

BRYAN FUNERAL TRAIN REACHES WASHINGTON

Ham Jennings Bryan came back to Washington today to receive the last rites of the church beginning his long rest in the Potomac hill amidst a group of the nation's illustrious dead.

The funeral train which had borne him from Dayton, Tenn., where he died last Sunday, reached the Union station early in the day, but its arrival found a reverent throng in waiting.

The bronze casket was taken from the station to an undertaking parlors but later it will be removed to the New York avenue Presbyterian church where the funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

A detail of police escorted the party through crowds that lined the inner concourse of the station. Not until after Mrs. Bryan had left the train was the casket removed.

A part of the rear end of the funeral car was removed to afford ready exit for the casket, which then was borne to the east entrance at the level with the lower train platform.

There the guard of honor, veterans of the World War, placed it in a motor hearse while the crowds which lined the gently sloping street stood in silence. None of the Bryan party accompanied the body to the undertaking parlor.

The honorary pallbearers at the funeral will be: Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska; Senator E. Ashurst, of Arizona; Senator Kenneth McKellar, of Tennessee; Senator Morris Shepherd, of Texas; Representative William A. Oldfield, of Arkansas; Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, former secretary of the navy; Charles A. Douglas, of Washington; Clem Shaver, of West Virginia; and Colonel J. H. Callahan, of Louisville, Ky.

Immediately on reaching the establishment the casket was opened. A tiny spray of Lily of the Valley, Mr. Bryan's favorite flower, placed in the lapel of his coat at Dayton, appeared as fresh as when the journey began.

Hundreds of letters and telegrams from many places were waiting for Mrs. Bryan at the hotel. A small group of government officials greeted Mrs. Bryan at the station. Immediately upon arrival the widow and her party were taken to the La Fayette hotel, near the White House where they will remain until the funeral services tomorrow.

They will be joined tomorrow morning by William Jennings Bryan, Jr., and by a daughter of the commoner, Mrs. Grace Hargreaves, who are coming here from California.

During the morning, Charles W. Bryan, brother and lifelong companion of the dead leader, reached the hotel from the west. After a call on the widow, he conferred with Ben G. Davis, formerly an intimate associate of the commoner, regarding final details of the funeral.

The first floral tribute to be sent to the church was from Secretary Kellogg on behalf of the department of state. It was a huge wreath of yellow roses, lilies and orchids, on a background of ferns and evergreens.

The second was a bouquet of sweetheart roses on behalf of little Ruth Meeker of Cape May, N. J., Mr. Bryan's only great-grandchild. The offering was brought here by Ruth's grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Meeker, of Baltimore.

Mr. Kellogg announced that the state department would be closed during the afternoon tomorrow as a mark of respect and to permit

KIDNAP TRIAL QUIET

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) LOS ANGELES, July 29.—Yesterday's colorful scenes in the trial of three men accused of plotting to kidnap Mary Pickford, film star, changed today to the dull drab of legal testimony.

There was no craning of crowded necks to see the actress and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, both of whom testified yesterday and only a fair sized gathering of spectators heard John J. Hill, deputy district attorney, give his evidence.

Hill, who conducted the grand jury investigation charges against Adrian Wood, Claude Holcomb and C. Stephens, said that Wood and Holcomb both waived their right and asked to be permitted to tell their story to the county grand jury.

Hill then recounted what he said was the gist of Wood's testimony before the grand jury that Luis Geck, said to be the police informer in the plot, with Stephens, approached Wood to enlist his services in a kidnaping plot.

The first prospective victim dismissed was a grandson of E. L. Doheny, Sr., oil magnate; the next was Jackie Coogan, juvenile film actor and the plans eventually centered on Mary Pickford.

Wood, according to Hill, said he bought a pistol and it was decided that if Fairbanks interfered in the kidnaping of his wife, he was to be "put out of the way."

As many as possible of Mr. Bryan's former colleagues in the department to attend the funeral. As an additional tribute the flags on all government buildings will fly at half mast tomorrow.

If our school patrons must pay more for their books, it is only fair and right that the price they must pay should be fixed in open and competitive bidding before the legally authorized commission of the state of Oregon. We should not submit to an arbitrary increase in price, nor substitute for a contract a "gentleman's agreement" which has no legal nor binding effect.

