AMERICAN TURNERS WILL HOLD 1926 MEETING AT LOUISVILLE, KY.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 1.—The 1926 Turnfest of the American Turners will be held at Louisville, Ky., from June 15 to June 20, announced George Seibel of Pittsburg, national president.

The Turners have obtained Churchill Downs, one of the largest race tracks, for the outdoor events, and the Louisville Armory for indoor meetings.

Five thousand gymnasts, including many from Germany, will take part in the Turners Olympiad. Gertrude Ederle, the famous swimmer, a product of the Philadelphia Turners, will participate in the acquatic events.

A mass chorus of 600 voices will sing the opening concert. Other features of the program include special dramatic performances, a chess tourney and a skat competition.

President Seibel said that a new auxiliary organization, to be known as the Daughters of the German Revolution of '48, will be launched at that time.

DESTITUTE OF KOREA EMULATE CAVE-DWELLERS OF LONG AGO

TOKIO, Oct. 1.—Reports from Seoul, Korea, state that more than 3,000 residents of that place are dwellers in caves, just as their ancestors did in a primitive age. It is believed that most of these cave-dwellers are members of the poverty-stricken, unemployed class which has been greatly augmented lately because of the industrial depression.

The Seoul authorities are declared to be somewhat perturbed over the situation and are planning relief measures in order to halt the cave-digging tendencies of the inhabitants.

DESCHUTES FAIR HAS EVERYTHING BUT PIERCE

BEND, Ore., Oct. 1.—The Deschutes county fair opened today at Redmond, with all school children of the county admitted free. A school pageant and the crowning of the Deschutes county fair queen, Edna Towne, of Lower Bridge, will be the opening day's features. The weather was cold and hazy with overhanging clouds.

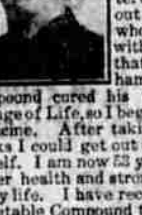
Tomorrow will be Bend Day and the queen and her attendants will be entertained with a luncheon at the hotel in Bend by the Commercial Club all leaving immediately afterwards for Redmond. The annual Bend-Redmond high school football game will be a feature of the program. The closing day, Saturday, is Crook and Jefferson counties day.

Roman chariot races will be a feature of the racing program at the fair each day.

SICK WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Can Be Carried Comfortably Over The Critical Period by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound —Note Mrs. Headden's Case

Macon, Georgia. — "During the Change of Life I suffered with my whole right side and could not lie on my left side. I was in bed about two months and could not get up only as my son would lift me. After doctoring without relief a man who was rooming with us told my son that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured his mother at the Change of Life, so I began taking your medicine. After taking it for two weeks I could get out of my bed by myself. I am now 53 years old and in better health and stronger than ever in my life. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to many suffering women, young and old, and you may use my name anywhere as long as you please. I will be glad to answer any letters sent to me." —Mrs. F. B. HEADDEN, 5 Holt Avenue, Macon, Georgia.



In a recent country-wide canvass of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 200,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 reported they had been benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

FEDERAL PRISON WILL MAKE SHOES FOR ARMY AND NAVY

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Oct. 1.—A million dollar factory within the prison walls of the Fort Leavenworth federal penitentiary will begin making shoes for the men of the army and navy and federal institutions next January. Warren F. Goldwaite will be its superintendent.

One of the serious problems with which Warden W. I. Biddle has had to contend is that of finding employment for his prisoners. The shoe factory will put to work 700 convicts whose time now is idle. The men will be taught a trade; a small remuneration will go partly toward the support of their families and partly into a fund at interest, to be paid them on their release. The government will take a profit from production.

The plant is expected to turn out from 2,500 to 3,000 pairs of shoes daily when operating at its capacity, but this will not be possible until skilled labor has been developed among the prison laborers. When the peak of quality and quantity has been attained, the penitentiary will begin manufacturing footwear for the army and navy, and later a work shoe in addition, for other institutions maintained by the government.

