

ROSEBURG NEWS-REVIEW

Issued Daily Except Sunday by The News-Review Co., Inc. W. W. BATES, President and Manager. BERT G. BATES, Secretary-Treasurer. Entered as second class matter May 17, 1920, at the post office at Roseburg, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

MARKERS FOR ROSEBURG

At a meeting of the Umpqua Chiefs and Squaws held last evening the feasibility of erecting suitable markers or monuments at the entrance to Roseburg, both north and south on the Pacific highway, was discussed at some length. This is a matter that has received the attention of several civic organizations of this city for some time but no definite action has so far been taken.

Many tourists entering Roseburg, particularly those who are unfamiliar with western cities, pass through and never determine that Roseburg is on the map. Any person motoring through localities they are not familiar with attest to the fact that the first information they desire upon reaching a city is the name of the place, and unless this is received they are disappointed to a degree.

It is for these reasons and many others that the Chiefs are anxious and want to further the project of erecting suitable arches to the approach of Roseburg, both north and south. They should not only be substantial, but artistic to a reasonable degree, well lighted and appropriate wording to greet the stranger.

Let's start right now to complete plans for suitable articles and make them a thing of beauty and joy forever.

Harry K. Thaw denies that he has given any "gifts or exaggerated tips, nor lavish entertainment" to chorus girls and that the "exploitation" of his activities is greatly enlarged upon by the newspapers generally.

The New York Giants have a perfectly legitimate right to again win the pennant in the National League baseball race (?), as it is painfully apparent they will do this year, but their monopoly of the League leadership is bound to detract from the interest in the game.

The 100 per cent American opera composed by an American, performed by Americans and sung in the language that Americans understand—has at last arrived. Its title is "The Echo."

Now that beauty doctors are to be regulated by law after October 19, and will be compelled to take an examination as to their fitness for doling up "mugs" that are past redemption, so far as facial beautification is concerned, patrons of cosmetic therapy will have the same protection as that administered to most animals—and probably need it.

Portland's big Rose Festival will hold the attention of thousands of people next week. An annual event worth while.

FRESH ARMY ON WAY TO CANTON; FALL IMMINENT

of the disturbance. Silk shipments, however, are moving under protection. Observers today reported that additional forces would be necessary for a decisive battle. If the forces of General Hsu (Hung-Chi), who was reported near Canton with a Russian trained army, arrive in time to join with the forces of Chu Pei-Tak in assisting the attacking forces, the defenders may be driven out of Canton. Otherwise the Yunnanese will continue to hold the city.

SHANGHAI, June 12.—The killing of eight Chinese rioters at Hankow by defenders of the British army was the outgrowth of a strike of wharf coolies employed by Butterfield and Swire, a British concern. A general strike was called today.

A Sikh watchman injured one worker on Wednesday night. A series of demonstrations followed which came to a climax on the 11th yesterday. The Bund demonstration was a wild outbreak. Mobs marched on the municipal buildings, the British concession, the Japanese concession and attempted to rush into the armory of the British volunteers which was defended by a few men.

At first the fire hose was employed without effect. Then the volunteers fired over the heads of the mob. Finally a machine gun was turned into the rioters, killing eight and wounding an unestimated number.

At the same time demonstrators attacked Japanese shops and pedestrians but no shooting resulted in the Japanese concession.

SHANGHAI, June 12.—Fifteen thousand Chinese mill workers who had struck and later returned to work walked out again tonight. The recurrence of the strike was considered an immediate result of the sharp disorders at Hankow, interior port, where nearly a dozen have been killed in a series of riots.

Lesser outbreaks, principally directed against Japanese on the north Szechuan road were reported to foreign settlement authorities tonight. The shipping tie-up due to the water side strike, continued almost complete here tonight.

A supplementary report received tonight by the Japanese consulate here from Hankow stated that previous to the use of machine guns by the British today in protection of their armory, six rioters in the Japanese concession had been killed after eight Japanese shops on Hupe street, in the British concession adjacent to the native territory, had been reduced to kindling. One Japanese was killed and five others wounded in the melee.

The report added that all Japanese residing in Chinese territory in Hankow were taking refuge in the Japanese concession, which was being guarded by Japanese volunteers and a naval contingent. Barricades around the British concession, the report said, were being strengthened in anticipation of new attacks by the Chinese.

PEKING, June 12.—Representatives of foreign powers here today replied to the note of the Chinese foreign office by saying the most appropriate means of reestablishing law and order at Shanghai would be to discuss on the spot the best measures to bring about the desired end.

The foreign diplomats in their reply ignored the Chinese foreign office stipulation that all foreign forces should depart from Shanghai before peace measures are discussed. The reply adds that legation representatives have given instructions to their delegates now in Shanghai to consider, together with the consular body there and representatives of the Chinese government, the best remedy for the present state of affairs which all countries deplore.

NEW YORK, June 12.—American missionaries and their families in the Hu-Peh province have been ordered to return to Hankow immediately, according to a cablegram received today by the Episcopal mission headquarters. The message read: "Situation here serious. Women, children, and missionaries have been ordered to this port."

