The photos trace Bryan's career. At top: At his graduation from college; with Darrow at evasion trial in Dayton, Ohio; as secretary of American War; as secretary of state; at time of first presidential campaign. Below: Making last great speech in Dayton; and as candidate in 1908 (right).

INDEPENDENTS TO AFFILIATE WITH NO POLITICAL PARTY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The American Federation of Labor, which in 1924 threw its support to the independent presidential candidacy of the late Senator La Follette, henceforth will return to its non-partisan policy in political campaigns and tie itself up to no third party movements. The federation's executive council has emphatically announced this purpose at the conclusion of sessions here devoted to mapping out a strenuous non-partisan campaign to be waged in behalf of the individuals receiving the labor endorsement in next year's congressional election, regardless of party affiliation. Such endorsement will be suggested in a report now being prepared for the federation's national convention at Atlantic City next October, dealing with local, state and national political contests. The 1924 campaign, the council said, demonstrated that the launching of third party movements, which generally expire after one election, is "wasted effort and injurious to the desire to elect candidates with favorable records." In calling on state federations of labor and central labor bodies to prepare to give active assistance in the forthcoming campaign, the council warned that it will be on guard, particularly against efforts of political "bosses" to defeat the primary system for nominating candidates.

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT IS RECALLED CARSON CITY, Nev., Aug. 2.—The gong used at the world championship heavyweight prizefight here March 17, 1897, when Jim Corbett lost the title to Bob Fitzsimmons, has been given by Mrs. Sadie Manton to her son, a resident of Texas, whose father was one of Corbett's trainers. Mrs. Manton purchased the old bell from Andrew Todd, Sr., of Carson City, who has had it in his possession since the day of the battle.

THEATRES Liberty Theatre

A photoplay that will meet with approval from every element of the movie-going public is Lionel Barrymore's latest screen vehicle, "Meddling Women," which was viewed for the first time last night at the Liberty Theatre. The millions of admirers of Lionel Barrymore will have the greatest chance ever when seeing this picture to outshine over their favorite's latest contribution. Besides Lionel Barrymore, the supporting cast is replete with eminent players, among whom are such favorites as Sigrid Holmquist, between which the Continental Mary Pickford and Dagmar Godowsky, the exotic movie vamp. "Meddling Women" is happily both the title and theme of this photoplay. It deals with the peculiar weakness of some of the members of the weaker sex and tends to show its damaging effects, which almost result in a tragedy. However, the successful trail were hand-holding the young husband's mother and aunt.

MAJESTIC THEATRE A story of gold and the greed for gold is the picture which will come to the Majestic theatre tonight. It is a William Fox production starring Buck Jones, surrounded by a capable cast.

ANTHIER THEATRE The usual happy ending which the public demands in photoplays calls for a marriage between the leading players. In "Tracked in the Snow Country," which began a two day engagement at the Anthier's theatre yesterday, the principal player or star is Rin-Tin-Tin, a German shepherd dog. Marriage with a dog as the bridegroom is a problem with insuperable difficulties. But the "movie makers" in this particular instance seem to have got around it in a manner which is quite interesting.

By JOHN T. LEWING, JR. Central Press Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—It is generally agreed here that there is no likelihood of any one taking the place of William Jennings Bryan. There never has been a figure in American affairs quite like him, and the course of national events makes it appear that there never will be another W. J. B. His death will, of course, have an enormous effect on the immediate future of the Democratic party. He and his brother in recent weeks have been attempting to cement an alliance of the south and west as a means of rejuvenating the party. The younger Bryan has been the active factor in this movement, but his statements have been seconded by the "Commoner."

anti-evolution law. It has long been held by some observers that Charles was the abler of the two brothers. Whether he can now stand on his own feet remains to be seen. Party Peace Slighted. There is some disposition among political observers to see hope, through the death of Bryan, of the breaking up of the factional deadlock which for eight years has marred the hopes of the Democratic party. Though his day of command had long since passed and the influence had waned, there were millions of Americans still ready to follow him the day he died. It was through his control of the south and the west that Bryan dominated the Democratic party absolutely and practically unchanged through twelve years. He could not make himself president, but he did make Woodrow Wilson president in 1912. And it was one of the curious anomalies of fate that he created a president only to have that president take the leadership of his party away from him. Fought Smith Candidacy. The 1916 convention at St. Louis was all Wilson. There were no fighters of any kind and Bryan was not in the picture. At San Francisco in 1920 Woodrow Wilson on his sick bed in Washington, not Bryan, dominated the convention. Bryan's foe, Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, was nominated. Bryan had tried to beat him, of all the candidates. Bryan's support was lukewarm at best in the campaign. In the 1924 convention Bryan came into his own again. There had been every sign that the McAdoo-Smith schism would continue and perhaps again appear at the 1924 convention. At Smith's boom virtually has been launched. It is believed generally that McAdoo is as determined as ever to fight the eastern group, and particularly to resist Smith's quest of the presidency. Bryan always had been a bitter enemy of this group as McAdoo. He denounced it vigorously at convention after convention. At New York last summer McAdoo himself was almost forgotten at times because of the bitterness of the easterners toward the Commoner. Therefore it is believed that his removal will tend to eliminate the intense personal element.

