Folks used to wait for their ship to come in. Today they read the News-Review classified ads.

OH BOY, bought a bargain and there are many more cars adverting. Read 'em yourself.

273 years ago

The first printed advertisement appeared in an English newspaper 273 years ago. It told people about a new book and where to get it.

The immediate sales on that book showed that a lot of people were glad to have this information.

Soon other advertisements appeared. Book lovers looked forward to them for news of the latest and best books.

Now hundreds of advertisements carry news of buying interest to millions of people every day. The thrifty housewife reads them for helpful information in the business of running her home. The careful man reads them for news of the best buy in clothes—automobiles—or real estate; for opportunity or pleasures.

Every time you pick up a paper you hold in your hand information that will help you save money, time and trouble in practically everything you buy.

Read the advertisements—buy advertised products—and you will be practicing to the greatest degree real economy!

ROSEBURG NEWS-REVIEW

DOUGLAS COUNTY

THREE DROWN AT HARRISBURG THIS MORNING

Green and Illinois to work in the mines.

W. R. Eastep whose death occurred at Harrisburg early this morning, when the car in which he was riding plunged off the ferry, was the father of F. C. Eastep, local painter and paperhanger, employed by D. P. Fisher. The elder Eastep was a resident of Roseburg for several months, and had been making his home with his son here, leaving a short time ago for Colorado to visit a daughter, Mrs. A. B. Giovanini.

The son left this morning by auto for Harrisburg to arrange for the disposition of his father's body. The deceased was 67 years of age, and is survived only by his son and daughter.

Trevor Spiller, the only survivor of the fatal plunge, was on his way to Roseburg, for the purpose of taking his mother and other members of the family back to Colorado where they resided before moving to Roseburg a short time ago. His mother, who resides at the Lane street rooming house received a telephone call this morning from a woman residing near the Ferry and at whose home the young man is being cared for. Young Spiller is reported to have suffered no ill effects from the accident, other than a severe chill from his sudden submersion, and the shock of the death of his three companions.

The other two members of the party are not known here, but are believed to be young men brought west by Spiller and Mr. Eastep. The Eastep and Spiller families were well acquainted before coming to Roseburg.

PRODUCT SHOW DECLARED TO BE PREMIER EVENT

pearance when the lights are turned on.

A fine exhibit of boys and girls club work has been arranged under the direction of W. S. Carpenter, county club leader. This display of agriculture, sewing, and canning clubs will be taken to the state fair. The club booth has already been decorated and the exhibit will be moved in Monday. It will be augmented by club work from the Smith River fair. The agricultural exhibits are being entered by the boys in competition with their fathers in the tray classes. The county health unit has built a miniature "Road to Health," a unique plan for putting over a health idea.

In the next booth the Roseburg high school students are selling ice cream and other refreshments, the only concession booth in the building.

The forestry booth in the northeast corner of the auditorium has an interesting educational display, showing pictures of scenic attractions, and equipment for handling forest fires. Samples of every kind of wood produced in the state are shown also.

Bellows Radio Shop has a beautiful booth in which radio and electrical equipment is displayed.

Riverdale, better known as the Curry estate, in its display has a striking diversity of crops, one of the features being samples of tobacco in the green and dried state.

Denn-Gerretsen and the Roseburg Lumber and Manufacturing company, share four booths near the southeast corner. Building materials and millwork of all kinds are on display, a fine showing of local manufactured goods.

Down through the center of the hall is another row of booths, and in one of these Wilbur Cooney, aged 11, and Eugene Durland, aged 14, have a display of home garden products, in which they are showing 25 varieties of garden crops.

At the north end of the row the Unquaga Valley cannery has a booth, striking for its color display, and showing of the goods turned out at this important plant.

Four individual garden and farm displays occupy the west side of the row. The Williams Dillard Gardens have a wonderful exhibit of enormous melons, pumpkins, squashes, etc.

There are three competitive farm displays in a row. Alfalfa Farm owned by Busenbark Bros.; Bonnieview Farm owned by G. W. Burt, and Fairview Farm owned by George Anderson.

These three exhibits are the best he has ever seen, C. C. Long, of the Oregon Agricultural College, said this morning.

Mr. Long has had years of experience in judging agricultural displays, and he says that he has at various times found individual booths which might equal one of these but never has he found three in one show with such scores as have been given those to be found at the show now in progress.

Two long tables in the center of the hall, contain thousands of beautiful flowers, making up one of the largest and best blossom shows Roseburg has ever seen. There are also a great many tray and plate exhibits of agricultural crops occupying the end of one of the tables.

This afternoon County Agent B. W. Cooney spoke on the subject of the crops of Douglas county, giving an interesting address showing some of the improvements which can be made in the agricultural industry.

Tonight's musical program will be given by the Helpline Studio of Music, and the program will be entertaining. A talk will be given by W. G. Paul on the value of flowers about the farm home.

The show will come to an end on Saturday night. It has been decided, because of the great attendance, to continue the show until 9 o'clock Saturday night. Tomorrow is children's day, and the program will start at 10 a. m. with a watermelon eating contest. In the afternoon the children will present a fine program, to which the general public, and particularly children, are invited. At night W. D. D. Dowson, manager of the Portland chamber of commerce will speak.

WILLAMETTE AGAINST WASHINGTON TOMORROW

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) SEATTLE, Sept. 25.—The University of Washington will line up tomorrow against Willamette University in its first football game of the season with Douglas Bonamy, center; Lester Lev and Edgar Brix guards; Waldo Ericson and Pat Wilson, tackles; Judd Cutting and John Cole, ends; George Wilson and Harold Shidley, half backs; Captain Elmer Tesreau, fullback; and George Guttormsen, quarterback. Coach Enoch Bagshaw announced today. Bagshaw said this team did not mean he had picked his 1925 first team.

EX-CONVICT HEAD OF PROHIS FILES $50,000 ACTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—William H. Harrison, former state superintendent of the anti-Saloon League, announced today that he had instructed counsel to bring suit against the Christian Century, a religious publication of Chicago, for $50,000, alleging libel. The basis of the suit, Anderson said, was the statement in the paper that he had "served time for misuse of funds of the Anti-Saloon League." In January 1924, Anderson was convicted of third degree forgery in connection with the "splitting" of commissions with a former league fund collector. Anderson was sentenced to a year in Sing Sing and was paroled after nine months. Asserting that he welcomed the prospect of taking the witness stand in his behalf, "in a court room not controlled by an anti-protestant political machine," the former dry leader today said his duty to the cause of prohibition, to his family and to himself, "compels me to take advantage of this chance to set the merits of my case aired in the federal courts." A marriage license was issued today to Harold W. Fitzpatrick of Myrtle Creek and Doris May Patrick of Grants Pass.
