

BUY School Books NOW AND Supplies

Do not put off until the opening day of school the purchasing of the things you know you will need. Help us to make it easier to wait upon those who do wait until the last minute, to make the necessary purchases. We have on our shelves a complete stock of all texts to be used during the coming school year, both grammar grade and high school books.

A few of the texts will be changed this Fall, and those books which have been replaced can be turned in on the purchase price of new books. This must be done, however, before the opening day of school, as we cannot take the time then to make the exchanges. Below is a complete list of all grammar grade books as adopted by the state text book commission; together with list of supplies to be used in the various grades.

Again let us urge you to get your text books NOW. Out of town orders will be given prompt and careful attention.

Bandon People Visit—Mrs. W. O. Cordon and her daughter, had a narrow escape last night when their Dodge sedan was struck by a freight car at the Mosher street crossing. They started across the tracks failing to see two cars which were being "kicked in" on a siding. This crossing is dark and without question the most dangerous in the city, as there is no watchman and there are a number of tracks while switching is going on much of the time. Mrs. Cordon was almost across the track on which the cars were being shunted, when the rear end of her car was hit. The impact turned the machine parallel with the track, and it was dragged almost 100 feet before it struck a switch, which was demolished.

The strong framework of the sedan body saved both occupants from injury. The fenders and running board were torn off the left side of the car, and the body was slightly caved in.

1925 FALL FASHION REVUE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Fall Fashion Revue, which L. A. Goux, manager of the Antlers theatre, in conjunction with Roseburg merchants, will present at the Antlers Wednesday night only, promises to be one of the finest fashion shows Roseburg people have seen, and is drawing a great deal of interest.

Preceding the revue, there will be a showing of International News, a comedy, and several selections by the new orchestra, Roseburg Medallists, composed of Bert G. Bates, piano; Wm. Ott, violin; James Goodman, saxophone; Redford Tester, cornet; and Delaine Strader, drums. Miss Thelma Newhard will give the program to the fashion revue, after which a selection of Roseburg's prettiest girls will promenade and display many beautiful Coat, dress, hat and shoe models. After the ensemble, the feature photoplay, "Marry Me," will be shown. Miss Evelyn Quine will give a vocal solo, "Lovely Lady." The settings, which Mr. Goux ordered from San Francisco, will make an appropriate background for the showing of the latest creations, and furniture is being supplied by McKeen, Darby and Baldwin. Flowers will be furnished by The Fern.

The models will be Velma McDonald, Dorothy McDonald, and Dorothy Cordon, from Abraham's Silk Store; Donna Love, Mona Foster and Eva Vogelphol, from Bellet's Store company; Helen Virginia Yount from the Art and Baby Shop; Marion Porter, Lorlene Collee and Adelle Bemis, from Fishers; Clementine McReynolds, Doris Price and Dorothy Wilberg, from the J. KLAMATH SHEEP MAN ON TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 8.—Frank Way, Klamath sheep man, went on trial in the circuit court here today on a charge of first degree murder as the result of the death this summer of Timothy Murphy, another sheep man, following a reputed fight between the pair over the possession of a black sheep.

According to reports at the time of the fatality, the two men met under a blistering sun in the southern part of the county and fought it out with their two bare fists until Murphy dropped to the ground exhausted.

Way's story is that he then assisted Murphy to his horse. Murphy collapsed after he arrived at his own sheep camp and died from a skull fracture several hours later.

Marguerite de la Motte, who has the role of Esde in the visualization of A. S. M. Hutchinson's famous novel, "The Clean Heart," or "The Crucifixion of Life," which will be shown at the Majestic theatre tonight, portrays the part of a strange composite of genuine innocence and assumed sophistication.

The character plays opposite that impersonated by Percy Marmont and appears in the latter half of the production. She has some striking and dramatic sequences, especially those in which she flees from the hero and finally plunges several hundred feet over a cliff into the straining waters beneath.

COOLIDGE PLANS FARM RELIEF AND EXPENSE PRUNING

SWAMPSCOTT, Sep. 8.—Although President Coolidge expects his agricultural conference to convene to complete its survey and make recommendations to congress, this course probably will be pursued only in the event Secretary of Agriculture Jardine approves.

Mr. Coolidge has no information as to the views of Secretary Jardine, but he expects to confer with him late in the week. The president has suggested to Chairman Carey of the conference that he get in touch directly with Mr. Jardine.

Mr. Coolidge thinks that the conference should re-assemble and have its final report ready for congress by Thursday.

The conference before the close of the 68th congress in March submitted preliminary findings, chiefly recommendations for co-operative marketing legislation. President Coolidge is hopeful that at the congressional session a public buildings bill can be enacted, although he realizes there will be formidable opposition by some representatives and senators if specific provisions is not made for new structures in their districts and state. The president is particularly impressed with the necessity of providing additional public buildings in the District of Columbia to house activities now taken care of in rented quarters. He believes it an investment to cut down on rent by providing permanent buildings.

"The 'pork barrel' tendency, Mr. Coolidge, believes, is apparent to crop out in congress, working to the disadvantage of a bill designed to remedy conditions in the District of Columbia or any measure making a lump sum appropriation. A lump sum bill was passed by the house in the last session which Mr. Coolidge, it was said today, would have approved had the senate passed it.

The world proposal is gaining strength, the president believes, and is confident that affirmative action by the senate on a resolution on adherence will be obtained during the December session.
