COL. MITCHELL MAY BE DUE FOR COURT MARTIAL

nautical activities should be scrutinized with a view to developing successful aviation in both military and commercial aspects.
"Mitchell is incidental, compared to the issues he has raised. The military and government services are too prone to deal with personalities rather than the fundamental practical question involved. If these problems are dealt with seriously the personalities will no doubt disappear. The air service should be made safe from the engineering standpoint at least.
"Prejudice should not be permitted to allow any frivolous investigation affecting aeronautics, which is vital to national defense."

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sep. 9.—"If the war department does not like the statements I made, let officials take any disciplinary action they want, court martial, or no court martial, but there was no investigation, no pleas, no defense on my part covering a question of that kind," Colonel William Mitchell declared here today, answering a question as to what he intended doing if prosecuted by the war department for his statement of last Saturday.

The investigation that is needed is that of the war and navy departments and their conduct in the disgraceful administration of aeronautics," he added.
Although Colonel Mitchell was silent on the subject, fellow officers called attention to the fact that Colonel E. D. Scott, of the inspector-general's department is stationed at Fort Sam Houston. He outranks either Colonel Mitchell or Colonel George A. Nugent, assigned by the war department to investigate Colonel Mitchell's statement.

Colonel Nugent of the inspector-general's department in Washington is a member of the coast artillery corps. Colonel Scott is not. They point out that rivalry between the coast artillery and the air service is keener than between any other two branches of the service. Colonel Mitchell often has pointed out the superiority of air defense over the coast artillery to repel an invasion from the air.

Again I have been asked to express my opinion on the so-called disciplinary measures that are being taken in my case by the war department," Colonel Mitchell said. "So far all I have to go on are the newspaper reports. It is entirely right and proper that an investigation be made by the war department on any question involving military jurisdiction."

Umpqua Chiefs Drilling—A full attendance of the Umpqua Chief drill team was reported last night at the armory and Chief Kaudtson put the boys through the paces with a lot of pep. They will be all ready for the competition at the state fair next month and will surprise the visitors to the fair as well as local folks with their drills. On Thursday night the Chiefs and Squaws will hold a joint meeting at the armory to practice yells.

HUNTERS FLOCK TO CITY FOR OPENING OF DEER SEASON

A stranger in Roseburg today would have imagined that the city was host to a convention of the organization of Red Shirts, but to the uninitiated the presence of the brilliant colored shirts and hats which were so prevalent on the streets today meant only that the deer season is about to open and that the annual hunt for the elusive buck is to be on tomorrow. Hundreds of hunters from all parts of the state have been pouring into the county since the first of the week, and many have gone into the woods and established camp in order to be in a place of advantage when the season opens.
Deer are reported to be plentiful this year, and many hunters will doubtless bag the limit the first day out.
The New North Umpqua road is proving a great attraction this year, opening up, as it does, many miles of territory which has been little hunted in past years. Deer are plentiful in that section around the end of the road. It is said, and many are driving as far as they can with cars and are packing in to Steamboat Creek or beyond. Many have gone to Black Rock, Mountain Meadows, and other well known places where hunting each year is good.

WOMEN PLAN FOR CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN NOVEMBER

The first committee meeting in the interest of home demonstration work and home economics in connection with the county agricultural conference to be held November 19 and 20, was held in the office of County Agent Cooney recently.
At this meeting the women decided to go ahead with the organization of the conference and expressed themselves as greatly interested in the work. Mrs. Henry Lander was selected as the county-wide leader in this project. A committee of women representing every community in the county will be named to work with Mrs. Lander in gathering statistics for use in the November conference.
Questionnaires will be prepared covering the different angles of the women's work and mailed out in an effort to secure dependable information to be placed before the general committee which will meet some time in October. At that time it is hoped to have Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, State Demonstration Leader, present at the meeting to assist in assembling the information secured for presentation at the November meeting.
Those present at the meeting on September 4th were: Mrs. E. Jennings, Mrs. G. C. Sewell, Mrs. W. R. Kinsel, Mrs. Geo. Winston, Mrs. R. L. McLaughlin, Mrs. R. A. Rosenbark, Mrs. D. N. Insenbark, Mrs. Fred Goff, Mrs. R. L. Gile and Mrs. T. B. Insenbark.

From Glide—W. F. Chapman returned to his home at Glide yesterday evening after spending a few hours here transacting business.

To Washington—G. C. Coffin, of this city, is spending three weeks in Port Angeles, Wash., visiting with friends.

SHIPPERS WILL OPPOSE HIGHER FREIGHT RATES

man for 67 roads, in completing his testimony today based the application for a five per cent rate increase on what he termed the unremunerative returns and low basis of charges now allowed the western carriers.
He summarized the situation for the years 1923 to 1924 inclusive, as applied to the Chicago and North-western which he called a typical system with a low indebtedness, by presenting the following figures as reasons for increased rates:
Maintenance of way expense increased 96 per cent.
Maintenance of equipment increased 165 per cent.
Transportation expense increased 90 per cent.
Total operating expense increased 107 per cent.
Payroll increased 119 per cent.
Average earnings per year per employee increased 115 per cent.
Rate per hour paid employee increased 123 per cent. Taxes increased 180 per cent.
Net railway operating income decreased 28 per cent.
Dividend payment and surplus decreased 47 per cent.
Return on investment yielded by net railway operating income decreased from 5.98 to 2.39 per cent.
Against these figures he offered the following:
Investment in road and equipment increased from $254,486,379 to $404,525,293.
Tons of freight carried one mile increased 32 per cent.
Freight revenue per ton mile increased 30 per cent.
Passengers carried decreased two per cent.
He said a reasonable increase would find its way into the market along the following lines:
Stabilization of employment; expansion of forces employed in maintenance work; purchase of materials and equipment necessary to operate and maintain the properties.
Enable the railroad to participate properly in community enterprises for improvement and expansion, increase in dividends to stockholders included in which are institutions of learning and social relief.

TO HOLD TRIALS OF INDICTED PROHIBITION OFFICER

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., Sept. 9.—Chief Justice McBride of the state supreme court, said today that he had appointed Justice Percy R. Kelly, of the circuit court for Marion and Linn counties, to hear the trial of E. L. Elliott, former district attorney of Klamath county, who was indicted by the grand jury in connection with the disposal of some sugar that was confiscated in a liquor raid.
Judge McBride said that Kelly would also hear a number of other cases of sensational nature and his recollection was that one of them will be the trial of William J. Levens, state prohibition commissioner, who was indicted by the Klamath county grand jury on a charge of larceny of a revolver.
The appointment of Kelly was at the request of the circuit judge at Klamath Falls who is superceded in the cases by Kelly.

PORTLAND BARBER WAR ON.
PORTLAND, Ore., Sep. 9.—One downtown barber shop today broke with the barbers' union and refused to adopt a new scale of prices advancing cuts from 50 cents to 65 cents, and shaves from 25 to 35 cents. The new rates were adopted under an agreement between the Master Barbers' and the Barbers' Union this week. Non-union men were employed in the dissenting barber shop.
Master barbers will meet tonight to consider the deflection of this barber shop from the agreement.