The factory was built by man power at a great saving in cost. Whenever some expensive bit of machinery could be replaced by manual labor, it was done. When it was necessary to hoist tons of brick and steel, cement and crushed stone to the workers on the skeleton fourth story, a series of runways was rigged up from lumber sawed at the prison mill, and up these runways the convicts trundled their wheelbarrows of construction material. Six hundred wards of the government helped build the plant.

The factory will be fireproof throughout, with large windows and white enamel walls. The floor surface will be impervious to grease and shoe blacking. Modern sanitary and safety devices and the latest shoe-building equipment will be used.

Superintendent Goldthwaite came to Fort Leavenworth from Haverhill, Mass., where he had completed a quarter of a century with a shoe manufactory. He will be assisted by five civilian foremen.

LANE COUNTY TO BE ASKED TO DO ROAD WORK IN THE UMPQUA NATIONAL FOREST

Forest Supervisor Carl B. Neal left this morning for Eugene where he will meet with the county court of Lane county. He expects to take several of the commissioners on a trip over the Frank Bryce road, where the forest service is asking the county for aid in construction and improvement work. The Frank Bryce road is in the Bohemia district, and is one of the important roads in the Umpqua national forest, being located in a timber development area as well as in one of the favorite recreational spots in the forest.

HOUSER DOING INSPECTION WORK AT DIAMOND LAKE

Forest Ranger O. C. Houser, who served as central dispatcher during the fire season on the Umpqua national forest, is now at Diamond Lake, where he is doing grazing inspection work. The local forest service office is making a careful survey of grazing on the forest, having a program outlined which is expected to prevent depletion of the forest range and at the same time make the most use of the areas open to grazing. The Diamond Lake district is one of the foremost feeding sections of the forest and its value for grazing purposes has been one of the big factors in the fight against the inclusion of the area in Crater Lake park.

People of All Periods Have Prized Cinnamon

Cinnamon is the inner bark of a small evergreen tree that is a native of the island of Ceylon, south of India. The tree is now also grown in Java, the West Indies, Brazil and Egypt, but no other cinnamon approaches in quality that grown in Ceylon.

Its history takes us back to remote antiquity and it was held to be a present fit to give to kings and other potentates. It was known to the ancient Hebrews and is mentioned in Exodus 30:23 as one of the component parts of the holy anointing oil, which Moses was commanded to prepare, and in Proverbs 7:17, it is mentioned as a perfume. Revelations 18 describes the fall of the Great Babylon, and in the enumeration of the merchandise of the doomed city, cinnamon is mentioned in verse 13, and it is connected with "odors and anointments, and frankincense."

Cinnamon was imported into Judea by the Phoenicians or by the Arabians.

The best cinnamon from Ceylon is a thin, smooth bark, of a light yellowish brown color, highly fragrant, and to the taste sweet, warm and pleasingly aromatic, the taste being due to the presence of an aromatic oil to the extent of from one-half to 1 per cent. Cinnamon is used as a condiment in cooking and as a flavoring in medicines.

"For the Merry Heart Is a Gladsome Thing"

Fortunately for the world its supply of Bottled Sunshine far exceeds that of its Wet Blankets. If this were not so what an unbearable place the world would be! Some lands, peoples and centuries are richer in it than others. Children and puppies and kittens and lambs and all young things (unless they be ill) are Bottled Sunshine. Precious stones and coal, flower buds and seeds and the kernels of fruit are Bottled Sunshine. Flashes of kindly wit and peals of laughter from out of a merry heart are its very essence.

Beautiful, bewitching, attractive in an unstable, uncertain sort of way, are the dispositions of some people, of whom it may be said, "They have a mercurial temperament."

Better to be merry, to be known as Bottled Sunshine, with a heart as full of the joy and gladness of living as are the woods of singing birds in the springtime.—Montreal Family Herald.

COOLIDGE'S ACT REDUCES POWERS ADMIRAL PALMER

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. — The broad powers delegated to the fleet corporation last year at the suggestion of President Coolidge were withdrawn today by the shipping board.

By rescinding resolutions entrusting the corporation with extensive administative powers, President Palmer will revert more to the position of an employe than an officer with independent powers over many of the details of the shipping administration.

