STRIKEBREAKERS ARE TARGETS FOR BRICKS AND CLUBS

ZEIGLER, Ill., Aug. 21.—Two persons were slightly injured and several automobiles were battered by flying bricks and clubs today as approximately 150 miners passed a picket line at the Bell and Zoller mine No. 1, here, where a "wildcat" strike is in progress. Guns were in evidence, but no shots were fired. Most of the miners got safely past the barrage of missiles and went to work in the mine. About 200 men composed the picketing party. Sheriff Henry Dorris at Benton hastily summoned every available deputy and constable to have them at the shaft at 3 o'clock this afternoon to protect them when they quit work. The streets here today were crowded and the feeling was tense. Assistant Sheriff Carlos Black at Springfield was notified of the outbreak, but no troops were asked. F. Kendrick, a miner, was treated at the Zeigler hospital for an injury. An unidentified woman was injured.

SITUATION COUNTY SCHOOLS GOOD, SAYS SUPERINTENDENT

"School affairs are traveling in good shape in general," said Mrs. Edith S. Ackert, county school superintendent, this morning in discussing the school situation preceding the opening of schools next month. "I think the state superintendent would find conditions good in his survey of the work here," she added. Several schools are to open on August 31, and others not until the first Monday in October, depending upon the harvest of the fruit crop and the county, she stated. No definite report has been made upon the employment of teachers to fill vacancies, although it is understood that there are still a number of positions left open. Clerk's books for last year are all audited and are being sent out this week. The work was finished on August 15, as had been planned.

WEST FRATERNITY DELEGATES FOR FRATERNITY DELEGATES

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—An exhibition drill by cadets at the United States Military Academy at West Point, will be given for the benefit of visiting delegates to the triennial Phi Beta Kappa convention to be held in New York City, September 8 to 10, the arrangements committee has announced. A steamboat will carry the delegates up the Hudson river to West Point. Among the business matters to come before the delegates, representing the 99 chapters of the organization, are applications for new charters from Agnes Scott College, University of South Carolina, College of Wooster, University of South Dakota, Occidental College, University of Idaho, University of Kentucky and the University of the South. Arrangements also will be made for the sequel-convention to be held next year in honor of the original chapter which was established in 1776 at the College of William and Mary. The organization has included 57,761 members, of whom more than 49,000 are living.

REPORT MADE TO ASSIST YAKIMA VALLEY FARMERS. Copies of a report, the purpose of which is to assist the Yakima Valley farmers in planning good farm organization programs for the conditions existing on individual farms, especially those devoted largely to alfalfa and potatoes, are being distributed from the State College of Washington Experiment Station to cooperating farmers. The report is entitled "Good Farm Organization for the Yakima and Palouse Areas of the Yakima Valley, Washington." A summary of some of the more important results obtained from a farm management study of this particular area, which was conducted cooperatively by the Experiment Station of the State College and the Bureau of Plant Industry and Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is contained in the report. From an analysis of the information collected cooperatively by the Experimental conditions in the region, certain conclusions are drawn which will assist the farmers in the Yakima valley section in obtaining better incomes from their farms. A more complete report will be published in bulletin form by the U. S. Department of Agriculture later.

MARSTON UNLUCKY IN QUEST FOR AMATEUR GOLF CROWN

OAKMONT, Pa., Aug. 21.—Maxwell B. Marston of Philadelphia became amateur golf champion of the United States in 1923 after eight years of competing in the event. Today he is an uncertain factor in the coming championship at the Oakmont Country Club course. Marston is a most interesting linkman. There was a time when he used a long sweep of the club on the shortest pitches with remarkable accuracy but in recent years he has changed the style somewhat, until it more nearly approaches that of other golfers of note. Bob Gardner, veteran Chicagoan, has been Marston's nemesis in the search for the amateur crown, eliminating him in the early rounds and semi-finals three successive times. Last year at Marlon he progressed to the semi-finals, putting C. O. Holset of Ireland, J. Wood Blair and Dexter Cummings on the way, but he played poorly against George Von Elm and was beaten, 7 and 6.

GERMANY FINDS COTTON SUBSTITUTE

REULINGEN, Germany, Aug. 21.—Cutting the import of cotton into Germany by half may result from a new method of weaving cloth with hemp, invented by the German textile expert, Dr. Gminder. The hemp, it is expected, will replace in part the cotton formerly used in the cloth. There are about 5,000,000 acres of hemp planted in Germany adapted to the raising of hemp.

