

STOP!!!

HAVE YOU HEARD THE Lady Evangelist

IF NOT

Come Tonight

Services Daily 7:45

Don't fail to hear this Evangelist, she has a message of inspiration for everyone that comes.

Special Musical Program Each Evening at the

BIG TENT

Rose Street, Between Oak and Washington

HIDING PLACE OF FUGITIVES STILL MYSTERY

(Continued from page 1.)

theory that the men are still in hiding and waiting for the enthusiasm and vigilance of the pursuers to subside before making a break from cover.

Nothing more has been heard regarding the report that four shots were heard last evening in the vicinity of the King farm, about two miles east of where the convicts entered the brush, last evening. The report of a garage robbery and kidnaping at Klamath Falls by three men last night is discounted as having no bearing on the chase and the officers believe it extremely doubtful that the man held at Oakland, Oregon, by citizens this morning when he asked for food, is Ellsworth Kelly. This morning the officers set about to maintain a constant vigil in the Pratum and Drift Creek region until such time as they are satisfied that the convicts have escaped from that neighborhood. The guard forces are being detailed into shifts, so that the maximum force will be constantly on duty and allow sufficient rest periods for the men who have been going with little sleep and food for three days.

The posse today number about 100 men, as near as can be estimated.

Chaplain Hutten has a force of national guardsmen from Silverton on duty. Captain Paul Hendricks is in charge of a detachment of 20 men from Salem, four Portland police officers remain on the scene, and there are eight guards from the prison. Four state forest rangers and six deputy game wardens also joined the hunt this morning.

The scene of the hunt today is an area oblong in shape, about 7 miles long and 5 miles wide, principally along Drift Creek and about 9 miles east of Salem.

Klamath Car Stolen.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—A telephone message was received at 2 o'clock this morning by Warden Dyalpym of the state prison from Klamath Falls stating that three men in an automobile held up a garage operator, robbed him, tied him and threw him into their car and drove away in a northerly direction. The man was released near Shipington, the message said. It is believed possible that the three men may have been Ellsworth Kelly, Tom Murray and James Willos—the leaders of the fugitives, Tom Murray, and James Willos—the three escaped desperados from the state prison.

No accurate description of the men has been obtained, but in a general way it is said they resemble the three convicts. A close check of the incident will be made.

Jones' Eulogy Absurd.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—"Complimentary—with sincere sympathy to ye brave and noble victim of the system." This was the message written on a small white card attached to the lone floral piece that rested last night on the market of "Oregon" Jones, slain desperado, just before his body left Salem for Grants Pass where it will be buried. The message was signed by R. R. Graves, of Salem, whose name cannot be found in the city directory.

Jones' body was in charge of his brother, Dew Jones, of Portland.

Request Formalities.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—The coroner's investigation of the state prison delivery of Wednesday evening in which two guards, J. M. Holman and John Sweeney and an escaping convict, "Oregon" Jones, were killed, was begun here last night at the office of Coroner Lloyd T. Rigdon.

After establishing the identity of the dead men and the manner and cause of their deaths, the inquest was adjourned until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

James W. Lewis, former warden of the state prison and now a Marion county deputy sheriff, formally identified Sweeney, whom he had known for 39 years. Edwin Jacobson of Portland identified Holman. He was Holman's brother-in-law. Dew Jones of Portland, a brother of the dead desperado, identified Oregon Jones.

Dr. W. Carlton Smith described the wounds received by the two guards and Dr. G. E. Prime those received by Jones.

Murray Alone Has Nerve.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—"We've done a terrible thing; we've killed a man."

These words were said to have been muttered over and over by Ellsworth Kelly, one of the escaped convicts from the Oregon penitentiary, as he and his two companions, Tom Murray and James Willos, fled through the state hospital grounds Wednesday evening after having slain John Sweeney and J. M. Holman, guards at the state prison, and after losing their fourth member, "Oregon" Jones.

Kelly was said to be in a highly nervous condition. He was the last to leave the prison yard, and is believed to have run down the stairs from guard post number 1, while the other two men leaped to the ground.

Prison men believe Willos would cringe if he got into a gun fight in the open, but Murray, it is believed, would fight to the death. Zina Zinn, the taxicab driver, whom the three men compelled to drive them into the country, says that Murray was boastful. One remark said to have been made by the convict was:

"I sure got one of them. I shot him right between the eyes."

Some way the report has got out that the four convicts had agreed mutually to kill any of their number who might be seriously wounded. Just how the report got out is not known.

