MARKSBURY STORE BEING REMODELED

Work of remodeling the building occupied by the Marksbury Co. store, next to the new Douglas bank, is in full swing this week. The alterations to the room is undergoing makes it difficult for the Marksbury people to handle their retail business, but Mrs. Harness and assistant are managing to do it. The store, when the remodeling work is completed, will be an attractive spot for women shoppers, and the management hopes the public will accept indulgently the time when all inconveniences of the alterations under way will be finished and the place assume its usual inviting appearance. Just as soon as workmen are through and the decorators have put on the finishing touches, Marksbury will have a bigger and more attractive store than ever.

SIXTEEN INJURED WHEN STRIKERS ROUT MINERS ON THE JOB

CARDIFF, Wales, July 16.—Sixteen men were injured today in a fight between striking miners and police at a rock colliery at Glyneath. Five thousand strikers surrounded the pits where seven hundred miners still stuck to their work. One hundred police were called to disperse them and the crash ensued. After the trouble, the remaining miners quit and the colliery was closed.

WORLD FORESTRY CONFERENCE IN ROME PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(A. P.)—Plans for a world forestry congress to be held in Rome April 29 to May 5, 1926, were announced here today by the American Forestry Association, headed by Charles Lathrop Pack. The congress will be under the presidency of Professor Arrigo Serpieri, director of the royal higher institute of agriculture and forestry of Florence. It will be sponsored by the International Institute of Agriculture, the Italian Forestry Association and the American tree association. Objects of the congress, as outlined by Mr. Pack, will have direct relation to the economic necessities of every nation in the world. "The congress will have as its complement," he said, "an important international exhibition of woodworking machinery and of forest products, which will be held at Milan. The organizing committee is anxious that this exhibition, in which manufacturers in the different countries are greatly interested, should contribute to a marked degree to a better acquaintance with the typical products of the participating countries, and at the same time give a useful impetus to international commercial relations."

DEMPSEY SIGNS TO MEET HARRY WILLS SAYS TEX RICKARD

(Associated Press Special Wire) NEW YORK, July 16.—George L. (Tex) Rickard announced today that Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion, had been signed to fight Harry Wills, negro challenger for the heavy-weight crown in a better acquaintance with the typical products of the participating countries, and at the same time give a useful impetus to international commercial relations. Heat with gas. Under the contract the champion will be permitted to take one contender as a "workout" but Rickard said he had no idea who would be selected. Colonel John J. Phelan, chairman of the license committee of the athletic commission, expressed complete surprise at Rickard's move in signing Dempsey. "I can't believe that Rickard would dare to tamper with Dempsey in view of the commission's dict that promoters must refrain from negotiating with ineligible boxers," he said. "Dempsey himself must come before the commission on his own volition and apply for a license before any promoter can dicker with him. Before he is granted a license, however, he must agree to meet Harry Wills without restrictions."

CHEMISTS AND PRESERVED FOODS SLAYING MAN. KIND, SAYS PROFESSOR

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 16.—(A. P.)—The British nation is the worst food nation in the world, and chemists have become the greatest slayers of mankind, Sir William Milligan, M. D., declared in opening a food exhibition here. The British diet, on the average was insufficient, ill-balanced and monotonous, he said, cooking had made food be destroyed and the quality of food supplies was open to grave suspicion. He attributed much of the dyspepsia, gastro-intestinal disease and intestinal helminth to the tendency of people to live on preserved foods. "Our chemists," he added, "have become, because of this tendency, in a sense almost the greatest slayers of mankind. Responding doubtless to a popular demand they have worked at the discovery of food preservatives and these have been so largely used that, along with the results of cold storage, food became literally mummified."

COUGAR CUT MAKES FOOD RAID ON POOR OF FARM HOUSE NEAR SUTHERLIN

SUTHERLIN, July 15.—Awakened Monday night by the continued barking of his two dogs, Vernon Abene, rancher, residing out of Sutherlin, went to the rear door of his home to ascertain the cause. Stepping onto the porch, he observed in the dim moonlight what he thought was a skunk, industriously helping himself to edibles from the family larder. Aware of the well known defense of skunks, Abene hesitated about approaching the animal. He jumped on a chair on which it was standing to the ground, and Abene saw it was a half grown cougar carrying in its mouth a large leg of mutton. Before he could secure his gun, the cougar made its escape into the woods. Besides the leg of mutton taken, the animal had devoured a quantity of fried chicken and three links of Bologna sausage.

