LOGGING RESUMED AT MORE FIR CAMPS

PORTLAND, Oct. 8. — (Special) — Logging is now under way at 95 per cent of the camps west of the Cascades, according to the 4L employment service letter issued here today, which reported increased logging activity in several districts. Sawmill operation remained unchanged from the previous week except in Aberdeen, Washington, where 1300 sawmill workers are on strike, affecting five plants, the letter said.

Signs of decreasing employment were reported from the Inland Empire districts, where sawmill operation is being curtailed and other seasonal work is tapering off. Reports from the various 4L offices were as follows:

Reedsport, Ore. — Local supply of help equal to present demand. All sawmills here except one now operating. Most logging camps in this district running.

Cottage Grove — The Woodard and Bohemia sawmills have resumed cutting after being closed for several months. Anderson & Middleton Co. has added an extra side at its logging camp. Demand and supply of help in this district about balanced.

Portland — Good demand for loggers and farm help. Green Mountain Logging Co., Kerry Lane will resume this week. Cobbs & Mitchell, Valdez, have laid off night shift at mill. Menefee mill at Hubbard closed. No big demand for sawmill workers but not many skilled men unemployed.

Aberdeen, Washington — Following discharge of two men who circulated a petition for wage increase at Donovan Mill 1 here, a strike starting September 28, has now affected five sawmill operations involving more than 1300 men. The petition asked for a 50-cent wage increase for all employees. The low wage at these mills is $3.25. Men elected by the strikers are trying to arrange conferences with management in hope of an early settlement of differences. The plants affected are not members of the 4L. Logging is becoming more active and except for the Anderson & Middleton camp all logging companies in Grays Harbor district are now operating. Independence Logging Co. started fallers and buckers last week. No surplus of experienced loggers here. Turnover at camps is lighter than it was one week ago.

Tacoma — Logging became more active along the Tacoma-Eastern branch last week when the Cascade Timber Co. started falling and bucking. The Mineral Lake camps also have been opened. No change in sawmill operation here. Few skilled men seeking employment but applicants for common labor jobs are more numerous.

Seattle — Labor demand in nearly all lines continues good. Camp and sawmill labor turnover lighter than two weeks ago. Several calls for miners posted. Many jobs for farm and dairy workers offered. Quite a few calls for shingle belt cutters on local boards. More men in town than at this time last month.

Spokane — Employment boards in this city show a marked decrease in demand for men. A few miners are being hired daily and there are a number of jobs for road men being offered, but the volume is small. Help is easy to get. Labor turnover in all lines is light, and most of the men now seeking work are trying to get jobs for the winter.

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho — Plenty of men here for all local work. Some winter camps preparing for logging. The Blackwell Lumber Co. has taken off its night miller crew, and the Coeur d'Alene Mill Co. has closed its third shift.

Beard, Oregon — Tying shift has been laid off at Brooks-Seaman plant. Slight surplus of labor here.

ACHES AND PAINS ALL OVER BODY

Mrs. Proctor Reports Great Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharpburg, Pa. — "I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all suffering women. I have taken four bottles of it and I feel 100 per cent better. I was dizzy and weak with no appetite, no ambition and I was unable to do any work. I had aches and pains all over my body and had the headache a good deal. I saw your advertisement in the 'Pittsburgh Press' and thought it might help me. I have been greatly benefited by its use and highly recommend it for all ailments of women." — Mrs. J. H. PROCTOR, Box 1, East Liberty Station, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Such letters prove the great merit of the Vegetable Compound. These women know by experience the benefit they have received. Their letters show a sincere desire to help other women suffering from like ailments. Let these experiences help you now.

In a recent canvass of women purchasers, 98 out of every 100 report beneficial results by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Sold by druggists everywhere.

REMOVAL OF FIRE HAZARDS ONE AIM OF SPECIAL WEEK

One activity usually engaged in during Fire Prevention Week is the distribution of inspection blanks to factories, stores and other business establishments. Sometimes these forms are immediately consigned to the waste basket, but in many instances a careful check is made that the property owner may know the true condition of his plant with respect to fire safety.

The advantage of so-called self-inspections, according to the Insurance Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is that they permit removal of fire hazards before there has been an opportunity to cause damage. In walking through his establishment, a business man may easily pass by a number of possible fire sources without noticing them. With an inspection blank in his hand, however, on which a number of questions relating to various phases of fire prevention and fire protection are asked, he looks at his property from another viewpoint, considerably to his advantage.

