

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

By GRACE CARROLL

All contributions to this page, society, women's clubs, and personals, should be telephoned to the society editor by Friday of each week. Telephone No. 135.

Mrs. Quine Honors Visiting Matrons

One of the attractive bridge parties of the week had Mrs. Kenneth Quine as hostess, when she invited a number of the younger married set to her home on Friday, honoring Mrs. Ralph Quine, who recently moved here from Spokane to make her home, and Mrs. Ben McNamee, of San Francisco, who is a house guest of her sister, Mrs. Jack Wharton.

The hostess, assisted by Miss Evelyn Quine, Mrs. Jack Wharton and Mrs. Harold McKay, served luncheon following bridge. The guest list included Mesdames Ralph Quine, Ben McNamee, of San Francisco; George Neuner, Ben Bullwinkle, of Portland; Ed Thornton, Jack Wharton, Chas. McElhinny, Roy Catching, Glenn Wimberly, George Wharton, H. C. Church, V. M. Patterson, A. C. Darby, Lloyd Whipple, Carl Wimberly, Harold Nichols, S. J. Shoemaker, George Johnson, Alvin McKinnie, D. Lenox, Fred Strang, G. C. Finlay, Herbert Quine, Leon McClintock, Alvin Knudsen, Clair K. Allen, Harry Black, Ned Dixon, J. R. Farrington, Guy Cordon, Harold McKay, and Miss Evelyn Quine.

Bobby Bellows is Host at Fifth Anniversary

Little Bobby Bellows was host to a number of friends at the Bellows home on Corey Avenue this afternoon, on his fifth birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent in playing games on the lawn, after which Mrs. Roy Bellows, assisted by Mrs. C. E. Jones, Mrs. Albert Meyer, and Mrs. A. A. Wilder, served a luncheon to the guests at a large table on the shaded lawn. The table was centered by an attractive bowl of red rambler roses, and at each guest's plate was a favor of a red balloon, lettered with nursery rhymes, and weighted with candy corn.

The guest list included Francie From, Fanny Lou Wimberly, Mary Ellen Darby, Betty Neuner, Louise Virden, Eugene Virden, Eugenie Virden, Louise Watson, Harriette Mintern, Horace Pemberton, Bobby Kidder, Bobby Harria, Gordon Watson, Francis Marsler, Bobby Morris, Junior Stevens, Doland Cook, and Carlton Wilder.

Eastern Members Hold Last Meeting of Summer

At the last session of the summer Thursday evening, the members of the Eastern Star Lodge initiated four new members, in the lodge rooms in the Masonic building. The front room of the lodge has been refurnished with new wicker and was attractive with arrangements of flowers in bowls. New members were Miss Evelyn Quine, Miss Marion Needham, Mrs. J. H. Bernier and Mrs. Ed Thornton. Following the initiation a delicious luncheon was served.

Picnic Enjoyed By Members of C. E.

A meeting of the members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Christian Church was held Thursday evening in the church parlors. Following the business session, a number of the members accompanied by Miss Elsie Hudson, went to Alexander's Park, where they enjoyed a swimming party. After twilight the young people gathered about a bonfire roasted wieners, and played interesting games.

Enjoying the affair were Ruby Guile, Rhea Gates, Rose Conroy, Jessie Gibbs, Elsie Hudson, Glenn Radabaugh, Ralph Church, George Webber, Donald Radabaugh, Rena-land Hartfield, Glade Brufon, and Floyd Church.

Miss Blanche Tanner was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell this week. Miss Tanner has been principal during the year in one of the Seattle schools, and will visit at her home in Texas this summer.

Silver Tea Held Friday is Successful One

The Silver Tea sponsored by the members of the Standard Bearers, and held in the basement of the Methodist church, north of Friday afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock, was one of the most interesting and successful benefit teas held for some time. The rooms of the church were given an added attractiveness by arrangements of snap dragons, roses, and fern in bowls and vases. The silver offering will be used to support some child in school in China.

