STATE TO URGE CALLING FAIMAN FOR BOTH SIDES

Prosecution Expects to End Examination of Witnesses Today.

LOVE LETTERS READ

Passages From Letters of "Billy" and Fiancee Are Quoted to Show Boy's Attitude.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The prosecution appealed to Judge Thomas J. Lynch to call Charles C. Faiman as a witness for examination by both sides, Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, refusing to vouch for Faiman.

The defense strenuously resisted this eleventh hour move and the matter was argued in a heated manner.

Prosecutor Crowe argued that it was not unusual for a court to call a witness who had testimony for which neither side would vouch. The defense maintained that Faiman had been in custody of the prosecution for a long period, had made detailed statements to the state and his name had been on the list of state witnesses furnished to the defense.

Judge Lynch indicated he would call Faiman, although the defense continued to argue. The matter was taken into the judicial chamber after 15 minutes of whispered argument in front of the bench out of earshot of the jury. Indications were that it would require the remainder of the court session, at least for a decision on the disputed point and that Faiman would not be called to the witness stand today.

A decision on whether Judge Lynch should call and examine Faiman was left in abeyance until after further argument tomorrow.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Today will see the end of the state's case against William D. Shepherd, said Joseph P. Savage, assistant state's attorney, shortly before court opened this morning.

"At this time, I think I safely can say that the state has proved that Shepherd had a motive for slaying William Nelson McClintock his millionaire foster son, and today we will try to establish he actually did," said Savage. "Faiman will be our last witness, probably late today, and if the jury believes him, we will obtain Shepherd's conviction. If the jury does not, then that is another story."

Charles C. Faiman, proprietor of the small National University of Sciences of Chicago, was indicted with Shepherd after he testified that for a promise of $100,000 he taught Shepherd how to kill the rich youth and supplied live typhoid germs for the deed.

Court opened with Miss Amelia Hall, a nurse, who attended young McClintock in his last illness, as the first witness.

Miss Hall testified that upon her arrival at the Shepherd-McClintock home a week after "Billy" McClintock became ill, the youth was delirious. She testified also that Shepherd had told her that "Billy" had said, prior to a doctor's diagnosis, that he had typhoid fever and that Shepherd told her he had given the youth a cathartic.

Upon cross-examination the nurse said that she had acted upon specific instructions of the doctors. She said she observed nothing unusual.

DIRECTORS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEET WITH SECRETARY

The directors of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon for a general discussion of chamber affairs with L. Antles, the new secretary. The discussion centered around the organization, the program of work outlined, and the various projects now being worked upon. Mr. Antles in a brief discussion of publicity work developed a new thought concerning the position of the Chamber of Commerce in the community, showing it to be the people's contact with the governing bodies of city, county and state, and showing its great value because of this position. Mr. Antles is taking immediate charge of the various activities, which have been dormant for several weeks, and several projects will be renewed at once.

MacMillan Ships Start On Voyage to the Arctic North to Seek New Lands

Will Attempt Rescue of Amundsen—Plans for Expedition Include Raising of American Flag on Any New Territory Discovered—Impressive Tribute Paid in Sendoff.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
BOSTON, June 17.—The Arctic expedition of Lieutenant-Commander Donald B. MacMillan sailed from the navy yard at Charlestown shortly after noon today in the steamer Peary, bound for Wiscasset, Maine. From Wiscasset the Peary and the schooner Bowdoin will sail on MacMillan's ninth voyage into the north.

The big guns on the navy craft thundered farewell as the little steamer slipped away on the first leg of the trip beyond the Arctic Circle. A navy band on the pier played "Auld Lang Syne." The crowd which had crammed its way into the navy yard cheered. The harbor echoed with the shrieks of marine whistles as craft at anchor joined in the parting tribute.

Overhead, as the Peary passed on its way out to sea, a dozen hydro-airplanes circled. MacMillan, in outlining the objects of his expedition, asserted that if Amundsen, Norwegian Arctic explorer, believed lost on his flight to the North Pole, had not been found when the American expedition reached Etah, Greenland, he would undertake his rescue. Amundsen, he said, will run out of food tomorrow.