REFEREE GETS CREDIT FOR K. O.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Sport writers have today credited Referee Joe Norman with administering the knockout last night in the boxing combat in which Frankie Campbell, San Francisco light-heavyweight, was declared winner over "Rase Horse" Roberts for a count of nine. In the tenth, the final round, Roberts, ill groggy, decided to endure the prescribed three minutes through one prolonged clinch. The referee, backed in verbal and physical efforts to separate the man, finally gave Roberts a terrific tag.

The Oakland battler went whirling through the air and landed outside the ring. The referee then counted him out. Roberts, badly bruised made no effort to climb back. The hall was in an uproar. Fans rushed the ring. Somebody threw a bucket of water at Roberts in an effort to revive him, but it landed on the referee. Two state boxing inspectors ruled that it was a valid knockout and will report to the California Athletic Commission.

TWO ARRESTED FOR FIGHTING WITH OFFICER

Leon Hyers and L. E. Davis were arrested early this morning charged with resisting an officer, and were fined $10 each. The two men, according to the report of Officer Rausch, were found intoxicated on Sheridan street this morning. They were seated in a car, but one of the men jumped out and ran, and broke a bottle of liquor on the pavement. Rausch attempted to take the second man from the car, but the latter kicked out the windshield, and attempted to battle with the officer, tearing his clothes quite badly. Rausch finally subdued the two, and took them to the city jail where they sobered up. This morning they were quite repentant, and voluntarily paid for the damage done to the officer's clothing and entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before Recorder Whipple.

W. L. Showalter, a tourist, was arrested here late yesterday evening, charged with indecent exposure. Showalter is accused of having followed and frightened two 12-year-old girls, and to have exposed his person to them. They hurried to Chief of Police Kevin and gave him a description of the man who had frightened them, and accompanied the officer on a search for him. ### GIRL FINDS TARANTULA IN BOX OF TOMATOES

A young tarantula was found today by Miss Hazel Hayes, of this city, while she was taking some tomatoes from a box apparently shipped in. The young lady thought it was an extraordinarily large spider, and because she had never seen one like it, placed it in a bottle and brought it to the News-Review office. ### GROWERS ARE PLEASED BY PRUNE PRICES

Prune growers are quite well pleased with the opening price in the prune market. Buyers offering 9 cents for 30-40s, which is considerably better than last year's opening price. The buyers are quite active, and it is apparent that the market is stronger than at any time in recent years. The drop on smaller sizes is quite heavy, with a fair price on the medium fruit, while small fruit is very low. The crop in Douglas county, however, will run to larger sizes this year, so that the prices now being offered are considered good by the growers.

LEVENS UNDER INDICTMENT FOR TAKING A GUN

SALEM, Ore., July 30.—Upon being informed today that he was under indictment in Klamath Falls, William S. Levens, state prohibition commissioner, expressed complete surprise, said he could not imagine what it was for, and immediately called up acting District Attorney Jones for information. Jones informed Levens that the indictment was for larceny in a report to the sheriff's office. After the conversation with Jones, Levens at once surmised that the charge was larceny of a gun.

"I went with the sheriff of Klamath county, the deputy district attorney, McBride, and some police officers," said Levens, "to a house where a Mexican and two women were living to make a search for

Your Motor's Mile-Power Depends on Economical Motor Oil

And here's a paradox: The best oil for your motor is by no means the highest-priced. Nor is its economy confined to its cost. It saves most in motor up-keep.

You've paid a high price for motor oil thinking thus to get quality-insurance. With most things, this would be true. But not so with motor oils. Aristo Motor Oil, for example, is one of the first quality. It is produced in California, by refining methods of the highest order and with the most modern facilities. It sells for almost half the price of eastern oils. And for the very simple reason that it is produced in volume, and carries no heavy freight costs from the east. Aristo is a rare lubricant. It combats the formation of carbon. And this is its greatest saving. You can pay twice as much and not get as good motor oil as Aristo. Sold at Union Oil service stations and independent dealers of the first class everywhere.
