AGREEMENT WITH BELGIUM ON WAR DEBT IN PROSPECT

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 17.—President Coolidge expects an agreement to be reached, probably tomorrow, on terms of refunding Belgium's debt to the United States.

An official statement, issued after the president had discussed the situation for two hours today with Secretary Mellon and Senator Smoot of Utah, said "final agreement was in sight, and that no deadlock had developed."

The following statement in the president's handwriting was given to newspapermen at noon:

"Secretary Mellon and Senator Smoot have reported to the president the details of the Washington conference. The progress is satisfactory.

"No deadlock has developed. The secretary and senator came to inform the president of the proposals before making the final agreement. The conference will re-convene Tuesday, when it is expected a final agreement may be reached, after which a full and complete statement will be given to the press by the American commission."

FUGITIVE IS KILLED BY ELKTON DEPUTY

from Mrs. Binder.

When young Binder held out his hand as a signal for Grubbe's car to halt, the Goforth brothers sensed the trap immediately and, leaping out, started on a run to a wayside field, giving no heed to Grubbe's repeated commands to "halt." Grubbe was armed with a rifle and his son with a double barrel shotgun. With these weapons they fired at the fleeing pair, aiming purposely over their heads the officer states. Neither of the two shotgun loads touched either fugitive. They had leaped two fences and had just reached a small elevation preparatory to leaping a third fence, according to the officer's story, when he fired a fourth time from his rifle. This shot sent the messenger of death. The bullet struck W. D. Goforth in the back under the left shoulder and lodged just under the skin about 2 inches above the left nipple. The other fugitive immediately checked his flight and submitted to arrest without resistance.

Ride to Roseburg Futile

Intent on securing medical aid for the wounded man as quickly as possible, the officer and the others present placed him in Binder's car and started with him for Roseburg. At Elkton the briefest possible stop was made to replenish the car's supply of gas and oil. At Drain there was another short stop to secure temporary medical attention from Dr. Bertha Devore, who rode the rest of the way to Roseburg with the party and rendered such relief to Goforth as the circumstances permitted. When the automobile was halted in front of the offices of Dr. E. B. Stewart, in this city, however, Goforth had just breathed his last. Considering the nature of his wound, his loss of blood had been slight, indicating that during the journey to this city he had succumbed to a hemorrhage.

Told by Doctor Devore that the wounded man had died, his brother immediately got out of the car without comment and disappeared at a rapid gait around the nearest corner. This was about 9 o'clock in the forenoon, two hours approximately after the shooting occurred.

Takes Up Chase

W. A. Lovelace, proprietor of a merchandise store in Reedsport where the trio purchased a large supply of goods which caused the issuance of the warrants, accompanied the wounded man and his brother to Roseburg yesterday morning, following their capture below Elkton. Mr. Lovelace had been following the men since Friday night and stated that the last trace of them he had found before their apprehension by Binder, was at Burchard's ranch. Burchard's place is located four miles from Scottsburg. Mr. Burchard saw the men and thinking they were relatives approached them. When they saw him coming towards them they ran, crossing the road at Burchard's creek. They stayed along the river all that day.

Mr. Lovelace states that the men purchased suits, trunks and all sorts of clothing amounting to approximately $900 from his establishment, making the promise that they would call Saturday morning about ten o'clock and settle the account. In addition to the merchandise they had $700 in stumpage cash. The brother who escaped here was said to have had a roll of cash totaling about $1900. This sum of money was drawn from their account in the Reedsport bank Friday morning.

Third Man a Brother

Mr. Lovelace stated that the third man, who is missing and who goes under the name of Brown was alleged to have been a brother of the Goforths. In explaining the reason for assuming the name of Brown, the brothers explained that he had had considerable domestic trouble and in order to avoid his wife had dropped his true name.

It is said that the Goforths and Brown had several serious quarrels at the Walker place where they were engaged in peeling chittim bark. In these fights it seemed that the Goforths always stood against Brown and this gives rise to the theory that the two brothers might have done away with the third man and taken his money. The officers are inclined to believe that the name "Goforth" is a crude alias, being used to cover up their past records.

