

The Montag is the only satisfactory combination wood and coal burning furnace built in the Pacific Northwest.

folks - let us discuss your heating problem!

INTELLIGENTLY AND HELPFULLY!
It's time, you know—time to get down to brass tacks and talk facts. Already the evenings are getting cooler and the early morning air makes your cheeks tingle—reminding us that winter is almost here.

Do not think in terms of "furnaces or types of furnaces." A "furnace in the basement" means nothing—unless it is a heating unit especially designed to meet the fuel and climatic conditions peculiar to your section and the requirements of your home—and installed therein by experts.

You want heat—safe heat—an abundant circulation of warm, moist air—perfectly distributed—so that each room in your home will be warm, comfortable and healthful. And you want this at the lowest possible cost in fuel and effort.

For more than 40 years Montag has been building heaters right here in the Northwest—to meet Northwest conditions. Every heating problem peculiar to this section has been met and answered. So that—whether your home is large or small—there is a Montag furnace to meet your requirements as satisfactorily as though it were designed exclusively for your property.

Installation is one of the vital secrets in scientific home-heating. Each home must be studied—each presents a separate problem—and every Montag furnace installed must be engineered into the home to meet the exact conditions existing there.

That is why we are asking you to come in NOW, we want to discuss your problem with you—go to your home and study it. Come in today—and arrange payments to suit your own convenience.

VOLCANOES ON PACIFIC MAY AWAKE SCIENTISTS SAY

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 15.—Ice-crowned volcanic cones along the Pacific Coast generally are presumed to be dead. Scientists, however, agree that they are not merely burned-out shells, but it is entirely possible that one or more of them might erupt at any time.

Mount Rainier and Mount Baker in Washington, Mount Hood in Oregon and Mount Shasta and Lassen Peak in California are individuals in a great series of volcanoes that extends in a circle for 10,000 miles or more around the North Pacific ocean in both North America and Asia. There was a time, in the opinion of the scientists, when these peaks were in violent eruption at the same time, so that a chain of fire bounds the Pacific Coast, for the five peaks are so close together that any one in eruption could be observed from its nearest neighbors.

Since 1914 Lassen has been in frequent eruption, and it is regarded as scientifically established that not one of the volcanoes can be called dead. All except Lassen have been quiet for several thousand years, in the opinion of expert reckoning.

During the past century there have been several minor eruptions from Mount Rainier, the mightiest of the five volcanoes. It has been hundreds of years since the great peak blew off a half mile of its top and scattered volcanic ash to a depth of hundreds of feet over large areas of where now is Washington.

Almost every year faint earthquakes are recorded on Rainier, and steam still issues from the crater, which is half a mile across. This steam is so intense that great caverns have been melted in the snow that fills the crater.

These caverns, sheltered from the winds and warmed by escaping steam, have often proved of advantage to persons scaling the peak. Stephens and Van Trump, the first white men to conquer Mount Rainier, more than half a century ago, undoubtedly owed their lives to to those steam caves. It would have been impossible for them to have retraced their steps in the darkness, and they could not have lived through a night on the summit without blankets or other protection if it had not been for the timely discovery of the warm caverns.

The steam on top of Mount Rainier is so hot that it will transform a pan of snow to boiling water in ten minutes. Eggs can be cooked if placed in the hot punnet of the crater.

TONGMEN ROUNDED UP AFTER HATCHET AND GUN KILLINGS

(Associated Press Lead Wire.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—All night activities by federal authorities in their round up of suspected undesirable in Chinatown, which totaled a total of 200 Chinese, resulted today in 124 being sent to Tombs prison to await removal to Ellis Island for deportation.

Dozens of the suspects were found with white women who said they were the men's wives.

Chinatown was wildly excited throughout the night as police rounded up suspects singly and in groups, taking them to the Federal building for questioning.

The roundup, unprecedented in its extent, came within a few hours after leaders of the On Leong and Hip Sing tong had signed a peace treaty calling for a truce in the tong warfare which has caused the death of a dozen tongmen within the last few weeks. Federal officials have announced their determination to sweep out every Chinese who remained in this city in violation of the exclusion act. Most of the men held for deportation proceedings today were men who had overstayed their leave.

The Hip Sing Club room in Pell street, was one of the places raided.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Despite the signing of a peace pact by leaders of the On Leong and Hip Sing tong to end the Chinese gun and hatchet war which in recent weeks has killed off a dozen tongmen, federal agents and police today rounded up more than 200 Chinese suspected of violating the exclusion act.

Rushed pell-mell to the federal building for hearing, 195 were ordered deported, 150 released, and the remainder held for investigation. Twelve Chinese were arrested. United States District Attorney Buckner, said the round-ups would continue until every Chinese who has no business in this city or county is deported.

Symbolical of lasting peace, a chicken was killed with a hatchet in Chinatown. The truce was stated at midnight by national leaders of the tong, meeting in the offices of Zing Ling Chang, Chinese consul-general, with police and officials of the Chinese Benevolent Association, a merchant's organization.

FRANCE PREPARES NEW ONSLAUGHT ON RIFFIAN TRIBESMEN

(Associated Press Lead Wire.)
PARIS, Sept. 15.—France is preparing for fresh operations on a large scale against the Riffian rebels in Morocco. Premier Painleve told the newspapermen after today's cabinet meeting, he is very much satisfied with the progress being made and hopes all the objectives will be gained during October.

Young soldiers whose military service terms are finished while they are on duty in Morocco will not be kept under the colors, but will be released when their terms expire, he made known.

The premier also announced that the Chamber of Deputies would be convened toward the end of next month, possibly October 27.

M. Painleve has telegraphed Marshal Dettain the government's congratulations and gratitude for the important successes gained against Abd-el-Krim's rebels.

