CITY PURCHASES STREET REPAIR AND FLUSHER PLANTS

A street repair plant, and a street flusher were purchased by the city council at the regular meeting last night, and will be brought to this city in the near future. The street patching equipment is a portable outfit, having a capacity of about 20 cubic yards daily. It is believed that it will greatly reduce the cost of patching the streets, and as they city has a great deal of work of this kind to do it is believed that the machinery will soon pay for itself. The equipment is in the nature of a cement mixer, with swiveling gas torches, which quickly dry out and heat the materials so that the mix may be handled rapidly. The outfit will cost the city $1,000. L. O. Roseburg.

delivers water under pressure from a nozzle. This washes the street clean, carrying the dirt away into the sewers. Under the present system the streets cannot be cleaned so completely, particularly where the surface is rough, the depressions holding quantities of dirt, which the flusher will remove. This apparatus will also be of great benefit for grass fires and will be quite valuable in that respect. Aside from the purchase of equipment, the council last night transacted a large amount of routine business. Plans and specifications were ordered for Parrot street, which is soon to be paved, and ordinances providing for street paving were read first and second times affecting East Sixth street, East Fourth street, East Second street, A street, and Roberts street. Paving ordinances affecting Sykes, Spring and Short streets, and Second avenue north and East First avenue north, were passed upon final reading. PYTHIAN KNIGHTS. Grand Chancellor Jay H. Upton will be in Roseburg for our meeting on night of June 17. Please be there, if possible. Sam Christensen, C. C. We just received another shipment of Bemis transplanters. We have one machine left in this shipment that is not sold. Wharton Bros.

OAKLAND WILL HAVE TWO DAY RACE PROGRAM

Large Purses Offered for Race Meet on Dates of July 3 and 4.

GEO. BROWN TO SPEAK

Supreme Court Justice to Make Principal Address at Patriotic Celebration Saturday.

A two-day race meet will be held at Oakland July 3 and 4 by the Oakland Gobblers in connection with their annual celebration. Purses aggregating $1,400 are being offered for the events of the two days. The original plan of the Gobblers was to hold races only on the Fourth but a number of horse owners who bring their animals from a considerable distance requested that some races be arranged for the day before and so the two-day plan was adopted. The program for each day will include open mile and half-mile events, half-mile pony and saddle races for Douglas county horses, mile race, Shetland pony race and mile and a half novelty race. A special feature on the Fourth will be a half-mile consolation race open to all horses that have run during the two days but have not been in on the money. There will also be an additional five-eighths mile open race on the Fourth, making nine events in all. The races on the Fourth will be the first in the history of the Oregon National Guard, a full brigade marched through the streets of an Oregon city today when, led by Brigadier-General White, nearly 2500 members of the 82nd brigade paraded through the business section of Medford while enthusiastic crowds lining the streets cheered them to the echo. Also for the first time in the history of the National Guard, a fully motorized artillery battalion appeared in public. The National Guard battalion having received full motor equipment only a few days ago. A national record of the Oregon National Guard was also believed to have been established today by the fact that every one of the 150 officers in the line of march, commanding from brigade to detachment, was a veteran of the World War. The spectacle as the infantry and artillery behind the regimental bands marched through the streets was a most inspiring one, and according to Brigadier-General White was not on chiefly to demonstrate that the members of the Oregon National Guard, appreciate the treatment they have received from the people of the city. In an announcement this afternoon, Major C. H. Scott chief medical officer, declared the local encampment to be one of the healthiest ever held in the city, there being only two cases of illness in the hospitals, both being mild colds.

Friday, July 3rd Half-mile Douglas County Pony Race, 14.3 or under, $50. Quarter-mile Shetland Pony race, $25. Mile and half Novelty race, $25. Half-mile Douglas County saddle horse race $100. One mile Gobblers special $200. Five-eighths open race $150. Saturday, July 4th Half-mile open race $150. Quarter-mile Shetland pony race $25. Half-mile Douglas County saddle horse race $100. Mile and half Novelty race $25. Five-eighths mile open race $100. One mile mule race $50. One mile Gobblers Handicap $250. Half-mile Douglas County pony race $50. Half-mile consolation race $100.