Shipped Goods South

It is known that early last week the brothers shipped the large supply of merchandise they purchased to another brother located in Sacramento, California. The officers immediately wired the officials in that city to shadow the man who receives the goods and it is also very possible that the one who escaped here will eventually make his way to that city and show up at the address shown on the freight shipment.

Another clew is being followed up also which may lead to the location of the missing man, Brown. On Thursday evening the Nash sedan driven by the Goforths, left Reedsport and was ferried across at Scottsburg. Dave Riley, the ferryman, states that the car was loaded with baggage and he believes a third man, occupied the rear seat. On Friday morning the car returned to Reedsport minus the baggage and occupied only by the two Goforths.

Mr. Lovelace could not explain how the Goforths came into possession of the Nash car which they were driving. They left Reedsport about July 4th and returned a few days later with the auto. It was a used car, bearing auto license number 191151. The car may have been stolen by them and the officers are following up that lead.

"We don't make our living entirely by selling electric bars," said one of the Goforths at the time of the purchase of the goods from Mr. Lovelace. They left the impression that this was only a sideline and that they had plenty of money to pay their bills. However, J. H. Goforth, the one who escaped here, told Mr. Lovelace that they had planned to "beat" their bills all the time and had so arranged their getaway from Reedsport in the night. He made this statement on the way to this city with his wounded brother.

Returns to Brother

After his brother had been shot down, he was in a state of excitement. When his brother fell mortally wounded, he was several yards ahead of him, running swiftly and about to make good his escape. His wounded brother yelled and he immediately wheeled around and ran back, picked the boy up in his arms and started to sob. He did not appear angry and spoke no evil towards the officers responsible for his death. Ed Grubbe, the deputy whose shot brought Goforth down, said that the brothers engaged in a confidential conversation while the wounded man was on the ground. During this time it is believed that the injured one passed his wad of currency to his brother for keeping. At any rate, two large rolls of cash were noted on the person of the brother just before he disappeared here. During the speedy trip to Roseburg, they held a whispered conversation.

Dr. Bertha Devore, of Drain, administered a hypodermic stimulant to the man upon his arrival there and attended him during the trip to Roseburg. She states that he was pulseless when examined at Drain and that his heart beat was very faint.

Younger Goforth Sought

At an early hour this morning no trace had been found of the younger Goforth, who slipped away yesterday immediately following information that his brother had succumbed to bullet wounds received during his attempted escape.

Deputy Sheriff W. C. Grubbe, of Reedsport, who held the warrant for the arrest of the two brothers, described the man who is now at large as a thin-faced, sharp nosed young man with a haggard face and drawn expression which belied his age, making him appear more advanced in years than he actually is. He was wearing a pair of brown one-piece coveralls.

"When we arrived in town at about 9:30," said the deputy this morning, "we were discussing taking the dead man to the coroner's office, when I missed his brother. He had just stepped back a little way and I had missed him for only a matter of seconds. Our car was parked near the corner of Main and Oak streets. I asked the driver what had become of the man and he said he had just slipped around the corner.

"I rushed around the corner and not seeing him went on up to Jackson street. I heard the bell of an engine ringing in the yards and was afraid a train was leaving and that he might make his escape so I tried to notify the railroad. I don't believe, however, that he boarded a train."

A thorough search of rooming houses and restaurants proved futile. Officers were of the opinion that he might have gone to get something to eat or some rest, since he had neither since Thursday night.

The mother of the Goforth brothers is reported to be residing in Kelso, Washington, and will be notified of the death of her son, probably claiming the body as soon as a coroner's jury has completed the inquest, which is being held this afternoon.

Railway officials in California points have been notified to stop shipment of goods alleged to have been sent by the Goforth brothers, and they will be held pending the outcome of the case.

District Attorney Guy Cordon has instigated an intensive search throughout this section this morning for the escaped man and the sheriff's office is making every effort to find traces of him. Sheriff Starmer returned to the city this morning and will immediately organize the search.

No definte idea has yet been given out regarding the probable point for which Goforth is headed other than to get anywhere out of reach of officers.
