CHANGES MADE IN EXAMINATIONS FOR FOREST RANGER

An examination for forest rangers will be held on October 27, in 25 different states, according to work just received by district forester C. M. Granger, at Portland. Important changes are that receipt of applications will close on October 17, 1925. No applicant will be allowed to try the examination unless he has received an admission card in advance from the U. S. civil service commission, Washington, D. C., hence forest officers urge all prospective applicants to secure at once form 2415, either from the commission at Washington or from any forest supervisor in the U. S. forest service in $1500 in the United States, and $2000 in Alaska. Outside of the salary, the government allows a mileage on privately-owned automobiles when used in official business, and actual expenses when absent on official duty from official headquarters. Houses or ranger stations are furnished rangers or an allowance made in their salaries in lieu of quarters. In addition to the above, forest officers are protected by the federal compensation act, which covers accidental injuries and monthly payments to dependants in case of death. The age limits for the examination are 21 to 35 inclusive.

Forest rangers with experience and proven ability are eligible to a maximum salary of $400 per annum. Many of the higher positions in the forest service are now filled by men who started in as forest rangers. The examination consists of three parts, educational and mental test, practical questions relative to the duties of the position, and experience. A medical certificate is required but no photograph. Applicants with military or naval records must attach to their applications original, photostatic or certified copies of their original discharge. Forest officers state that there are openings for good, live men with practical experience in the woods, and forest school graduates with practical experience. In Oregon the examination will be held at the 13 headquarters towns of forest supervisors and at eight in Washington.

Letters Like This Prove the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Turtle Lake, Wisconsin. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness, backache and nervousness. I had these troubles for years and had taken other medicines for them, but I have found no medicine so good as the Vegetable Compound and I recommend it to my friends who have troubles similar to mine. I saw advertised and thought I would try it and it has helped me in all my troubles. I have had six children and I have taken the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before each one was born, for weakness, vomiting, poor appetite and backache, and again after childbirth because of dizzy headaches. It is a good medicine for it always helps me. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for the last eight years for constipation." — Mrs. MABEL LA POINT, R. F. D. No. 1, Turtle Lake, Wisconsin.

600,000 barrels, which is slightly less than last season and only $4 per cent of the United States commercial crop. Altogether, the foreign market outlook is as good as, if not better than, that of a year ago, and our exports may again ship 15,000 carloads of apples to other countries.

Exports during the last two seasons have taken about 15 per cent of the carlot shipments. This foreign trade is with seventy different countries, but chiefly with the United Kingdom and continental Europe.

Most new fruit in Europe except grapes, show an unfavorable condition. American apple exporters, however, have to face the same what discouraging economic conditions abroad. It is estimated that 1,500,000 persons are out of work in Great Britain alone. In view of the reduced Canadian apple crop, it is possible that exports from this country may not offer such serious competition with United States fruit. Nova Scotia's commercial crop of 1,015,000 barrels is about 13,000 less than last year, and British Columbia's 1,981,000 boxes represent a decrease of 350,000 boxes.

SHERMAN, CLAY & CO. BRANCH STORE HAS NEW MANAGER

C. Rhea, formerly of The Dalles, has arrived here and entered this week on his new duties as manager of the Sherman, Clay and company branch store in Roseburg. Orla E. White, who has been managing the store since the company opened it in this city last spring, resigned to take over the management of the Willey B. Allen company store in Roseburg, and will have charge of the southern Oregon territory for that company.

Mr. Rhea has had several years' experience in the music business, having spent some time in New Jersey with the Acolian company, since coming to Oregon, and for the past three months has been managing the Sherman, Clay and company store at The Dalles.

MEDFORD LUMBER FIRM SUES EUGENE COMPANY

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 29.—The Owen-Oregon Lumber company Monday filed suit against the Oregon Machinery company of Eugene for the collection of $400 alleged to be due on "one H. S. and G. steam engine."

The complaint alleges the sale was made last March on the agreement that $100 be paid upon delivery and $400 before September 20, 1925, which was not done. It is claimed.

The lumber company waives its right for the return of the engine and asks only for the balance due and costs of action.

MARKET ON DRIED FRUIT IS FIRM

The dried fruit market at present in California is witheringly firm, says the California Fruit News.

