

ROSEBURG NEWS-REVIEW

Member of The Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and to all local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

ROSEBURG, OREGON, MONDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1925.

WHY NOT ALLOW COMPETITION?

To the average person, unversed in the laws that govern railway extensions and interstate commerce, there appears no common-sense reason why the Oregon Trunk line (backed by the interests of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads) should be barred from entering southeastern Oregon in order that the Southern Pacific might have a monopoly on the business to be acquired there.

The opposing argument of the Oregon Trunk, epitomized, is that there is enough business in southeastern Oregon for more than one road and that its planned extension will provide both southern and western Oregon with quicker and less expensive rail connections with eastern terminals.

It is obvious that the traffic over the Natron cut-off will be a stimulus to business in western Oregon, but in receiving such a boon from the Southern Pacific why should there be granted in exchange a business monopoly that would preclude the benefit of better rail connections with the East?

"MIRACLE MAN'S" APPEAL.

Having failed to make a favorable impression on the minds of the American people by his futile attempt to settle the French war debt on the dollar-down-dollar-a-week plan, Joseph Caillaux, the "miracle man" of finance, at a farewell banquet tendered to him in New York Friday night, issued an appeal "to the heart of America" and beseeched us to view France "with the same sentiment expressed here."

We are told that M. Caillaux actually wept at the banquet, but we strongly suspect that the lachrymose exhibition was brought on by commiseration for Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, who referred with a sigh to "the happy associations of long ago" brought to mind when "Burgundy" was mentioned.

If those railroad magnates meeting at Portland today are unable to present their case so forcibly that a decision can be reached letting other lines enter Klamath Falls, Roseburg might make some flattering overtures for an east and west line to the coast via the North Umpqua river route.

The United States senatorial fight is in the making. As usual, there is no shortage of candidates—all of whom have claim for the office—equal or better than the other fellow.

Russia has gone back to the sale and manufacture of high-proof liquor. But Russia is in a class by herself and no other nation cares to even attempt to imitate her.

"One of the most successful state fairs ever held" is the general expression of all who attended the big event.

Now, let 'er rain, the State Fair is history for another year.

PRUNE PICKINS

BY BERT G. BATES

GOOD EVENING FOLKS— The p'lice force is runnin' ragged today As the rumor is out The the October Air is just like wine And that's agin The law— Got ding it!

DUMBELL DORA THINKS A dry dock is a landing pier where they search your baggage for booze.

"The Iron Horse" is in the village and totos folks think it's the same hoss Cal Coolidge takes his exercise on.

There's gonna be a fiatic encounter at the armory tomorrow eve which may be a tougher tussle than the time when another gal's hubby soaked a ditto on the jaw on acct' of disturbin' his domestic tranquility.

Word has reached this sanctum that the local high school football squad played the Marshfield sea gulls on Saturday. It is said the locals were just playin' for fun, therefore the score will be suppressed.

The World Series will start Wednesday and our winter suit depends on those Pittsburg pitchers.

A couple fellers Stopped in front of Our dugout this a. m. And one of 'em said "Say, you oughta Pull down the shades In yer front room— I saw ya kisser!"

Henry Ford is figgerin' on manufacturing a tin cow. He says the price will be about $375. Of course, we imagine it will be completely equipped with the usual extra charge in case the purchaser wants a spare set of udders and a deep bass moo-o-o!

Oh, father, dear father, come home with me now. The clock in the steeple strikes two.

The dev squad's dropped in and started a row And they're drinkin' up all our home brew.

"I want to do something big and clean before I die." "Wash an elephant."

They used to tell us a story when we were kids about a man who once found a $6 bill on the sidewalk. He was so tickled over finding so much money that he spent the rest of his life looking for more, but he kept his head bent down so much of the time that it finally grew that way, and if he wanted to look up, which he seldom did, he had to lean back to do it. We just cite this pitiful story as warning to the birds of today who have gotten in the way of keeping their eyes down. The girls can tell you what we mean.