BOOTLEGGERS BROOM'S CAR SOLD BY LANE SHERIFF

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 21.—At the auction today of the Buick automobile of Mark Broom, which was ordered confiscated as a transport of liquor, Arthur Morris was given the machine on a bid of $910. Sheriff Frank E. Taylor held the sale. An appeal to the supreme court against the decree of the circuit court ordering the confiscated car to be sold by Paul Dormitzer, attorney for Mark Broom. No bond was filed with this appeal, it is reported at the sheriff's office. The purchaser at the sale today has a clear title to the car by order of the court, according to Sheriff Taylor.

PORTLANDER ENDS LIFE BY LEAP OUT OF TALL BUILDING

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 21.—Charles A. Meissner, 20, a nephew of John A. Meissner, who has a real estate office at 821 Gasco building here, committed suicide some time last night by leaping from one of the windows of the Gasco building into the light shaft between the structure and an adjoining building. "Excuse — excessive headaches and ill-health," was the message scribbled on a card bearing his name and address. Windows on the shaft were open on the sixth and seventh floor, indicating that he may have plunged from either. The body was discovered this morning by a shipping clerk and examination indicated Meissner had been dead several hours. The body was mangled almost beyond recognition by the fall. Meissner recently came here from Los Angeles. The coroner's office later reported finding traces of poison on the lips of the dead man. Meissner was the son of Ernest Meissner of Colony, Kansas. He had been here visiting his uncle, John Meissner, for the past few weeks. Heat with gas.

SOUTHERN OREGON ADVENTISTS TO MEET AT JACKSONVILLE

A meeting of the constituency of the Southern Oregon Conference of Seventh Day Adventists has been called by the president, J. S. Rouse to convene at Jacksonville, Jackson county, August 28-30 inclusive, to consider the question of location for the Southern Oregon Academy. At the camp-meeting held in Sutherlin late in May and first of June, the St. John place of 43 acres near Sutherlin was selected as the site for the academy. However, after the officials of the conference had gone over the proposition, it was thought the place selected was not adapted to requirements of the school so the proposition was abandoned. Since that time a committee of several gentlemen has been examining into the merits of various sites offered. This committee has visited in Lane, Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties in the endeavor to find just the spot that would most adequately meet the demands of a school farm. The proposition was put up to the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce, the Medford chamber and other bodies, and similar inquiries. Some very desirable properties in the vicinity of Roseburg, Sutherlin, Oakland and other places in Douglas county were visited. The Medford Chamber of Commerce, it is understood, has proposed to present the conference with an 80-acre tract near Jacksonville, and it is because of this fact that the meeting is called to convene at the county seat town of Jackson county, in order that the delegates may individually and collectively investigate the merits of the proposition and the nature of the soil, its adaptability to fruit growing and general farm products. All of the churches in the northern part of the conference are preparing to send delegations to the meeting, it is stated, and last night the Roseburg constituency selected a delegation of eight to attend, but whether the school will go to the southern county is problematical. The business headquarters for the conference, however, will be located at Eugene, and the records will be moved from Sutherlin in a few weeks to the northern city, property having been purchased there, it is stated, but this in no wise affects the academy. REPORT SHOWS 111 KILLED IN FIREWORKS ACCIDENTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(A. P.)—The results of a survey of casualties of this year's Fourth of July celebration by the American museum of safety and the national committee for the prevention of blindness, given out today, shows that 111 were killed and 1,630 injured. The analysis is made of reports from 500 cities in 35 states. A majority of the victims were children. Approximately 800 of the casualties occurred July 4, while more than 200 were recorded before and after Independence Day, some as early as June 24 and others as late as July 23. Only 30 of the casualties occurred in connection with public celebrations.

The reports give evidence of only 62 arrests. Of the 111 deaths, 37 of the victims, mostly children, lost their lives as a result of their clothing being ignited by so-called harmless sparklers. Six very young children are reported to have died of poisoning from eating firecrackers. The largest list of casualties was reported from St. Louis, where 73 persons were seriously hurt and 60 suffered minor injuries. A statement accompanying the report says: "The fact that in New York City among a population of more than six million there were only ten casualties and that in Chicago among a population of more than three million there were only sixteen casualties, is convincing evidence of the effectiveness of restrictive legislation, properly enforced."

