GET READY for TOMORROW ~Everyone

Within the next ten years, we see more industries, better development of the resources of this region, better business for everyone; and now is the time to get ready.

Our New Industries Department is with you—new capital and new people are needed to make the most of your wealth of natural resources.

The New Industries Department is disclosing to investing capital the great raw material wealth of our Agriculture, Timber and Minerals. It is working for the legitimate expansion of every industrial possibility for the region, and supplying a consolidated, supplementary Chamber of Commerce type of service for the five Oregon counties and the one California county within our territory.

We have every confidence in what the future holds in store, and hydro-electric power's participation in it. At present the Industries of this region are counting more on electricity than ever before; and we are proud to be able to say that the communities we serve have advanced further in the use of labor-saving household equipment than many of the largest cities on this coast or anywhere else. If you are ready to have your household work done electrically —a member of this company will be glad to tell you how little it costs.

MRS. STEVENS DIES AT HOME OF HER SON IN COTTAGE GROVE

COTTAGE GROVE, Oct. 12—Mrs. Augusta Amelia Stevens died Friday afternoon at the home of her son, Charles A. Stevens, following an illness of two months. She was born in Germany, September 18, 1852, and came to America at the age of eight years. Her early home was in Chicago and Madison, Wis.

She crossed the plains by ox team in 1866 and settled in the Oregon country in 1867. She was married to John Stevens in 1876 at Freeport, Washington. To this union eight children were born, the surviving six are: Mrs. T. E. Ellis, Durkee, Ore.; Charles A. Stevens, Cottage Grove; F. G. Stevens, Freewater, Ore.; Mrs. Emma Hittle, Albion, Wash.; Mrs. Addie Woodson, Albany, William L. Stevens, Portland. She also leaves four brothers and sisters and eighteen grandchildren. Mrs. Stevens has lived at Oakland, Oregon, for the past 36 years with the exception of two years spent in Albany with her daughter, Mrs. Woodson. The funeral was held at the I. O. O. F. cemetery in Oakland Sunday afternoon.

PARTIES ARRESTED HERE HELD IN EUGENE FOR THEFT OF SUITCASE

EUGENE, Oct. 12—Charged with the theft of a suitcase belonging to M. Peters of this city, four men were brought back here from Roseburg, according to announcement at the office of Frank E. Taylor, sheriff, today.

The four men, ranging in age from 22 to 25 years of age, have been in Eugene for about three weeks, and have been residing at the University apartments on Thirteenth avenue east. Three of the men are said to have been employed for a time on street work by the Wilfert Sand and Gravel company; according to W. G. Judkins, chief of police, who investigated the case and requested the arrest of the men while on their way south by motor yesterday.

Chief Judkins was at Roseburg yesterday and returned with the stolen suitcase and other goods believed by the chief to have been stolen.

Seven lap robes, about 40 cans of tobacco, 12 new shirts, 10 pairs of new overalls and a large number of neckties and socks were found in the car, the chief reports.

A plow for any kind of soil can be found in our stock of plows. Wharton Bros.

A FINE GRAINED SKIN.

There are at least 500 ways of making the skin fine grained, and probably 100 of this number would suit your special type of complexion. It's as well to know of a number of methods, for you cannot always treat the skin the same way; in dry weather you must use a little oil and in cold weather the treatment is not the same as in hot; you need fewer astringents for one thing.

So here's just one other suggestion for making the skin fine. It is to use powdered oatmeal.

Buy the oatmeal powder from a druggist, you can buy a large tin for 25 to 50 cents scented or otherwise. Wash the face with quite warm water and no soap, keeping the warm, wet wash cloth over the skin long enough to open the pores slightly, about one minute.

Pour a little powder into the palm of one hand, and put with it just enough water to make it a paste, a few drops will do. Rub this into the face and rub and rub for perhaps another minute. The skin absorbs the moisture, the oatmeal dries and eventually rubs off. But do not carry the treatment this far, after a minute, wash off the paste with warm water. Wash it off thoroughly, and dry the skin.

That's all there is to it. But the oatmeal is as cleansing as soap, more so, for it makes the skin finer, very soft to touch, and very nice to look at. Fine blackheads will disappear as if by magic, big ones will yield, in time, to the efficient cleansing this oatmeal gives. It is, besides, slightly bleaching, and good as a summer treatment.

Shirley, V. P. — You would undermine your health if you take any of these drugs you mention to reduce. A girl of 16 should not try much by way of reduction, except to take enough exercise and omit rich sweets from the diet when she is inclined to be as stout as you are.

Your weight should be about 105 with a height of five feet, one inch, but a little more or less at this age does not matter.

