THE WOMAN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

By BEULAH JEWETT

All contributions to this page, society, women's clubs, and personals, should be telephoned to the society editor by Friday of each week. Telephone No. 135.

Miss Teka Haynes Is Married at Beautiful Ceremony Friday Evening

Characterized by the simple dignity and charm of a beautiful setting and perfect appointments, the marriage of Miss Teka Haynes of Roseburg to Ivan Browning McKinney of Portland was solemnized at eight o'clock last night at the J. H. Booth home in the presence of one hundred and fifty relatives and friends.

The bride and her attendants formed a beautiful picture as they descended the winding staircase and advanced to an elaborate high altar of ferns and lilies where the service was read by Rev. A. O. Dodge of the Episcopal church. Preceded by the six ushers and six bridesmaids the bride on the arm of her father was unusually attractive in a bridal gown departing enough from the conventional to be interesting and distinctive. Of white silk tulle, with the transparency accentuated by narrow inset bands of crystal, the soft silver godets in the skirt edged with narrow bands of monkey fur, the costume was a lovely complement for the piquant brunette beauty of the bride. She wore a full length veil forming a duchesse cap of point lace about her face and carried an arm boquet of creamy lilies. The bridesmaids frocks of chiffon were cut alike with tight fitting basques edged with silver ribbon, and full flaring skirts bordered with matching ostrich. The pastel shaded frocks were a lovely note of color, Miss Edith Pierce in orange, Miss Mary Cool in yellow, Miss Lois Geddes in orchid, Miss Katherine Nicholson in pink, Miss Josephine Baumgartner in blue and Miss Jeanette Dentler in jade. They carried tall silver staffs topped with graceful clusters of flowers matching the shade of their dresses. Mrs. Eugene S. Kelty, matron of honor, wore peach chiffon trimmed in silver, with a silver head band and carried yellow pansies.

Mrs. F. W. Haynes, mother of the bride, was charming in a vivid blue silk crepe beaded in crystal and rose, and Mrs. J. H. Booth who received with Mrs. Haynes wore beaded cocoa chiffon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father F. W. Haynes and Donald Van Boskirk of Portland attended the groom. The ushers were George Bradburn, Harrie Booth, Ted Booth, Frederick Porter, Merrill Throne and Dick Reed of Eugene. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Fred Strang sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me". Mrs. C. S. Heinline played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party advanced to the altar and Mendelsohn's march through the service.

The bride and groom held an informal reception after the ceremony. Mrs. Bert G. Bates sang "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrize", and Mr. Bates played instrumental music in a lighter vein during the reception hour.

Supper was served on the third floor, the paneled austerity and charm of the large room where small tables centered with sweet peas and maidenhair fern, were set, making a delightfully pleasing arrangement. The smaller tables were grouped about a larger one for the bridal party, lovely under a canopy of pink maline extending to a low bowl of pansies, the flower of the sorority house of which the bride is a member, combined with Cecil Brunner roses. Covers were placed at this table for the bride and groom, the best man, the bridesmaids, ushers, Rev. and Mrs. A. O. Dodge, Mrs. Donald Van Boskirk, Mrs. Merrill Throne, Miss Vernita Kohlhagen and Miss Marion Porter. A large brides cake was cut with a saber by the bride.

Assisting through the evening were Mrs. C. W. Wharton, Mrs. B. Casey, Mrs. Stanley Kidder, Mrs. Storey Iles, Mrs. I. G. Broadway, Mrs. G. A. Bradburn, Mrs. Frank Lilburn, Mrs. Glenn Wimberly, Mrs. A. A. Wilder and Miss Thelma Trefren. Pouring and cutting ices were Mrs. Esther Sherman Perkins of Portland, Mrs. Merrill Throne, Mrs. Harry Stapleton, Miss Marguerite McCabe of Eugene. Serving were Miss Helen Casey, Miss Mildred Davis, Miss Vernita Kohlhagen, Miss Bertha Kohlhagen, Miss Helen Falbe, Miss Marion Porter, Miss Rosina Porter, Miss Beulah Jarvis, Miss Martha Yoe, Miss Mona Porter and Miss Eldress Judd.