Miss Munson Becomes Bride of Wesley Ashworth

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Munson, in West Roseburg was the scene of a quiet wedding Thursday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Mildred Munson, became the bride of Wesley Ashworth, Rev. Stewart O'Dell, minister of the Methodist church, south, read the ceremony among only immediate friends and relatives of the couple.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. C. E. Munson served a wedding breakfast to the guests. Miss Mildred is a well known young lady of this city and attended Roseburg high school, where she made many friends. Mr. Ashworth is the son of A. T. Ashworth, of this city, a graduate of the local high school, and attended O. A. C. He has been making his home at the coast for the past year, returning here this spring, and has since been employed at the French Transfer office.

The bride and groom left immediately after the wedding breakfast for a trip to Portland, after which they will return to Roseburg to make their home.

Miss Jean McDaniels, of Portland, is a house guest this week of Miss Dorothy Eddy. Miss McDaniels is a sorority sister of Miss Eddy.

Grand Chancellor of K. of P. Visits Lodge

Jay H. Upton, Grand Chancellor of the state of Oregon, of the Knights of Pythias, paid the Alpha Lodge number 47 an official visit on Wednesday evening of this week. He is making the yearly visits to all southern Oregon chapters of the lodge.

Mr. Upton is state senator from Deschutes county, and is a very interesting speaker. He gave an address to members of the local chapter on the growth of the lodge and necessity of taking in new members. In his talk he gave local members an idea of the work being done in the way of charity, and told of the fine home built by the Oregon and Washington chapters of the lodge at Vancouver, Washington, for the members. The building was erected in 1924, and is one of the finest modern built places to be seen. It affords entertainment and varied diversions. The unit for orphans of members is soon to be erected in addition to the home, and will cost approximately $4,000.

Following Mr. Upton's address, a reception was held at the hall and luncheon served.

Mrs. Hall, of Portland, has been a guest at the home of Mrs. G. U. Helbig this week. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Helbig left Thursday for Tucson, Arizona, to visit Mrs. Helbig's son.

Miss Butner Hostess To G. O. O. D. Club

Miss Frances Butner was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon when she invited the members of the G. O. O. D. club to her home in West Roseburg. Following a short business session, the afternoon was spent in chatting, music and games. Mrs. Foster Butner served a luncheon to the guests.

Enjoying Miss Butner's hospitality were the Mesdames Pauline Barber, Daphne Hughes, Mildred Sinclair, Vera McClintock, Dorothy Geddes, Shirley Knight, Elizabeth Abraham, Arline Kilbourne, Helen Usch, additional guests were Dorothy Marsters, Dorothy Chase and Edith Starratt.

Mrs. Patterson is Hostess to O. O. F. Club Wednesday

Mrs. Ed Patterson was a gracious hostess on Wednesday afternoon, when she invited the members of the O. O. F. club to her home on South Pine street. The time was enjoyably spent in chatting and bridge. Mrs. Patterson holding high score and Mrs. Freeman low.

Enjoying Mrs. Patterson's hospitality were Mesdames Frank Brown, George Clark, C. G. Perry, Freeman, C. E. Hannan, H. Edinger, Ed Payton, A. H. Ferris, Ben Shields, J. G. Stephens, Henry Worthington and Grims. Additional guests were Mesdames Ruff, Berg and Bert Cavanaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Entertain Wednesday

On Wednesday evening of this week, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Marsh were hosts at dinner, at their home in Looking Glass, honoring the members of the graduation class of the high school. After dinner the evening was delightfully spent in music and chatting.

Guests were Mesdames Vera Kroy, Florence Roberts and Fern Husted, Mrs. Messers Ormond Thompson and Iver Kirkstun.

Mildred Sinclair Honored With Kitchen Shower

Mrs. John Sinclair invited a small group to her home on Garden Valley Friday evening, the affair being arranged as a surprise kitchen shower for Miss Mildred Sinclair, whose wedding was an event of last week. Miss Sinclair received a number of useful presents.

