OFFICERS IN DUEL WITH THUGS; 2 DIE

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—A revolver battle between gunmen and detectives this afternoon brought to a climax a day of gang warfare in New York with a casualty list of two dead and two severely injured. The officers and gangsters clashed on Hudson and Jane streets as they passed in autos. One gunman was wounded and four others were arrested.

ROSEBURG WOMAN GETS PRIZE ON ART DISPLAY AT FAIR

Mrs. Charles Rusko, art instructor in the Heinline Conservatory of Music and Art, who entered a number of pieces of her work in the art department of the state fair at Salem last week, received first prize on a group of six wall plaques, and also received first prize on a still life painting which she entered. Mrs. Rusko, who has been studying extensively during the summer, and has been taking up the new glass work and plaque work in Newark, recently exhibited some very fine pieces of art at the opening of the conservatory. The pieces she entered at the fair were a wall plaque of "Lady Macbeth," "Blue Bird," two fine reproductions of Maxfield Parrish, in wall plaques, and "Curiosity," and one table plaque of a Chinese scene, on one side the chrysanthemum, and on the other a Chinese landscape in twilight. This group of plaques received first prize from the judges. The still life scene, the painting which won first prize in its class, was an attractive arrangement of vegetables. The prize received by Mrs. Rusko is doubly an honor, the work having been entered in the professional field, where many fine pieces of art were displayed.

MURDER TRIAL OF CONVICT IS BEGUN AT SALEM

was filled and probably a hundred or more other people waited in the halls for an opportunity to get in.
Only one tilt occurred during the morning session, when the district attorney entered objection to the questions being directed at the prospective jurors by the defense. Mr. Carson objected to the query of Mr. King as to the jurors' willingness to vote for a recommendation of life imprisonment as against the death penalty. The court ruled that it was proper for the defense to question the juror as to the discretion to be exercised, but held that it was not allowable to question the manner in which this discretion was to be exercised.

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 5.—

Tom Murray, 22-year old desperado serving a 20-year sentence in the Oregon penitentiary and the central figure in three breaks from that institution, goes on trial in circuit court here this morning for the killings which resulted from his last escape from the prison, August 12, when he, Ellisworth Kelley, James Willos and Bert "Oregon" Jones, shot their way out of the "big house."
Murray, Willos and Kelley made their escape, only to be captured and brought back to face murder charges 10 days later. Jones dropped dead with a bullet thru his head just outside the walls at Guard tower No. 1. In the exchange of 15 or more shots with Guards J. M. Holman, 62, and John Sweeney, 60, both guards, on the walls at the time of the break, were killed, and each of the three convicts face charges of killing both.
The three prisoners will face trial separately, with Murray, admitted leader of the trio, facing the ordeal first. For him, as well as each of the others, District Attorney John H. Carson, will ask the death penalty, charging all to be participants in a conspiracy which resulted in the murders and each equally responsible. No intimation of what lines his defense will follow, has been given by Will R. King, attorney for the three.
Judge Percy R. Kelly will hear the case.
Both attorneys admit that the fate of the three rest practically with the outcome of the Murray trial, and there is little hope that the case will go to the jury less than ten days. Already the prosecution has subpoenaed 33 witnesses, and the defense has intimated that it will probably call at least half as many.
There is little likelihood, according to the attorneys, that they will be able to secure a jury before late Tuesday, and possibly not by that time. Eleven of the prospective jurors, ten women, one man, have already filed claims of exemption, and it is expected that a second venire will have to be called. Seven women still remain on the jury list still available.
Taking cognizance of Murray's statement, made at the time of his capture that he was "through serving time," every precaution is being taken to guard against an attempted break during the trial. He will be brought to the court house from the prison under heavy guard and, while he will not wear handcuffs in the court room, armed guards will be sprinkled liberally about the room, and only those spectators for whom there are actually seats will be admitted. Sheriff Oscar D. Bower declares.

MISSING MAN DEAD, BUT NOT OF THIRST

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
LONGVIEW, Wash., Oct. 5.—Joseph Young, 69, missing for three days from his haunts near White House, on the upper Coveeman river, was found paralyzed last night by a party of searchers in an abandoned cabin. The report that a half empty jug of liquor was at his side. Young died early this morning without regaining consciousness. Coroner Van Note went to the scene this morning. The men who found Young were of the opinion that there was no foul play.

THIEF CONFESSES CRIMES AT BEND

BEND, Ore., Oct. 5.—Robert A. Winthrop, charged with larceny of a car and embezzlement, and who was returned from Pasadena, Cal., Saturday night, informed Sheriff S. E. Roberts this morning that he was guilty and would so plead when arraigned, according to the officer.
Winthrop, formerly a construction engineer on the Natron cut-off branch of the Southern Pacific with headquarters at Odell Lake, is alleged to have misappropriated money entrusted to him for deposit in a Bend bank and purchased a car from a local garage making a payment down in the form of the misappropriated money and a second car which it is alleged did not belong to him.
The deals happened October 6, 1924.

LAST HALF OF TAXES DUE TODAY

The tax office was a busy spot today as taxpayers were flocking to the court house to pay their last half before the expiration of the time limit, which expires today. Interest attaches to payments made after today, although the extra amount will probably not be required for a few days, as the collection officers will be busy receiving mail payments for a short time. The Southern Pacific company paid its second half Saturday, the check amounting to $103,000. The tax department is today making a turn-over of $150,000 to the county treasurer, who will distribute the sum to the various funds.

COURT MARTIAL SOON READY TO TRY MITCHELL

arrangements were carried out by Rodgers and other flying officers. "Commander Rodgers had complete charge of all details," Connell asserted. "He is a very, very good flier and made careful preparations."
Although not mentioning Colonel Mitchell by name, Lieutenant Connell added that if the flight were to be attempted again tomorrow, "we would leave under the same conditions."
Failure of the wind, which weather experts could not foresee, Connell continued, was largely responsible for the plane not reaching Honolulu.
Connell testified the only "slip up" in plans was the failure to find the guard ship Aroostook. If that vessel had been located, he added, refueling could have been done and the flight continued.
The witness said he knew of no hesitancy by naval officers to give personal views before the investigating bodies. He endorsed a separate air corps in the navy and favored a separate budget for the corps, but opposed an independent air service. Dissatisfaction existed among air officers, he said, because of the lack of a definite air policy. PN-9 planes, Connell said, "are one of the best types" of patrol planes ever developed.

"FRAT" HOUSES AT O. A. C. LOOTED OF STUFF WORTH $850

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 5.—Thieves who entered three fraternity houses at Oregon Agricultural College after midnight last night, made away with money and personal effects valued at $850. The loot included 150 watches, considerable money, drawing sets, slide rules, kodaks, shirts, overcoats and other articles of clothing. One fraternity lost a vacuum cleaner.
Alpha Pi Delta and Pi Kappa Phi in the College Hill section, and Lambda Phi Delta, farther down town, were raided. Sleeping porches in the houses robbed are on the third floor, making it easy for the prowlers to work below. Front doors of the houses are ordinarily not locked, as robberies have been almost unknown in the past.
"An old car was heard leaving the vicinity about 3 a. m. the time the robberies are thought to have been committed."