The beautiful ceremony ended a romance begun at the University of Oregon from where both the bride and groom were graduated. Miss Haynes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Haynes, is a member of a family prominent in business and social circles in Roseburg, and has always been an active member of the school and younger set. Upon her graduation from Roseburg High School she attended the University of Oregon, majoring in history which she has taught one year at Roseburg High School. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. McKinney was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and was active in campus affairs. During the world war he served overseas with the 65th Artillery. He is now connected with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at Portland, and has just completed a beautiful new home there to which he will take his bride. They left for Portland by train last night.

The list of guests included many from various points in the state, a group of girls from the Delta Delta Delta sorority at Eugene, and many Roseburg friends of the family and school friends of the bride and groom. Among the out of town guests were the Misses Marguerite and Anna McCabe of Eugene, Miss Katherine Reade of Denver, Miss Alice Ann Tuthill of Eugene, Miss Margaret Fitzsimmons of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Van Boskirk of Portland, Miss Alberta McMonies of Pendleton, Miss Helen Delta Sherwood of Coquille, Miss Lenta Baumgartner of Salem, Miss Lillian Baker of Seattle, Miss Francis Karshner of Aberdeen, Miss Marion Burk of Portland, Miss Mamie Turner of Portland, Miss Josephine Ulrich, of Portland, Mrs. Esther Sherman Perkins of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell of Marshfield, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Kelty of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nicholson of Marshfield, Rex De Long of Aberdeen, Donald Woodward of Eugene and Raymond Leak of Marshfield.

o o o

Mrs. Throne Entertains Wedding Party

Preceding the Haynes-McKinney nuptials Friday, Mrs. Merrill Throne was hostess at luncheon at the Orange Lantern Tea Room for Miss Haynes and her attendants. Covers were laid for ten, at small tables made attractive with pastel shaded sweet peas combined with fern, and dainty place cards. Mrs. Throne's guests were Miss Teka Haynes, Mrs. Eugene Kelty, Mrs. Donald Van Boskirk, Miss Helen Casey, Miss Beulah Jewett, Miss Mary Cool, Miss Edith Pierce, Miss Lois Geddes, Miss Katharine Nicholson.

Mr. and Mrs. Throne were also hosts at an informal dinner Thursday evening at their home in Laurelwood, complementing Miss Haynes, and her fiance Ivan Browning McKinney of Portland. Seated at the table were Miss Haynes and Mr. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Von Boskirk, Dick Reed, and Mr. and Mrs. Throne.

o o o

Delegates Go to Salem to Attend State Convention

A number of delegates were chosen from the Business and Professional Woman's Club in this city to represent the club at the State Convention of Business and Professional Woman's Clubs to be held June 12, 13 and 14 at Salem. Going from here were Dr. Loretta Smith, Miss Ethel Webb, Miss Grace Taylor and Mrs. James Sawyers. Representatives from clubs all over the state will be present, and election of the year's new state officers will be held. Each club will give a report on its membership and activities of the organization.

o o o

Mrs. N. Erwin and Mrs. G. Thorgeson, of San Francisco are here for a week as guests at the home of their mother, Mrs. Angie Fenton. They made the trip here by auto.

Here Comes the Bride!

Something Old, Something New, Something Borrowed and Something Blue Complete a Perfect Wedding Ensemble

To some, the coming of spring means the world of sports in the great outdoors, and thoughts of spring clothes that will properly grace the golf course, the touring car, the warm things for hiking days, or the bright colored clothes for the seaside. But to almost every girl, the coming of spring also spells the season for the bride.

To begin with, there is the bridal robe itself. This, of course, is most important, and with the smiling face of fashion favoring almost every type of gown, the selection is unlimited. For the bride who would be slender and graceful, there is the sheathlike gown of heavy crepe satin, girdled loosely with a quaint charm of many, many years past. Others choose the gown of bouffant lines of the period gown, which may be designed in the exquisite laces and silks that resemble a Dresden China lady come to life.

It is the bouffant type of gown which Viola Dana wears with such youthful charm in the bridal scene from First National's "The Necessary Evil." Here shimmering silks and laces have been combined to create a lovely result, and sleeves long, and of exquisite lace, create a new note.