A system which is followed in a number of industrial plants is to have fire inspections made weekly by selected employees. Because no two men will always note the same defects, inspectors are sometimes changed from week to week. A custodial plan is to have the reports made by these employees turned over to the master mechanic for action and later examined by one more of the executives. Many cases are on record where the closed sprinkler valves and other serious hazards have been discovered through this means. Fire Prevention Week is a good time for local business establishments to start such systems. The few minutes required each week to make the inspections will undoubtedly pay good dividends.

Cooperation on the part of employees aids in reducing fire hazards. They should be encouraged to report to their foremen any unsafe conditions which they may notice. They will do this more readily when they understand a serious fire in their plant means loss of employment to them.

Potato-Leek Soup: Cut one bunch of leeks in thin slices crosswise and cook in two and one-half tablespoons of butter for 12 minutes. Now add one quart of cold, sweet milk and set the soup over rapidly boiling water to cook, covered, for one hour. At the end of this time, add three cups of leftover cooked and cubed potatoes, two tablespoons of butter, a pinch of salt, a dash of pepper and two and one-half tablespoons of flour mixed to a paste in a little cold, sweet milk. Stir, and continue to cook, till thickened, then serve at once. Corn Fritters: Chop one can of corn, drain off excess moisture and add the beaten yolks of two eggs, one teaspoon of salt, one cup of bread flour previously sifted with one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, and, last, fold in two stiffly-whipped egg-whites. Drop by teaspoonful into a hot pan in which either a little bacon fat or butter is sizzling. Cook till brown on the under side, then turn and brown the reverse side before draining moment on crumpled brown paper. Serve hot.

Baked Apple Pudding: Into one quart of bread crumbs stir one-third cup of melted butter. Mix well. Now into a buttered pudding dish place a layer of sliced raw apples (you will need one quart of the sliced apples for the entire pudding). Follow with a light sprinkling of ground cinnamon and brown sugar, then add a layer of the bread crumbs. Repeat these layers till the ingredients are used, having a bread crumb layer come last. Dot with additional butter and moisten with one cup of boiling water. Slip the dish into a moderate oven to bake for one hour. Serve hot with a brown sugar hard sauce (flavored with vanilla extract, or else with the following):

Delicate Hard Sauce: Cream one-third cup of butter, rub in one cup of white powdered sugar and mix with a few drops of lemon juice or one-half teaspoon of vanilla extract.

GLADIOLUS WARD
WANTS TO SEE GARDEN IN EACH YARD.

GOSHEN, Ind., Oct. 8. — Motorists who pause along the Lincoln highway west of here to admire acres of gladiolus blooms which stretch away from the pavement, may see among the rows of color an overvalued man, well past middle age, caring tenderly for the flowers.

He is A. E. Kunder, gladiolus king, whose experimentation in their culture has brought him world-wide fame among horticulturists, and a fortune, too.

The developer of more varieties of gladiolus than any other man presently began to produce and choose varieties, laying the foundation for the production finally of the ruffled gladiolus, his masterpiece. It is a type with beautiful ruffled petals, and its introduction was a horticultural sensation.

He has a more farflung goal, however. Kunder, being a gladiolus producer, wishes to see in his lifetime a flower garden in the yard of every American home. That will be a reality, he believes, within the next ten years.

In the national and western gladiolus exhibitions this year, at Rochester, N. Y., and Des Moines, Ia., Mr. Kunder won more than 200 awards of the total awards. From almost every country horticulturists have come to his farm of several hundred acres to take back his methods of gladiolus hybridization and specimens of the flowers.

WAVES GREETING TO FRIEND; CAR LEAPS AND BRINGS DEATH

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
PENDLETON, Ore., Oct. 8. — Jack Bertoni, of Pendleton, died last night as the result of injuries sustained late yesterday afternoon on the old Oregon Trail near Pendleton when his automobile went over a bank. Bertoni was on his way to the quarry where he had charge of the blasting and taking out of rock for the county road work. About three miles out of town, he waved at a truck driver and it is believed that he lost control of his car, the machine going over in the loose gravel, fracturing Bertoni's skull.

