ROSEBURG, OREGON, SEPTEMBER 5, 1925.

THOSE WHO FALL BEHIND.

The philosophers tell people to cultivate contentment. But it is asked, how people can be contented, when they see themselves falling behind in the world, and finding it hard to obtain even the ordinary necessities of existence?

The election of Dr. Geo. E. Houck, mayor of Roseburg, to a vice-presidency of the public health league, organized at Medford this week, was highly appropriate.

Appalling as was the fate that befell the Shenandoah, one regards with almost equal horror the shameless vandalism and graft that followed at its heels.

The Oregon State Medical Society, in convention at Medford this week, inaugurated a war on the common cold, preceded by the assertion of one of its members that the malady cuts down the attendance at schools, thereby causing a loss of four per cent in school funds.

The workingmen—which includes all of us—will have a two-day session to rest up from their arduous duties. This makes a worth-while week-end vacation.

It is still safer to ride in one of Henry's little rigs than take to the air.

Take a good rest Labor Day—then labor on for another year.

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—Most any soap dealer will tell you that tonight is BATH NIGHT!

DUMBBELL DORA THINKS An apostrophe is something you win at a trap shoot.

We stopped at a fashion show at the Marksbury store yesterday eve and watched the models strut their stuff while many a devoted husband cringed behind an enthusiastic wife. Life is just one damned thing after another.

They are now callin' J. W. Perkins and Civil War golfer—out in 61 and back in 65.

The fellows of the country club will gather on the links Labor Day and cuss the world in general—which is a good way to keep Labor Day.

Durin' the weak end pedestrians certainly have a hard time gettin' along.

HIS REAL REMARK "Mr. Johnson," severely began the schoolmaster, "I am compelled to complain about the conduct of your son, Runt. Today when I told him to behave he replied that he would not be reprimanded by me."

"Replied—'p'ntu'—which?" puzzledly returned Gap Johnson, of Rumpus Ridge.

"Well, to be exact, he informed me that he wouldn't take no damn sass off'n no top-sared, pick-necked teacher, and—"

"Aw, that's all right, professor. From the way you talked in the first place I 'lowed he was losin' his mind, or something."

If some women do not have a sense of humor, how on earth did they ever pick out the funny things they permitted to lead them to the altar?

Years and years ago people got married for keeps.

MUSICAL NOTE The wealthy uncle was talking over the prospects of his nephew with the boy's mother.

"How is he doing with his studies?" "Oh, very well. He's very intelligent; he shows a great talent for music, and his manner is very haughty. His teacher thinks he will become a conductor!"

"Ah, indeed!" responded his uncle, "bus or trolley car?"

Young Wife (reading her new movie scenario): "Two burglars here enter the living hall and the clock strikes one."

Bored Husband: "Which one?" "Look here, Moss," said the white foreman of a gang of colored laborers, "every time I come around you're loafing. How does it happen I never find you at work?"

"Ah! tell you how come, boss. It's 'cause dem rubber heels of yourn don't make no noise a-tall."

VERY SIMPLE Aunt Helen—So you took your first dancing lesson today. Did you find it hard, dear?

Woe Nephew—No, Auntie; it's easy enough. All you have to do is to keep turnin' round and wipin' your feet.

There are no different grades of whiskey now. All whiskey these days is down grade.

Mrs. Grimsonbeak—See how nicely that team of horses goes along. Why can't man and wife trot along pleasantly like that?

Mr. Grimsonbeak—Well, you see there is only one tongue between those two horses.

LAMSON KNOCKED OUT BY HERMAN IN THIRTY SECONDS

PORTLAND, Sep. 5.—George Lamson, Indian heavyweight of Omaha, was knocked out by "Big" Herman of Portland before their scheduled ten-round bout was a half minute old last night.

Herman, with a terrific hook to the liver, followed by a right to the jaw, sent Lamson down for a count of seven. When Lamson got up, Herman with a smashing right to the face knocked him out in five minutes. Lamson weighed 182, Herman 215.

Orlo Robinson, of Portland, knocked out Danf Garib, of Denver, in the third round of the semi-windup.

Cal Herman of Salt Lake, won the decision, by a unanimous vote of the judges, over George Ingeroll, Astoria welterweight.

Broadcaster—Judge Jacob Kanzler, broadcasting announcement of annual reunion of the 91st (Wild West) division, late A. E. F.

Reunion to be held in Portland, Oregon, September 25, 26, 27, 1925.

A radio program that will remind every veteran of war-times in France.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5.—Powder River-r-r—whoop-e-e-ee-er-er-er!

They are going to Portland, by land, sea, and air, the doughboys of the 91st Division. Its Portland's turn at last.

Seattle has had 'em, and San Francisco, and Los Angeles. Now they are to hold their annual reunion in Oregon on the seventh anniversary of the opening of the Meuse-Argonne battle.

The veterans of Portland are ready for them with a real heman's program of entertainment. This will be Oregon's first chance to entertain the only combat division from the Pacific coast that fought as a unit, and won General Pershing's commendation, and was selected by him as one of two American divisions to fight with the armies of the King of Belgium in the last great drive.

They are going to Portland to meet, and slap, and greet, and dine as they did in that dear France apres la guerre.

They will fight again at Very Crossroads, capture Epsomville, Hanny woods, and wade thru the hell-fire at Gesnes, where so many doughboys laid down their lives. They will argue their way across and Ypres, take Spitaals Boven and Andenarde, and accompany King Albert once more on his triumphal re-entry into Brussels.

It is always a great party—the reunion anniversary of that cold, foggy morning when the 91st, in the center of an 18-mile American battle line, took the air against Fritz for the first time.

A million Yanks hit the line that morning, and the 91st, 20,000 strong, went over in the very center of the first wave. A lot of them went down, but the battle maps and the casualty rolls of the 1st Prussian Guards Division, and other German commands recorded to history what they accomplished.

A program as follows has been arranged for the annual reunion in Oregon.

Program: Sept. 25—Registration: 12-6 P. M. at the headquarters, Multnomah hotel.

6-8 P. M.—Unit dinners (The old outfit).

9-12 P. M.—Midnight vaudeville and French cabaret.

10:30-12 M.—Business meeting, Multnomah Hotel; selection of officers and next convention city.

12:30 P. M.—Luncheon for officers, past officers, and all delegates.

2 P. M.—Parade; all veterans organizations and units will be in line.

3-6 P. M.—Golf tournament. Trapshooting contest. Swimming contest. Multnomah A. C. Club; suitable prizes.

8 P. M.—Sixth annual banquet. Sept. 27—

9 A. M.—"40 or 8" train leaves Union station for Bonneville and Columbia river highway trip.

11 A. M. to 5 P. M.—Barbecue at Bonneville. Baseball: 181st vs. 182nd Brigade.

91st Division Theatrical Association in "How did they live to get back home?" Tag of war: Artillery vs. Infantry.

Consists of all kinds with prizes. Greased pig and pole. Grand championship.