Mary Ann — At this season of the year most people are troubled with falling hair, but they should also be compensated by having plenty of new hair coming in. Massage scalp every day to keep up a healthy circulation, as that helps more than a hair tonic; however, if this is not effective, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the formula for the pilocarpine hair tonic and I will be glad to mail it to you.

SEED VETCH INDUSTRY PROVES PROFITABLE ONE

The development of a new industry in this section is possible as a result of the experiment made the past year in the growing of vetch for seed, says the Oakland Tribune. The trials proved very satisfactory and all of the growers have signed up an increased acreage for next year. Two carloads of vetch seed have been shipped from the county, one from Sutherlin and one from Roseburg within the last couple of weeks. This means a good sized cash income for a number of growers of this section.

The vetch seed produced this year was grown under contract with the H. A. Hyde seed company of Watsonville, California. The company furnished the original seed and agreed to pay a stipulated price for the crop produced. These arrangements seem to have been carried out in a very satisfactory manner by the company. A number of ranchers in the Fair Oaks neighborhood had acreage under contract last year and have renewed their agreements for another season. Among these are Peter Adams, George Neal and William Coleman.

The success that has been met in producing vetch seed has suggested results might be attained with clover seed, which is one of the most profitable crops that can be raised. Over a three-year period the price of red clover seed has averaged from $15 to $20 a hundred pounds, the Western Oregon seed usually commanding the highest price in the country.

Climatic conditions in this section are declared by experts to be extremely favorable to seed production and with a little care in building up the soil this is bound to prove a very profitable line of production.

EUGENE COUPLE INJURED WHEN CAR GOES OVER BANK

MYRTLE POINT, Oct. 12—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fisher, Eugene, Ore., are in Mast hospital here, the result of their automobile somersaulting down a grade 25 miles from here on the Roseburg road Friday night. Mrs. Fisher has two broken ribs and Fisher is severely bruised. Miss Esther Davis, University of Oregon student, as passenger in the car, escaped injury. The accident occurred when the lights on Fisher's car went out.

BANK DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO ESCHEAT

Thirty-eight state banking, savings and loan and trust institutions of the state have reported to the secretary of state commercial and savings deposits, aggregating a total of $4,618.51, remaining in their possession and unclaimed for periods of more than seven years, in the case of commercial deposits and 12 years, in the case of savings deposits, prior to July 1, 1925, and subject to escheat to the state. National banks are exempt from the provisions of the deposit escheat law under an opinion of the United States supreme court.

These deposits, ranging in the individual cases from one cent to several hundred dollars, represent the funds of depositors who have not made a deposit or withdrawn any part of their deposits, principal or interest, for seven and 12 years, respectively. The lists are certified by the secretary of state to the institutions reporting them and to the attorney general and sate treasurer. In the event the deposits are not claimed by the original depositors, their heirs or personal representatives they are subject to escheat to the state and are placed to the credit of the common school fund.

The Umpqua Valley bank of Roseburg is the only local bank concerned in the report. The local bank has $171.04 in the fund.

ROSEBURG TEAM BADLY DEFEATED

Roseburg high school's mosquito-weight football team suffered the second defeat of the season Saturday afternoon on the new athletic field when the husky North Bend eleven annexed a score of 32 and held their opponents to a goose egg. It was an ideal day for the game and quite a large crowd was in attendance but the chances of Roseburg winning were practically nil. It seemed as though the locals were lacking knowledge of some of the fundamental rules of football and their plays in the first half could have been called from the sideline at almost any time before the ball was snapped. Almost every play was off right tackle and not a pass was attempted in the half. The North Benders got some lucky breaks and took several fumbles from the Roseburg boys which made their scoring quite easy.

Roseburg's team seemed to be in better shape, however, and they were not badly hurt, while the North Bend boys were continually taking time out because of injuries.

Coach Doubet was not discouraged with the showing of his team and declares that, while this year's squad is composed almost entirely of new material, he will have an excellent string of men for next season and prospects are good for a champion team for Roseburg within the next two seasons.

AUTO GOES OVER BANK

COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., Oct. 12—Today, while on their way to Cottage Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Theil of Drain, accompanied by their two children and Mrs. Bodle, mother of Mrs. Alec Garoutte, of Cottage Grove, met with an accident about a half mile east of town, when the automobile in which they were riding, went over a bank, turning completely over two or three times.

Mrs. Bodle was pinned beneath the car and received severe gashes in the throat, nose and forehead. The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theil received a fracture in the elbow of the right arm. Other members of the family escaped with light bruises and scratches.

Mr. Theil gives as cause for the accident the breaking of the steering wheel. The car was badly damaged.

THEATRES

Antlers Theatre.

Enacting bad men in picture plays has its occasional disadvantages, according to Brooks Benedict who, when he was signed for the role of the cad and bully in Harold Lloyd's "The Freshman," little dreamed that his part would be taken literally.