That "Oregon" Jones was wielding a knife as well as a gun is indicated by post mortem evidence. A knife cut in the right shoe of Holman, one of the dead guards, and a corresponding cut in the foot caused considerable speculation until a search of the pockets of Oregon Jones was made. On his body was found a horn-handled knife, with double edged blade, and blood along one of the edges. The knife was open in his pocket.

Klamath Trio Not Convicted.—KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Aug. 15.—If the three men who held up and kidnaped G. A. Hayes, night man in an electric shop, here early this morning were the three escaped convicts—Murray, Kelly and Willos—the leaders of the fugitives, Tom Murray, and James Willos—the three escaped desperados from the state prison, has staged a remarkable recovery from the gunshot wounds he sustained on the night of his escape. In the opinion of police officers, who were conducting a probe of the holdup this morning.

Hayes, the victim, pointed to a newspaper photograph of Murray and partially identified him as the leader of the trio of bandits. It was Murray, he said, who took the lead. It was Murray who shoved a nickel-plated revolver in his stomach. The men he identified as Murray showed no evidence of having been wounded, he said.

Later this morning Hayes was not so certain in his identification, and police authorities were inclined to the belief that the three men are the same bandits who have been staging holdups on the highways near Klamath Falls and even on the city streets during the past several weeks.

A peace officer expressed belief that they are the same trio who robbed six bank houses at the Ewasun logging camp earlier this week.

It was also pointed out that the three men showed a familiarity with their surroundings at the electric shop where Hayes was robbed.

"I haven't any money," protested the night man.

"Aw, we know there's money here and we're going to get it," the leader of the trio countered, as he forced Hayes into the office and compelled him to open the cash register. In spite of the improbability that the bandits are the escaped convicts, sheriff's deputies and other peace officers are conducting a search for the bandits, on the theory that they might possibly be the escaped convicts.

Searching At Random.—SILVERTON, Ore., Aug. 15.—Possession seeking Tom Murray, Ellsworth Kelly and James Willos, convicts, who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary at Salem Wednesday night, today were still running down reports of suspects seen at various places while a strong cord was guarding a canyon near here in which officers believe the fugitives took refuge.

Warden Remains At Desk.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—Warden Dyalpym has scarcely left his office since the prison delivery of Wednesday evening, but declares that his proper place is at his desk where by telephone he can give such directions to the manhunters as are possible to give. The warden did not leave the office today to attend the funeral of J. M. Holman, slain guard, who was a brother of the warden's wife.

"It would be a pleasure to me," said the warden, "to take a gun and go and help scour the country. It wouldn't be as hard work and as nerve wracking as it is to sit here, but there are men in the field who are just as capable for that work as I am, and I couldn't improve the situation any. Besides some one has to be here all the time. There are 500 prisoners here and some of them are just as bad as those who got away. We might have another break at any time."

Telephone calls that poured into the office from the out-countrys the night and day after the break have come in the very line "interruptions." The warden attributes this to the fact that the hunters lose their "pep" when the trail becomes cold. Still he insists that there has been no relaxing of vigilance, that he believes all points where the convicts could possibly be in hiding are being combed and that all avenues of escape are being guarded.

Watch—Waiting Policy.—"The passes through the mountains are being watched," the warden said, "but I am not informed who is doing it. As for roads entering cities and towns in all directions from Salem, I am relying on the local officers. They never have faltered in their vigilance and I am sure they are on the job now. Bridges are being taken care of by the state traffic squad."

Governor Burns said today that he had not advised Dyalpym as to whether he should go into the field, but was allowing the warden to use his own discretion. "The question is too silly to talk about," said the governor.

It has been the practice of many former wardens to participate personally in many manhunts. Former Warden Lawson is said to have been killed by Otto Hooker, an escaped convict, while chasing Hooker in Lin county. Warden Stevens Lewis and Compton engaged in manhunts; the latter and other officers killing a convict who was hiding in a cabin in Clatsop county.

Murray Aid Story Disproved.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—The "news" that Murray was rescued by the "news" yesterday by hiding in the rear of an automobile driven through Salem by a woman was apparently exploded late this morning when Mrs. Rex King came forward and admitted that she was the driver of the car which was yesterday suspected of containing the notorious outlaw. She had her husband in the auto, she stated, and was taking him to Waco, where his mother lives.

Mrs. King, as well as her husband, is known in Salem.