DULLNESS HAS ITS COMPENSATIONS Mrs. Busybody—"How are you and Jack getting on?" Mrs. Newlywed—"Just fine. He's a bit dull, but I don't mind that. I know he's good. Dull men always are."

When you meet a feller on the main stem and his eyes are waterin' and his nose is sniffin'— Don't make any comment About how fine The weather is.

"It's a wise guy who can get his wife to pile the wood."

At the Fullerton P. T. A. meeting held last week, a number of important things for the new year were taken up, and needs of the school discussed. Parts of the letter from the state president of the P. T. A. were read and discussed. The members decided to hold their meetings the second Thursday of each month, and the committees for the winter were appointed as follows: membership, Mesdames Peterson, Cyrus, Wells, Sprinkel and Campbell; reception, Mesdames Kohlhaugen, French, Wilson and Stephenson; grounds, Mrs. J. K. Falbe, Mr. Arthur, Mr. Preble and Mr. Martin; program, Mesdames Arthur, Hamm, and Miss Swinney; magazine, Mrs. Reed; reporter, Mrs. C. H. Arundel.

The association announced that the annual picnic in the form of a masked ball and Cider Social will be held the last of October.

BEATS OREGON GOLF CHAMP. (Associated Press Leased Wire.) SALEM, Ore., Oct. 5.—Frank Dolp of Portland, state golf champion, was defeated here yesterday on the Illhee Country club links by Erel Kay of Salem, four up. The Salem club defeated the Alderwood club of Portland by one point.

State Press Comment

What Do You Drink? Here is a dispatch from Washington:

After careful analysis of liquor seized in the last few months by prohibition agents treasury officials could not recommend any kind of "stuffs" for beverage purposes. Dry agents said today the character of whiskey on the market has gone from bad to worse until it is impossible to get any of the genuine pre-war liquor except from private stock.

The principal sources of supply, says officials, are: Good liquor smuggled from Scotland, England, Canada or Mexico, and doctored or diluted here until it is hardly fit to drink. Whiskey obtained by "cooking" denatured alcohol to bring it back to pure alcohol, to which coloring or flavoring is added. This is very dangerous.

The treasury officials spoke after analyzing liquor found. They spoke with full knowledge, after thoroughly and scientifically examining liquor taken in raids.

What they said is a warning to those who take their chances with booze now on sale. Drinkers who today and tomorrow are not blinded or killed by tanking up with bootleg liquor that all's well. But high medical authority says the stiff is eating at their vitals and creating diseases of liver, kidney, stomach, bowels and other organs that will presently take their toll.

That two or three years is all the time that thousands of regular consumers of bootleg liquor to live is the statement of those who claim to know. And the information given out by the treasury department is a strong confirmation.—Portland Journal.

Put In The Punch. There are several types of minds in the world today. Many types are reached best and most effectively by newspapers. Many are influenced by outdoor advertising, magazines, direct-by-mail or street car advertising.

Probably no one type of advertising can reach everybody, but there is no question that newspaper advertising is economical and effective in reaching the largest number of prospects for practically any and every product. The enormous percentage of advertising appropriations spent in newspapers is probably the best proof of all, because, sooner or later, every concern in order to succeed in business must use sales and advertising efforts which bring good results.

Many advertisers make the mistake of thinking that merely by running an advertisement in the newspaper they can solve their troubles. It has to be a good advertisement, wisely planned and executed, before it can "bring home the bacon."—Portland Journal of Commerce.

The Wisconsin Election. Election of "Young Hob" La Follette by an overwhelming majority in Wisconsin only means that Wisconsin is still in the insurgent column. The combination of the foreign-born, of socialists, of non-partisan learners, of laborites, of uplifters and progressives maintains its solidarity and its loyalty to the name and traditions of La Follette. It means that the old political machine built up and held intact for quarter of a century under the leadership of the elder La Follette, is still functioning and likely to continue in the Badger state.