The evening was pleasantly spent in chatting. Guests were Mesdames Margaret Ferguson, Alice McDaniels, Georgina Sinclair, Edna Niday and Mesdames E. J. Brown, R. A. Calhoun, R. S. Hutton, C. E. LaBrie, G. McDaniels, A. Niday, J. Erwin Page, Fred Parrott, Hugh Ritchie, Jr., J. D. Young, Donna Ferguson, Pete Sinclair, and John Sinclair.

Forks of River is Scene of Enjoyable Picnic

A number of girls of the younger set spent a pleasant evening at the Forks of the river on last Thursday, two carloads motoring to that popular picnic spot. The evening was spent in playing games, and a portable phonograph afforded them music, after which a picnic lunch was spread near the bank of the river.

Enjoying the affair were Mesdames Faye Geddes, Elvin Strader, Clementine McKeon, Elsie Bergh, Thelma Pierce, Grace Wickham, Louise Anderson, Gertrude Wickham, Olive Fredrickson and Bertha Kohlberg.

Mr. Caraway Honored Thursday at Dinner

Honoring J. A. Caraway, who leaves Sunday for Portland where his marriage to Miss Althea Hemmick will take place, W. B. Strawn was host at a 6:30 o'clock dinner Thursday at the Orange Lantern Tea Room.

Guests were J. A. Caraway, E. H. Huffman, C. H. Schomaker, and Stanley Baney.

Hard Times Party is Enjoyable Affair

The members of the Lila Circle Number 49, Neighbors of Woodcraft sponsored a most enjoyable hard times party on Monday evening, each member bringing a guest.

Costumes of members and visitors afforded much merriment, and prizes were awarded. Mrs. Earl Rhoads received the prize for the best dressed woman, best dressed man, Mr. Beaver, second best dressed woman, Mrs. Tillie Johnson, best portrayed character, Mrs. Elsie Williams.

Games and dancing followed the regular session, after which a luncheon was served. The lodge is planning a special meeting on Saturday, June 27, at which time initiation of new members will be held, followed by a reception for those going into the lodge.

Mrs. Darby is Hostess on Wednesday Afternoon

Mrs. C. H. Darby received a number of guests at her home on 1203 North Jackson street Wednesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Ben Bullwinkle and Mrs. Harry Black of Portland, who are visiting here. Charming arrangements of roses and sweet peas brightened the rooms, and chatting and sewing gave interest to the afternoon hours. Afterward the hostess, assisted by Mrs. D. Lenox, served luncheon at small tables made attractive by centerpieces of colored sweet peas.

Invited guests were Mesdames Ben Bullwinkle, Harry Black, Ben McNamee, of San Francisco, Geo. Neuner, A. T. Lawrence, B. Lenox, R. A. Calhoun, R. S. Hutton, C. E. LaBrie, G. McDaniels, A. Niday, J. Erwin Page, Fred Parrott, Hugh Ritchie, Jr., J. D. Young, Donna Ferguson, Pete Sinclair, and John Sinclair.

Benefit Dance Given by Girl's Altar Guild Success

Cleverly arranged crepe paper in colors of rainbow formed a setting for the benefit dance sponsored by the Girl's Altar Guild of St. George's Episcopal church on Thursday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall.

Card tables were arranged for bridge and 500 for those wishing to play, in the lodge rooms, and dancing was held from 9 to 12 o'clock in the main hall. The Arizona Collegians furnished music for the evening, to a large attendance. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. J. K. Falbe, and punch was served throughout the evening.

The general committee in charge was headed by Mrs. Albert Micelli, assisted by Mrs. Fred Strang and Mrs. J. M. Judd. The punch committee was composed of Mrs. Nathan Fullerton and Mrs. A. O. Dodge and decorations were in charge of Mrs. J. K. Falbe. The dance was one of the most successful of its kind.

June Ward Celebrates Birthday Anniversary

Miss June Ward was a charming little hostess on her sixth birthday anniversary, Friday, inviting a number of friends for the afternoon at the Ward home. Yellow and white decorations in the rooms formed a graceful background for games. Favours of small baskets filled with candy were given each guest. Mrs. F. P. Farrington assisted Mrs. Ward in serving a luncheon to the guests after games were played.