The bouquet, always an important part of the bridal picture, frequently includes orange blossoms in its lovely fragrance, and with beautiful results. These flowers also contribute a becoming touch to the headdress in the veil selected by Miss Dana.

There is always an opportunity for individual taste in the selection of a veil and headdress, for there are countless styles and almost all are good.

The important part of the wedding ensemble, however, is to include something old, new, borrowed and blue, and here the bride may use her imagination and weave these important bits into the gown, or undergarment. Miss Dana, in selecting her wedding garment, managed to include all four of them.

Accessories form the most important part of the wedding ensemble. The gown itself is selected with care, so that the style is suited to the bride's type. The veil, the flowers and jewels must all harmonize, so that the picture presented at the altar is one of beauty and elegance.

Pearls are always a suitable jewel accessory, and now that the strands of pearls, with jeweled clasps, are so much the vogue, they are a charming addition to the bride's gown. Jeweled buckles for the satin pumps, and earrings and bracelets, all in the spirit of the gown, add much to the complete costume.

Red and White Suits Attract

You may lose your golf ball but you won't lose your partner if she wears the above suit. It consists of a skirt of solid red flannel, a sweater of striped red and white, and a red hat banded with white.

Visiting Woman Honored With Dinner Wednesday

Mrs. S. E. Montgomery, who is visiting here from Sioux City, Iowa, was honored with a surprise dinner, on her birthday anniversary, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Montgomery, 222 Haynes street Wednesday evening. The table was artistically centered with a bowl of sweet peas.

Covers were placed for Mrs. S. E. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stubblefield, Mrs. Z. W. Parker, Lewin Parker and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Montgomery.

o o o

Informal Dinner at Marsters Home Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Marsters were hosts at an informal dinner, at their home on 1204 Prospect street, Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. George Marsters, Mrs. C. Horney, Donald Anderson, Richard Horney and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Marsters. Following the dinner they attended the theater.

M tt ...aoc

o o o

Miss Reams Hostess at Bridge Party

Miss Mary Reams was a charming hostess Wednesday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. R. Hamburg, on West Douglas street. Bridge formed the evening's diversion, after which the hostess assisted by Miss Marion Porter, served luncheon. Bridge honors fell to Miss Lorlene Conlee. The guest list included Misses Lorlene Conlee, Adele Bendix, Maxine Sykes, Vernita Kohlhagen, Eva Rice, Vera McMillan, Marion Porter, Clarice Harpster, Iris Rice, Mrs. F. R. Dunlap and Mrs. R. Hamburg.

o o o

Mrs. Stanton Hostess on Monday Evening

Mrs. Charles Stanton was a gracious hostess to the members of the C. C. M. E. class, at her home on Monday evening of this week. Election of the class officers for the coming six months was held, and those receiving office were Glade Bruton, Daphne Hughes, George Webber and Jessie Gibbs. Following this the young people enjoyed games on the lawn and luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Jessie Gibbs. After refreshments the guests were entertained by a piano solo, by Margaret Hewitt; a piano trio, by Lenoir Stanton, Rhea Gates and Margaret Hewitt; vocal selection, "Green Grass," by male quartett, composed of Glade Bruton, Ralph Church, Donald Radabaugh, and George Webber. Enjoying the evening were Daphne Hughes, Rhea Gates, Margaret Hewitt, Jessie Gibbs, Donald Radabaugh, Glade Bruton, George Webber, Dorrence McCurdy, Charles Webber, Lenoir Stanton, Ralph Church.

o o o

Miss Beulah Jewett, society editor of the News-Review, left this afternoon for Portland where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. D. Bell for several weeks, visiting other northern points before returning to Roseburg to visit at Oak Lawn Ranch with her sister Mrs. T. O. Dixon. During her absence Miss Grace Carroll will edit the Woman's Page.

Small Hat Best for General Use

The large hat has a picturesque appeal, but for everyday use the trim little hat is more practical. At top is one of satin with turned up brim and silver nailheads for trimming. Natural panama forms brim of second (center) with taffeta crown criss-crossed with braid. While a scarf of grosgrain ribbon is wound smartround the straw turban be-

Mrs. Parker Surprised on Monday Evening

Honoring Mrs. Earl Parker, Monday evening, a number of her friends surprised her on her birthday anniversary, at her home on West First street. The evening was informally spent in music, cards and chatting, after which a luncheon was served.

