SPECIAL CAST WILL PRESENT 'LIGHTNIN' HERE

"Lightnin'" will be presented with all the splendor and artistic finish that characterized its three years' run on Broadway. The cast includes the best-remembered favorites of the play's long runs in Cleveland and the principal cities. Thomas Jefferson still plays Bill Jones; Bessie Bacon, the vamping vaudeville actress, and Mrs. Bacon will play Mrs. Jones.

Perhaps the gentleness of Lightnin' Bill Jones, its central character, invests the play with its strongest charm. When the broil of plausible circumstances finally brings him, in his G. A. R. uniform, into the Reno court room, unsuspecting that his own divorce suit is to be tried, it is this very gentleness that saves the day, frustrating and steering his adopted daughter into the arms of the right young man.

The property involved in the swindling scheme happens to be an hotel built astride the California-Nevada boundary line, with the result that the first act is full of fun hung on this line. A sheriff is balked of his fell purpose by it, and numerous divorce-seeking men and women cross it as a refuge from the stormy seas of matrimony.

"Lightnin'" second act, showing the Reno court room, is rated as one of the finest examples of play-writing in stage history. The procedure is strictly legal, but the succession of laughter, tears, and thrills is no less rapid or convincing because of that.

Seats for "Lightnin'" are now on sale at the box office at the Antlers theatre between the hours of 10:30 a. m. and 12 noon; 1:30 and 4:30 p. m. and 7:30 and 10 p. m.

Real Live Educated FLEAS On Exhibition

The most marvelous example of patience ever seen here, is apparent in the work of Prof. John Buhl, who exhibits a troupe of performing fleas.

He has accomplished what seems impossible and puts his collection of trained insects through a variety of stunts, many of which would seem remarkable if performed by animals. The fleas respond to the command of their trainer. They dance, juggle, pull miniature vehicles, operate merry-go-round and do other realistic feats, plainly visible to the naked eye. This is the only Flea Circus in existence, a sight of a life-time and should be visited by young and old.