Bertoni was a skillful rock blaster and experienced quarryman. He conducted his business under the name of Burton. Bertoni was a native of Italy and had taken out his first naturalization papers in the United States.

LAND SETTLEMENT DEPARTMENT IS DOING GOOD WORK

PORTLAND, Oct. 8. — A harvest moon has been shining over the Land Settlement Department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce for the past week and the sheaves garnered have been new settlers for Oregon.

That the entire state has been benefited by the land settlement work of the past year, and that the past summer season particularly has been a very fruitful one, is proven by the reports that daily come into this department.

So far for the week 146 new settlers have been reported. The counties are at work checking up their new families and are mailing their lists as their endorsement of the State Wide Development campaign now in progress.

Miss Margaret Beale, secretary of the Oregon City Chamber of Commerce, reported six new settlers for Clackamas county. C. E. Wilson, Salem Chamber secretary, sent a list of 61 names, representing the new families located in Marion county during the months of August and September. E. Eugene Chadwick, secretary of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce, reported 28 new settlers for Lane county for the month of September. W. A. Hold, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Corvallis, reported 47 new settlers for Benton county, and the secretary at Grants Pass, C. A. Swope, has just sent in the names of 19 late arrivals for Josephine county.

In addition to the new settlers just reported, by the different counties, 12 families have located during the past month through the Land Settlement Department. Three of these have purchased cut over land in Columbia county. A letter just received by Arthur Foster, Manager of the Land Settlement Department, from H. M. Krebs, manager of the Clark & Wilson Lumber Co., states that during the past year more than 200 acres of cut over land from their holdings in Columbia county have been sold to new families and that much credit is due the state land development work of the Oregon Chamber of Commerce.

ALABAMA BOY ENNAILED TO SCHOOL AND EQUIP HIMSELF

(Associated Press Local Wire.)
GADSDEN, Ala., Oct. 8. — Every boy in Alabama has opportunity to equip himself with an education and to become self-supporting.

For the boy of limited means and in such financial circumstances as to require him to become a quick producer, the state has established the Alabama School of Trades and Industries, a state-endowed institution to train craftsmen. Added to the craftsmanship will be such cultural advantages as may be very speedily absorbed.

The school will teach a boy to become a skilled worker, a carpenter, a cabinet maker, a bricklayer, a printer, an artist, an engineer, a mechanic, a motorist, or any of the other allied

ADVERTISING IS TALKED AT MEETING IN GRANTS PASS

L. L. Crocker, president of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce and L. Ames, secretary, returned last night from Grants Pass, where they attended a special meeting of the Southern Oregon Chamber of Commerce. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering a plan for district advertising. The cities of Roseburg, Grants Pass, Medford, Ashland and Klamath Falls are interested, and it is planned to develop a system of district advertising to encourage industry to locate in southern Oregon. This advertising would feature no specific community but would be general for the entire district.

NEWSY BITS

LOS ANGELES — Cruelty and failure to provide adequate grounds named in the divorce suit filed in superior court by Anna Q. Nilson, motion picture actress, known in private life as Mrs. Anna Gunnerson, against J. Marshall Gunnerson, wealthy shoe manufacturer who married her here in February, 1923.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Three hundred members of the freshman class were housed in a three foot deep mud hole by the sophomores who won the annual mud fight.

SACRAMENTO — Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, Los Angeles city school superintendent, believes that the undraped figures of God's and Goddesses of Greek and Roman mythology are out of place in school reference books. A letter from her to the state board of education says illustrations of Psyche and Cupid, in customary lack of apparel, are too suggestive for boys and girls of high school age.

VICTORIA, B. C. — K. Shedakaka's wife, together with one of their children, departed for Japan with her brother Z. Itah, a Japanese school teacher, but Shadakaka pursued their steamer in an airplane. The reunited family returned to Seattle, the brother went on to Japan alone.

TACOMA — Calling to fellow workers, "Boys, I'm through," Paul Torquardt, 26, pushed aside a life belt which had been thrown him after his leap into the sound from the Tacoma Smelter dock, and sank to his death.

PRESCOTT, Ariz. — "A death rack" of cards was distributed by United States Marshal George Manke. Each card of the pack will admit one person to the stockade, where George Dixon Sutynamic, young Wapiti Indian, will be executed Saturday for the murder of Arthur M. Cavell, Prescott taxicab driver.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)