COUNCIL GIVES APPROVAL FOR BOXING BOARD

Approval for a boxing board was given by the city council, signed by approximately 230 residents. Short arguments were presented by both sides, and when the ordinance finally came up for passage, it received a majority vote. Rev. Allen, Wade, Riedel and Kildier voting yes, and Young and Radabaugh voting no. A large number of the members of the Athletic club were present with Rev. Dodge as spokesman, the minister briefly outlining the plans for the formation of a commission to conduct boxing and wrestling bouts in this city, with the ultimate aim of a public gymnasium and the promotion of clean athletics and sports. Rev. McCallagh spoke briefly against the commission, supporting the petition filed in remonstrance. He stated that the city laws as they now stand do not in any way interfere with amateur athletics, and that boxing and wrestling among amateurs and local boys and men is not prevented. The appointment of a commission, he said, would only serve to bring in undesirable, roughnecks, bootleggers and professional prize fighters to besmear the name of the city. The fostering of a boxing commission under the guise of athletics is misleading, he stated, as the city

BILLY'S FIANCEE IS WILLING TO DIVIDE FORTUNE

Isabelle Wants Money Divided "50-50" With McClintock's Cousins.

LETTERS IN COURT

Defense Reads From Forty Letters Written While Poisoned Youth Was Attending School.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Miss Isabelle Pope will divide "Billy" McClintock's $1,999,999 estate, 50-50 with lowa cousins of his mother if the will leaving it to William Darling Shepherd, his foster father, is broken, she testified upon cross-examination in Shepherd's murder trial today. Miss Pope added that $100,000 of the estate was to go to Mrs. William Shepherd, wife of the defendant and foster mother of "Billy" in the event the pact with lowa relatives was carried out. "You know, don't you, Miss Pope, that some lowa cousins of Mrs. McClintock contemplate a suit to break 'Billy's' will, leaving most of his estate to Mr. Shepherd?" asked William Scott Stewart, chief of defense counsel at the end of a cross-examination, which had lasted an hour and a half. "Yes," replied the young woman, who waited with a marriage license to marry the rich youth as he died of typhoid fever, a death Shepherd is charged with causing by administering germs. "You have made some arrangements with the cousins to get some part of the money if the will is broken, haven't you?" was the next question. "Yes," replied Miss Pope. "What part of it would you get, a dowry interest?" pursued the defense attorney. A moment of slight confusion, while she apparently weighed the "dowry" which under the Illinois law is one-third, directed the larger share she would receive under the agreement and the pretty little witness shook her head in negation. "No, I understand it would be 'fifty-fifty' she replied. Concluding her direct testimony begun late yesterday, Miss Pope reiterated that the Shepherd's attitude towards her changed when they learned of her engagement to marry "Billy" and that Shepherd had talked with her of his study of "typhoid and germs." Dealing leniently and considerately with Miss Pope, Stewart was able on cross-examination to bring out that she had mentioned only "typhoid" in her coroner's inquest testimony and that in a letter to young McClintock, while he was a student at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., she had written that Mrs. Shepherd had telephoned her an acknowledgment of the wedding announcement and had been "wonderful." Upon first learning of their engagement, Miss Pope also testified, the Shepherd's had expressed pleasure over "gaining a daughter," instead of "losing a son." Most of the cross-examination was consumed by Stewart having Miss Pope identify passages from more than two score letters she had written to Billy, letters in which she expressed great friendship for the Shepherd's and pleasure at being in the company of Mrs. Shepherd, and that the idea of Miss Pope sharing the McClintock fortune with her should the young woman and the McClintock cousins break the will. "She certainly has no love for me and any such idea is ridiculous and preposterous," said Mrs. Shepherd. Mrs. Shepherd has been unflinching in cloaking to her husband ever since he first was accused of slaying their foster son. A great throng of persons waited in queues outside the court room, before opening of the afternoon session. Miss Pope boxed her head and seemed to be forcing back tears when Attorney Savage, upon redirect examination, took the letters of the defense previously had quoted from, and tried to find statements favorable to the prosecution. The momentary display of emotion came when Savage read a particularly appealing passage the young woman had addressed to "Billy." As the afternoon session wore on, the strain of examination and being the cynosure of 275 pairs of staring eyes was beginning to tell. Miss Pope testified that others in the party to which the defense has sought to trace the infection which killed "Billy," had partaken of alleged pillular systems, and that none had suffered ill effects. In was a tired witness who smiled happily, because it was all over when the defense echoed "that's all, Miss Pope."

