BUSINESS HONOR

A veteran traveling salesman was telling recently about his experiences on the road. He was asked about commercial graft and the use of improper influence to secure orders.

"See much of that kind of thing now? the salesman was asked.

"No," was the reply. "The buyers of business concerns, so far as I know them, do not commonly like to feel that they owe any obligation to salesmen, and they do not usually care to accept invitations from them."

"Of course there are some who are not so particular, and some who are not straight at all. You have to pass up these fellows, and make up your mind you can not do business with everyone."

An opinion like this is encouraging to all who would like to believe that the world is gradually improving. Rough and brutal deeds may for the moment be more common, but the business world seems to realize more than ever before that it must do business on the level or it will not get anywhere.

THE FARMER STANDS HIS GROUND

In the unceasing struggle between the individual and the corporation for industrial supremacy the farmer is one of the few of the former class who are successfully standing their ground.

The idea that the farmer is a slipshod business man is a delusion, W. L. Myers, Professor of Farm Finance of Cornell University, told a group of America's leading business men attending the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"The American farmer," he said, "is the most efficient food producer that the world has ever known. The decrease in the proportion of workers engaged in agriculture from 87 per cent in 1820 to 26 per cent in 1920 is a concrete expression of this efficiency."

This is one reason why the corporation, which has made individual enterprise a practical impossibility in many industrial fields, has never been able to overcome the farmer who is more efficient than the large-scale producer.

Reports from London are to the effect that many of the advanced young men are wearing very bright colored clothes, in purples, heliotropes, blues, greens, etc. American young men are wearing suits of more striking appearance than formerly, and some will predict that the old days when men used to wear just as brilliant garments as the women, are about to return.

In an editorial urging the election of a certain exemplary citizen for a certain office, the Ashland Tidings says: "A man should be selected who is impartial, a man who has no affiliations which will make it impossible for him to render a fair decision, and a man who will not be swayed by personalities, but will govern his court in a manner which will insure justice to all, rich or poor, high or low."

If Ashland is fortunate enough to possess such a paragon of civic and judicial virtue, she should not stint her appreciation by giving him a mere public office. He deserves a monument.

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—

We read an article in the Literary Digest the other day captioned: "Does a fish smell?" And we wonder if the inquirer ever tried to keep a fish very long.

Master Associated Press sent us a wire today describing more about Harry Thaw's night life among the cabaret cottes of Broadway and Judgin' from the amount of Jack the o' boy is distributin' among the damself with the twinklin' toes he can be justly termed "Silver Thaw."

It's funny but all those easy tricks we read about in the Sunday newspapers to play on unsuspecting friends are darn hard to perform.

CATCHY REFRAINS BOOST ASPIRANTS AT MUSIC MEETING

PORTLAND, June 11.—Nomination of five directors from the floor of the convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs, following the report of the official nomination committee, was sufficient to keep the election today from being a cut and dried affair and to make the personnel of the new board a matter of uncertainty until the election closes.

With 45 to be elected, the nominating committee had turned in just 45 names of candidates. Mrs. Cecil Frankel, of Los Angeles, Cal., who may be designated as the "progressive" candidate, and Mrs. Edgar Stillman Kelley, of Oxford, Ohio, who is said to be backed by the conservative group, are the recognized candidates for the presidency.

The new board will elect the officers tomorrow. California and Ohio delegates engaged in a lively contest of campaign singing last night at the official banquet, boosting their favorites in the fight for the federation presidency. Ohioans, backing Mrs. Kelley, sang "Has Anybody a Hero Seen Kelley?" The California delegation urging Mrs. Frankel responded with a rhyme about "Our Western Belle—FRANKEL."

CRATER LAKE PARK TO BE OPENED ON JULY 1 AS PLANNED

Crater Lake National Park will be in full swing on July 1st, the official opening date. The winter was one of heavy snowfall, but a snow removal crew was sent into the park more than two weeks earlier than usual. Nothing but the most extraordinary weather can now postpone the normal season.

NO DEMONSTRATION FOR DEFENSE DAY HERE THIS YEAR

Unless there is a popular demand for its observance, National Defense Day will pass without any special demonstration in this city, Mayor Houck stated this morning. National Defense Day is set for July 4, and in view of the fact that this time offers a two-day holiday, it is feared by the Mayor that any attempt to hold a demonstration would meet a decided failure.

SPAIN PREPARES SUPREME EFFORT AGAINST RIFFS

FEZ, French Morocco, June 11.—Decisive action against the invading Rif tribesmen is regarded here as imminent, due to Spain's intention to land a force, reported to number 20,000 men, in an attempt to seize the naval base of Alhucemas, now held by the Moors. Abd-el-Krim is expected to oppose the Spanish attack to the utmost and apparently in preparation for the engagement he has withdrawn to the north a number of his best warriors and has moved other chosen troops toward Adajir, where a contest for the river is reported to have been held.

OFFICERS TO VISIT CAMP

The reserve officers of the Roseburg chapter are making arrangements to visit Camp Jackson, the Oregon National Guard camp near Medford, on maneuvering day to witness the regiments in their simulated combat. The local officers are studying combat problems, and will doubtless obtain much enjoyment from watching the work of the guardsmen.

