This is Your Chance to Prove That Toning Up Your Liver Will End That Tired, Run-Down Feeling. Build Yourself Up! Win Back Sound Digestion, Strength and Energy—Feel Your Very Best Again!

In his private practice Dr. H. S. Thacher demonstrated that such symptoms as indigestion, gas on a sour stomach, belching, distention, colds that hang on, sick headaches, constipation, that tired feeling and a general run-down condition of the system are often the result of a sluggish liver—and that relief in such cases comes quickly when the liver is properly cleansed and toned and the system is working normally again.

Why This Gives Relief.

When working as nature intended your liver does three things necessary to keep you feeling your best: First, it purifies your blood, every drop of which passes through the liver every fifteen minutes. Second, your liver furnishes the essences that are essential to perfect digestion. Third, your liver supplies the secretions nature uses to lubricate your intestines so that your bowels can move naturally, gently and regularly every day. When your liver becomes sluggish it cannot do these three things; consequently, you suffer from one or more of the symptoms above described.

Share It With Family!

Just to prove to you that you can get quick relief, druggists are giving away FREE liberal trial size bottles of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup. It is a syrup of PURELY VEGETABLE ingredients known to Physicians for their CORRECTIVE and HEALTH-BUILDING properties. Each ingredient is chosen to help nature to cleanse and tone the liver—to correct this cause of constipation—to improve digestion and appetite—to nourish and strengthen the system—to tone the tired and overtaxed nerves, and to send purer, healthier blood coursing through your veins.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE GIVES REASON FOR SUMMER OUTINGS

(By E. A. Britton)

A season spent in any first-class boys' camp will pay dividends to the boy, to his parents and to society, because it will get him away for a season, from the superficial city life that so often tends to kill the best that is in a boy and give him a chance to taste once again the simple life of his sturdy forefathers. It will provide him with a complete change of scenery; give him new things to do and think about; bring him new faces, new friends, new problems, new experiences, new obligations, all of which make every fellow who is worth his salt a bigger, better, more self-reliant man. It will give him the much needed opportunity to express his inherent savagery without getting into jail. Just to be free, to run, to climb, to swim, to shoot like a wild Indian on the warpath, if he feels like it. No Chief Ketch, no nervous old ladies, no white collars, no creased trousers, no spotted shirts to think about. Just to live—oh, it's wonderful to feel the pioneer, the explorer in you—and to respond. It will give him a first hand contact with wild nature along with an opportunity to peep into lovely bird's nests, listen to strange woods sounds (in the quiet), climb up the high places, collect odd bugs, stones and flowers. Where else can he do such things to any real advantage? It will give him a chance to sit often by the wonderful "flower that blossoms by night", enjoying its sweet fragrance and dreaming in its gentle tints and shadows. Who can begin to estimate the hundred benefits of just being one of a happy congenial gang of boys and men gathered about a cheerful camp fire some where on Mother Nature's hearth—far out in God's dooryard. It will give him a chance to fish—sometimes for fish, yes, but most times for new and refreshing ideas. There are a heap more good, workable resolutions formulated in a real summer camp for boys than are ever made at New Year's. They are the natural result of quiet, unburied thinking and they bear fruit. It will give him a chance to live and freely mingle with other high-class boys and men. It is by such contacts that character is taught. It will give him a chance to better understand and appreciate in a new way the Great Father God of us all, at work in His outdoor workshop and because of this close and natural association with Him there, he will find it not only possible but easy to walk with Him and talk with Him all along the Trail of Life. Some will find Him in the stars, some on the high places, some in

CONVENTION OF YOUNG PEOPLE STARTS JULY 4

International Christian Endeavor Convention in Portland Next Week.

CROWD IS EXPECTED

World Famous Speakers to Make Addresses During Course of Seven-Day Convention.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 2.—Twenty special trains are headed toward this city with thousands of Christian Endeavorers from all parts of the United States and Canada, who will spend from July 4 to 10 attending the 29th International Christian Endeavor convention.

Edward P. Gates of Boston, general secretary, anticipates a registration of 15,000 delegates. Approximately 12,000 registrations were recorded at the last international convention held two years ago at Des Moines. The growth of the movement during the last two years and increased enthusiasm on the part of constituent groups are responsible for the increased registration, he said.

Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, will give the opening address on "Conservation of America's Ideals." Because of July 4 being the nation's birthday, the theme of the session will be "Christian Citizenship." The Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, familiarly known as "Father Endeavor" Clark, who founded the movement 44 years ago in Portland, Me., will preside at the opening session. During the convention Dr. Clark will give an address on "From Portland, Maine, in 1881, to Portland, Oregon, in 1925," in which he will briefly review the history of the movement from its inception to its present active membership of approximately 4,800,000.

Among other speakers are the Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York; the Rev. Dr. Mark A. Matthews of Seattle; the Rev. Dr. A. Ray Petty and Harry Holmes, New York; the Rev. Dr. James Kelly of England, president of the European Christian Endeavor Union; the Rev. Dr. William Hiram Fokes of Cleveland; the Rev. E. O. Marsden of Alaska; the Rev. Seizo Abe and the Rev. Seijiro Vamura of Japan; the Rev. George H. Hubbard of Fochow, China, and the Rev. J. Christy Wilson of Persia.