ANOTHER ARREST IS EXPECTED IN CASE OF DENTIST

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Another arrest, that of a young and handsome woman, was declared imminent today by Edward King, investigator of the District Attorney's office, in connection with the killing of Grace Grogan Young, former widow of Patrick Grogan, olive millionaire. The dead woman's husband, Dr. Thomas W. Young, already has confessed his part in the killing and King said, is believed to be shielding his accomplice. Several thousand dollars worth of jewels and approximately $10,000 worth of liberty bonds belonging to Mrs. Young, are being sought today by the district attorney, so far no trace of the jewels or securities has been found. District Attorney Asa Keyes announced today that he intended to have alienist examine Young in an effort to forestall an insanity plea at the trial. The county grand jury will be asked to indict Young on a murder charge today. The dentist has retained attorneys and today firmly closed his lips to interviewers. Shortly after the grand jury's investigation started, Dorothy Leopold, assistant of the accused dentist, broke down while testifying and ran from the jury room in tears. "I cannot stand it in there," she said to a deputy district attorney, "everybody is saying terrible things about me." Miss Leopold, in a hysterical condition, was placed in charge of a matron. While the county grand jury investigated the killing of the woman, whose body was found embedded in the cement of a cistern beneath the Young Cabin in Beverly Glen, near here last Saturday, telegraph wires and investigators were put on the trail of two leads to other deaths said to have been connected with Young's past life. One of these was furnished by Bryan C. Braden, a former school mate of Katherine Leonard Young, who was married to the dentist at Washington City, Pa., in 1905 and who divorced him in 1909. Braden informed the district attorney that he had information which led him to believe that Young was implicated in the killing of a woman in a Los Angeles hotel prior to his marriage to Grace Grogan Young, two years ago. Another clue, coming from the east, set the investigators on the trail of a report that Young had been connected with the death of a woman from an illegal operation in Washington City before his marriage there to Katherine Leonard in 1909.

RAIN AT BEND

BEND, Ore., June 16.—Breaking several days of near summer weather, rain began falling at noon yesterday was one of the warmest days in many weeks, the mercury reaching 76 degrees while the minimum at the 24 hours was 47, a new high record.

KIWANIANS HEAR SOME FINE TALKS

Although the summer vacation season took its toll of members from the usual good attendance at the Kiwanis luncheon today, a weekly meeting was held and an excellent program presented. Mayor George Houck talked on the "tramp tourist," urging some sort of an immigration law to keep these undesirable from the state. He declared that the tramp tourist with delapidated flivver and a dozen kids should be halted at the state line. They are usually without funds with which to travel and are a menace to a community. John Thorne gave an excellent talk on inter-club relations, stating that clubs from neighboring cities should become acquainted with each other. Walt Fisher gave some instructions to the new members of the club, acquainting them with the ideals and purposes of Kiwanis. A musical skit provided some good fun for the boys. ### DOCTOR INSTALLS NEW ULTRA VIOLET RAY APPARATUS

Dr. Rupert A. Moon today received a battery of the new quartz lamps recently developed for therapeutic purposes, and is installing this new equipment in his office today. These lamps deliver ultra violet rays, which have been found very beneficial for treating tubercular disorders, particularly tuberculosis, ulcer of the stomach, and kindred disorders, also skin diseases. In addition to the other equipment which Dr. Moon has already in use in his office, gives him, he states, the best equipped office for electrical therapeutics in the state outside of Portland. A hand broccol plant will save time and labor. Wharton Bros.
