COOLIDGE WILL ASK REDUCTION OF TAXES, SAYS

late business it is tax reduction. If the government takes less, private business can have more. If constructive economy in federal expenditures can be assured it will be a stimulation to enterprise and investment.

Reviewing the four years' operation of the budget system, Mr. Coolidge asserted that annual expenditures, which in 1921 totaled $5,116,000,000, had been reduced by $2,081,000,000, while $3,426,000,000 had been lopped from the public debt which then aggregated $23,977,000,000. Interest paid in 1921, he said, totaled $1,000,000,000 as against $70,000,000 this year.

"Our sound debt policy," the president continued, "has progressively strengthened the credit of our treasury. Bonds which in 1921 were selling much below par are today selling well above. As the price of our securities goes up, the interest rate which we must pay on new flotations declines.

"This month the treasury offered a 3 percent one-year certificate on which the subscriptions were nearly four times the amount of the offering. Of $130,000,000 of decrease in interest payments between 1921 and 1925, part of the saving came because there are less bonds outstanding upon which interest must be paid. Over thirty million of this decrease is due to the lower interest rates paid on our securities. These lower rates are the result of improved credit, secured by the orderly management of our fiscal affairs.

"Thirty million dollars a year is good pay for a sound policy. It shows how orderly management goes hand in hand with economy."

Declaring that "we are fast approaching the time when we cannot look forward to appreciable reduction in the legitimate cost of government," Mr. Coolidge continued: "This nation is growing, and in the normal course of events we must face a gradual expansion of its legitimate business, but increasing resources and numbers will leave the burden on each of us diminished. Even greater watchfulness, greater care over our expenditures, must be exercised successfully to continue this campaign. The task is becoming more difficult but the more difficult the task the greater is the reward of success.

"In this great business of the government we are undoubtedly continuing activities which are longer essential or productive. The undertaking of new projects or lines of effort made essential by changing conditions should be marked by the weeding out of those no longer essential. I refer, of course, to those functions which are within your administrative discretion.

"Unfortunately the federal government has strayed far afield from its legitimate business. It has trespassed upon fields where there should be no trespass. If we could confine our federal expenditures to the legitimate obligations and functions of the federal government a material reduction would be apparent. But far more important than this would be its effect upon the fabric of our constitutional form of government, which tends to be gradually weakened and undermined by this encroachment.

"The cure for this is not in our hands. It lies with the people. It will come when they realize the necessity of state assumption of state responsibility. It will come when they realize that the laws under which the federal government stands out contributions to the states is the first instance to raise the moneys which the government donates to the states, and state taxation in the second instance to meet the extravagances of state expenditures which are tempted by the federal donations."

The president, expressing the opinion that "greater economy in federal expenditures can sometimes be attained by larger annual outlays on some of our existing projects," said that in some instances it can be attained by undertaking new projects.

"I do not advocate the withholding of additional outlays on projects essential to the best interests of the government," he added, "but our present objective is the relief of the taxpayers of today, and any proposed increase of annual outlay on existing projects or any undertaking of new projects should be scrutinized with this objective in mind, and every doubt should be resolved in favor of the taxpayer of today who is carrying the burden of war taxes."

Pointing out that the number of employees in the executive civil service totaled 551,986 June 20, 1925, as compared with 440,000 nine years before, the president emphasized that every effort be made to prevent any surplus in personnel, although he did "not advocate an undisciplined public service." He said "this would be false economy and disastrous in its results."

SHERIFF STARMER GOING TO PORTLAND, SALEM WEDNESDAY

Sheriff Starmer will leave tomorrow for Salem and Portland to attend to official business and visit the Portland Spanish-American War Veterans camp, remaining over until the first of next week. He will spend tomorrow in Salem conferring with the secretary of state regarding the new automobile license laws as they apply to the sheriffs of the state and will also consult with W. R. Lewis, state prohibition enforcement officer. At Portland he will attend the school being conducted for law enforcement officers by Dr. J. A. Liville, and on Saturday will be present at the banquet being given by Scout Young Camp of Portland, for the officers of the old battleship Oregon.

AMORT WILL MEET TEXAS HEAVY AT OAKLAND JULY 4

Paul Amort, Roseburg's 165-pound crapper, has been matched with "Sailor Jack" Woods, the Texas heavyweight, who has been brought to Portland and other northwest cities for several months past. The bout will take place at Oakland in the evening of July 4, in connection with the patriotic celebration there under the auspices of the Gobblers.

On account of his superior weight—he tips the scales at somewhere around 190—Woods takes on Amort under the handicap agreement to throw the smaller man twice within an hour.

Soon after July 4, Roseburg will see its first ring card under the supervision of the newly established boxing commission, the members of which are negotiating with several good men for their appearance here. The commission is proceeding without undue haste in its preparation of a card, being careful that the men they engage for the encounters are backed by reputations for clean performances.