The Wisconsin election does not mean the ebb-tide of reaction and stand-pattism in the nation, or even in the northwest. Its effect is only local. As Wisconsin was the only state to vote for the third party candidates last fall, it is still the only state to remain in the third party column.

The turn in the tide of reaction will come in the nation at large from either hard times or too much prosperity. Both create a popular discontent that politicians capitalize for a change in government with the promise of a millennium in exchange for spoils of office. The country is neither very prosperous, nor very depressed, and no immediate change is therefore likely as long as conditions hold their own or improve.

The full dinner bucket continues the only vital issue with the people, for the electorate, like an army, travels on its belly, and its expectation of material prosperity.—Salem Journal.

Studebaker builds no yearly models.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

Fruity Dessert Dishes

Fruit combinations are always delightful and it is a good way to use a small quantity of fruit. A few slices of pineapple, a banana or two and an apple with a bit of chopped celery makes a most tasty salad, served with a good salad dressing, or with a sweet dressing, makes a nice dessert.

Apricot Whip.—Take two cupsful of apricots, one-half cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, the whites of two eggs. If the fruit is fresh, rub through a sieve; if dried, cook and put through a sieve, adding the sugar and letting them stand to season. Fold in the egg whites, beaten stiff. Bake in a buttered dish in a slow oven for 20 minutes. Serve with cream or a soft custard, garnished with cubes of bright jelly.

Delmonico Special.—Select six oranges of medium size. Cut a slice from the end of each and carefully remove the pulp. Mix the pulp with one-half cupful each of dates and walnut meats coarsely chopped and one-half cupful of coconut. Refill the shells. Beat an egg white, with salt, add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar and place a marshmallow on top of each. Brown in the oven until a golden brown; serve at once.

Apricot Ice.—Soak four cupsful of dried apricots in four cupsful of water until soft; cook until tender. Press through a potato ricer to remove the skins, add one-half cupful of sugar to the pulp and the water in which they were soaked, and cook ten minutes. Remove from the fire, cool, add the juice of three lemons and freeze. When partly frozen add the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and finish freezing.

Fruit Ice Cream.—Take a quart of crushed, strained berries, adding a tablespoonful of lemon juice, sweeten to taste and add a quart of this cream. Freeze as usual. Later in the season when peaches are ripe (or canned peaches may be used) grate a delicious dessert. Bananas with the juice of oranges and lemon, the bananas put through a sieve, is another well-liked combination. (© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

The Roseburg team demonstrated two great weaknesses. Its line was absolutely helpless before the plunging of the heavy Marshfield backs, while Roseburg's tackling lacked punch.

The line was woefully weak on the defensive, although the extreme light weight of the youngsters undoubtedly had much to do with that. The boys lacking experience, were unable to overcome the handicap of weight, while they were also unable to meet the tricks of their more experienced opponents.

In tackling, the Roseburg boys demonstrated a superiority to last year's team, tackling low and sure, but they lacked the punch necessary to upset the opponent and stop him. Frequently the heavy Marshfield runners carried the tackle; several yards, or pivoted and broke away. The tackling will undoubtedly improve as the boys gain experience, and during the coming week Coach Doubet expects to give a great deal of attention to strengthening the line.

Roseburg excelled Marshfield in several points. The boys were in much better physical condition and displayed greater stamina. Roseburg took time out for only one injury, while Marshfield took time on six occasions and removed several players with injuries. Raymond Bell, who sustained a nerve injury in light scrimmage last week, started the game at quarter for Roseburg. His injury, however, gave him some distress and he was removed after the first quarter. He is not hurt seriously and will be in the game again this week.

Roseburg's punts were far superior to Marshfield, and the line gave the backfield good protection on the punt formations. The Roseburg backfield, however, was weak in running interference, a lack of coordination being plainly manifest.

The local boys, however, exhibited a surprising knowledge of the fundamentals of the game. They are solidly grounded, and will without question make a big improvement during the rest of the year. Marshfield spent one whole quarter trying to get away with trick plays, but the local youngsters solved each of them quickly, and frequently setting their opponents back for a loss.

