He says that he will have a good crop, as the trees are bearing heavily this year and will be ready for picking the latter part of this week. Mr. Roberts made an examination of the orchard Sunday, and states that the prunes have not been cracked or split, and only a slight amount of brown rot was found.

AMERICA SPENDS MORE FOR AMUSEMENTS, HE SAYS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) OLYMPIA, Wash., Sep. 9.—America spends annually seventeen times as much money on amusements as is spent on homes, W. C. McCaw of Aberdeen, president of the Washington Savings and Loan league, told delegates to the 17th annual convention of the organization here today, notwithstanding the fact that savings and loans associations are rapidly increasing in membership and in financial resources.

This circumstance is due, he said, to the modern mode of living, in which artificial materialism such as the movies, dances, cards and automobiles keep both parents and children away from the home, resulting in an abandonment of simple recreation. Greater home ownership, he declared, would cure many of the present day evils especially with the rising generation, pointing out that delinquent children come in "overwhelming proportions" from rented homes and especially from apartment house homes.

Savings and loan associations are doing much to aid in home making, Mr. McCaw said, adding that six thousand homes had been built in this state during the year through their agency.

DEMANDS STATE AID.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) SALEM, Ore., Sep. 9.—Governor Pierce today received a letter from Elwood Meade, commissioner of the United States reclamation service, demanding an answer from the governor as to what he is going to do about state aid for the Warm Springs reclamation project at Vale. The governor would not make the letter public and said he would not do so until he prepares his answer. The governor would not indicate what the nature of his decision will be.

In return for federal aid the reclamation service demands that the state extend credit to settlers.

RELIGIOUS EDITOR IS CLEARED OF CHARGES

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) LANSING, Mich., Sep. 9.—Rev. William H. Phelps, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, was exonerated of the charges of heresy preferred against him by the Rev. Levi Bird, of Port Sanilac, Mich., by the investigating committee of the Michigan Methodist Episcopal church here today.

The charges against Dr. Phelps grew out of two recent editorials appearing in the Advocate. Heresy charges preferred by Dr. Bird against Rev. Lynn H. Hough, of Detroit, based on sermons recently delivered, will be taken up by an investigating committee to convene before the conference of the Detroit-area at Flint, Mich., September 16.

TO INVESTIGATE PLUMBING.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) SALEM, Ore., Sep. 9.—C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner today appointed Theodore M. Hart of Salem to represent him on a special committee of three to investigate the Portland plumbing system. The city of Portland will appoint a member and the two will select a third member. Portland has established the so-called loop vent system. If this is held to be of superior standard to the standard established by the state plumbing code adopted by the 1925 legislature, it will be approved. If inferior it will not be approved, said Gram.

FOUR ARE MISSING IN WENATCHEE FLOOD

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WENATCHEE, Wash., Sep. 9.—No more bodies have been found in the debris at the Great Northern terminal at Apple yard, swept by a flood resulting from a cloudburst in the mountains on Saturday. It was announced today. Three steam shovels and a large crew of men are working night and day to clear up the wreckage. Four persons are known to be missing. The work of clearing the debris was today taken over by the railroad and Chelan county as the result of an agreement reached with the county commissioners. The county has appropriated $1500 for the work, providing for a crew of fifty men.

CANNOT ACCEPT FORD AIR MAIL SERVICE OFFER WITHOUT BIDS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, Sep. 9.—Postmaster General New said today that the air mail service between Detroit and Chicago, utilizing the present Ford air service, would have to await formal advertising and award of an air mail contract for the route.

It is understood the Ford interests were desirous of furnishing that service immediately and at no cost to the government, but the postmaster-general was unable to accept any such concession.

"I spent yesterday morning in Detroit in conference with Mr. Ford and his assistants on the subject of air mail generally," said Mr. New today. They are much interested in the development of the science of aeronautics and transportation by air. The post office department most gladly welcomed the entrance of Mr. Ford to this field. What we have been trying to do has been to stimulate the interest of private capital in the aeronautical department and Mr. Ford with his unparalleled resources, offers opportunities which neither should be or can be disregarded.

The post office department must proceed in all things in accordance with existing laws. It is required to let all mail contracts to best bidders.

"It will follow this principle in every instance."

Your Electric Range May Never Be So Easy to Buy Again

Have you ever been able before to secure just the electric range you want for as little as $15.00 down? Have you ever been offered terms of $12.00 a month on the balance? Has it ever been as easy to buy an electric range on terms?

All Wired—Installed—Ready to Cook

Hotpoint

Any day between now and September 15th—provided your home is already receiving electric service—you can have this Model R-101 Hotpoint-Hughes electric range, all wired, installed and ready to cook, for only $15.00 down and the balance spread over 12 payments of $12.00 a month.

But September 15th will positively be the last day of this offer! Perhaps even before then the big stock of electric ranges purchased to make this special event possible will be gone—and if it is, you may not be able to secure yours. Be on the safe side—set tomorrow morning aside to get your new electric range!
