

Last Resting Place of William Jennings Bryan.

WORLD'S GREATEST HOME BUILDING CONTRACT IS LET

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 6.—Announcement of a $75,000,000 home building program, the largest single house construction operation in history, has just been made by George E. Merrick, owner of Coral Gables, ten thousand acre real estate development adjoining Miami. The first hundred houses of the one thousand included in the project, will be constructed immediately at a cost of $5,000,000 for occupancy March 1, 1926.

this development unique in architectural history. All buildings now at Coral Gables are restricted to the Mediterranean type, which is a composite of the styles native to semi-tropical countries bordering along the Mediterranean sea. The new dwellings will be built in 13 new but allied styles, including Neapolitan baroque, Persian, Dutch South African, French Eighteenth Century, Mexican Pioneer, Tangier Bazaar, Italian Village, etc. Coral Gables as an incorporated city thus affords the only example in the world of an organized community constructed in accordance with a preconceived and unified architectural plan.

FOREST FIRE SITUATION IS BETTER TODAY

(Continued from page 1.) fires has not been learned. Officers of the Silver Falls Timber company announce they have undertaken the extensive job of trenching around their complete holdings to keep the fires within check if possible. The logging crews of the company are all still working fighting.

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 6.—Fires which were raging yesterday in the neighborhood of Silver Creek were under control today so far as holdings of standing timber were concerned. It was reported this afternoon by officials of the Silver Falls Timber Company and the Silverton Lumber company, in whose holdings the fires have been burning.

The flames which started at the Silver Falls Timber company's camp 11, located some 30 miles southeast of Silverton, doing considerable damage there, had today burned their way south into some slashings owned by the Silverton Lumber company, and situated just above Mehama. The same ground which the fire was burning this afternoon was burned over last year, and is not considered to have any great value so far as the timber is concerned.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 6.—The fire in the Entiat valley was still uncontrolled today, it was announced at the forestry office. More than 70 men are on the ground. The orchard and home of John Blekie, of Peshastin was destroyed.

PRUNE GROWERS HOLD MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

A very interesting meeting of prune growers started this afternoon at the City Hall, the meeting being held for the purpose of discussing and formulating plans for the organization of the growers of this district for the cooperative handling of the prune crop. The meeting was addressed by Kenneth Miller, of the marketing department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, who gave statistics indicating the advantages of cooperative marketing. Mr. Miller stated that the Portland Chamber of Commerce believes the cooperative packing and marketing of prunes to be good business, and for that reason is urging growers throughout the state to organize. It is probably too late to do much with this year's crop, he says, but recommends that a pool be formed at least, in order that the best market price be obtained.

by fire late yesterday. It was reported today. The residence, packing shed and stable and other buildings were burned. The loss is estimated at $10,000, with about $8,500 insurance.

EVERETT, Wash., Aug. 6.—The fire situation in Snohomish county was considerably relieved this morning. Two or three fires at Lake Stevens had burned out. The third was burning west of the lake in a gulch, under control. The fires at Beverly Park and Silver Lake are burning but no longer considered dangerous.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 6.—Fire in the far heel district, west of here last night on property belonging to the city of Marshfield, was under control today. The blaze was principally in slashings. Fire Warden Walsh has 34 volunteer firemen throwing lines around the fire and cutting brush. It has been burning 35 hours.

COAL OPERATOR IS STILL HOPEFUL OF AVERTING STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—Samuel D. Warner, chairman of the coal operators conference, in a reply made public tonight to the last communication of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, said that "in spite of the terms of his letter and the breaking off of negotiations, he was hopeful that means would be found to compose the differences between them and avoid a suspension of production." "Every consideration demands that this be done," Mr. Warner added. Mr. Warner wrote that Mr. Lewis' statement that the operators negotiating committee is under instruction to refuse concessions is untrue and said that the operators committee is no more bound by instructions than your committee is bound by the demands adopted by the Scranton convention.