Enjoying the afternoon were Emma Fullerton, Dorothy Sherar, Margaret Wells, Dorone Shrum, Emil Fullerton, Delmar McMillan and Earl Ward.

Mrs. Durbin Honored on Friday Evening

Mrs. Walter Kurta was a gracious hostess at her home, Friday, honoring Mrs. Roy Durbin, of Klamath Falls, who she invited a number of friends for the evening. Sweet peas in clever arrangements gave the room a bright appearance, and 500 was played during the evening. Following the game the hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. T. Whitney, served luncheon.

Enjoying Mrs. Kurta's hospitality were Mesdames Roy Durbin, L. T. Whitney, Virgil Busch, Harry Busch, Lloyd Stephens, John Turner, Miss June Busch and Max Busch.

Chas. Miller has been a house guest of Roland Schwartz during this week. He has been attending O. A. C. this winter.

Picnic on River Bank Honors Visiting Guests

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, Miss Jess Wharton and Miss Jane Wharton were joint hosts on Friday evening honoring Mrs. Ben Bullwinkle, of Portland, who is visiting here. Charming arrangements of roses and sweet peas brightened the rooms, and chatting and sewing gave interest to the afternoon hours. Afterward the hostess, assisted by Mrs. D. Lenox, served luncheon at small tables made attractive by centerpieces of colored sweet peas.

Invited guests were Mesdames Ben Bullwinkle, Harry Black, Ben McNamee, of San Francisco, Geo. Neuner, A. T. Lawrence, B. Lenox, R. A. Calhoun, R. S. Hutton, C. E. LaBrie, G. McDaniels, A. Niday, J. Erwin Page, Fred Parrott, Hugh Ritchie, Jr., J. D. Young, Donna Ferguson, Pete Sinclair, and John Sinclair.

Box Social Held at Beckley Home

An enjoyable diversion, in the form of a box social was held Friday evening at the F. W. Beckley home east of Roseburg, when about twenty members of the Kujohns and High school classes of the Christian church gathered for the evening. The classes, taught by Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Stanton, spent the evening in playing amusing games, after which the supper was held. Money raised will be used to hold a convention in the near future.

De Molays and Masons to Sponsor Dance Soon

The members of the De Molay and Mason Lodges are looking forward to an interesting club dance to be held Friday evening, June 27, at the Rainbow Gardens, Winchester. The Gardens will be made into an open air pavilion during the summer, and the good floor combined with the music secured, assure those attending an enjoyable evening.

Entrance to the dance will be gained by the presentation of membership cards. Mesdames and De Molays from all over the county are invited to attend, and a large attendance of members is expected.

Mrs. Marsters Honored With Appointment

Mrs. A. C. Harsters, well known in Roseburg in her active in W. C. T. U. affairs, has received word from Governor Pierce, of her appointment as a delegate to the War Mothers' memorial meeting to be held in the near future at Washington, D. C. The meeting, headed by Mrs. Clarence Crippenden Calhoun, of Washington, D. C., the national president, is being held for the purpose of arranging for a memorial building. Mrs. Marsters, with six others, has been chosen from the thousands of war mothers in Oregon to represent the state at the convention. The honor is considered a very high one and has greatly pleased those receiving it.

Mr. and Mrs. Nis Abrahamson, of Houlman, Washington, will arrive here Sunday from San Francisco, where they have been visiting, and will be guests at the home of Mrs. R. E. Geddy, for a short time. Abrahamson is a merchant, and is well known here, having visited in Roseburg a number of times.

Members of the Roseburg Kiwanis club are looking forward to the picnic to be held on Monday with the Coos Bay club at Rock Creek. Several Roseburg Kiwanians leave tomorrow to meet some of the Coos Bay club members to camp out at the picnic grounds over Sunday and Monday. The scene of the picnic is in Coos county on the Roseburg-Coos Bay highway, and is almost centrally located for the two clubs. Crabs, clams and salmon are to be furnished by the Coos Bay Kiwanians, while the Roseburg group are to take strawberries and coffee.