Surprising Mrs. Parker were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kester, Clyde Kester, Hazel Kester, Helen Kester, Belle Kester, Mrs. S. E. Montgomery, Mrs. Z. W. Parker, Lewin Parker, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Montgomery, Earl Parker, Ruby Joseph and Kenneth Parker.

o o o

Bridge Enjoyed at Tea Room Tuesday

On Tuesday afternoon a number of Roseburg's younger matrons gathered at the much favored Orange Lantern Tea Room for a pleasant afternoon. Following a one o'clock luncheon bridge was the diversion. Enjoying the affair were Mesdames Jack Wharton, George Johnson, Harold Nichols, R. L. Whipple, S. G. Selbick, Glenn Wimberly, Kenneth Quine, Roy Catching, Chas. McElhinny, Ned Dixon and Guy Cordon.

o o o

Returning Delegates Bring News of Biennial

The Biennial Convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs held in Portland June 6-13, was one of the most interesting events of the year to music patrons, according to Mrs. C. S. Heinline, who attended as a delegate from the Oregon State Music Teachers Association, from this city. Others going from here were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brand and Mrs. A. J. Young.

Approximately one thousand delegates from all over the nation registered on Saturday morning, June 6, and thousands of interested music lovers attended the convention. On Friday evening, June 12, the banquet for the National officers and board of directors of the organization was held at the Henry Thiele Banquet Hall. On Saturday following the registration, the preliminary contest of young artists of America was held, students of piano, violin and voice taking part in the contest. Two of the interesting features of the day was the program presented at the Pythian Hall by the Junior Clubs of Portland, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Warren Carrick, and the program given for children, by Ashley Pettis, of New York City who was the national prize winning pianist at the last biennial.

The first presentation of the prize winning opera of the year, "The Echo," was given Tuesday and proved to be one of the most interesting features. The convention closed today with a picnic at Eagle Creek and a sightseeing trip on the Columbia highway.

Former Roseburg Girl Announces Engagement

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, June 11. — An announcement of the engagement of Miss Maurine Buchanan to Mr. Richard Carruthers, prominent students on the university campus, has been made known here. Miss Buchanan is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and Mr. Carruthers of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Both are from Astoria. Miss Buchanan, who is a major in the English department, is senior woman elect for the executive council of next year and has been very active in student affairs. She was elected this spring to Mortar Board, senior's women's honorary, and in her junior year was secretary of the Woman's league. She also is a member of Kwama, sophomore honor society, and Thespian, freshman honor society. Mr. Carruthers graduates from the school of architecture this month. He is president of the Architecture club and vice-president of the Allied Arts club.—Portland Journal.

o o o

Mrs. Arthur Hostess to Bellview Club

Mrs. J. O. Arthur was a gracious hostess at her home in Laurelwood, this week, when she entertained the members of the Bellview Club. Reports in part, of the Woman's Club Convention held at Marshfield were given by Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. J. C. Ponsler and Mrs. Albert Mintern, who attended the convention. After regular business of the club was disposed of, the afternoon was enjoyably spent in chatting. The hostess, assisted by Margaret Jean Arthur, Helen Kester and Bell Kester, served a luncheon at the close.

Guests were Mesdames P. W. Beckley, E. E. Boyer, J. Lawrence, J. J. Kester, V. A. Lovelace, W. F. Price, Z. W. Parker, J. B. Hughes, R. C. Bell, Wm. Bell, J. C. Ponsler, A. Mintern, E. Boise, Misses Hazel Kester, Helen Kester, Bell Kester, and Margaret Jean Arthur.

o o o

Bridge Party at Winston Enjoyed Wednesday

Mrs. George Bradburn, Mrs. L. B. Skinner and Mrs. George Johnson were joint hostesses on Wednesday afternoon of this week at the Bradburn home at Winston. A profusion of wild spring flowers gave an attractive air to the rooms in which bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon. Honors fell to Mrs. Leon McClintock and Mrs. J. R. Farrington. Following the game, the hostesses, assisted by Miss Marion Porter, Mrs. M. F. Rice and Mrs. Fred Chapman, served a delicious luncheon.

