RADIO STATION AT STATE COLLEGE TO OPEN FRIDAY

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 29.—Friday evening, October 2, has been selected as the time for the opening of regular programs over the station by federal officials in the station KFDJ. At that time regular broadcasting three times a week will be started, to continue each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. For a week at least, the old wave length of 254 meters will be used, but present plans call for the final inspection of the station by federal officials in the near future and the formal dedication program to inaugurate the new call letters and long wave length—about the middle of October.

Programs as now arranged are designed to be primarily educational, but varied enough to appeal to a wide diversity of radio fans. Monday night will be agricultural night, when a weekly market summary dealing more with interpretation of the market trend rather than actual quotations will be given. This and a few brief farm reminders will open the program at 7:45 after a musical introduction.

October 5, the first lecture in a series on bookkeeping, "Winter Manure and Preparation of Bees for Winter" will be given by Professor H. A. Scullen, of the college staff. The first lecture in a series on potato production will be given by Professor G. R. Hyslop. "Potato Grading and Labeling" boys and girls club work will also be given attention on this program. H. C. Seymour, state club leader, will give the first of his regular monthly talks on "Oregon Juniors' Successes at Fairs."

A weekly alumni program will be broadcast each Monday night, beginning at 8:45 and continuing as long as the material each week warrants. Orchestra music,

INQUIRY INTO DEVELOPMENT OF HARBOR CALLED

MEDFORD, Sept. 29.—The congressional committee on Rivers and Harbors will be at Crescent City, Calif., on October 7th and 8th to ascertain at first hand what reason exists for putting federal money into completing a harbor on this section of the coast.

H. R. Saltmarsh of Crescent City is in the city today conferring with the local bodies to see what interest southern Oregon has in the matter.

The people at the coast have provided the money to bring the committee to this district, but they have already been informed that the United States will not spend money on the harbor unless it will benefit Rogue River valley and the interior country generally.

The hope of east and west railroad construction is based entirely upon the presumption that there will be built a harbor outlet at the coast. If the Rogue river country shows sufficient interest in this matter the harbor will receive the necessary money at the next session of congress.

Should the congressional committee not be impressed on this visit with the need of a harbor for southern Oregon no assistance may be expected as long as this committee is in office.

Effort is being made to have the farming interests of southern Oregon as well as the cities realize that their change to be heard in an effective way by the United States is before them. Mr. Saltmarsh is working with the local chamber to get a good delegation to represent Medford.

COACH ANNOUNCES OREGON U. LINEUP MULTINOMAH GAME

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
 EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 29.—Announcement of the lineup to face the Multinomah Athletic club football warriors of Portland in Eugene next Saturday revealed at the University of Oregon camp today that lettermen have been displayed in four positions in the varsity. The men will be on the field for Oregon in the first game of the season were announced by Coach Dick Smith as follows:

The battle between Harrison and Anderson for the quarterback berth was ended by the shifting of Harrison to half. Harrison will do the gunting. It is his first year on the varsity. Wetzel, at the other half, was the individual star of last year's freshman team. He weighs in at 185 and is fast.

Ed Grant at left end, another new man in the lineup, is a transfer from Gonzaga, where he played end and guard. Hal Harden, right guard, the remaining new man, is a sophomore, and has been playing hard and consistent ball. Bills and Bailey, veteran guards, are out with injuries.

Fresh Squad Limbers Up.
 EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 29.—One hundred and thirty-one freshmen at the University of Oregon turned out yesterday afternoon for the first practice session of the year. It was the largest turnout in the history of the university.

Only three of the 131 were not native Oregonians.

Three new assistant freshman football coaches, who named yesterday in assistant Freshman Coach Earl (Spike) Leslie. The three men are Dick Reed, captain and tackle on last year's Oregon varsity; George Allison, end on the South Dakota team from 1919-21; and Captain in 1921, and George Bills, who played two years for North Dakota and one year for Oregon, covering the winning position.

The apple export season is just commencing and the steamer Distedkyk of the Holland-American Line cleared on the 21st with a shipment of 7,627 boxes of apples of which 4,931 boxes are to be delivered in London and the balance of 2,652 in Rotterdam. Smaller shipments were made earlier in the month on the steamer Loch Cairns and on the London Shipper. Exports of apples during the 1924-25 season amounted to 1,165,000 boxes and it is expected that according to reports of operators as to space sought that exports this year will greatly exceed that figure.

RECORD CARGO OF CANNED GOODS SENT OUT OF PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 29th, 1925.—Vessels of the Furness Line have consistently carried large cargoes of fruits and canned goods from Portland, but it remains for the London Shipper, which cleared from Portland on the 19th of this month to carry the record cargo of canned goods from Portland to the United Kingdom. This cargo consists of 30,113 cases of canned pears, raspberries, strawberries and loganberries weighing 1,635,173 pounds and valued at $137,059.

Vessels of this line a year ago took out a cargo amounting to 1,900,000 pounds of canned goods, but this shipment is at least 50 per cent greater. According to figures compiled by the Traffic Department of the Port of Portland shipments of canned goods from Portland during the first three weeks of September have amounted to $1,657,124, amounting to 2,569,000 pounds compared with 5,046,000 pounds so far during September of this year which shows an increase of approximately 4,000,000 pounds for the first nine months of the same period of 1925.