GOOD CROWD AT FREE METHODIST TENT MEETING

In the tabernacle at Bellows Park the second session of the Free Methodist Conference assembled Monday evening presided by a number of visitors were introduced to the Conference. The business session was conducted harmoniously, ending with a fifteen minute talk by the Bishop which was helpful to all. In the afternoon Mrs. Nellie Reed returned missionary from Africa addressed the children. Also another service at two thirty on Sunday school work, conducted by Rev. Hulet of Merrill in the evening Bishop Sellow preached to a large, attentive audience ending with an altar service. Some souls finding the way to God. These services will close Sunday night. Each evening a street meeting is held on the corner of Cass and Rose streets. Those who do not attend these meetings are missing a treat. Do not forget the Blair Male Quartette sings every evening. Everyone invited.

THE BALLAD of MIDDLE RIDGE TRAIL

The trail that leads to my mountain home, On the Middle Ridge's crest, is a long and lonesome path to climb— Of muscle and heart a test; Demanding a traveler's best. The first of the trail is enticing and fair, For it rises by slow degrees, And winds its way through the wild woods and fragrant trees; Like the childhood of life, if you please. But soon this easy and careful trail Becomes a rugged ascent; Switchbacks now twistily zigzag aloft. Add wondrous views present: Like youth springing up ill pent, And now maharania, rhododendron, aah!

POETS CORNER

Signed Contributions for This Department May Be Sent to the Society Editor of The News-Review, and Will Be Used as Space is Available.

Conspire to impede and entangle; They catch and they tear; they trip and annoy Till advance means to fight and to wrangle; As the battles of life wound and mangle.

The packs on our backs which were light at the start Are a burden now, heavy and sore; And I tread towards the goal on the crest of the ridge With a far slower step than before: Near the end, life's cares weigh far more.

But at last I attain to the crest of the ridge; Reach my home at the end of the trail. I'm eased of my burden; my weary limbs rest. High over the tearful vale: Sweet repose ends the toil on life's trail.

Paul Waide Boyne, Coos Bay, Ore.

A BRIDE'S DIARY

A Love Story of Today By Idah McGlone Gibson

Cleo Madison, entertaining friends, reads from her grandmother's quaint, modest diary. The happier friends are thunderstruck at its quaintness and suppressed desires. When the girls leave, Cleo plans her elopement with Paul Armstrong, U. S. A., a boyhood sweetheart. None the less, she indulges in a petting party with Chick Adams that evening. Chick is wealthy and Cleo's parents wish her to marry him; so does Chick. Paul's parents, also social climbers who have lost their money, with Paul to marry Connie Terhune, very rich and in love with Paul. Despite these desires of the parents and Cleo's wanderings as to whether she really does love Paul, the two are married. Almost immediately Cleo begins to learn that marriage is not altogether a path of roses. However, the parents are reconciled to the marriage and the young couple depart for the army post, to which Paul is assigned. On the train Cleo has an allegorical dream which indicates the problems she will have to face. When the newweds arrive at the post, Paul is assigned to duty at once and leaves Cleo, who knows nothing of housekeeping, to shift for herself during the day. Johnson, a "striker" detailed to Paul's quarters, helps out enormously so Cleo is able to serve tea when Col. Beldon, the commanding officer, comes to pay his respects. This colonel is a thoroughly love Paul, and has compromised Rita Thordike, wife of a no-good lieutenant. Rita however, is innocent. Cleo and Rita become great friends quickly. Cleo overhears the colonel and Rita talking and thus has "the inside dope" on the whole affair. After the colonel's dinner, Rita is invited to lunch by Cleo. When Rita arrived everything is better slowly. "I'm not as sure of myself. In my first few months at the Post, I came very near loving Colonel Blakely Beldon. If he had shown the courage I expected of him at that time, I think my great admiration and gratitude would have ripened into love. It was so great, that I would gladly have gone to him. As it was, my disappointment made me see, that the Colonel was just a man whose only standard of morality was the being able to hide from his little world his peccadilloes. He considered it perfectly all right if any woman believing in his flattery and kindness came to him, and he would always protect them from every man but himself. I began to hate the Colonel, almost as much as I did my husband and when I found that Bill expected me to go to him again and again to get him out of his scrapes, I determined to disappear. This was my mental standing yesterday, when you arrived. You won't feel insulted dear, will you, when I tell you that in some way you reminded me of myself when I first came here, although I can't say I lay with you, in love with that nice husband of yours and that he is in love with you. But oh, Cleo, too well I know the monotony and annoyance that is engendered in an army post, and after I had called upon you and I saw how quickly the colonel was taken with you, I decided that you were to be the one whom I would tell my story. "I have told it now—and well I guess it is all over for me." "You bet your life it isn't all for you Rita. You're going to make something of your life in spite of all the men in the world be they colonels or scoundrelly husbands."