Bidden to the affair were Misses Marion Porter, Gertrude Rast, Mesdames J. R. Farrington, Leon McClintock, M. F. Rice, Fred Chapman, Muldoon, A. F. McKenzie, W. R. Conlee, J. I. Love, J. E. Enger, George Wharton, Charles Wharton, Jack Wharton, Glenn Wimberly, A. A. Wilder, H. Stapleton, C. A. Lockwood, W. J. Weaver, Harold Nichols, B. Casey, Lee A. Wells, F. L. Strang, S. L. Kidder, J. C. Hume, Mrs. R. J. Hume of Reno, Nevada, Mrs. G. C. Bacher, J. F. Barker, George Bolter, Clair K. Allen, T. B. Virden, H. C. Church, Washington Hughes, Paul Bubar, Dean Bubar, George Neuner, H. C. Waddell, Charles McElhinny, Fred Schwartz, S. J. Shoemaker, V. M. Petterson, H. Fee, Frank Lilburn, Bert Green and Fred Renner.

o o o

Luncheon for Roseburg Women Portland Tuesday

Mrs. B. H. Moore will be hostess today at a bridge luncheon at the Campbell Court, honoring Miss Elizabeth Parrott, Miss Rosa B. Parrott and Miss Adelaide Stewart. Covers will be laid for 22 and bridge will follow. Miss Rosa Parrott and Miss Stewart will leave soon for an European trip. — Portland Oregonian.

o o o

Mrs. Babue Honored on Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. Matilda Babue and Mrs. George Smith entertained jointly on Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Babue's apartments in the Kohlhagen building, surprising and honoring Mrs. Angelina Babue, on her birthday anniversary. The rooms were artistically decorated with spring roses. Bridge formed the afternoon's diversion, high score falling to Mrs. Walter Fisher, and following the game the hostess served a dainty luncheon.

Bidden to the affair were Mesdames Angelina Babue, W. A. Bogard, C. V. Pfaff, Walter Fisher, and L. J. Barnes.

o o o

Roseburg Ladies Initiated into Nydia Temple

At the ceremonial of the Nydia Temple held in Portland Monday of this week, a number of Roseburg ladies were initiated. Mrs. M. R. Green, Mrs. Bruce Bridges, Mrs. A. C. McClellan and Mrs. Max Ruff, of the Badura club, of this city, part of the temple, accompanied the candidates to Portland.

Approximately one thousand candidates from Oregon were present at the ceremonial, which was held at the Pythian lodge. The members and candidates were entertained at a luncheon at noon at the Elks Temple. Those from this city to be initiated were Mrs. H. R. Nerbas, Mrs. Albert Micelli, Mrs. Singleton, Mrs. George Quine, Mrs. Fred Hruby, Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Bert Wells, Mrs. Frank Chase, Mrs. A. J. Young, Mrs. Durham, Mrs. M. E. Shoemaker and Mrs. John Throne.

Lodge Members Hosts at Reception

Members of the local Rebekah lodge delightfully entertained last Thursday evening with a reception and luncheon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hartley, who were recently married here. Following a short session of the lodge, invited guests were admitted to the lodge room, which had been prettily arranged for the occasion. An enjoyable program consisting of recitations and musical numbers was given, which was followed with dancing until a late hour, when a substantial luncheon was served. The affair proved a most pleasant social occasion for all.—Sutherlin Sun.

o o o

Miss Velma Utt is a house guest of Miss Vivian Orcutt for a few days this week. Miss Utt attended O. A. C. this winter, and is a sorority sister of Miss Orcutt. She will leave soon for her home at Kellogg, Idaho, to spend the summer.

o o o

Mrs. Ballou Entertains New Idea Club Wednesday

Mrs. E. P. Ballou provided an interesting afternoon for the New Idea club of Edenbower, when she entertained the members at her home on Winchester street Wednesday afternoon. Following a buffet luncheon at 1 o'clock, the afternoon was spent in sewing and conversation.