Governor Fuller, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Theodore D. Robinson, Mayor Curley and others were gathered at the navy yard to wish the expedition bon voyage. MacMillan, abandoning at the last minute a plan to fly from Wiscasset, accompanied the Peary about two miles out and then returned by tag to travel overland to the Maine town. His three planes were stowed aboard the Peary and none was available at the naval air station at Squantum.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The primary object of the MacMillan-Navy expedition sailing from Boston today is to make a hydrographic survey by airplane of the last great unknown region of the northern hemisphere, that territory lying between the North Pole and Alaska and covering 1,900,000 square miles.

Scarcely less in importance will be the exploration of little known regions such as Ellesmere island, Grant Land, Baffin island, and sections of Labrador, as well as the ancient Norse settlements on the western edge of Greenland. In addition plant and animal life, meteorological conditions and other scientific questions of the far north will be studied.

GIRL PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE OF SHOOTING MAN

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, June 17.—The state does not ask a more severe verdict than first or second degree manslaughter in the case of Dorothy Perkins, charged with killing Thomas Templeton, Prosecutor McDonald announced in court today. Sentence provided for convictions on either charge is largely within the discretion of the court.

"I am not going to ask for a verdict of first or second degree murder," Mr. McDonald said, "because the defendant is a woman and quite a young woman. We ask that you bring a verdict of manslaughter in either the first or second degree, so the judge, in his discretion, can fix the punishment."

Declaring the case had shown the necessity for "reformatory measures," he told the jury an acquittal would mean Dorothy would go back to the sordid environment, which had so much to do with the charge against her.

NEW YORK, June 17.—A flat plea of not guilty and not one of accidental shooting is the defense of Dorothy Perkins to the charge that she killed Thomas Templeton at a St. Valentine's party. This announcement made today by Defense Counsel Lash at the opening of his summary in what was expected to be the final session came as a surprise to the crowded courtroom, since the whole line of testimony hitherto had revolved around the accidental theory.

The 17-year-old girl was pale, but apparently unshaken, as she took her seat today. She expressed confidence of her acquittal.

GOVERNOR HARTLEY ASSAILS SPECIAL PRIVILEGE SEEKERS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 17.—Declaring that the "howl" of those whose selfish schemes have been thwarted and of those whose hands have been stricken from the people's pocket "was music to his ears" Governor Roland H. Hartley issued a pointed arraignment here this morning of the "carping critics," whom he asserted "have seized upon every pretext and sought every opportunity to discredit any effort to save the taxpayers' money."

Back of every such criticism, the governor said, was to be found the insidious hand of special privilege seekers, fighting to maintain privileges enjoyed in the past.

NAMES FOR CITY BOXING BOARD GIVEN BY MAYOR

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Will Recommend Appointment of Commission to Council Next Meeting.

CONFIDENCE VOICED

Men Selected Who Will Protect City in Every Way and Assure Clean Sports.

The appointment of Rev. A. O. Dodge, Dr. E. B. Stewart, Charles Clough, T. H. Ness, and L. L. Crocker, as members of the city boxing commission, under the terms of the city ordinance adopted on Monday night, will be recommended by Mayor George E. Houck to the city council at its next meeting, he announced this morning. Rev. Dodge will be named as chairman. Mayor Houck states, under the terms of the ordinance the mayor is required to recommend appointments which must have the ratification of the council before they become effective.

It is believed that a commission composed of these men would be a guarantee of clean sports, insuring only high class bouts and exhibition matches.

"I am sure," Mayor Houck said today, "that the appointment of these men will provide a commission in which implicit confidence may be placed. We have tried to select responsible men, men with the interest of the city at heart, and this commission, I am positive, will allow nothing but the cleanest and best of sport."

"I feel that the city will be fully protected against so-called 'ham and egg' fighters or wrestlers, and only the best of athletes will be brought to the city. Our city police force is fully able to cope with any situation which may develop, and if any of the 'hangers on,' which have been feared by opponents to the measure, are in the city, and in any way disregard the city's laws, they will be immediately dealt with in the proper way."

"This commission should be able to provide plenty of clean, healthy amusement for which I feel there is a need in the city, and there is no question but that they can be trusted to protect the city's interests in every way."

"We believe that the boxing commission should be given a fair trial. If at any time there is anything objectionable the city council stands ready at a moment's notice to revoke the privileges it has granted, and will not hesitate to do so. The ordinance provides for its own repeal at any time the council may deem desirable, so that the city is fully protected, should the commission fail in any way to live up to expectations."