NEW HOPES FOR RITA. And Cleo learns that a heavy cross the innocent girl has had to bear. "Cleo if I had had a knife in my hands, I think I would have plunged it into him. I wanted to kill him."

"I understand Rita dear, I think I would have gotten one and killed him."

"You know Cleo, Bill is as strong as an ox and he only laughed at me as he went toward the door where he stopped long enough to say that unless I told the Colonel to get him out of the card scrape, he would kick up such a mess that the whole country would ring with the scandal in the United States army."

"At that moment there was born in me an undying hatred and horror of Bill Thordike. But such was my fear for Col. Blakely, who had been kind to me, that I went to him and told him the story, not for my husband's sake but for his own."

"I told him that as far as I was concerned he could tell the unmitigated scoundrel I had unfortunately married, to get out of the army. I expected that Col. Blakely would have the courage to do so. But, alas, I found that this man I thought to have the courage and purity of a saint, was a coward mentally and spiritually."

"There was certainly no reason why Col. Blakely should be afraid of my husband. Up until that day not one intimation of love had passed between us. We had motored, read and played tennis together. And he had sat long ously, ending with a fifteen minute talk by the Bishop which was helpful to all. In the afternoon Mrs. Nellie Reed returned missionary from Africa addressed the children. Also another service at two thirty on Sunday school work, conducted by Rev. Hulet of Merrill in the evening Bishop Sellow preached to a large, attentive audience ending with an altar service. Some souls finding the way to God. These services will close Sunday night. Each evening a street meeting is held on the corner of Cass and Rose streets. Those who do not attend these meetings are missing a treat. Do not forget the Blair Male Quartette sings every evening. Everyone invited.

Correspondent.

BUCKET SUPPER GIVEN AT HAYNES HOME

Proceeding the Haynes-McKinney nuptials Friday, June 17, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Haynes were gracious hosts at a bucket supper, at their home on Ellis Street, honoring Miss Teka Hayes.

About twenty guests were present, including the bridal party, house guests and the bride's attendants.

Pleasant Afternoon Spent at Garden Valley Thursday

Mrs. A. Schneider was a pleasant hostess to the members of the Garden Valley Woman's Club on Thursday afternoon, and provided an enjoyable time on the school house lawn. Following a short business session, the drawing of the quilt, which has just been completed by the club, was held, Graham Ewens, holding the lucky number.

Proceeds from the drawing will go to help build a community house in the near future. Following, the guests enjoyed a wicker treat.

Guests for the afternoon were Mesdames R. A. Calhoun, E. P. Hutton, E. J. LaBrie, G. McDaniels, A. Niday, J. Erwin Page, Fred Parrott, Hugh Ritchie, Sr., Pete Sinclair, John Sinclair, R. H. C. Wood and J. D. Young.

Mrs. Marsters Honored With Appointment

Mrs. A. C. Harsters, well known in Roseburg in her active in W. C. T. U. affairs, has received word from Governor Pierce, of her appointment as a delegate to the War Mothers' memorial meeting to be held in the near future at Washington, D. C. The meeting, headed by Mrs. Clarence Crippenden Calhoun, of Washington, D. C., the national president, is being held for the purpose of arranging for a memorial building. Mrs. Marsters, with six others, has been chosen from the thousands of war mothers in Oregon to represent the state at the convention. The honor is considered a very high one and has greatly pleased those receiving it.