CORONER'S JURY ADVISES PROBE AUTO FATALITY

SEATTLE, Aug. 6.—A coroner's jury today recommended that the prosecuting attorney investigate the death of Thomas H. Young, whom an automobile driven by Floyd T. Perrin killed. Perrin testified that his lights reached fifty feet. State law requires 150 feet. Automobiles have slain 37 persons in Seattle this year.

SEA SERPENT IS VOUCHERED FOR BY B. C. OFFICIAL

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 6.—John P. Babcock, deputy fish commissioner of British Columbia, today received an official report that a sea serpent, which children in the Queen Charlotte Islands, in the Pacific ocean, off the province, insisted they saw, was real. "When I saw the animal going down the inlet," wrote John Van Valkenburg, who made the report, "he was travelling with the tide. He made a slow, wrigling motion, like a land snake employs when swimming ashore. The head and six or eight feet of the body were above the surface. "When the serpent submerged its body came up in a long spiral like a rope being dragged over a submerged object. I did not see the tail. The body was round, or a short oval, dark green, almost black on the back, growing lighter underneath, with blotches of black. The head was rather long and I saw knobs that I took for eyes and nostrils." Babcock said that the report "to me bears every mark of sincerity, though 'nothing like that is known to science," and he was "at a loss to understand what the Queen Charlotte Island people have seen."

PARENTS ASKED TO CONFER WITH SCOUT EXECUTIVE

E. A. Britton, Douglas County Boy Scout executive, who is now at the Wolf Creek camp, states that he will be in the city on Saturday, and at 7 o'clock on that day would like to meet the parents who have boys between the age of 9, 10 and 11 years desiring to attend the younger boys camp. A new organization, known as the Outdoor Boys, has been started, patterned after the Boy Scouts, and these younger lads desire to have a camp of their own. Before completing the details Mr. Britton desires to confer with the parents, and asks them to be at his office at the Armory at 7 p. m. on Saturday, if possible.

State Press Comment

Radio Breaks the Spell. Coincident with the news account of Dr. MacMillan's exchange of communications between Etah, Greenland, and Canada comes a story that Sydney, Australia, is now in touch, also by radio, with the Gilbert Islands, on the equator, not far from the 180th meridian. The significance of the two events is that the remotest situations in the world have been made equally accessible to the voice from afar. In 160 years since the Gilberts were discovered we may be sure that no episode so full of meaning has occurred to their inhabitants. Polynesian and Eskimo enter almost simultaneously into relationship with the world.

The Eskimos and the Gilbert Islanders are nearly as far apart as it is possible for two peoples to be on the face of the globe. Yet the day is not far distant when, if they care to, they will be able to talk with each other. The point in each instance is that the radio is widely recognized as an indispensable adjunct of the new era. The missionaries who have been instrumental in obtaining radio sets for the natives of the Gilberts are said to have had in mind the educational possibilities of the scheme. It is certain to bring a new conception of the world they live in to a people who until now have judged it by the annual (or less frequent) visit of a trading ship.

What is being done in the arctic that the radio will become an aid and at the equator is capable of extension anywhere. It is improbable that the radio will become an instrument for the degradation of the natives in those quarters, in which respects it contrasts with other agencies of so-called civilization that have been introduced. Yank Soldiers of Fortune Fight for Dime a Day

Disproving the idea that modern warfare has made the soldier of fortune a romantic thing of the past, the seven Americans shown here, world war heroes, are risking their lives for 10 cents a day to fight for France in Morocco. All of them have fought in the uniforms of several countries. They are, left to right: (seated) R. H. Weller, Edmund L. Gros, Charles Sweeney, Lt. Col. Parker, Lieut. Col. Kerwood; (standing) Major Pollock, Graham Bullon, L. C. Holden. Sweeney, son of a Seattle millionaire, has been in Mexican, Ecuadorian, French, American and Polish armies; in the latter as brigadier-general.

