COOLIDGE WILL NOT INTERFERE IN COAL DISPUTE

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 8.—President Coolidge holds to the view that industry, including the coal business, should settle its own labor problems and he is hopeful that industry will find its own solution.
 Secretary Hoover made this statement today after he had discussed with the president the anthracite situation with the president. It gave added weight to the administration's position that it has no intention of interfering in the wage scale dispute between hard coal operators and miners.

The department head came to White Court to invite the president to attend the San Francisco jubilee next month and to discuss with him various problems confronting the department and the administration.
 Admitting that he had discussed the anthracite situation briefly with the president, Mr. Hoover declined to go beyond his first statement of the executive's view toward industry and the solution of its labor problems other than to say that members of the cabinet were in accord with him.

The impression was gained, however, that Mr. Coolidge and his advisers are hopeful that anthracite operators and miners will adjust their wage dispute before the expiration of the present wage scale, September 1, despite the recent break in negotiations at Atlantic City.

Secretary Hoover took advantage of his first conference with the president since the executive left Washington to report on business conditions as he found them in an extensive tour through the west and to express the opinion that the public west of the Alleghenies was profoundly interested in development of waterways.

The United States, Mr. Hoover declared, was never in such a strong economic condition as at present. The public is cheerful and hopeful, he said, standards of living are higher than the country has ever before enjoyed and there is no unemployment of consequence.

Conditions are bad in spots, Mr. Hoover admitted, declaring this was to be expected as a nation as large as the United States cannot run on "all cylinders" at one time. The farmers of the west and middle west, he said, are emerging satisfactorily from their difficulties, although they are not yet entirely in the clear.

With reference to the waterways problem, Mr. Hoover reported widespread interest in the west over comprehensive plans for flood control, irrigation and power development. Mr. Hoover gained the impression that President Coolidge would be unable to accept San Francisco's invitation to attend

TRANSIENT FINED FOR USING PROFANE AND ABUSIVE TALK

John Wilson, a transient, was arrested yesterday charged with using profane and abusive language on the highway, and is serving five days in the county jail. Wilson, it is claimed, stopped in front of the Deer Park Inn, near Canyonville, apparently waiting for a ride. Mrs. Wilson, who conducts the inn, told Wilson to move on. He declared, and he became profane and abusive in his remarks to her. Mr. Byman an alteration, which finally resulted in a complaint being sworn out for the transient, and his arrest. He was brought before Justice of the Peace George Jones, and after a hearing was found guilty and fined $10. Being unable to pay the amount he was confined to the county jail to serve five days.

WOULD RAISE DUTY ON CANADA LOGS

SEATTLE, Aug. 8.—A trip to Mount Rainier was the relaxation Chairman Marvin and Vice-Chairman Dennis of the United States tariff commission set for themselves over Sunday. The commissioner, having completed here last night a hearing on log tariff that they opened Tuesday, take up next a demand for reduction in American duties on halibut.
 The concluding log testimony included a declaration by Russell Hawkins, general manager of the Whitney company, Tillamook Bay, Oregon, that prices of logs and lumber in his region were ruled by those on Puget Sound and in the basin of the Canada river, and that these in turn were influenced by importation of logs from British Columbia, though fewer than five per cent of the logs manufactured around Puget Sound come from Canada. "I shall advocate and work for an increased tariff on logs this winter," Hawkins informed the commission, which is to recommend to President Coolidge whether he should halve the duty of $1 a thousand feet charged on timber from Canada.
 Witnesses asserted that logs coming in from Canada were being truck loggers out of business. The halibut hearing opens Monday.

 E. S. Bell, attorney for Mrs. Schwartz, declared today that Mrs. Schwartz would not give her consent to the burial of the corpse under the name of Barbe and he said he had proof that the dead man is Schwartz. He stoutly contended that the authorities have not refuted his proof of the body's identity.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 8.—The Astoria police and United States custom officials, waited today to board the Swedish steamer Nordie, which was due off the Columbia river at 2 p. m. They intended to make a thorough search of the steamer for a man who was reported to have boarded the vessel at Oakland, Cal., supposed by California authorities to be Charles Henry Schwartz, missing Berkeley chemist. Though radio messages from the vessel said Schwartz was not on board, the officers here intend to make a thorough search of the boat to satisfy themselves that he was not concealed as a stowaway. The officers planned to proceed with the ship to Westport, conducting the search enroute to that point where the vessel is to load lumber.