The statement emphasizes that the study represents only a part of the actual sacrifice of life and limb as no reports were received from 12 states, including several in the south, where few restrictions are placed on the sale and use of fireworks.

BOOTLEGGERS BROOM'S CAR SOLD BY LANE SHERIFF

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 21.—At the auction today of the Buick automobile of Mark Broom, which was ordered confiscated as a transport of liquor, Arthur Morris was given the machine on a bid of $910. Sheriff Frank E. Taylor held the sale. An appeal to the supreme court protests from all over the state come to the State Market Agent's office," says C. E. Spence. "One received the first of the month from a Portland lady, stating she was a member of the Housewives' Council, enclosing an English market report printed in a Toronto paper, which quoted the following prices of bacon in London: Danish 23 to 25c; American 21 to 22c; Irish 24 to 25c. The lady wanted to know why our bacon was sold at this price, after the expense of shipping it two thousand miles, while the price in Portland was 36 to 40c. She was referred to the meat packers."

Half Million Loss Yearly. On the Cadis Bros. farm, one mile west of Hikerall, there is now in operation a grain cleaner, which the Portland office of the federal grain investigation department wishes that grain growers who can, would see in operation. The cleaner is called a "grain aspirator" and it will clean any grain of weed seeds or light foreign material. It is inexpensive, light, can be attached to any standard thrasher and it requires but little power for operation.

Federal statistics state that in 1923 approximately 475,000 bushels of dockage were produced in Washington, Idaho and Oregon. This great volume of screenings was shipped into the terminals with the wheat; freight was paid on it, handling costs and insurance were added, and it was a total loss. Kept on the farm the screenings have feed value and marketing costs are greatly reduced.

Cadle Bros. are now threshing and it will be worth the while of any grain grower or buyer to investigate this machine with the view of reducing a great economic waste.

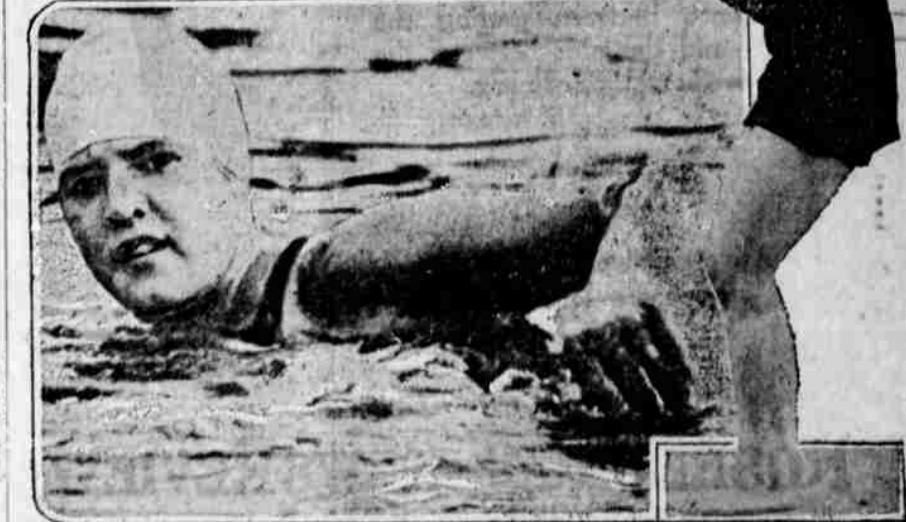

Fruit Prices Are Good. The extremely dry weather since June 1, together with a spring frost injury and the damage of last winter have considerably reduced the fruit production of Oregon, and because of the curtailment prices are good and growers are expecting fair prices. Pruned shipping organizations are applying rigid grading and inspection this year and they will make shipments systematically.

Moving to the Cities. Although the increase in population of the United States is over a million a year, last year two million people moved from the farms to the cities. Low returns and high taxes are the two reasons generally given. Government statistics state that farm wages in this country have increased over 200 per cent during the past fifty years, while taxes have far increased this ratio.

Potato Inspection Pays. Oklahoma is following Oregon and is working to standardize the potato industry. In 1924 there was no shipped-out stock inspected, while up to August 1 of this year nearly a thousand cars had been federal-state inspected and found ready markets outside. Standardization of nearly everything is demanded and it is those who get in early that get reputations and permanent markets.