STERLING'S RISE AFFECTS DIAMOND TRAFFIC WITH AMERICANS IN LONDON

LONDON, July 16.—Diamonds as large as hazelnuts in settings for men have attracted much attention here lately where jewelry of this kind is sold chiefly to Americans. Knucklebones, except in rare instances, never were diamonds, especially as rings, and on this account they never are seen in the jewelry shops until spring when the tourist season opens. Dealers here say the Americans are buying fewer diamonds than formerly. This is attributed to the fact that the stones are approximately as dear here as in the United States now that the pound sterling is virtually at par, and in addition purchasers are expected to pay to 60 per cent duty when arriving on the other side.

A BRIDE'S DIARY

A Love Story of Today
By Idah McGlone Gibson

Cleo Madison, entertaining friends, reads from her grandmother's diary. The flapper friends are thunderstruck by its quaintness and suppressed desires. Soon after Cleo copes with her boyhood sweetheart, Lieut. Paul Armstrong, U. S. A. Cleo's parents wished her to marry wealthy Chick Adams, so did Chick. Paul's parents wished him to marry the rich and willing Constance Torbano. Cleo begins to learn that marriage is not a path of roses almost at once. The young couple departs for the army post. On the train Cleo has an allegorical dream indicating the problems she will have to face. On arriving, undomestic Cleo is able to serve tea to the "lady-killer" colonel, through the help of Johnson, a striker. Col. Beldon has become involved in complicated circumstances with Rita Thordike. Rita is innocent; her husband is a crook. Rita secretly leaves the post to join a vaudeville troupe, a job which Cleo gets for her. Rita assumes the name of Rheda Thorwaldson. Finally, after the colonel has frantically bounced in and out to inquire about Rita, Cleo receives a telegram from Rita, or Rheda. "Cleo decides to keep everything about Rita secret. A telegram from Constance Torbano to Paul about Rita stirs up five works. Paul and Cleo fight over everything from Rita to gambling debts. Cleo sends a few telegrams of her own and the colonel calls again. He comes to wheedle news of Rita from Cleo. "You'll give me her address, won't you, my dear?" Col. Beldon said. "I should like to write to her and tell her that she can call upon me for anything."

TRICK ON RUSSIAN PEASANTS RESULTS IN PRISON TERMS

MINSK, July 16.—(A. P.)—An amazing trial illustrating the ignorance and superstition of the Russian peasantry recently was held in this district. In order to increase the income of the village priest and to strengthen his authority over the local peasantry a group of village parishioners resolved to frighten the peasantry with the pretense of a "real" devil in the village. A village boy was dressed up to resemble a devil. During the night he went to the village dwellers to frighten them. He was instructed to carry out secretly slight damages to peasants' property. This went on for several months, and the ignorant peasants took it all in earnest, as a penalty for their sins. They flocked to the church, induced the priest to hold special services and organized common prayers and religious processions. A special commission had to be sent from the district town to investigate the peasant's troubles, which were brought to an end only by the arrest of the "devil." The priest and the local authorities were placed on trial and sentenced to many years imprisonment.

the one in Washington Park here. It has an area of 101.7 square acres, which is nearly one-third of the total area of the park. The meadow is as level as an engineering skill can make it and is covered with a velvet coat of grass. There is space for 280 perfect football gridirons, 125 baseball fields and more than 1,800 tennis courts. Here Chicago's multitudes find room to "stretch their legs." The meadow is surrounded by shaded walks and pleasure drives, mature lawns and flower gardens. The famous "Bug Club," an institution unique to Chicago, meets at this spot. Men, women and children of every description gather in groups to listen to soap orators and demagogues deliver impassioned messages. It is a place where the American right to absolute freedom of speech is unhampered. Washington Park is the second largest of Chicago's parks, ranking next to Jackson, which has an area of 554 acres. More than $2,700,000 has been spent in improvements, plus the original cost of the land. The park has 110 tennis courts, 20 baseball diamonds and two football fields, in addition to 45,000 square feet of children's play ground, 25,000 square feet of walking paths and 1,500 square feet of sand courts. The cleared level space occupying the northern end known as the "meadow," is approximately 2,000 feet wide and 2,000 feet long.

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia.—"If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine with hearty testimony, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up ever getting well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me. In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicine I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the doctors up. Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is."—Mrs. J. A. Jones, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.