About 50 American missionaries and their families were scattered about the province.

For prompt taxi service, city or country trips. Phone 44. DID YOU LOSE PIGEON? (Continued from Local News.) MEDFORD, Ore., June 12.—Mrs. A. R. McDonald of Eagle Point, near here, informed the local press today that an exhausted carrier pigeon alighted at her place two days ago and she is anxious to return it to its owner.

On the right leg the pigeon has a rubber band with the inscription 737 on one side and 744 on the other. On the left leg there is an aluminum band with the inscription A. J. — 26-D 7819.

EUGENE, Ore., June 12.—"A carrier pigeon came to my place at Elmrock at 10:59 o'clock Wednesday morning," reports George Wilson of Mapleton today. The pigeon, he continues appears to be lost, and is not inclined to leave his place, but will not let him catch her. The bird has two black bands on her wings. Her feathers are blue gray with green and purplish hood feathers around her neck.

W. S. STONE, B. L. E. CHIEF, PASSES AWAY

90,000 members carrying approximately $200,000,000 of life, sickness and accident insurance. With wide experience in money matters as a result of having handled millions of dollars of brotherhood dues and insurance and having made an exhaustive study of cooperative banks throughout the world, Mr. Stone presented a plan for an engineers' cooperative bank at the triennial convention in 1918 and was authorized to start such a bank in Cleveland. It was opened November 11, 1920, with a capital of $500,000, and a surplus of $100,000. Three years later its resources were nearly $25,000,000. This was followed by the establishment of several other banks throughout the country, controlled by the brotherhood, and in addition a substantial interest was acquired in the Empire Trust Company of New York.

Because the brotherhood bank could handle only a limited amount of business under the restrictions of the national banking laws, the Brotherhood Holding Company, conceived by Mr. Stone, was incorporated in 1922 for $1,000,000, the stock being sold entirely to engineers. A year later the Brotherhood Investment Company was incorporated with a capital of $10,000,000. The brotherhood retained 51 per cent of the common stock of the enterprises. A 21-story building for the bank was erected in Cleveland and the Brotherhood Building Association acquired a 17-story building in the same city.

Under Mr. Stone's guidance the engineers as individuals invested more than $2,000,000 in coal mine properties in Kentucky and West Virginia and financed a mail order store on a profit-sharing basis to provide themselves with the necessities of life.

Mr. Stone was born on a farm near Ainsworth, Iowa, February 1, 1860. As a boy he worked on the farm in the summer and attended a country school three months in the winter. He rounded out this preliminary education with study at Washington Academy, Washington, Iowa, and at Hesters' College, Iowa. He became a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in 1884, six months after being promoted to engineer. His ability and his interest in the organization was recognized by his election as secretary-treasurer of his local division. Then he was made head of the local grand lodge of the order. He later became chairman of the central committee of adjustment for the brotherhood of the entire Rock Island system.

When he became head of the brotherhood he made his home in Cleveland and took an active part in all its civic enterprises, being especially interested in educational affairs.

In October, 1884, Mr. Stone married Miss Carrie E. Newell of Agency, Iowa.

LECTURE ON END OF WORLD AT MOOSE HALL SUNDAY NIGHT

Every once in a while some alarmist breaks into the news of the world with the announced discovery that the world is booked ahead until next Wednesday night at midnight, after which all dates will be off; for we shall all be in the midst of a roaring fiery furnace, in which our back yards, stone walls and mill ponds will be fuel for the flames, and we ourselves will be turned to white-hot cinders. All this is very painful. At least it is for some of us until Wednesday night comes around, and we find it isn't so. After that, we breathe more easily, and go along the same as before.

But there is one body of people, who, though often improperly accused of such notions, entertain exactly opposite views. This is the International Bible Students Association. These good folk believe and teach that the world, the good old literal world in which we live, will never, never, never be burned up at all; and that the idea that it will be is all a sorry mistake.

At the Moose Hall Auditorium on Sunday, June 14, 7:45 p. m., one of their speakers, Mr. S. H. Touljian of Brooklyn, N. Y., will present the evidence in support of the permanence of the earth. This evidence is of two sorts. One is that the earth is only just now becoming livable. Men are only now finding out what a treasure-house the earth is, and what uses to make of the infinite variety of resources at their hands.

Only now do men know how to build homes, factories, railroad stations, and a thousand and one other forms of structures that are at one and the same time both useful and beautiful. Only now do they know how to place these structures in surroundings that make them ideal places in which to spend the busy hours.

Only now have we electric lights, steam heat, telephony, telegraphy, the radio, airplanes, automobiles, palace cars, and ten thousand other things that make our lives so interesting, so exciting, that we can not think of any other place we would rather be than on the surface of good old mother earth or sailing on her seas or floating among her clouds.

And then the other line of evidence, and the most important of all evidences, is the Scriptural proof that the whole subject has been misunderstood. The fact of the business is that the West has erred in trying to read into the symbolical prophecies of the East something which they were never intended to teach.
