DEMPSEY WILL DO OWN MANAGING IN FUTURE HE SAYS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

OMAHA, Neb., July 21.—"I am going to manage my own affairs after 1926," Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, told Omaha newspaper men during a brief stop in Omaha this morning enroute to the Pacific coast. "I am going to settle all my real estate affairs with Jack Kearns and when his contract expires in September, 1926, I am going to strike out alone."

NEW YORK, July 21.—Jack Dempsey must appear personally before the New York state athletic commission to conclude arrangements for his program leading to a title fight with Harry Wills in 1926. This was the decision of the commission today in refusing to accept Tex Rickard as the champion's proxy.

Dempsey's sudden departure for the west in spite of his previous promise to come here today to put the finishing touches to his plans, apparently annoyed the boxing lions for they informed Rickard no further steps would be taken until the title holder came before the commission personally.

The upshot of the meeting was to delay the entire Dempsey program at least two weeks. Rickard promised the commission that he would have Dempsey return to New York by that time. In return the commission assured the promoter that it would take no action meanwhile which would prejudice Dempsey's status in this state.

Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, whose proposed title bout with Dave Shade is also causing the commission no little concern, likewise failed to put in an appearance as he had promised. Instead Walker telegraphed the commission he had turned matters over to his manager, Jack Kearns, and was awaiting his decision.

The commission announced plans to conduct a flyweight title tournament to determine a logical successor to the crown left vacant by the death of Pancho Villa.

PRESIDENT TALKS REDUCTION NAVAL FUNDS WITH HALE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 21.—Chairman Hale of the senate naval committee, has been asked by President Coolidge to make an intensive study to determine whether there are naval activities that should be done away with, with a view to reducing appropriations.

Senator Hale, during a conference yesterday with the president, reported on an inspection he had just completed of naval bases on the Pacific coast in Hawaii. He expressed the opinion that a strong naval base should be established on the west coast, preferably at Alameda, Cal., that improvement of the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, base should be expedited, and that increased attention should be paid to aviation without unduly weakening other branches of the naval service.

After his conference with the president, Senator Hale declared himself in favor of reducing appropriations wherever possible, but said that care should be taken not to destroy efficiency for the sake of too rigid economy.

In proposing a survey of naval activities with the view of making retrenchments President Coolidge had in mind the necessity of making appropriations during the next few years to carry out the comprehensive building program authorized at the last session of congress.

THEATRES

Liberty Theatre

There has been much discussion as to whether or not a man or woman who has carved a successful career on the stage should marry anyone who is not of the theatre. To those who are interested in this problem, for and against which there is much to be said, "Innocence" featuring Anna Q. Nilsson, which comes to the Liberty Theatre today and tomorrow, will have special weight. For in this photodrama Miss Nilsson portrays a star of the Broadway stage who marries for love—and marries a man who has never been of the theatre and cannot understand its ways nor the ways of its people.

There seems to be an idea lodged in the minds of many people that people of the stage are "bad." Such an idea was harbored by Dan Collingwood, attorney, with an open point of view toward everyone save stage people. How the insidious poison of his viewpoint gradually reacted upon the young husband until he too began to question his wife's actions—and the result of that questioning upon their life together, weaves the pattern of a story startling in its truth and in the strength of its humanness.

Antlers Theatre

Tom Mix fits the role of Jim Lassiter in his latest William Fox production, "Riders of the Purple Sage," so perfectly that it seems Zane Grey must have had the cowboy hero in mind when he wrote this, his greatest novel. It is a typical Mix role, with ample opportunities for Tony, his woman horse, to share in the daring deeds of his master.

"Riders of the Purple Sage" will come to the Antlers theatre for 2 days commencing Wednesday. It is a picture of romance of the west of forty years ago. Mix plays the role of a chivalrous soft-spoken cowboy who comes riding forth to avenge his sister, kidnapped by an unscrupulous lawyer.

Pausing in his quest for his sister's abductor, Mix wins the love of a girl rancher while protecting her from the persecution of a villainous cattlemen who wants to marry her. In triumphing over a crooked judge, Mix learns he has wronged himself on the man who wronged his sister.

This romantic role shows Mix to best advantage. There are many thrilling episodes in which he displays his superb horsemanship, his skill with the lariat and his quickness in handling a brace of six-shooters.

Majestic Theatre

The final showings of the Sidney Olcott-Paramount production, "Salome of the Tenements," adapted from the novel by Anzia Yezierska, which opened Monday at the Majestic theatre, will take place today.

Jetta Gould, seen in "Open All Night," Godfrey Tearle, popular actor of the English stage and Jessi Ruben are featured in the cast.

The story is of an east side girl who finds her place in the sun by simply putting her mind on a job and never stopping for a minute until she's gotten it.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 21.—Dr. J. P. Iverson, chief of the division of animal industry of the department of agriculture of California, was elected president of the Western States Livestock Sanitary Association, which concluded a one day meeting here last night. Dr. Iverson in a paper on the desirability of uniform regulations during the appearance of foot and mouth disease or similar plagues. BAPTISTS TO OPEN MEETING TONIGHT

ASTORIA, Ore., July 21.—The keynote of the Oregon state Baptist convention meeting in annual session today at the First Baptist Church here, will be sounded tonight in the annual sermon to be preached by Dr. T. J. Villers, pastor of the First Baptist church of Portland.

There is a distinct undercurrent of feeling among the 75 ministerial delegates who arrived in Astoria Monday preparatory to the opening of the convention that the doctrinal differences between modernists and fundamentalist Baptists must be kept out of the convention. Whether or not this can be achieved remains problematical.

This morning was devoted largely to the ministerial conference which precedes the general session. Addresses were to be made by Rev. L. I. Leonard of Baker; Dr. Daniel Bryant of Corvallis; Dr. W. B. Hinson of Portland; Rev. J. P. Huckleberry of Carlton; Dr. G. C. Wright of Portland; Rev. W. H. Robins of Pendleton and Dr. W. H. Eaton of Medford.

Running coincidentally with the ministerial conference was the meeting of the State Baptist women's society.

TRAVEL TO CRATER LAKE IS REPORTED HEAVY THIS YEAR

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

MEDFORD, Ore., July 21.—Travel to Crater Lake for the first half of July was eight per cent heavier than last year, when a new record was established, and the Medford entrance is leading the Klamath entrance by a large majority, according to a report issued today by Superintendent C. G. Thomson. Mr. Thomson also states that 20 per cent of the women going to the lake this year are unescorted, which he considers an unusual feature. To July 17, 5,335 cars had entered the park containing 18,292 people. This total is less than the total last year on the same date, due to the fact that the park opened three weeks earlier in 1924.