PUBLICITY PLANS ARE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

L. Antles, secretary of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce, has returned from Ashland, where he attended the conference of secretaries at the new hotel dedicated yesterday.

He reports that an association of secretaries of southern Oregon has been formed, taking in the Chambers of Commerce of Roseburg, Grants Pass, Medford, Ashland and Klamath Falls. Meetings will be held every two months at each of these cities, meeting in alphabetical order. The president and secretary of each chamber will hold office as heads of the district organization following the meeting in their respective cities.

Publicity methods were discussed and it was planned to formulate a system of community advertising to dovetail in with the district efforts. The next meeting is to be held at Grants Pass on October 7 at which time the publicity plan offered by the California Oregon Power Company will be considered.

Each Chamber of Commerce is to be urged to send delegates to the rivers and harbors investigation at Crescent City, Oregon, October 7 and 8, and also to the Interstate Commerce Commission meeting in Portland.

PIONEER LADY OF COUNTY IS DEAD

In the death of Mrs. Ann E. Booth, who died at the home of her daughter in Los Angeles, September 19, occurred the passing of a pioneer lady, widely known in the early days of Oregon settlement, and whose home was near Roseburg for many years. Mrs. Booth crossed the plains with her parents in 1855, she then being but ten years of age. The family settled in the southern Oregon country, and in 1857 she was married to Ferdinand LaBrie, a pioneer of 1847. Mr. LaBrie at that time was living in what is now known as Garden Valley, and on the old homestead at present occupied by E. E. LaBrie, and Mrs. Richey.

In 1864 Ferdinand LaBrie died at his farm home and was buried on the homestead, the grave having been cared for all these years by E. E. LaBrie, the eldest son. In the fall of 1871 Mrs. LaBrie, the widow, was married to J. O. Booth, a son of the pioneer minister and circuit rider, Robert A. Booth. To this union were born three children, two of whom survive, they being Mrs. Myrtle Weiland, of Los Angeles, at whose home the aged pioneer lady died, and John Minor Booth, of The Dalles.

At the time of her death Mrs. Booth was 73 years of age, she having lived 73 years of her eventful life on the Pacific coast. The remains were brought to Grants Pass where the funeral was held and interment occurred September 13. Her husband, J. O. Booth, died in 1910.

NAVY DAY WILL BE OBSERVED ON TUESDAY, OCT. 27

October 27 has been designated as the day for nation-wide observance of Navy Day and the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt. Navy Day has been observed throughout the nation for the past three years with fitting ceremonies conducted by the Navy, Marine Corps, Navy League and civic organizations. It is a day set aside for testimonies of patriotism by American people.

The day is largely one to call the attention of the people to the functions of the navy as a first line of defense and as a peace-time service and to bring about greater thought to the need of a great and efficient merchant marine to aid in the development of the foreign trade of the nation. Proclamations are being requested of governors and mayors and schools are being urged to honor Theodore Roosevelt with exercises calling attention to the part he played in developing the navy. Newspapers are asked to give editorials pertaining to the navy, meetings of civic and patriotic organizations are asked to consider the navy as a subject for talks and display of flags and decoration of public buildings urged.

KIWANIANS HEAR ROTARY PRESIDENT

Henry Booth, president of the Roseburg Rotary Club, gave the principal address at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at noon today. He spoke on "Ambition and Ethics in Business." The value of whole-hearted service was the main point of his remarks and he spoke concerning the early impression of childhood and their lasting effect. His talk was excellent and greatly enjoyed by the Kiwanians.

Russell Lindott's district convention report was read to the club. Russ is vacationing in Aurora, Illinois, at present and his paper brought many fine points to the attention of the local members.

Dr. Shoemaker won a "slab of bacon" as attendance prize today by pinning a tail on a moth-eaten bull in the most-approved manner. Eddie Kohlhaagen gave the prize.

Mrs. Young's lady orchestra entertained with two fine selections. The members of the organization are Mrs. Young, Mrs. Shockley, Mrs. Rapp, Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Gibbs and Mrs. Spencer. They were encored heartily for their splendid offering today.

Bill Harding, the club president, who has been absent most of the summer, was back in the chair today and was given a rousing welcome.

MINING CLAIMS ARE BEING JUMPED TRIO DECLARES

Mining properties, claimed to be of considerable value, are being brought into litigation by suits filed in the circuit court today. The mining claims are located on Steamboat creek, a tributary of the North Umpqua, about 20 miles from the mouth of the stream, and are said to be rich in free milling gold and platinum.

The suits are being brought by Mary Chapman against Mark Wilson, Wayne Chapman and Ray E. Compton against Clyde Estabrook. Mr. Compton is the attorney for two of the plaintiffs beside himself. The plaintiffs claim that less than a year ago they filed on the claims in litigation, and that since the time of their filing the defendants have also filed on the same property and are now occupying or preparing to occupy the land. The court is asked to grant injunctions restraining the defendants from trespassing, or in other words "jumping" the claims, pending a decision on the title to the claims.
