GUARD FIRES ON ESCAPED CONVICT WITHOUT CAPTURE

TACOMA, Wash., June 25—Sudden coming face to face with Morton Hansen, the escaped federal penitentiary convict who has been free on McNeil Island for three days, Guard Elmer V. Hilton fired a fusillade of bullets at him early this morning, but Hansen took a long chance and escaped to the brush again.

Guard Hilton was entering the machine shop about 1 o'clock this morning. Just as he came in from one side, Hansen entered the shop from the other. "Throw up your hands and don't try to get away, or I'll shoot you", said Hilton. Hansen quickly raised his hands as if in submission and then took a chance, and as he stood just inside the door through which he had entered, he turned back, pushed the door open and plunged outside.

As the door was swinging back of the prisoner, Hilton fired three times. Hilton rushed outside to see the prisoner just disappearing over the top of a hill back of the shop. He let two more shots fly at him, but they evidently did no damage. Hansen was seen for the last time as he disappeared in the brush. Patrolling of the island is going on to prevent him escaping. Hansen came to McNeil Island last March from Portland, Ore., on a two year sentence. Officials have recently been checking up his possible implication in a murder at Klamath Falls, Ore.

AMERICAN BUSINESS THINK PAYMENT OF DEBTS NOW TIMELY

CHICAGO, June 25—John W. O'Leary, vice-president of the Chicago Trust Company and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States today told the International Chamber of Commerce, in convention here that American business men believe the time has come for settlement of the international debt.

SWIMMING HOLES ARE POPULAR DURING THE SEVERE HOT WEATHER

The various swimming holes in the South Umpqua river near Roseburg are very popular during these hot days. The most patronized resort is the Umpqua Park beach which is accessible this year as a result of the construction of the road around the base of Mt. Nebo. This excellent road leads to Umpqua park, where a short trip across the rough fields is necessary to reach the river. Many cars, however, are making the trip without the least difficulty. County Judge Quinn reports that the road is to be smoothed down within a few days, which will greatly improve it. It is possible that the road machinery can be utilized for a few minutes to smooth up the road to the swimming hole.

Another popular place is the swimming hole at the foot of Mosher street. In spite of previous warnings of this bathing place, because of a sewer line about a half mile above, it is liberally patronized each evening.

Many persons are going to the forks of the river, 12 miles west, where an excellent beach is to be obtained. Swimming above the dam has been badly hit by the blowing out of a section of the old dam, which lowers the level of the water and brings the surface down so that the rocks are prominent in the middle of the stream. Sand Island, up the stream about a half mile from the dam, is also a favorite bathing place, although the water there has also been made quite shallow because of the break in the dam.

HOT WEATHER ADDS TO LABOR DEMAND

SALEM, Ore., June 25.—Hot weather has produced an acute labor situation in cherry orchards and loganberry yards here due to the rapid ripening of the fruit. A hurry up call has been sent out for 150 additional cherry pickers and 100 loganberry pickers. An effort is being made to procure the pickers in Portland, but it is said the demand cannot be entirely filled from that city. From one and a half to 3 cents a pound is offered for cherry pickers, depending on the quality of the fruit and the wage for loganberry pickers averages about 15 cents.

NEW IMMIGRATION LABOR LAWS TO BE URGED BY DAVIS

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Revision of the new immigration law to provide a selective system for bringing immigrants to this country will be sought at the next session of Congress by Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, who has jurisdiction over immigration questions. Chief among the changes proposed will be one in connection with the contract labor provisions of the law, under which aliens are not permitted to come to this country at present if they have promise or contract for employment after reaching these shores. This provision, in the view of Secretary Davis, attaches a substantial risk to emigration from other countries, and discourages from coming here the class of immigrants most desirable to this country. He believes that the hard-working, substantial type of immigrant who has a family to support is almost barred under the present law because if he comes here he must do so blindly, with no assurance that he may have employment after arriving. If such aliens were given assurance of work before leaving their homelands, the secretary believes that under proper supervision, such a plan would induce a higher type of foreigner to take up citizenship here.

American labor, however, the secretary insists, must be given complete protection, work being offered to prospective immigrants only after it is found that there is no available American labor for the places to be filled. It is to this end that the secretary proposes to maintain agents of the immigration bureau abroad, much after the method of maintaining commercial attaches in foreign lands. These agents would be kept advised, under the secretary's plan, of the labor needs of industry in this country, and from the list of prospective immigrants in the hands of the immigration attaché, the best available men abroad would be picked and brought to this country. The plan contemplates removal of the alien's entire family, which in itself, the secretary feels, would remove one of the greatest evils of the present system, the effect of which requires the alien to come here and find employment before sending abroad for the remainder of his family.

One of the greatest advances the secretary believes possible under the present law was made recently when agents of the State, Treasury and Labor departments were sent abroad to establish in the Irish Free State and later, if possible, in other countries, a system of inspection and examination of aliens abroad. This system, combined with a system of selecting immigrants abroad, Secretary Davis feels, would remove the two greatest problems of the immigration bureau.

LENA THRUSH DIES AT MERCY HOSPITAL

Lena Thrush, daughter of Mrs. Eliza Thrush of Edenbower, passed away at Mercy hospital early this morning after an illness of three weeks. She was born in this city and was 13 years old at the time of death. She leaves a number of friends here and at Edenbower, besides a half-brother, Gerald Leuherr of Trail; a brother, Johnny Thrush of Camas Valley, a half-sister, Ida Leuherr of Camas Valley, and two sisters, Mable Huntley of North Bend, and Lovoy Thrush of Edenbower. Funeral services will be held at the Roseburg Undertaking Parlors, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and interment will follow at the Masonic cemetery.

The disease which caused the death of the young girl is one of very rare occurrence and is seldom encountered. It is known as Henoch's, or bleeder's disease, and usually proves fatal. It is caused by deficiency in an interior gland, the blood being affected so that it does not clot, and the sufferer is subject to frequent and uncontrollable hemorrhages. It is an hereditary disease and usually skips one generation. In this particular case the disease is traced back to a grandfather who was likewise afflicted, although in a lesser degree. Although the bleeding is usually from the nose, mouth or ears, it is, in advanced cases, often so severe that the finger tips, lobes of ears, toes and backs of hands and arms frequently commence to bleed with no apparent cause, and without an abrasion of the skin. The disease usually proves fatal in the early stages of puberty. It is of more frequent occurrence among males than among females.

ROTARY CLUB MEETS.

In keeping with atmospheric conditions prevailing in this city members of the Rotary club sat down to their weekly luncheon today in their shirt sleeves which had been some to alleviate the humidity. The program today was under the direction of Jack Stinger, chairman of the public affairs committee, and proved most interesting and pleasing to all. Two piano solos by Merrill Ritter, Jr., were exceptionally good and a fine tribute to his musical talent. Miss Ethel Mae Wilson, Roseburg's premier girl whistler, favored the members with three selections in her usual clever manner that brought generous applause. The closing number on the program was a short talk by Mr. Antles, the new publicity manager of the local chamber of commerce, which was well received.

PAVEMENTS BREAKING UP BECAUSE OF GREAT HEAT.

Because of the intense heat yesterday and today, the city pavements have been considerably damaged in some spots. On Cass street, between Jackson and Main streets yesterday, the pavement became so soft that automobiles picked up large chunks of it on their tires breaking through the top dressing in many places. It was necessary today to soak the street down with water to keep it cool enough to prevent the surface from breaking up, and then a load of sand was spread over the pavement to save the top.

Here This Morning.

George Wagner and Jerry Wagner of Looking Glass spent several hours in this city this morning looking after business matters.
