A Sturdy Hen—

A Rhode Island Red hen on the Leslie Hatfield place has, according to her owner, earned a niche in the hall of fame by laying an egg that measures seven inches one way and eight and three fourths the long way. It looks very much like a small ostrich egg, and would make an acceptable meal of ham and for a hungry man. If Hatfield can induce all his hens to roll up their sleeves and do likewise he will become an authority among poultrymen.

Will Profit by reading Mrs. Quigg's Letter Telling How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her Daughter

Royersford, Pa.—"My daughter was sickly from the time she was 13 years old, she was irregular and also had severe headaches, and pains in her sides and back. She was this way about six months before I began giving her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped her very much. She is not bothered by headaches, backaches, or cramping any more, and has not missed but one day. We recommend it to other mothers with girls who have these troubles."—Mrs. QUIGG, 210 Main Street, Royersford, Pa.

Another Mother's Letter

Roxbury, Mass.—"At the age of 16 my daughter was all run down, nervous, with poor blood. These troubles made her weak and unfit to work. She tried several medicines, but they did her no good. Finally I induced her to take the Vegetable Compound, too, and she has gained in health and strength. It is now working steadily. I have told these facts to many mothers."—Mrs. HUBBARD, 232 Duane Street, Roxbury, Mass.

PACT GUARANTEES PEACE OF EUROPE

Third: The arbitration treaties, which Germany has proposed to conclude with Prague and Warsaw as with Paris and Brussels and which must be negotiated at the same time as the security pact, will only affect differences arising in the future, that is they cannot apply to questions of frontiers or other dispositions provided for in the peace treaties.

The statement emphasized that since the security pact is a condition for the peace pact, it is obvious that for the pact to become a reality it must be a strictly mutual affair. It said the British commitment would be restricted to a guarantee of the frontier between France, Belgium and Germany. Great Britain is not proposing to intervene in any possible conflict in which it has no real interest, the statement added, but said that by means of such a mutual understanding as the pact proposes, and by a clear statement of British obligations, all possibility of war wherein British interests might be involved on the Franco-Belgian-German frontier might be avoided.

The statement said that all signatories to the pact would enjoy all the rights and obligations pertaining to members of the League of Nations, it said these rights and obligations would apply equally to Germany, Belgium and France. The pact for the part to be enforced, Germany would become a full member of the league.

The statement said nothing in the pact would weaken the provisions of the Versailles treaty regarding Germany's other frontiers and that the possibilities of trouble on all frontiers other than those with Belgium and France, specifically treated in the pact, would be covered by the covenant of the League of Nations.

The situation was interpreted here as meaning that any concession which the British government made towards reaching an agreement with France regarding Germany's disarmament has been more than fully repaid in this proposed security agreement, which raised the League of Nations to a new standing and brings Germany into membership.

GENEVA, June 9.—The allied security pact that will be sent to Germany as a result of the complete agreement reached between France and Great Britain yesterday will lay down certain principles as the basis for negotiation of the pact, but will not propose a specific text.

These principles include the creation of a Rhine pact of neutral guarantees which will be supplemented by arbitration treaties between Germany and France, Germany and Great Britain, Germany and Belgium, between Germany and Poland and Germany and Czechoslovakia.

The country resorting to force and refusing arbitration would be considered an aggressor. If Germany attacked Poland in defiance of the arbitration arrangements for instance, then France would have the right to go to Poland's assistance. This is not considered a likely contingency as Germany has gone on record pledged not to use force, but to accept arbitration of her international disputes.

Nevertheless France insists on the right to cross Germany to protect Poland as an added guarantee for Germany's eastern neighbors. As Germany already has informed the League of Nations, that one reason why she cannot sign the pact is her objection to having French troops cross her territory, it is believed that this point is likely to arouse difficulties in the negotiation of the security pact.

JAIL BREAK FAILS BECAUSE NOISE IS HEARD BY OFFICER

(Associated Press Local Wire.)

DALLAS, Ore., June 9.—A break from the Polk county jail was frustrated about 3 o'clock this morning when City Marshal Chase surprised Earl Cullen after he had battered a hole through the brick wall and was about to crawl out. Cullen had hidden under a cot downstairs when the other prisoners were locked in their cells by Marshal Chase.

As soon as the marshal left on his rounds, Cullen emerged from hiding and began on the back wall of the jail. As his work neared completion he made noise enough to attract Chase's attention a block or two away.

Cullen is held for the grand jury on a forgery charge. He served one term in the penitentiary from Lane county.

CANNERY TO START RUN FIRST OF WEEK

The Roseburg cannery will start the first of next week and will run for about three weeks on loganberries. It was announced today. The equipment is all in readiness, and berries will start coming in the last of the week. It will require only about three weeks to complete the run, it is anticipated, and the cannery will be idle again then until the middle of August. At that time the main run for the year will start with pears and blackberries, after which prunes and apples will follow in season.

As all fruit crops are light, it is expected that the pack this year will be much lighter than during the past season. The company has disposed of practically all of its last year's pack, and is now shipping out the products upon orders for the various buyers.

NEW ELECTRIC STORE TO OPEN HERE JULY 25TH

Arthur H. Crowell of Spokane has arrived in the city and is installing a new electric store located between the Sunset Garage and Berger's Bargain Store on Cass street, near the depot. Mr. Crowell has been engaged in the electrical business, particularly in the wholesale line for several years, and in going into business in this city plans on handling a full line of equipment specializing in ranges, heaters, ironers, washers, refrigerators and other large devices of an electrical nature. He will also handle complete line of fixtures and the usual small articles. Although he expects to do contract work in wiring and installations, his particular attention will be devoted to merchandising lines, and he expects to carry a much wider variety of goods, he states, than has previously been offered in the city. The new store will be ready for opening about July 25.

AMERICAN OPERA FEATURE OF MUSIC WEEK AT PORTLAND

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—The first performance of the American opera "The Echo," by Frank Patterson, was the outstanding event of Tuesday's program for the fourteenth biennial convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs. The opera will have its premiere at the Municipal Auditorium tonight. American singers, Marie Rappold, Marjorie Dodge, Forrest Lamont, and Lawrence Tibbett, have the leading parts in this performance.

Edgar Stillman Kelley's symphonic poem, "The Pit and the Pendulum," is to be rendered by the Portland Symphony orchestra with the composer conducting. This is to precede the presentation of the opera.

Work of the extension department and publicity occupied the attention of the delegates of the sessions of the convention today. The finals in the young artists' contests drew a large audience last night. The winners were piano, William Beller, of Chicago; violin, Catherine Wade Smith of Chicago; female voice, Kathryn Noll, West Chester, Pa. No award was made in the male voice contest in which Arthur Anderson of Pittsburgh and Victor Nagel of San Francisco competed.

Texas received a prize of $100 for the state showing the most consistent growth in club memberships between June 1924 and May 1925 and $100 for the state's clubs that showed the greatest growth between January and May of this year.

It was reported that in the two years since the last convention 112 clubs have been added to the national federation, a growth of nearly 40 per cent in the number of clubs federated. Since January this year 507 junior clubs have been added.