NO CLUE YET IN WILDER AND AGEE ROBBERY CASE

The officers have been unable to find any clue to aid them in apprehending the parties responsible for the robbery of the Wilder and Agee clothing store. As it appears to be practically impossible to trace the robbers, efforts are being concentrated on tracing the stolen goods, as an attempt will doubtless be made soon in one of the larger cities to dispose of the loot.
 R. J. Schrader, finger print expert, has procured some excellent finger prints from the store. In spite of the fact that the robbery was committed several hours before

TOUR MAY BE MADE OF WALNUT AND FILBERT GROVES

Walnut and filbert growers of Oregon and Washington will make a tour of some nut groves in the lower Willamette valley August 19 and 20. They will visit only a few plantings, selected to demonstrate certain fundamental principles of production and handling of nuts. Leading growers with records of results from application of the principles over a period of years will discuss these principles and methods of use, while several specialists of the O. A. C. experimental station will be on hand to answer questions.
 Visitation of cover crops will be observed Wednesday morning in the grove of Dr. P. H. Jobs of Wilsonville, who has the record for a 10-year use of cover crops. Use of steam drier, working over old filbert trees and crown gall and winter injuries of walnuts are other subjects.

 or in cleaning out a pipe in dry grass, and doing many other things of that nature which creates fires. With great crowds seeking cool places, as a result of the hot weather, fire patrol officials are urging the most extreme precautions upon those who are seeking recreation over the week end.
 The hot weather, which is adding much to the fire danger, appears to be general over the state. High temperatures prevailed at nearly every city in the state yesterday, and reports today indicated even more severe heat today.
 The local weather bureau this morning issued a prediction of continued warm weather. Light northerly winds were forecast for Saturday and Sunday, these winds being the kind that dry the forests out until they are like tinder. Continued low humidity is also predicted.

EUGENE IS SWEATING

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 8.—Slight breeze, which has been aiding Eugene during the present hot spell, died down today, and the most sultry day of the year was recorded. A haze settled down and the whole city sweated.
 Yesterday the mercury climbed to 98 degrees, and there was every indication that the feat would be excelled today.
 Though no new forest fires had been reported this morning, and all old fires were said to be out, forest officials were momentarily expecting calls that would tell of fresh blazes in the wooded areas.

OPPRESSIVE at PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Aug. 8.—Sultry atmosphere, scarcely stirred by a light breeze, made the weather oppressive here this morning. The forecast was for temperature above 90 degrees this afternoon. Yesterday the maximum was 90.
 If no rain falls here by tomorrow the record for the longest dry spell—57 days established in 1883, will be broken.
 The forest fire situation was more serious today, the temperature high all over the northwest, and the wind shifting from west to east, said E. L. Wells, weather observer.

 best" to find a way out and hoped to send Mary back to her humble Bohemian parents today, but Mr. Browning later insisted the statement was unauthorized.
 Mary was convinced that her Cinderella coach and four must certainly change back to the ignominious pumpkin. "I want to go home," she said.
 Commissioner of Public Welfare Bird S. Coler was also investigating the appeal of Mrs. William St. John of Rye, N. Y., foster mother of Dorothy Sunshine Browning, that the child be given back to her. Dorothy, 9, the second Cinderella adopted by Mr. Browning has been ill at a summer camp at Crystal Lake, Vermont. She was adopted six years ago.
 "There is no place for a little girl like Dorothy in a home with a flapper Cinderella," Mrs. St. John said. "And we don't want any money either."
 "He dyed the clothes that were on the child's back when he took her from me," she said. "That's what he did, and then you get all this talk about the hundreds and hundreds of dresses he bought for her."
 She further told investigators from Mr. Coler's office that Mr. Browning handed her a roll of bills when he took Dorothy. When she removed the rubber band from the roll later, she said, she found all $1 bills except the one $5 note which was on the outside.
 In her letter to Mr. Coler, Mrs. St. John wrote:
 "I cannot believe that Mr. Browning is a fit guardian, and now this disgusting farce of adopting that young woman. Don't you think there is some cause for taking her (Dorothy) away from him?"
 Mr. Coler and District Attorney Newcombe said the investigation would not end even after Mary is sent home. Her parents have