The whole situation is "rocking along" after the ample buying of some weeks ago. Present inquiry is steady and, generally speaking, quotations are unchanged in all lines. There does not appear to be jobbing trade at this time, and of any speculative activity in present values and they are, consequently, not buying ahead any more than they have already done. The European inquiry to California in dried fruits is fairly good and is coming in for most lines in a moderate way from day to day. With stocks of old crop out in all lines, with the exception of some raisins and with new crop in most lines having had an ample withdrawal already, and this being still September, with, for that reason, twelve months yet to go to market what we have left, there isn't any reason in the world why it shouldn't be perfectly safe, from a selling standpoint, to view a comparatively quiet market for a time.

Evaporated apples here are a little easier, as New York quotations are somewhat easier. Apricots and peaches are unchanged. The association in the latter line has not publicly quoted the market yet. Pigs have been advanced by the California Peach and Fig Growers' association in Black Mission bulk and in Adriatic bricks and layers. The association has also added, during the past few days, quotations on bulk Adriatic, all as appearing below. The commercial trade which was previously higher than the association on black figs, is now lower since the latter's advance, but commercial quotations here are unchanged this week.

Pines are, just as heretofore, with some shading here and there where sellers may want to force added activity.

APPLE GROWERS FACE PROSPECT OF GOOD SEASON

A fairly good market season is in prospect for American apple growers and shippers, says a bulletin by the United States department of agriculture. Local reports indicate that the later varieties of fruit will be of good size and of better quality than last year, so that a greater proportion should be marketable. Estimates of commercial apples in the United States indicate a crop of about average volume and only a few per cent better than that of 1924, the increases being chiefly in Washington and New York states. The August forecast reduced Canada's commercial crop to 2-

ANTLERS

THEATRES

Antlers Theatre.

Action! Punch! Red blood! Comedy!

That's the order of the day down at the Antlers Theatre tonight, Wednesday and Thursday, where the Paramount picture, "The Shock Punch," starring Richard Dix, is the feature.

"The Shock Punch" is a screen version of John Monk Saunders' Liberty Magazine story, adopted for the screen by Luther Reed and directed by Paul Sloane, who made "Too Many Kisses," also starring Dix. Frances Howard, who played opposite Dix in "Too Many Kisses," is featured at the head of the cast in this one, too. In "The Shock Punch," Dix has the role of Randall Lee Savage, scion of a wealthy family, who, in a course of boxing to keep physically fit, develops a "shock punch." He is forced to use this knockout punch on several occasions, especially when in an attempt to prove his dactyl, he takes a position among structural iron workers. These workers take delight in teasing the embryo and force him to perform hazardous feats on iron beams as they are being hoisted to lofty heights.

Majestic Theatre.

"Rugged Water," a story with plenty of action, interesting characters, and opportunities for beautiful and novel settings in a light-house and on sinking vessels, heads the bill at the Majestic Theatre, tonight, Wednesday and Thursday.

The story is an adaptation by James Hamilton of the Cape Cod novel by Joseph C. Lincoln. Irvin Willat, who made "North of 36" and "The Air Mail," produced the story for Paramount. Lois Wilson, Warner Baxter, Wallace Beery and Phyllis Haver are featured in the cast.

"Rugged Water" is a romantic drama of the storms and dangers of the New England coast, rich in Lincoln humor. It's a story of the life-saving service, a real "he-man" tale of real "he-men."

Liberty Theatre.

Anne Cornwall, Wampus Baby Star for 1925, plays the leading female role opposite Douglas MacLean in his new starring comedy "Introduce Me," now playing on the Liberty Theatre screen.

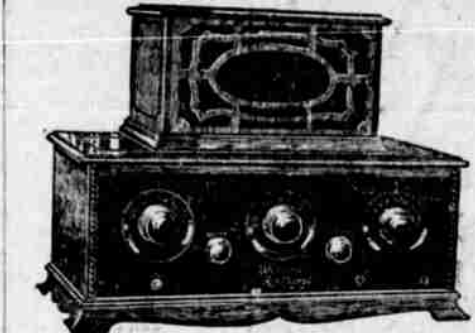

Four feet eleven inches tall, she is a dashing bit of femininity, full of dash and nerve. In this new MacLean triumph she is said to do the best work of her career.

Other leading members of the cast include such outstanding personalities as Robert Ober, famous light comedian of the stage and screen; L. C. Shanway, who will be remembered for his success in "The Yankee Consul," starring Douglas MacLean; E. J. Rateffe, with 41 years' experience of the American and British stage, and Wade Hoteier, who played important roles in "Going Up" and "Never Say Die," both MacLean successes.

Overflowing with humor, startlingly beautiful scenery and adventure, it is said to be Douglas MacLean's greatest and most entertaining picture.