NEARLY THIRTY LADS IN SECOND BOY SCOUT CAMP

First Two Weeks Class Will Return Tomorrow and New Course Will Start. The second Boy Scout camp starts tomorrow, and it is expected that there will be nearly thirty boys in the second camp. The camp is being conducted for a month, but in classes of the two weeks. The first two weeks have expired, and the second division is now starting out. A number of the boys now out will remain, and sixteen more will join the party. Among those who will leave in the morning are Jack Throno, Owen Corbin, Kenneth Miller, Maynard and Raymond Bell, Wayne Rieps, Willard Morgan and Merion Salling, all of Roseburg; Gordon Sether, Eugene; Robert Shaw, Marshfield, Stanley Huppert, Donald Guerd, Yonella; Yellow Hawk, Joel R. Penn, Dale Buschark and Herbert Anderson of Melrose, and George Smith, John Farrington, John Throno, Al Campling, Dr. Church, Dr. Allen and F. W. Chase. All of these men are members of the local Kiwanis club. They will also bring back the boys who have completed their two weeks' outing and are desiring to return. The arrangements are in charge of Russell J. Inott, who asks that all ears be at the Parslow Furniture Company store promptly at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is desired to get back in time for the regular Kiwanis luncheon at noon. Saturday will be a big day at the scout camp, with a plenty of visi-

MONTH OF JULY WAS NORMAL IN EVERY RESPECT

The month of July was a very normal month in every respect, according to the monthly meteorological summary completed by C. W. Norman, observer. The temperature for the month averaged 71 degrees, as compared with a normal of 67.4 degrees, a daily excess of 2.2 degrees. There was only a trace of precipitation, that occurring on the 12th. The normal precipitation for the month being 32 of an inch. For the season from September 1, 1924, to the present time, there is an excess of 7.81 inches of rainfall.

SOCIAL AND DINING CLUB FORMED FOR WORKING GIRLS OF LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The personal, or liking, for clubs for women has expanded to the city worker. Most of the big banks and insurance companies have their own catering arrangements and are able to feed their girl employees at a small cost. The firm employing only one or two girls is not so well served and it is for these employees that a new club has been opened in the heart of the city.

LIQUOR FACES COURT MARTIAL AS RESULT OF KILLING

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) MANILA, Aug. 2.—Declared sane by an army medical board which has observed his actions since he killed Miss Audrey Burleigh last April, Lieutenant J. S. Thompson, faced court martial here today on a charge of murder.

Major Raymond F. Longacres, a member of the medical board, testified that he considered Thompson a "constitutional psychopath," which he described as a person subject to minor deviations from normal, but not much out of the ordinary.

Each member of the medical board, testified that they believed the army officer was sane at the time he took Miss Burleigh in his automobile, after she participated in an amateur theatrical, and shot her to death, bringing her body to Fort McKinley where he surrendered.

In a letter to his sister in the United States, which Lieutenant Thompson never mailed, he told of his love for Miss Burleigh.

Tomorrow the defense will present depositions taken in the United States regarding Thompson's mental condition.

AGED VETERAN DIES. Brought to the Oregon Soldiers Home on Tuesday night of last week from Gold Hill, Jackson county, John Farrell, 94 years of age, was placed in the hospital at the institution and after lingering in a hopeless condition passed away the following Thursday night. Interment took place in the Home cemetery Friday.

Mr. Farrell was a veteran of the Civil war, serving in the 166th and 158th regiments of New York Infantry. Most of his life after the war was spent in mineral prospecting in southern Oregon. He left no known relatives.

BRITISH MONEY MAKERS CLAIMED BEST COIN CRAFTSMEN IN WORLD.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The claim is made that the British mint on Tower Hill, where all the British and many of the foreign countries' finest coins are made, contains the finest craftsmen in the world. The mint has just completed an order for Poland comprising about 20,000,000 coins. Last year it coined a large order for Russia and minted a number of gold coins for Egypt. It now has an order on hand for Lithuania to the value of $50,000.

Copper coins can be turned out at a great rate, and in the case of silver coins, where much greater care is needed, as many as seven millions have been produced in one week. The designs on coins made at the mint are said to stand out more clearly than on those produced in other countries, and the dies are made from designs submitted.

Two grand balls will be given in his honor, one by the government and another by the British residents in the republic. On the night of the Prince's arrival 115 huge bonfires, representing as many years of Chilean national life, will burn along the foothills of the Andes within easy visibility of Santiago.

CONCERT GIVEN BY CLARION FOUR VERY ENJOYABLE

The Clarion Four, a quartette of young men from La Verne College at La Verne, California, gave a concert at the Methodist Church Saturday night which was much enjoyed by the audience. The program rendered consisted of a number of sacred selections and plantation songs, the latter of which were sung with the darky accent that always pleases the hearers. All the numbers were covered. The quartette left for Grants Pass Sunday, where they will appear in concert this week.

IRISH RETURNING AND RESTORING DESTROYED PROPERTY AT HOME. DUBLIN, Aug. 3.—There are many signs in the Free State that wealthy families who, after the destruction of their property, left for England, are anxious to return. The compensation given for the destruction includes in most cases a condition for rebuilding, and this condition is being fulfilled.

Marquis of Lansdowne has rebuilt a place at Dereen not far from Killarney which was looted and burned. The Marquis has been living in Dereen, and his son and heir, the Earl of Kerry, who is a member of the Free State senate, also has a residence in the neighborhood.

The Duke of Devonshire has been living at Lismore Castle in County Waterford. Though not burned it was badly damaged and the duke has had it restored.