FUNERAL HELD TODAY.

The funeral of the late Mrs. S. P. Strange, was held this morning from the Roseburg Undertaking parlors. Rev. McCullough of the Presbyterian church officiated, and Mrs. Fred L. Strang sang two solos, "Memento Mori" and "The Lord's Prayer," which the deceased was a member, attended the services in a body. Interment took place in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. A great number of the sorrowing friends of the deceased were in attendance, and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

BRIDGES ARE TO BE BUILT AT DOLE AND ELKTON SOON

Contractors Linstrom and Ferguson, who have the contract for tearing out the old Winchester highway bridge and constructing the new steel bridge at Elkton, have completed the task of removing the Winchester spans, and will start soon after the first of the month to transport the steel to Elkton for the new structure. Two of the Winchester spans will be used on the new bridge, which will be 600 feet in length, counting the spans and approaches. The cost is in the neighborhood of $24,000 for the complete job of removing the Winchester structure and completing the Elkton bridge. The remaining span is to be moved by O. M. Pierce to Round Prairie, and with the span from Oakland will form a structure over the south Umqua, connecting it with the highway. The cost of this job will be $11,000.

CHINESE RIOTERS ATTACK JAPANESE CONSULS IN SOUTH

SHANGHAI, June 25.—It was reported here today that Japanese consuls have been attacked by Chinese rioters at both Chung-Kiang and Chur-Kiang. The consul at the latter place demanded an apology and intimated that if it were not made strong action would be taken by Japan.

More anti-British boycotts were reported from various Chinese cities today. A British destroyer left for Puli-How where the British consul reported trouble.

NINGPO, China, June 25.—The anti-foreign movement is rampant here. Rioters damaged and completely looted the junior customs mess here last night.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Consul-General Jenkins at Canton advised the state department today that orders had been issued by the governor for the protection of foreign lives and property.

SHANGHAI, June 25.—Martial law has been proclaimed in the suburbs of Shanghai by General Chang Hsueh-Liang, son of General Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord.

Before proclaiming martial law, General Chang Hsueh-Liang is said to have left Shanghai "rampant and secretly". No explanation of his reported departure has been made. General Chang Hsueh-Liang's proclamation forbids public meetings, the issuance of propaganda pamphlets and cartoons and provides for the confiscation of unauthorized ammunition, the cessation of letters and telegrams and the inspection of incoming and outgoing vessels. An unconfirmed private telegram from Wu Chow, 150 miles west of Canton, says a Japanese customs commissioner has been killed there and two Japanese injured.

LONDON, England, June 25.—The Daily Telegraph reports the receipt from Tokio of information that "ominous and serious disorders have broken out in Manchuria and are spreading."

"This region," the paper continued, "hitherto under Chang Tso-Lin's strong administration, has been the most orderly area in China, but it is believed the both agents have taken advantage of Chang's absence to provoke risings against him and the foreign colonies and dissatisfaction among his troops."

"Disorders there might conceivably Japan, in view of her many vital interests in Manchuria to reinforce her troops guarding certain sections of the Manchurian railway." The paper says it learns that informal Anglo-American conversations relative to the Chinese crisis are under way in London, "but that no policy has yet been framed."

NEW STOCK IS TO BE ORDERED SOON

Mr. Paul Maler, New York buyer for the C. J. Breier chain stores, who has been in town superintending the first sale for the local establishment, said today that the public has responded in a splendid manner to the efforts of the company to dispose of the old stock, and by the end of the week most of it will be gone. Next Monday and Tuesday the store will be closed while workmen put in a new floor and repaint the interior of the room. A new stock of goods will be shipped from the Portland warehouse of the company, and will be placed on the shelves as soon as possible. What is left of the old stock will be sold at sale prices now prevailing, but in no way will be identified with the new goods. It is the policy of C. J. Breier and associates to keep fair with the public, said Mr. Maler, and the new stock will fully meet the demands of the Douglas county public who have given such splendid cooperation in the past.

BAPTISTS, ATTENTION!

The Baptists will hold an all-day picnic at Lindbloom's grove, 3 miles east of Dixonville, on Friday, June 26. All members of the vacation Bible school, their parents and all members of the Sunday school and their parents and all members of the church and all of their friends are invited.

The people from Glide, Riddle, and Dixonville and the communities east of Roseburg are especially urged to send as large delegations as possible.

A ball game and other games, a big community dinner at noon and a general good time.

There is no water deep enough for swimming, so feel safe to let the kiddies come.

Everybody bring your dinner and we'll all eat together. Trucks and cars will be furnished to carry the kiddies and those who haven't a way to go.

Use your telephones and invite your friends, and let's have a big crowd.

Come! Bring your friends!