Funeral of Slain Guards.—SALEM, Aug. 15.—Funeral services for J. M. Holman and John Sweeney were held here today. Some 200 friends and relatives attended the services of each of the men who were slain in Wednesday evening's outbreak from the state penitentiary here. Holman's remains were sent to Dallas for burial. Sweeney's body is to be laid to rest in the City View cemetery here.

LOCAL NEWS

From Garden Valley—

Fred Parrott of Garden Valley motored here yesterday and spent several hours attending to business matters.

In For Day—

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ramp returned to their home at Dixonville yesterday afternoon after spending the day here on business.

To Visit Here—

Mrs. J. L. Hudson has as weekend guest her mother, Mrs. Mary Thompson, of Portland, who arrived here this morning.

From Dillard—

Among the out of town visitors to transact business in Roseburg for several hours yesterday was T. B. Evans of Dillard.

To Glendale—

Joseph Clougherty returned to Glendale this morning after spending several days attending to business matters and visiting friends here.

From Winchester—

Mrs. G. W. Gilham and family and Miss Nadine Elterbury, of Winchester, spent the day here visiting friends and shopping.

From Oakland—

Mr. and Mrs. George Carlyle returned to their home at Oakland yesterday evening after spending the afternoon here on business.

Itvits, who had been employed as an attendant at the state hospital, had been negotiating with other similar institutions along the coast for a position for some time, as is substantiated by telegrams on file at the state hospital. On the day of the escape he received a wire from a California institution calling him to a position. He informed the superintendent here that he was quitting the following evening, but was told his services here would terminate that day, and was given a warrant for his accumulated wages.

Itvits took the warrant to the state treasurer's office and cashed it, which, with other money he had, accounted for the $450 he said the convicts took from him, later returning $40.

After cashing his warrant Itvits walked down town and hired Zina Zinn to take him out to the hospital after his belongings.

Warden Remains At Desk.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—Warden Dyalpym has scarcely left his office since the prison delivery of Wednesday evening, but declares that his proper place is at his desk where by telephone he can give such directions to the manhunters as are possible to give. The warden did not leave the office today to attend the funeral of J. M. Holman, slain guard, who was a brother of the warden's wife.

Searching At Random.—SILVERTON, Ore., Aug. 15.—Possession seeking Tom Murray, Ellsworth Kelly and James Willos, convicts, who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary at Salem Wednesday night, today were still running down reports of suspects seen at various places while a strong cord was guarding a canyon near here in which officers believe the fugitives took refuge.

Warden Remains At Desk.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—Warden Dyalpym has scarcely left his office since the prison delivery of Wednesday evening, but declares that his proper place is at his desk where by telephone he can give such directions to the manhunters as are possible to give. The warden did not leave the office today to attend the funeral of J. M. Holman, slain guard, who was a brother of the warden's wife.

Warden Remains At Desk.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—Warden Dyalpym has scarcely left his office since the prison delivery of Wednesday evening, but declares that his proper place is at his desk where by telephone he can give such directions to the manhunters as are possible to give. The warden did not leave the office today to attend the funeral of J. M. Holman, slain guard, who was a brother of the warden's wife.

Warden Remains At Desk.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—Warden Dyalpym has scarcely left his office since the prison delivery of Wednesday evening, but declares that his proper place is at his desk where by telephone he can give such directions to the manhunters as are possible to give. The warden did not leave the office today to attend the funeral of J. M. Holman, slain guard, who was a brother of the warden's wife.

Warden Remains At Desk.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—Warden Dyalpym has scarcely left his office since the prison delivery of Wednesday evening, but declares that his proper place is at his desk where by telephone he can give such directions to the manhunters as are possible to give. The warden did not leave the office today to attend the funeral of J. M. Holman, slain guard, who was a brother of the warden's wife.

Warden Remains At Desk.—SALEM, Ore., Aug. 15.—Warden Dyalpym has scarcely left his office since the prison delivery of Wednesday evening, but declares that his proper place is at his desk where by telephone he can give such directions to the manhunters as are possible to give. The warden did not leave the office today to attend the funeral of J. M. Holman, slain guard, who was a brother of the warden's wife.

From Glide—

Joe DeBernardi motored from Glide yesterday and spent several hours attending to business matters.

Bacons In—

Mr. and Mrs. George Bacon returned to their home at Looking Glass yesterday afternoon after visiting and transacting business here.

In Yesterday—

George Hutchings motored from Looking Glass yesterday and spent several hours looking after business matters here.

Picking bags at Wharton Bros.

Ben Nichols, prominent Riddle resident, is spending several hours in Roseburg today attending to business matters.