PROHIBITION HAS GIVEN LONGER LIFE OBSERVERS STATE

Increase in Deaths From Liquor Drinking Shown Since 1920—Consequences Disturb.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A collection of varied information as to the effect of prohibition on economic conditions and health was made public tonight by the research and education department of the Federal Council of Churches as a part of its report on the prohibition question.

No definite conclusions were stated, but it was remarked in the report that in general the number of deaths from diseases that grow out of liquor-drinking showed a drop in 1920, early in the prohibition regime, but an increase in the years thereafter. This was one of the tabulations on which the first section of the report, made public last night, suggested that the trend of social consequences of prohibition since 1920 had been "disturbing."

On the economic side of the question, the report contained these observations:

"Probably no careful observer will say that the abolition of the saloon has not affected a very substantial amelioration of large numbers of the working class. ...

"At the same time the appeal to specific economic data—increased business activity, growing bank deposits, etc.—to prove the effects of prohibition must be made very guardedly. All attempts to measure this increase in quantitative terms are fraught with danger because of the great increase in prosperity since 1921 due to other causes. ... In addition to the increase in money wages we must consider the extensive thrift campaigns carried on throughout the country. ... But it would be idle to dispute the assumption that prohibition has been a factor, and an important one, in keeping savings deposits on a high level.

Good authority can also be found for the statement that industry has profited very materially through heightened morale. ...

It is noteworthy that a question sent to a number of the best known business men, directors in important corporations selected at random, asking for their verdicts as business men upon prohibition, yielded a predominantly "wet" result—not, apparently so much because of observed effects upon business or industry as because of strong personal prejudice and dissatisfaction with the social and political results of prohibition as they saw them."

Various sources were drawn upon for the health statistics presented in the report. The census bureau figures were quoted on deaths from alcoholism and cirrhosis of the liver, etc., the report observed that they showed a drop in 1920 and a rise thereafter except for a drop for cirrhosis in 1923. Officials of Bellevue hospital, New York, were quoted as saying that while more acute and severe chronic cases proportionately resulting from alcohol were handled just after prohibition became effective, there is a drift back to pre-prohibition conditions in the type of alcoholism that prevails."

A comparison of figures on alcoholic beverages and temperate use of alcohol showed a drop from 1917 to 1921, and an increase since. The report added that figures as to the number of alcoholics discharged from New York hospitals "show in general the same trend that we have been noting and with this important feature, that the year 1924 shows a slight decrease."

Official figures on the number of alcoholic cases per 1,000 enlisted men in the army showed a low water mark of 1.06 in 1918 a jump to 1.18 in 1922, 8.22 in 1923 and 9.12 in 1924.

"Much has been said of the falling death rate during the last few years as an evidence of the effects of prohibition," said the report. "It is true that this decline and the increased expectation of life have greatly impressed insurance actuaries, but one cannot with certainty ascribe to the prohibition regime more than a moderate influence in bringing about the reduction. ... It is probable that where ever there has been an improvement in economic status, the tendency to toward a higher standard of living and thus naturally toward improved health and increased longevity."

K. C. TRACK MEET STUNS SPORT WORLD

(Associated Press Lead Wire.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Results of the Knights of Columbus meet at the Yankee Stadium last night left the track world stunned.

Alan Helfrich, Penn state flyer, and American half mile champion, was beaten; Alfred Leconey, Jackson Scholz and Chet Bowman lost at three different dash distances to the negro star from the middle-west, De Hart Hubbard; Joie Ray was left in fourth place in his farewell appearance on the cinders; Albin Steinhors and Jimmy Hennigan were compelled to retire by the speed of a 15-mile contest.

Pincus Sober of the college of the city of New York who only a few weeks ago captured the Metropolitan A. A. U. title for the half mile in a race with George Marsters and Johnny Holden at East Orange, N. J., beat Helfrich last night in the desperate sprint at the end. Marsters, formerly of Georgetown, gained second place. The time was 1:25 2-5.

Hubbard won the century in 10 1-5 seconds, with Scholz second; Leconey third and Bowman fourth. Leconey placed second to the Michigan star in the 75-yard event with Scholz third and Bowman fourth. The time was 7 4-5 in the 60-yard dash. Bowman took second, Scholz third and Leconey fourth. The time was 5 3-5.

Ray's effort was at 2 miles, too long for him, and Willie Kitola, Finnish-American flash won without any trouble.

An Old-Fashioned Beauty Recipe

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready for use at any first-class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just a common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream, gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.

If you have not yet tried this simple, easy way to beauty get a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream today and let your face be the judge. Your favorite toilet goods counter can supply you. All druggists are selling lots of it.

ABUSE OF BROOKLYN CROWDS TOO MUCH FOR FIRST BASEMAN

(Associated Press Lead Wire.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—A special dispatch from Pittsburgh to the New York Evening World says that First Baseman Jacques Fournier of the Brooklyn Nationals now playing here, has announced that he will not play another season in a Brooklyn uniform.

Fournier says his treatment by the fans has been of such abusive character as to make his wish to withdraw from baseball. He has a contract for next year at $12,500.

In announcing his intention not to wear a Brooklyn uniform next year, Fournier said:

"I have been 16 years in baseball and am accustomed to the fickleness of crowds, but the roasting I have received in Brooklyn has been so savage that I cannot play in a Brooklyn uniform and retain my self-respect. Every vile name has been hurled at me because I made the ordinary run of errors or had not done something which four-mouthed persons had expected me to do.

"The abuse has been continuous for a long time and, has totally been undeserved. I have hit 360 or better most of the time since I came to the Brooklyn club three years ago from St. Louis. I have led the National league in driving in runs."

Other members of the Brooklyn squad are known to have taken the abuse by the fans almost as much to heart as has Fournier.