A graduate of Princeton and a football player, he eagerly looked forward to the picturization of the football scenes. The old glory of contest—of brilliant plays — of hard-fought goals — of victory, and of bruises that remained for days — all passed in quick array as he pleasurably anticipated the big game of the picture.

But, alas for the hopes of mice — and of heavies! Benedict was doomed to a place on the sidelines, where he could indulge to the fullest extent in the sneers and leers that are attributes of the modern villain. Even in the work-outs of the training squads, he always just missed the opportunity to kick or throw the pigskin. And, saddest blow of all, at a pre-view held prior to national release of "The Freshman," one of the fans, observing Benedict leaving the theatre, remarked that he possessed a mean face!

"The Freshman," in which, in addition to Brooks Benedict, Jobyna Ralston, Pat Harmon, Hazel Keener, Joe Harrigton and James Anderson support Harold Lloyd, is the feature attraction Wednesday at the Antlers Theatre. This newest of Lloyd's Pathe releases is said to mix comedy, thrills and pathos after the manner of "Grandma's Boy," which was a classic comedy.

Majestic Theatre.

Remember your "kid days" when the circus was such a big event in your life that you would even make the sacrifice of washing your face for the privilege of seing the big show?

The circus possesses an irresistible fascination to all Americans; and we doubt whether the kids enjoy it any more than the grownups. The circus wields a lure that does not wane with the passing of the years.

Which explains, in a measure, the great success achieved by "The Live Wire," a First National picture starring Johnny Hines, at the Majestic Theatre this week. The star is sufficient to fill any theatre, for his popularity as a comedian is world-wide, but so many of the scenes are laid in a circus tent that there is added pleasure in seeing this whirlwind comedy.

In addition to the fun, there are spectacular thrills which make the spectator gasp, including one in which Hines slides down a sixty-five foot tight wire to the plaudits of the crowd.

Liberty Theatre.

A cafe scene in which the diners an dancers at the fashionable restaurant "Venecia" enter and leave the place by means of actual gondolas propelled along little canals, and in which the dance floor is a street in Venice, surrounded by the lapping of water at the foot of the great marble steps, is one of the spectacular features of "If Marriage Fails," C. Gardner Sullivan's second production. Interpreted by an exceptional cast which includes such excellent thespians as Jacqueline Logan, Belle Bennett, Clesie Fitzgerald, Jean Hersholt, Donald MacDonald and Clive Brook, and directed in such a way that the fine Italian hand of John Ince is clearly discernible, "If Marriage Fails" which comes to the Liberty Theatre showing here on Monday, is one of the most interesting and daring pictures which has been released in a long time.

AMERICAN FLYERS SHOWER BOMBS ON RIFF STRONGHOLD

OUEZZAN, French Morocco, Oct. 12.—The American volunteer aviators, forming the Sheriffian squadron, are intensifying their activities in an effort to inflict as much damage as possible on the Riffian forces before the continuing rains make further flights impossible.

Yesterday they bombarded Abd-E-Krim's own stronghold, Ain Berdau, in the heart of the Beni Curiagel country. The town lies at the base of a precipitous mountain system and is strongly entrenched. The airmen were greeted with heavy volleys, but flew close to the ground and destroyed several blockhouses.

Dr. V. Sparks, of Indianapolis, narrowly escaped when the engine of his machine failed directly over the Riffian stronghold. Just as he seemed doomed to capture, he got the machine working and escaped.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

FEZ, French Morocco, Oct. 12.—Approaching dissolution of the Sheriffian Escadrille, composed of American aviators, volunteering for service against the Moroccan rebels, was announced today in an official communication.

"This escadrille," the communique says, "now is reaching the end of its activities. Its members have shown themselves worthy of their great reputations.

"A number of other escadrilles will be moved to Algeria at an early date."

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENTS TO HOLD MEETINGS AT O. A. C. THIS WEEK

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEDGE, Corvallis, Oct. 12—County extension agents from all parts of Oregon will gather at the college Monday to meet with members of the central extension service staff and agricultural faculty is the annual conference of the Oregon Agricultural extension service. Sessions will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The conference this year will revolve around Oregon's agricultural economic conference held at the college in January, 1924. Recommendations of that conference were later localized and made the basis of county economic conferences sponsored by the extension service with the cooperation of state farm, business and financial groups. Since the state conference 14 county conferences have been held and the conclusions reached in each have been published in bulletin form.

Conferences will be held next month in Coos and Douglas counties, November 16 and 17 are the dates set for the Coos county meeting and November 19 and 20 for the Douglas county event. A conference will also be held in Columbia county in December and another is planned for the Umatilla project, covering portions of Morrow and Umatilla counties.