Operation This Morning—

Mrs. F. Featers of this city, derwent an operation at the Eugene Hospital, Eugene this morning, with Dr. Neal in attendance.

From Portland—

United States District Attorney George Neuner arrived here this morning to spend the week-end visiting and attending to legal matters.

At Eugene—

Dr. E. J. Waincott will return here this afternoon from Eugene where he attended with Dr. Neal, the operation of Mrs. Frank Featers.

Heat with gas.

From Dixonville—Among those from Dixonville to motor here yesterday and spend the afternoon visiting friends and attending to business matters were Mr. and Mrs. Theron Cannon.

Arandel, piano tuner. Phone 159-L

Mrs. Wimberly Leaving—

Mrs. Lee Wimberly, who has been a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Britt Nichols, for the past several weeks, leaves tonight for Grants Pass, where she will visit before continuing on her way home to Los Angeles.

Sheep Are Sold—

George Ward and E. F. Rohr, local sheep buyers, have sold 600 head of breeding ewes to Hayes brothers of Myrtle Point. The ewes are to be gathered in Roseburg and will be driven through to Myrtle Point the first of the week.

Tells Of Pioneer Days.—In a series of articles appearing in his "Impressions and Observations" column in the Portland Journal, Fred Lockley is giving the life story of Judge Riddle, commandant of the Oregon State Soldiers Home. Mr. Lockley's stories of the early pioneer life in this section of the state are very interesting and he has unearthed some facts heretofore unknown concerning the settlement days in southern Oregon. Judge Riddle is perhaps one of the best informed pioneers of the state, being gifted with the faculty of retaining that which he has proved instructive to those desiring to learn more of the times when the Indians roamed the pasture lands of this great state.

Appointment Game Wardens.—Six new deputy state game wardens, each armed with a roving commission, have been appointed by Warden Averill and these officers will travel in various parts of the state to make arrests for game law violation, according to word received here from the state game commission. Douglas county will probably be visited by some of this "flying squad" and they will not regard it as their duty to stop at any place where they are long enough to become known to violators. Pack outfits will be provided for the deputies. Reports have come to Warden Averill that in certain sections it is extremely difficult to apprehend persons hunting in closed season because the district wardens are known and the violators are tipped off by various means before the wardens have come close to them.

Two-Mile Trotting Mark Broken After 15 Years.—CLEVELAND, Aug. 15.—Peter Danning, driven by Lon McDonald, clipped five seconds off the two mile trotting record at North Randall track today, making the distance in 4:10.1, the first mile in 2:05 2-5. The former record was 4:15 1-2 held by The Harvester, made at Lexington, Ky., in 1910.

Bemis to Sing Prologue to Feature Photoplay.—Harold Bemis, "The Boy with the Golden Voice," has been engaged by Manager Goux of the Antlers Theatre to sing the prologue for the feature photoplay "Scarlet West," which is to be shown on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Bemis is well known to Roseburg audiences, who always delight to hear him sing.

Demand

IN the early days of the telephone, when the 16-mile circuit from Boston to Salem was the longest in existence, an old lady visited the Boston exchange and asked for a connection to Chicago so she could talk with her son.

The need for voicing thought to far-away places began with the nation's expanding activities. Long before the telephone art permitted it, long distance service was demanded. A national service was, from the beginning, the beacon of the telephone's founders, and the inspiration of the scientists and engineers whose achievements gradually overcame the obstacles to the transmission of human speech.

These conquered, national expansion has more and more been made possible, and the uncertainties of separation have diminished. Today any community in America can talk with any other so promptly and satisfactorily that men have difficulty in imagining a time when universal service was an ideal yet to be reached.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company
BELL SYSTEM
One Policy - One System - Universal Service

Today's Markets

PORTLAND, Aug. 15.—Cattle—receipts for the week totaled 3975 cattle and 575 calves. Compared with week ago: Most classes around steady with spots 25c lower grade steers; veal calves steady to 50 cents higher; week's bulk prices, beef steers to killers $6.50 to $8; considerable movement of light fresh kinds to the country at $5 to $6.25; cows and heifers mostly $5.50 to $5; scattering sales of cows up to $5.75 and heifers up to $6.75; canners and cutters $2 to $3; bulls mostly $3 to $3.50; a few at $4; bulk milk veal calves $10.50 to $12; thin vealers and weighty calves $6.50 to $9.

Wool—receipts for week totaled $23.39 head, compared week ago; butchers 15 to 25c higher; slaughter pigs 25 to 50c higher; feeder pigs 50 to 75c higher.