"It is fully understood that the commission is to foster clean and interesting athletic sports, and that the bouts here will be of that order. Semi-professionals, particularly college students, are to be available for boxing and wrestling matches, there being a general movement to raise the standards in these sports, a movement in which the local club desires to participate. It has been informed, the commission is not expected to attempt to stage any championship prize fights or highly professional pugilistic exhibitions, but on the other hand will encourage amateur boxing and wrestling through amateur and semi-professional matches."

It is understood that the men whose names are to be presented by the mayor, have all agreed to accept the appointments and there is little question but that the mayor's recommendations will be ratified by the council.

Burton of Ohio, head of the American delegation of the conference and Hugh Gibson, American minister to Switzerland, were the first signers. They were followed by the British and other delegates. ## PORTLAND MAN ASKS REDUCTION OF FARE ON CITY'S TROLLEYS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SALEM, Ore., June 17.—That the city of Portland be required to purchase the city street railway system at a valuation fixed by the public service commission, that fares be fixed at 5 cents with transfer-privileges, and that the deficit at the end of each year be met by general taxation, are asked by H. D. Wagner of Portland in a petition of intervention in the case of the Housewives Council of Portland against the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company. ## DEATH LIST OF WRECK MOUNTS TO TWO-SCORE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Thirty of Dead Killed by Live Steam—Suffering Intense.

NAMES ARE COMPILED

Checkup in Scattered Hospitals Gives Summary of Dead—Dozens Still Serious.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, June 17.—Officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad announced today that reports from agents of the road on duty in the vicinity of yesterday's wreck indicated a total death list of 42, distributed as follows: Easton, Pa., 21; Hackettstown, N. J., 8; Morristown, N. J., 3; Dover, N. J., 7; Phillipsburg, N. J., 3.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The death tally had mounted to 42 today as a result of the wreck of a Delaware, Lackawanna & Western special tourist train at Rockport, Sag. N. J., sixty miles west of here. Estimates of the injured varied from three dozen to four dozen and the cases of at least one dozen were considered serious.

The train carried 182 German-Americans, mostly from Chicago. They were bound for Hoboken, N. J., to embark on the liner Republic to visit the Fatherland, from which they had emigrated years ago. Only 40 sailed on the Republic yesterday.

Speeding on a downgrade, the seven-car train hit a stretch of muck and debris that had been washed over the tracks by an electrical storm early yesterday. The heavy engine ploughed right through, but the pony tender was thrown off the track. It clutched the frogs of a switch farther on and wrecked the engine and four steel cars from the rails. Three cars piled up on top of the overturned engine. The steam pipes burst and sent scalding hot spouting directly onto the passengers in the cars.

It was the breaking of the pipes that caused the deaths of at least 30 of the victims.

When rescuers arrived the steam had spent itself. The suffering was intense. One man jerked a roll of bills from his pocket and begged a rescuer to kill him. Only four trainmen and a few passengers were killed instantly. One woman was decapitated. The others went through hours of agony before they died in hospitals at Easton, Pa., Dover, N. J., Phillipsburg, Norristown and Hackettstown.

Survivors told of a slightly scalded Chicago woman who limped moaning through the wreckage until she found her missing wallet. Then she shouted joyously and helped the rescuers.

Death List Is Given. A revised death list of yesterday's wreck victims at Rockport, Sag. N. J., including hospitals at which the victims died or to which their bodies were taken, follows, all being from Chicago unless otherwise indicated.

Rule of Reason Is Objective Which America Seeks, Says Chas. E. Hughes in Bunker Hill Celebration Address

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

BOSTON, June 17.—Since his victory in the battle for liberty this country has been engaged in another struggle to establish the "rule of reason," and in that struggle it has been measurably successful, Charles Evans Hughes said today, speaking in historic Faneuil Hall at the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill.

The former secretary of state cited several dangers which he said face the United States, the decline of patriotism, radicalism, racial and religious bigotry, over confidence arising from our wealth and strength, and the "passion for uniformity" which threatens local self-government.

Although recognizing the existence of these forces of disintegration, Mr. Hughes said the standards of integrity in business and political life are higher than ever, the press is fair, the people are