Mr. and Mrs. Nis Abrahamson, of Houlman, Washington, will arrive here Sunday from San Francisco, where they have been visiting, and will be guests at the home of Mrs. R. E. Geddy, for a short time. Abrahamson is a merchant, and is well known here, having visited in Roseburg a number of times.

MEMBERS OF THE ROSEBURG KIWANIS CLUB ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO THE PICNIC TO BE HELD ON MONDAY WITH THE COOS BAY CLUB AT ROCK CREEK.

Several Roseburg Kiwanians leave tomorrow to meet some of the Coos Bay club members to camp out at the picnic grounds over Sunday and Monday. The scene of the picnic is in Coos county on the Roseburg-Coos Bay highway, and is almost centrally located for the two clubs. Crabs, clams and salmon are to be furnished by the Coos Bay Kiwanians, while the Roseburg group are to take strawberries and coffee.

GOOD CROWD AT FREE METHODIST TENT MEETING

In the tabernacle at Bellows Park the second session of the Free Methodist Conference assembled Monday evening presided by a number of visitors were introduced to the Conference. The business session was conducted harmoniously, ending with a fifteen minute talk by the Bishop which was helpful to all. In the afternoon Mrs. Nellie Reed returned missionary from Africa addressed the children. Also another service at two thirty on Sunday school work, conducted by Rev. Hulet of Merrill in the evening Bishop Sellow preached to a large, attentive audience ending with an altar service. Some souls finding the way to God. These services will close Sunday night. Each evening a street meeting is held on the corner of Cass and Rose streets. Those who do not attend these meetings are missing a treat. Do not forget the Blair Male Quartette sings every evening. Everyone invited.

THE BALLAD of MIDDLE RIDGE TRAIL

The trail that leads to my mountain home, On the Middle Ridge's crest, is a long and lonesome path to climb— Of muscle and heart a test; Demanding a traveler's best. The first of the trail is enticing and fair, For it rises by slow degrees, And winds its way through the wild woods and fragrant trees; Like the childhood of life, if you please. But soon this easy and careful trail Becomes a rugged ascent; Switchbacks now twistily zigzag aloft. Add wondrous views present: Like youth springing up ill pent, And now maharania, rhododendron, aah!

Conspire to impede and entangle; They catch and they tear; they trip and annoy Till advance means to fight and to wrangle; As the battles of life wound and mangle.

The packs on our backs which were light at the start Are a burden now, heavy and sore; And I tread towards the goal on the crest of the ridge With a far slower step than before: Near the end, life's cares weigh far more.

But at last I attain to the crest of the ridge; Reach my home at the end of the trail. I'm eased of my burden; my weary limbs rest. High over the tearful vale: Sweet repose ends the toil on life's trail.

Paul Waide Boyne, Coos Bay, Ore.

Today's Practical Bride May Wear Her Wedding Gown as Every Day Frock used, if you will, be practical, as a frock in an everyday world. Weddings, and wedding days are getting so practical these days are shown in the sketch. The one at the right accompanies Miss Reynolds' wedding gown, for her wedding scene in the Paramount picture, "The Night Club". The bridesmaids here are costumed in corn yellow crepe de chine, with two accordion pleated rows of yellow lace set in the skirt. A yoke and short sleeves of lace are bound in amber and silver ribbons. A bow and streamer of these colors is seen in front. An amber necklace makes a colorful and important note in the costume. The second dress, at the left, is quite plain. It has a circular-cut piece in front, on the skirt, and a scarf of silk and material is tucked across from shoulder to shoulder. The whole dress is a faint coral pink, and the scarf is laid in a deeper coral velvet. A tiny bunch of purple violets are in the hair. The two shades of coral, and the accent of purple, make a rich color combination.