"The Marshfield team played a fine game," Coach Doubet said. "They have shown a big improvement over last year and I firmly believe that they will stand high among the teams of the state. They were bigger and heavier than our boys and knew more football. They played hard but clean, using all the legitimate tricks of the game, but doing nothing of a 'dirty' nature. They are a good clean bunch of players and undoubtedly will make a good record."

"Our own team showed up so much better than I had expected that I predict they will be going good before the end of the season. With the absolutely green team we cannot expect to win games the first season, but I am confident that before the end of this year we will be showing the fans some good football. The boys remembered what they had been told and kept their heads in action. They fought the entire time with an spirit which could not but compel admiration. That game did us a world of good from the standpoint of experience. The boys know now what it means to get hit and get hit hard. They know what it means to still keep fighting against overwhelming odds. They know how to give and take and that there is a world of difference between practice scrimmage and real football.

"Before the end of this year we

ROSEBURG TEAM DEFEATED 40-0 BY MARSHFIELD

In Spite of Overwhelming Victory Local Boys Far From Downhearted.

WEAKNESSES FOUND

Untried, Light Team Showed Up Well in First Game of the Season Against Veterans.

Although the Roseburg high school football team was defeated 40 to 0 by Marshfield Saturday, the team is far from being downhearted. In fact, the team made a better showing than had been expected, and the game was better than the score indicates.

Coach Doubet today expressed himself as being well pleased with the prospects for the future, believing that the Roseburg players received experience in Saturday's game which is more valuable to them than what they might have obtained in a number of contests with weaker teams.

"I believe that the Marshfield team is the strongest we will face this year," Coach Doubet said this morning. "The team we faced on Saturday is identically the same as the strong aggregation Marshfield had in the field last year, with the exception that they have added weight and experience. The entire Marshfield team was composed of experienced, heavy players, while out of our eighteen players who participated in the same only four had ever played in a football game before."

The Roseburg team demonstrated two great weaknesses. Its line was absolutely helpless before the plunging of the heavy Marshfield backs, while Roseburg's tackling lacked punch.

The line was woefully weak on the defensive, although the extreme light weight of the youngsters undoubtedly had much to do with that. The boys lacking experience, were unable to overcome the handicap of weight, while they were also unable to meet the tricks of their more experienced opponents.

In tackling, the Roseburg boys demonstrated a superiority to last year's team, tackling low and sure, but they lacked the punch necessary to upset the opponent and stop him. Frequently the heavy Marshfield runners carried the tackle; several yards, or pivoted and broke away. The tackling will undoubtedly improve as the boys gain experience, and during the coming week Coach Doubet expects to give a great deal of attention to strengthening the line.

Roseburg excelled Marshfield in several points. The boys were in much better physical condition and displayed greater stamina. Roseburg took time out for only one injury, while Marshfield took time on six occasions and removed several players with injuries. Raymond Bell, who sustained a nerve injury in light scrimmage last week, started the game at quarter for Roseburg. His injury, however, gave him some distress and he was removed after the first quarter. He is not hurt seriously and will be in the game again this week.

Roseburg's punts were far superior to Marshfield, and the line gave the backfield good protection on the punt formations. The Roseburg backfield, however, was weak in running interference, a lack of coordination being plainly manifest.

The local boys, however, exhibited a surprising knowledge of the fundamentals of the game. They are solidly grounded, and will without question make a big improvement during the rest of the year. Marshfield spent one whole quarter trying to get away with trick plays, but the local youngsters solved each of them quickly, and frequently setting their opponents back for a loss.

"The Marshfield team played a fine game," Coach Doubet said. "They have shown a big improvement over last year and I firmly believe that they will stand high among the teams of the state. They were bigger and heavier than our boys and knew more football. They played hard but clean, using all the legitimate tricks of the game, but doing nothing of a 'dirty' nature. They are a good clean bunch of players and undoubtedly will make a good record."

