SENATOR EDDY PAYS TRIBUTE TO WM. J. BRYAN

Senator R. L. Eddy, speaking before the Roseburg Kiwanis Club today, paid a high tribute to the life work of the late William Jennings Bryan. Senator Eddy stated that Mr. Bryan's sincerity in his endeavors marked him as a man of great courage and fidelity. His remarks were well received by his fellow Kiwanians. Secretary An-don of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the subject of "Protecting Us from our friends." He emphasized the need of better investments by the business men of the community, stating that a great deal of money is annually squandered on bad advertising schemes. He declared that the local organization could save enough to finance an investigating committee to look into the various propositions to be placed before the local merchant. Glenn Wimberly spoke briefly on the matter of bad investments. Miss Evelyn Quine sang two beautiful solos for the club today, "Pale Moon," and "Land of the Sky Blue Waters."

She was heartily cheered for her offering. Bert Bates won the attendance prize, talking on the subject "Why the Business and Professional Men Should Join the Chamber of Commerce." The chairman, John Thorne, announced the Boy Scout benefit for tonight, the auto polo game at Laurelwood field.

MILLER TELLS WHY BRYAN QUIT OFFICE

PORTLAND, July 28.—Milton A. Miller, of Portland, an intimate friend of the late William Jennings Bryan, revealed here today an account that Bryan gave him in 1923 of why he happened to quit the cabinet of President Wilson. It had nothing to do with the president's notes to Germany or with a glass of water, as Washington dispatches have asserted, said Miller.

"The United States was having much trouble with Austria during the spring and summer of 1915," said Miller. "Austrians were causing trouble in our maritime territories, and it was thought that the embassy was plotting with the German war office to cripple our plans."

OSWALD WEST IS GRANTED FEES BY COURT DECISION

SALEM, Ore., July 28.—The state supreme court held today, in an opinion written by Justice Bean with Chief Justice McBride and Justice Rand and Coshow concurring, that Oswald West shall recover from Coos county $19,685.66, or the full amount of his claim for attorney fees for representing the county before the public lands committee in congress relative to the Coos Bay wagon road land grant. The opinion affirms Judge H. H. Belt who heard the case in the lower court for Lane county.

West's appearance before the congressional committee was in behalf of a bill providing for the acceptance by the United States from the southern Oregon Company of a deed of reconveyance of lands granted to the state of Oregon by the Coos Bay grant act, and which provided that the government should pay Coos county all taxes, costs, interests and penalties thereon. On February 26, 1913, congress enacted the law which provided for the payment of $400,000 to the county and a further payment of 25 per cent of the proceeds of the sales of land and timber from the granted lands in Coos county bringing the total sum paid the county up to $492,141.68.

Douglas county was also interested in the congressional act, and West entered into an agreement with the county judges of Coos and Douglas counties, whereby his compensation would be 4 per cent of the amount recovered by Coos county for taxes, or $19,685.66. This agreement was approved by the Coos county court and a contract made with West. But when West presented the claim, the court would allow him only $1,000. It was held that the employment of West was illegal and contrary to public policy, that the services of West were lobbying services and the contract a lobbying contract. It was alleged that County Judge James Watson was recalled at an election June 3, 1919, and that when West entered into the agreement with Watson and County Judge R. W. Masters of Douglas county both he and Watson knew the outcome of that election.

The supreme court states that the supreme court has found no error in the record, and on that basis upholds the lower court.