In an effort to settle the row between the board and President Palmer a referee was appointed by President Coolidge so as to make recommendations as to action to be taken. The commissioners declared today their action would not run counter to the president's wishes or interfere with the study of the referee, H. G. Dalton of Cleveland.

Some commissioners who were opposed to Mr. Palmer, predicted that the latter's resignation would not be accepted at least for the present.

Commissioner Benson, Haney, Plummer and Thompson voted for the resolution stripping Mr. Palmer of his power.

Chairman O'Connor did not vote while commissioner Lissner and Hill were absent.

When Terrible Black Death Ravaged England

One of the first places in Europe where the black death appeared was at a small Genoese fort in the Crimea, the western terminus of the overland Chinese trade route. The Tartars were besieging the fort at the time, and Chinese merchants took refuge there. The siege was lifted by the investing army, which fled from the plague, thus spreading the infection southward into Asia Minor, Syria and Egypt. Ships from the Euxine carried the contagion to Constantinople and to Genoa, and thence it radiated, fan-shape, throughout the Mediterranean littoral.

In August, 1348, England's first black death victim succumbed in Dorsetshire. By November it had reached London. By the summer of 1349 it had dragged its pall of putrefaction over the entire island, including Scotland, Norwich, which had been the second city of the kingdom, dropped to sixth in size, more than two-thirds of its population falling victims of the scourge.

Cultivation of the fields was utterly impossible and there were not even enough able-bodied laborers to gather the crops which had matured. Cattle roamed through the corn unmolested and the harvest rotted where it stood.—National Geographic Magazine.

Newspaper Story Well Worth Being Told Again

Perhaps it's because newspaper men are a clannish lot of lads and prefer, when not engaged in their arduous duties, to be of and among themselves to seeking the company of others, but it strikes this observer that those who are alien to the newspaper profession hear few stories respecting the activities of the boys from the paper offices. Certainly the young man—or young woman—who is engaged in gathering the news of the day encounters plenty of adventure, some of it funny and again some of it not so funny.

Practically every newspaper man in the world has heard the story of the cub reporter who, being of a timid nature, was assigned by his city editor to interview the irascible capitalist whose lovely daughter had just run off with the family chauffeur. In fear and trembling he rang the doorbell. "Is Mr. Jones in?" he asked the maid who answered the door. "No, he is not," she replied. "Thank God!" said the reporter, and fell off the steps.

The story is so familiar to newspaper men (in fact it is incorporated in many of the textbooks that now aim to teach the young reporter how to shoot) that one wonders how generally it is known by the public.

Sacred Steps

The Santa Scala is a flight of 28 steps of white-veined marble in the piazza of the church of St. John Lateran at Rome, which, according to tradition, belonged to the house of Pilate at Jerusalem, and were made sacred by the feet of Christ as he passed to judgment, the Kansas City Times relates. Penitents are permitted to ascend these stairs only on their knees, and so great has been the number that annually made the ascent that it was found necessary to cover the steps with planks of wood to insure their protection. It was while ascending these steps that Martin Luther, then a monk, thought he heard the words, "The just shall live by faith." Mortified by the degradation to which he considered his superstition had led him, he descended and hastened from the spot.

Inventor Had Taken No Chance of Losing

Surely, the Scotch are the most tolerant people in the world, as they bear the brunt of most of its so-called humor. But there is considerable basis for the well-circulated theory that the Scot is canny. Here is an authentic yarn, vouched for by Harry Furniss in his "Some Victorian Men" that illustrates the point.

When Bessemer, the genius who gave to steel his name, came to make his discovery public, he put a lump of the famous steel in his pocket and made his way to Nasmyth, of steel-hammer fame.

Placing the lump on Nasmyth's desk, he told him that he had made an extraordinary discovery which would revolutionize the whole metal world. Then came a little incident which shows what wonderful heads these Scotch financiers possess. What do you think Nasmyth said to this excited inventor?

"Eh, mon, it's vary risky to show your wonderful invention. The world is very dishonest."

To which the inspiring inventor replied:

"Right, Mr. Nasmyth, I just calculated whom I was coming to see, so with my last half-crown I registered the invention on my way."