DOUGLAS COUNTY BOY SCOUT NEWS

First Troop News

Troop One held its meeting at the model camp site back of the Umqua Hotel, Monday evening. We had a pretty good attendance so were able to clean up the grounds and take the signal tower down.

After work we held a short business meeting during which Scoutmaster Lintott announced that there was to be a scout school to be held during the summer. This school will be held three times a week and we hope that all scouts attend.

After the meeting we had a case of pop and adjourned. Maynard and Raymond Bell leave Friday for Portland where they will remain with their parents for a couple of weeks, and then start on a trip to Yellowstone Park.

Two new scouts have been added to this troop as well as one scout transferring from Portland scouts.

We have a troop reporter, who, if he wants to, can sure write up our news but he very seldom cares to. It is sure a shame to honor any scout by election to any responsibility. In other words a new reporter is in order.

LETTERS FROM BOY SCOUTS ARE SENT TO EASTERN PEOPLE

The Boy Scouts have gotten out a letter and mailed copies to two hundred Eastern chambers of commerce for publication in eastern papers. This letter is written with a three-fold purpose in mind, that of boosting Douglas county, boosting Boy Scouts universally and that of stimulating greater interest in the matter of Forest Fire Prevention.

"If I may, I will do my 'good turn' by giving you some information regarding our section of the country for the benefit of those from your section who may be planning to take a tour of the west. This is not for the reason of trying to 'sell' you on Oregon, (Oregon sells itself) but for the reason of trying to impress on tourists why they should be very careful while in the woods."

"The one thing that preserves this as an ideal scenic state for the tourists is the vast timber area. Without the timber who would care to travel far to see Crater Lake, the most beautiful lake in the world; the hundreds of mountain lakes; numerous hot springs; the Columbia River gorge, one of the prettiest drives in America and a paved highway all the way; the Scout School.

A plan is being worked out for holding scout instruction periods. This is for the purpose of advancing Tenderfoot and Second Class Scouts principally. However, any First Class Scout who want assistance in advancing to merit badge work will be given assistance.

This school will not be run on a class room schedule. Neither will it operate every day in the week but rather about three afternoon periods of about two hours each during the week. The work will be mostly outdoor and practical stuff.

Announcements giving details will be made either at your next troop meeting or in next Thursday's News-Review. Patrol Leaders can find a place to help here.

Court of Honor.

The June Scout Court of Honor will be held at the city hall on Thursday night, June 18th, at 7:30 p. m.

Those who have already filed applications for merit badges and promotion are: Stanley Kidder, Cycling and Handicraft; Tom McDowell, Scholarship; Markman, and Camping; Donald Chase, Camping, Bird Study and Cooking; Harold Thomas, Bird Study, Handicraft, Conservation, Firemanship and Music; Sten Lobek, Poultry Keeping; Daniel Barnett, Second Class Test. For the reason that a Raymond Bell is going away for a few months he was taken before Judge Quille for examination in Civics and Cooking. He passed satisfactorily and was awarded the badges.

He is now entitled to the Rank of Eagle and the application has already been in to the National Court of Honor at New York.

The June Court of Honor will be open to all. No admittance charges.

Importance of Swimming.

(The Irishman and the Professor) Mike Flanagan was one day rowing a learned Professor across a very rough bay in a small boat.

"My good man," said the Prof. "do you know anything about Astronomy?"

"Sure and I don't," said Mike. "My, what a tragedy," replied the Prof. "you have lost a quarter of your life. Then, do you know anything about Botany?"

"No sir." "Do you know, you have lost half of your life."

Just at this instant a large wave capsized the boat, throwing the occupants into the water. Said Mike to the struggling prof. "Do ye know anything about swimming?"

"No," gasped the Prof. "Faith, then, you have lost all your life."

Don't be like the Professor. Complete your education and learn to swim.

famous Umqua river, the largest in America having both its source and mouth in the same county (the mouth is in Oregon, the tributary streams to this river furnish wonderful trout fishing), the several snow-capped mountains, glaciers, Oregon Caves, Lava Beds and Caves, and many other scenic attractions the state has to offer.

"These are 812 billions of feet of standing timber in Oregon. This Douglas county, on the paved Pacific highway, of over five thousand square miles and larger than the state of Connecticut, has over 30 billion feet or one fortieth of all the timber in the United States. One can readily see that in timber tracts of this size having hundreds of swift, cold, streams running through them, are the ideal spots where tourists can really enjoy themselves."

"These forests are for the use of the entire American people. However, they are in grave danger of being destroyed each season by fire. Already in Oregon there have been tracts destroyed by fire which if totalled would make a timber area of over four million acres and statistics show that last year we had 2,127 forest fires in Oregon; 1462, or 77 per cent of them were man-caused. It is the man who is heedless and careless about his campfire, matches, cigarette butts, etc., that you and I should guard against. His fires not only cost the government (federal) thousands of dollars, (which you help pay) but costs the state and private interests millions. And worst of all they take human life."

"All forest rangers will gladly cooperate with tourists. They will issue fire permits, point out pretty camping spots, furnish maps and look out for their general safety. And we, as Boy Scouts are also at your service. Let us help you." Signed by a Scout.