Among the conference leaders are Clarence C. Hamilton, A. J. Shurtle and the Rev. Stanley B. Vandersail, who with Mr. Gates share the responsibility for the conduct of the world-wide organization whose motto is "For Christ and the Church."

COOK AT SCOUT CAMP WRITES TO BOYS OF ROSEBURG

Tom Shotwell, the cook, who last year served the boy Scout camp at Wolf Creek, has been secured for this year's camp, and writes the following open letter to the boys of Roseburg:

Yes, I was at the Scout Camp last summer. It was on a little stream about thirty miles from Roseburg. They named it Wolf Creek in memory of the way the boys ate.

And one day it rained and the pancake batter was so diluted that there were two hundred pancakes in the batch instead of one hundred and twenty. The next day we had to forgive the high-booted boy for stumbling over a tent rope and spilling the whole batch—he did it so gracefully.

We found out that yew was the toughest wood in all the world, so we took a saw and cut all the yew trees into small pieces. Some of the boys found a bee tree and started to cut it down, but we had to send back for the axe after the bees chased them home. Sometimes the boys went swimming and sometimes they were tossed into the natural bath tub near camp.

But the best times we had were around the camp fire, when the watermelons were passed around and songs, stories and good advice circulated.

There was a mermaid there by the name of Chapman, and two Bells on a ship, and a tall Esquimo boy by the name of Moco, and a mild Canada lad, who answered to the name of British Columbia, and Pewee, and the Swede, and a lot more, that will miss you and you will miss if you are not there this year.

The camp this year is going to make all other camps, and even the stories in the American Boy and Boys Life look foolish. The cook is considering a proposition of unlimited seconds, and may even hard boil the eggs. He has already hereby agreed not to chastise any K. P.'s that he can not catch.

TOM SHOTWELL, Cook.

the wild flowers, some in a nest full of young birds, some in the woods—but scarcely is there a boy that really goes camping but what will find Him somewhere.

And after all, doesn't that make camping worth while?

TOWN ONCE GOLD CAMP IS SOON TO JOIN GHOST CITIES

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

HELENA, Mont., July 2.—Marysville, Mont., to be wiped off the railroad map within a few weeks as it has been erased from record in its other activities, once was the goal of a race between two great railway systems and in the thirty-odd years of its life was the source of metals valued at not less than $100,000,000. The town, incidentally, produced a basketball team with a record of defeating all Pacific Coast league clubs of its day and of sending several players to the major leagues. A quarter of a century ago Marysville had a population of 7,500.

Petition of the Northern Pacific railway to remove its tracks from Helena to Marysville relegated to the backwoods what is left of the one-time famous town and again it is to become a stage coach town, 15 1/2 miles from a railroad. Years ago the Great Northern, which lost the race for a terminus within the city, and ended its line just outside the boundary, abandoned Marysville and gradually, as the mines worked out, the surviving line limited its service until, during the past year, a train operated only when there was an accumulation of freight for its haul.

Truly a ghost city, with a handful of shacks and tumbled foundations left of its once bustling business district, scattered, weather-beaten houses outlining its residence section, possibly 50 or 60 families claiming it as home, Marysville indicates its past glory only to the imaginative.

The famous Drum Lummon mine, chief source of its wealth, is still being worked sufficiently, it is said, to pay wages to a handful of men; some other of the older mines are operated on the same scale and there are numerous prospects whose owners, optimistically forecast renewed activity in the old camp. Nevertheless, the Montana railroad commission, after an exhaustive investigation, has pricked the bubble of hope and has given its consent to the abandonment of the railroad.

The Drum Lummon mine, discovery of Thomas Cruse, alone is said to have produced $67,000,000 worth of gold. Cruse sold the mine to a London syndicate for $1,600,000 when the vein had just been scratched. The new operators honey-combed the surface of the hill and, so the story goes, made millions in Boston, Helena, and New York, as well as in England. Many other mines paralleled its development and, from one of these, the Ponobscot, Nate Vestal brought down to Helena what was then the largest bar of gold in the world, valued at $50,000.

What is said to have been one of the first concentrators ever constructed on a commercial scale was built below the Drum Lummon to work the tailings of the famous mine. The ruins of the giant plant still mark the road to the city.

"My ELECTRIC RANGE"

ECONOMY isn't the only reason why housewives take such a natural pride in their electric ranges.

It's one of the practical reasons, of course—like the quick, clean, electrical heat, the freedom from fuel and ashes, the better roasts and baking.

But after all, these might be a man's reasons for equipping his home with an electric range. Woman's reasons go deeper. If you wish to see what every woman thinks of clean, convenient, efficient electrical appliances throughout the home, notice the pride with which she says, "MY electric range."

There is now an electric range in one out of every seven houses on the COPCO system.