BRIDGE OF THE GODS SITE FOR MODERN SPAN

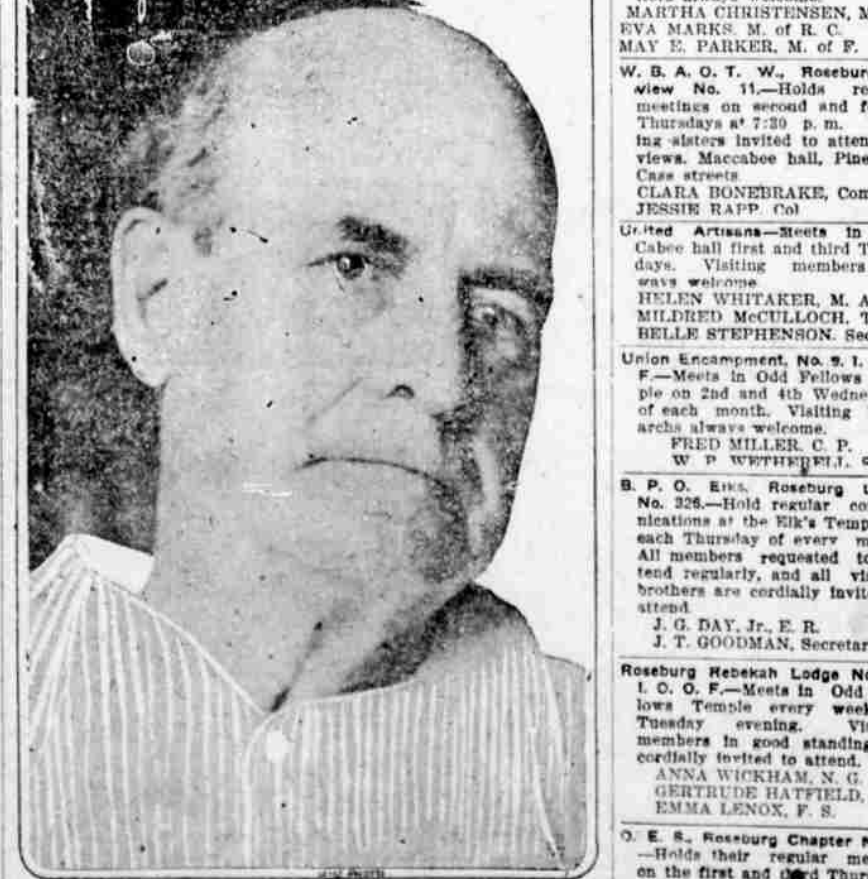

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 6.—The Oregon and Washington shores of the Columbia river at the point where Indian legend says once stood the "Bridge of the Gods," are soon to be connected by the hand of man. It was revealed here today by local incorporators of the Wauna Bridge company, investors who are already interested in the Tri-County bridge company which connects Pasco and Kennewick over the same river. The Wauna bridge will be located near Cascade Locks, but Hood River and White Salmon are the principal points to be connected by the span, which will be a steel, cantilever bridge, instead of a suspension bridge as first planned by the engineers. The Columbia river and the North Bank railways will also be connected by the bridge, thus permitting a new loop drive out of Portland.

This is one of the last photos of William Jennings Bryan. It was taken in Dayton, Tennessee, when he was occupied in defending the anti-evolution law.

Biggest "Old Glory"

The largest American flag, 33 by 92 feet, now hangs in the post-office building in Washington, surrounded by the banners of the 48 states. It weighs 99 pounds.

"I see by the papers..." We all do. It's a national habit. Newspapers open and close the day. They are a vital part of our daily existence. Take them from us and the wheels of progress stop. We must have the news. And news about merchandise ranks with news about current events. As a matter of fact, it is even more personal. It concerns you and your daily needs. Food. Clothing. Shelter. Household necessities. The newspapers bring you this vital news of merchandise. The advertising columns of this paper are a business guide-book to guide both footsteps and expenditures. They tell you what, tell you who, and show you where. Pilots of the family purse. Read the advertisements. Every day. Buried in small type may be a bargain that was born for you especially. Known before you go to buy, just what you want and what you will have to pay for it. "I buy by the papers" is the twin of "I see by the papers." You consult a time-table to see what train to take. Consult this newspaper to see what goods to buy. Newspaper advertisements are buying beacons to light your way to wise expenditure.