"Our own team showed up so much better than I had expected that I predict they will be going good before the end of the season. With the absolutely green team we cannot expect to win games the first season, but I am confident that before the end of this year we will be showing the fans some good football. The boys remembered what they had been told and kept their heads in action. They fought the entire time with an spirit which could not but compel admiration. That game did us a world of good from the standpoint of experience. The boys know now what it means to get hit and get hit hard. They know what it means to still keep fighting against overwhelming odds. They know how to give and take and that there is a world of difference between practice scrimmage and real football.

"Before the end of this year we

BRIGHTEN UP THE HOUSE FOR WINTER

By the use of a small amount of Sherwin-Williams "Decotint," which is one of the best wall finishing products made, you can make your home look as fresh and inviting as when just completed.

Then for any sort of cleaning where painted or varnished surfaces are involved, "Flaxoap" will do the business without impairing the finish or varnish. Ask us about these products—you'll find them just the very thing needed.

Churchill Hardware Company The Iron Mongers

should be winning games. Next year with a big squad of experienced and trained players Roseburg should be able to make a good showing among the other high schools of the state.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK BE OBSERVED FROM OCTOBER 4-10

In accordance with the proclamation issued by President Coolidge, the annual observance of Fire Prevention Week throughout the entire country began Sunday. This week has been selected because it marks the anniversary of the great Chicago fire.

In cooperation with the National Waste Council and the Insurance department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce has arranged a program for the week the purpose of which will be to try to impress local citizens with the importance of doing their share in keeping fire waste at a minimum. Emphasis will be laid on the fact that burned property is lost forever, and therefore represents a direct loss which must be borne by every citizen.

It is estimated by the insurance department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that the destruction of property by fire in this country during the first six months of 1925 was $16,450,000 greater than during the corresponding period of 1924. Last year the national fire loss was $48,810,039, the greatest in the history of the country. On the other hand, fire losses in Great Britain for the first half of 1925 were 40 per cent lower than during the same period of 1924. The annual per capita loss in the United States, according to the department's figures, is approximately 45, while Great Britain's is less than a dollar.

An important phase of the program arranged for the local observance of Fire Prevention Week will be directed toward trying to reduce the number of lives lost by fire. Experts are convinced that many lives lost each year could be saved if the people, individually and collectively, followed a few simple precautions. As evidence of this, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States declares that nearly 69 per cent of the cities reporting in the 1924 inter-chamber

Many building permits for small structures have been granted during the past week. L. R. Chambers procured a permit for a $2,000 dwelling and $300 garage on East Second Avenue, Fifth street. Frank E. Johnson is building a $200 garage on North street. A $150 garage and a woodshed on South Rose street. Charles T. Madison is erecting a $1,500 dwelling on West Mosher street. I. N. Park has procured a permit to erect a $40 shed on Hamilton street. Mrs. M. E. Bridges is building a $500 double garage in connection with the two houses which she is completing on Fowler street. A $250 shed is being constructed by Krogel and Lohr on South Stephens street, and Thomas Cobb is erecting a $200 garage on Lillburn street in Laurelwood.

Camphor Is Big Surprise Everybody is surprised at the quick results from simple camphor, witchhazel, hydrastis, etc. as mixed in Lavophik eye wash. One small bottle helps any case, weak, strained or sore eyes. Aluminum eye cup free. N. Fullerton, druggist.

Her Secret Suit Talk of London

London is prying for details of the secret court proceedings begun by Miss Nancy Bowles-Lyon which resulted in her being recognized as a relative of the Earl of Strathmore.

Advertisement for Harth's Toggery featuring an illustration of a man in a trench coat and hat. Text includes: "Fall and Winter Overcoats", "It's an interesting sight to see the array of New Overcoats for Fall and Winter that we are displaying now. Among them are the latest styles in single and double breasted coats.", "These splendid coats come in all the popular colors of the season, and are tailored with custom care.", "Harth's Toggery", "Stetson Hats and Florsheim Shoes".