The guests were Mesdames R. H. Williams, C. F. Calkins, R. L. Gile, C. E. Marks, T. S. Sprague, Paul Beaver, F. D. Owen, R. Mead Cooley, S. D. Cooley, H. A. Calkins, Clarence Sinniger, C. B. Calkins, Poole, and additional guests were Mrs. Cavender and Mrs. Fisher.

o o o

Mrs. R. J. Hume and daughter, Margaret, are house guests of Mrs. J. C. Hume, on Berkely street, for a week or ten days.

Club Meeting Held at Garden Valley

Mrs. R. A. Calhoun provided a pleasant afternoon for the Garden Valley Woman's club, when she invited the members to her home in Garden Valley Thursday afternoon. A copy of the Collier's, "Moral Code for School Children," which has been approved by the Oregon state department of education, was secured by the club and was framed for the Garden Valley school. The club members were the first to request a copy of the code, which is printed in five colors, and will be an attractive addition to the school rooms of Oregon. The club members have been furnished with quilt tickets for the campaign, sponsored by the club, and they will be sold until the date of the next meeting.

Following an interesting program by the hostess, who was assisted by Margaret Ferguson and Dale Calhoun, the guests were served luncheon. Enjoying the afternoon were Mesdames George Baily, E. J. Brown, R. S. Hutton, E. E. Labrie, G. McDaniel, A. Niday, J. Erwin Page, F. Parrott, H. Ritchie, P. Sinclair, John Sinclair, A. Schneider, R. H. C. Wood, J. B. Young, additional guests were Mrs. Donna Ferguson, and daughter, Margaret, Mrs. Brown, Sr., and Mrs. Edna Niday.

o o o

Bridge Club Entertained at Lockwood Home

Mrs. C. A. Lockwood and Mrs. Harold Hudson were joint hostesses Friday afternoon at the Lockwood home in Laurelwood, when they entertained the Friday Bridge club. Colored sweet peas gave the rooms an attractive appearance. A 1 o'clock luncheon was followed by bridge, Mrs. B. W. Bates receiving guest prize, Mrs. Fred Schwartz holding high score and Mrs. Victor Petterson low.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Hudson were

(Continued on page 5.)

Flowers and Feathers Lend Chic

The Charming Hats Selected by Corinne Griffith Vary in Line and Trimming

The crowning touch of chic is frequently found in the odd placing of the feather or flower which the spring and sutomer days have chosen for their very smartest adornment.

Now that the felt has entered the field of popularity in the summer hat, the straw and silk chapeaux have looked to their laurels and have become decidedly lovely in hue and in line in order to appeal to the vary varied tastes of the summer lass.

Felts, with their smart indentations, and gay feather fancies and pleated ribbons, add much to the tailored mode, and are particularly effective on the golf course and in the open car. In all the old shades, and in many new tints, with odd accompaniments of color for their trimming, they are really a crowning bit of chic.

Equally fetching, and allowing unlimited selection of colors, are the supple, silky straws which vie with silks and satins for the favorite choice in the more formal ensemble. In delicate pastel shades, with contrasting floral treatment, they become bits of beauty, when following the mode set by Paris.

Youthful simplicity is suggested in the lines of the newer hats, while the more sophisticated chapeaux are achieved in the tailored type. Flowers, which vary in size from the forget-me-not to the American Beauty, frequently supply the note of color to a hat in natural or black straw.

Ribbon trimming, pleated and cleverly placed, is another fad of the moment, and one which is delightfully suited to the very small hat. While the lines of the new hat vary, giving an upturned, rolled, or drooping brim with equal effectiveness, the crown remains of paramount importance. For here is real chic achieved. It is sometimes square, sometimes pointed and dented, and at other times round and smooth—but always along new lines.

The large hat, which shades the face, is coming into its own now that the really warm days are upon us. It becomes a hat of importance with the silk frock for afternoons and evenings.

Corinne Griffith, who has just completed her new First National film, "The Marriage Whirl," has a charming collection of hats, large, small, tri-cornered, drooping, high and low in crown and of felt, silk and straw, all of which are distinguished by the simplicity of outline which the mode demands.