Weeks bulk prices: Desirable weight butchers $15.35 to $15.50; one choice deck load each at $15.60 and $15.65; heavies and underweights $15.25 down; packing sows $11 to $12; slaughter pigs $14.50 to $15; feeder pigs $15 to $15.25.

Sheep—receipts for the week totaled 4330 head. Compared week ago: valley lambs 25c higher; yearlings and ewes 50c higher; bulk market valley lambs for week $12 to $12.25; others $11 to $11.75; culls $9; Mt. Adams lambs absent, best yearling $8 to $8.50.

warehouses. Growers report the yield about up to average with little or no carry-over in this state. They have been offered 18 cents, but are holding for 20 cents or better.

Little change is shown in local wool market for week. Trading is quiet. One lot of approximately 100,000 pounds at Condon sold early in the week at 55 to 58 1/2 cents.

Cantaloupes and water melons are almost given away in the local produce market. Home grown stocks are coming in from every direction, declines have been dramatic this week and buyers could pick up melons at their own price.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—Wheat: hard white, blue stem, baart, western white $1.54; soft white $1.55; hard winter, northern spring $1.52; western red $1.48; B. B. H. hard white $1.56.

Terminal Beauty Shop, phone 556.

WOMAN RECOVERS FROM 100-FT. FALL INTO ICE CREVICE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
BEND, Ore., Aug. 15.—Miss Francis Richardson of Bend, who suffered cuts and bruises as a result of falling nearly 100 feet into a crevice on Bachelor Mountain Thursday, was sufficiently recovered this morning to be able to leave her home.

Miss Richardson and some companions were seeking an easy way down the mountain and had descended about one third of the way when her foot slipped and she fell headlong into an ice crevice, stopping on the brink of a drop into deep rushing snow water. She was brought to safety by Leslie Lloyd forestlookout, of Bachelor mountain who witnessed the accident from his post.

PATENT CAUSE OF ACTION AGAINST HENRY FORD'S CO.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 15.—The Ford Motor company is infringing on patents for automobile transmission bands, the Park and Bohne, Inc., of St. Louis, declares in a bill of complaint filed in United States district court. The latter concern seeks an injunction and an accounting of profits it lost and damage suffered as a result of the alleged infringement.

The plaintiff says that in 1916, Thomas Locke White, of Idaho City, Ida., invented improvements on transmission bands and was granted two patents which later passed under control of the local company, engaged in the manufacture and sale of automobile parts.

The petition states the invention met with popular approval and there was a heavy public demand for the bands. The Ford concern is specifically charged with knowing they contrived to deprive the St. Louis firm of the profits which would accrue to it under the invention by unlawfully manufacturing and selling transmission bands containing principles of the invention.

ORGANIZE FOR CONFERENCE.—W. L. Trench, of the Oregon Agricultural college, who has charge of the organization work for the county agricultural conference, to be held in November, arrived here today to confer with County Agent Cooney, and to spend a short time making preparations for the gathering here. A complete check and survey of all products is now underway by Wm. Milligan, who is obtaining some interesting facts and figures.

BASKET BALL MENTOR DEAD.—WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 15.—Joseph Fogarty, Jr., Yale basketball coach and nationally known authority on basket ball, died at the Williamsport hospital this afternoon.

TURNED DOWN BY U. S., SCOTT SAYS GERMANY FOR HIM

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The navy department probably will not grant the request of Edward W. Scott for the use of some of its equipment on which to demonstrate the effectiveness of a new destructive force he claims to have invented.

A letter received at the department today from Scott, asked the use of a dozen airplanes and one or two old battleships, but because of the lack of information concerning the invention the request could not be heeded.

Scott has been quoted as denying that his invention is a death ray, but intimating that it involved the use of ultra violet or infra red rays with a destructive force possible at a distance of several miles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Edwin R. Scott said today that if the United States government refuses to cooperate with him in demonstrating the efficacy of his "death ray" in the form of "canal lightning" he would turn to some foreign power, probably Germany, for assistance.

"I shall not temporize with government authorities in this matter," Scott declared. "If I cannot obtain the cooperation which I seek at home, then I shall look elsewhere, albeit reluctantly."

PREMIUM LIST OUT.—The committee in charge of preparing the premium list for the land and home products show, has completed its work. The list is now in the hands of the printers, and copies will be available for distribution Monday. It is expected The list will contain all classifications and prices in each.

Results are what count and you'll get 'em with News-Review classified ads.

