Bureau has assigned two investigators, one at Portland and one at Seattle, to make a survey of meteorological conditions affecting the fire hazard. Federal, State, and private forest agencies, as well as many lumber companies are cooperating in these studies.

The forecasts will be issued in plain language, indicating the period for which issued, the nature of the weather, wind direction and force, and expected changes in the fire hazard.
